WANT COAL MINES SEIZED.

Methodist Ministers Adopt Strong Resolutions in This Direction.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—Seizure of the anthracite coal mines of the United States by the Government one week after the issue of an ultimatum demanding the ending of the strike, is advocated by the Methodist Ministers' Association of Milwaukee in resolutions adopted yesterday afternoon. In introducing the resolutions President Elder D. C. John said that he was moved to the action by the gravity of the situation, which is such that it was noted in fifty Chicago pulpits Sunday. The resolutions say, in part:—

"The time has come when the Government should give notice to the contending parties that if the mines are not, put in operation within a week, it will be obliged to seize and work them until such time as the owners and miners may be ready to resume operations.

"If the Government has the right to quarantine cities and suspend travel to arrest epidemics; to seize railroads and supplies to repel invasion and suppress insurrection, it must certainly have the right to seize railroads and mines to prevent people from freezing."

Strikers Quit in Florence.

Florence, Italy, Sept. 3.—With the exception of the metal workers of the Pignone Iron Works, where the strike originated, and the printers, most of the strikers resumed work yesterday.

Islanders All Perish.

Yokohama, Sept. 2.—The Japanese cruiser Takachino has returned from her inspection of the Island of Torishima, which was destroyed by a volcano eruption August 13 and 15. The captain of the war ship reports that the eruption utterly devastated the island, and that nobody on it was left alive. Over 150 persons were killed. Torishima lies between the Honin Islands and the main island of Japan.

Poor Yankee Guns.

Fort Wright, Fisher's Island, N.Y., Sept. 3.—During an engagement with the fleet off here yesterday morning, a 12-inch breech-loading rifle in the fort went off prematurely, instantly killing one private and seriously injuring two others. The man who was killed was literally blown to pieces.

PREMIER BARTON WELCOMED.

Toronto, Sept. 3. — Sir Edmund Barton, Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, and party, enjoyed a most delightful time in seeing the sights of the city yesterday. In the party are Sir John Forrest, Lady Forrest and Mr. Chapman. They were accompanied in their pleasant drive around the city by G. W. Ross, jr., son of Premier Ross, and Lieut.-Col. G. T. Denison. They visited the Parliament Buildings and called upon Premier Ross, with whom they had an enjoyable chat, the City Hall, the Normal School and the Provincial Art Gallery and Museum. In the afternoon the party paid a visit to the Exhibition.

In the evening the gentlemen of the party were the guests of Col. Denison at his residence, and the ladies were entertained by Lady Mulock. This evening the Board of Trade banquet will be tendered to Sir Edmund and the gentlemen of his party, and on Thursday morning they will leave for Kingston by boat. They will go through to Quebec, and on Sept. 10 will return westwards to Ottawa. What date they will leave that city is yet unknown.

TEMPERANCE LEAGUE SUED.

French Distillers Ask Damages Because of Agitation Against Tariff.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Suit for damages by the Chambers of Distillers against the Anti-Alcoholic League will be brought before the courts this week, forming the oddest legal proceeding ever started in France. The distillers claim that the agitation against all forms of liquor is prejudicial to their interests, and therefore constitutes ground for damages.

The secretary of the Anti-Alcoholic League said: "We are rejoiced at the prospect of the publicity that will be given our efforts by this action. We regard this opposition as testimony to the success of our long years of warfare against one of the greatest scourges of modern France. The idea is prevalent that the French are a sober people, but as a matter of fact the population of the country is decimated by the abuse of alcohol. We intend to engage the most brilliant counsel to be had in Paris, and will carry the struggle to the end."

COMPLETELY LAID UP

A Contractor Confined to His Bed With Kidney Trouble.

He is Better now and Writes an Interesting Letter Telling of His Recovery and how it Came About.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 1. — (Special.) —There are few men in the west end of this city who are more widely and more favourably known than Mr. W. J. Keane, 86 Lippincott street, who for years has conducted a business as builder and contractor.

Some five or six years ago Mr. Keane was a very sick man. He had Kidney Trouble which developed until he was absolutely unable to leave his bed.

Mr. Keane found a cure where so many sick and suffering ones have found it, in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has given for publication the following written statement;

"I deem it a great pleasure to give my experience of Dodd's Kidney Pills and the good they have done me. I was a great sufferer with pains in my back and used to be often so laid up as to be unable to do my work.

"A friend advised Dodd's Kidney Pills, but as I had used so many other medicines without any good results, I had little faith in anything. However, I got some of the pills and commenced the treatment. I had only used part of the first box when I was able to resume my work.

"I used altogether seven boxes, and I can say that I was completely cured, and as this was over four years ago and the trouble has not returned in any form I feel safe in saying that my cure was perfect and permanent.

"I believe Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from death. They are certainly worth their weight in gold to a sick man."

What has done so much for Mr. Keane and many others is certainly worth a trial by those who may be suffering from Kidney Disease or any of its consequences.

DOMINION SHOTS.

Rockliffe Ranges, Ottawa, Sept. 3. —The greater part of yesterday at the D.R.A. was taken up with the Coronation Match, formerly known as the Dominion of Canada match. This competition was at 200, 500 and 600 yards. The position in the first stage was either standing or kneeling, so that shooting was more difficult than when lying.

Valuable prizes were offered, including a cup presented by Hon. J. C. Patterson, a challenge cup for competition by teams, a silver medal, bronze medal and $750 in cash, offered by the D.R.A. Nearly every competitor was in the match, but owing to the breezy weather no phenomenal scoring was done.

The 43rd D.C.O.R. of Ottawa won the Davis Cup for the best team aggregate, totalling 519. The 13th of Hamilton was second, with 514, and the 48th Highlanders, third, with 508. The 43rd won it last year, but must win it three out of five years to hold it.

The 43rd D.C.O.R., Ottawa, also won the Caron Cup, for the highest tyro aggregate in the Barlow, Bankers', MacDougal and Coronation matches, their total being 813.

The 43rd had two teams entered and won second place for the Davis Cup, with 788.

EMPEROR IN POSEN.

Posen, Sept. 3.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany entered the provincial Polish capital at sunset today, the German fraction of the city cheering, ringing bells and waving flags and handkerchiefs to welcome them. The Polish majority of the people was silent and looked gloomily at the brilliant show from houses without decorations. Not one disorderly cry was heard. There were in all about 8,000 infantrymen present, and Emperor William's entrance to Posen was a German festival. His Majesty will lodge in the residence of the commanding general. This visit of the Emperor is made to give the Germans heart in their passionate race dispute.

KING EDWARD TO U.S.

Rumor in London That His Majesty Will Visit America.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A special cable to The Record-Herald from London says: There was a story afloat in London yesterday to the effect that King Edward intends to visit America before the end of September. It is stated His Majesty will cross the Atlantic aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, accompanied by two cruisers.

London, Sept. 3.—King Edward's Hospital Fund has received another munificent gift from Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Canadian High Commissioner in London, and Lord Mount Stephen, President of the Bank of Montreal, who have been associated with many charitable enterprises, including the endowment of a fine hospital at Montreal, upon the occasion of the first jubilee of the late Queen Victoria. They have now provided jointly a sum sufficient to produce $80,000 a year for the hospital fund, and this income is likely to increase.

Killed a Bicycle Rider.

St. Thomas, Sept. 3.—When No. 3 M.C.R. express, due at 10.45, arrived in the city on Saturday night, a wrecked bicycle was found on the pilot of the engine, upon which also were marks of blood.

Enquiries disclosed the fact, that the train had struck and instantly killed a man named William Baxter, at the second road crossing, west of Tilsonburg.

A Presentation.

The guests at "Glenwood," Stony Lake, the beautiful summer resort of Mr. David Breeze, on Thursday evening of last week, surprised the proprietor of the resort by presenting him with a couple of handsome paddles and an automatic reel. The presentation was made by Mrs. Forty, of Pittsburg, and the occasion was the birthday of Mr. Breeze, who made a suitable reply to the unexpected presentation.

Mr. Jarvis Coming.

Mrs. Morrow has announced her intention of giving a concert in Peterborough on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 1st, at which she will be assisted by Mr. Harold Jarvis, Mr. Harry Bennett and other high-class talent. Mrs. Morrow the following evening will assist Mr. Jarvis in a concert to be given in Massey Hall, Toronto.

Last Night's Fire.

The fire brigade was called out at about 9.45 last night to a blaze which started in the old building between the river and the Dickson Company's sawmill, in Ashburnham. The fire had evidently been the work of small boys or tramps and was making fair headway when noticed. The brigade responded promptly and the flames were extinguished before damage of any extent was done.

THE BAND.

The selection of the Fifty-Seventh Regimental Band to play at the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto, is a compliment of no unimportant character. We are sure the band will acquit itself most creditably, and are also sure that Peterborough visitors to the exhibition will be proud to point out to others that that splendid band now performing belongs to Peterborough. It is possible that we have not appreciated the advance the band has recently made. We have heard it in the park many times during the summer, but the concert in the opera house on the evening of Labour Day gave one a new idea of its proficiency. The attention of the listener was concentrated and not distracted as is the case during a park performance. The band is well equipped and the members have an esprit du corps and enthusiasm in their work which can only come from the confidence that consciousness of capability confers. Thus equipped and under the direction of a capable leader the band's excellent work is accounted for. Mr. Gliddon is a painstaking, thorough-going teacher and a most capable conductor. His knowledge of his scores seems to be wonderful. It was noticed that in presenting the entire programme on Monday night he only used the score once—in the Godfrey number, which takes 25 minutes to perform — and then had little occasion to refer to it. We send the band to Toronto confident that it will do credit to itself, to its leader, to the interests of higher music and to the town. The band has done much to elevate the popular taste in music and though music of light calibre is still popular, there exists a growing appreciation of the higher forms of composition. High class music well played, and often, will win its way, as has been noticed this summer in Peterborough, and to the excellent work of the band this improved taste is due.

French or German.

A rare opportunity for those who desire to learn French or German is offered by Mr. G. W. Morgan, over Ormond and Walsh's drug store, who represents the well-known "I.C.S." system of teaching. It is claimed that in six months' time a student can acquire a greater knowledge of a language by this system than is possible in years by any other. Clubs consisting of six or more members formed during September will be given a liberal discount. Five hundred new members are enrolling each month.

LeBRUN & CO'S NEW PREMISES.

He now Can Meet all Business Competitors.

BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED STORE

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. have opened their fine new store, fronting on both George and Hunter streets, and the manner in which it is equipped and fitted up throughout is but another example of the marvellous progressiveness and push shown by the firm ever since the City Clothing Store first hung out its sign of the Golden Horse-shoe in Peterborough.

No expense has been spared in making the premises the most up-to-date in the province, and the firm can well be congratulated on the enterprise and far-sightedness, which they exhibited in fitting up a store of such pretensions in a town which has not yet reached the twelve thousand mark. However, the proprietors have a firm and abiding faith in the great future which awaits Peterborough, and have made their big investment with every confidence that they are justified in giving Peterborough a clothing store, which only the largest cities in the Dominion can outrival in size, convenience and amount of stock carried.

Aside from business reasons, Mr. LeBrun has sentimental grounds for believing that he will meet with success in the new stand, as it was on these identical premises that he made his first start in Peterborough, as a clerk in the establishment of the late Mr. LeMay, who occupied the two stores on Hunter street, which now form a part of the City Clothing Store; and further, the George street portion of the new store was occupied by Mr. LeBrun from 1876 until 1890, and it was here that he formed the nucleus of the great business connection with the whole district which he now enjoys.

The new premises have a frontage of twenty-five feet on George street, and a depth of eighty feet, before the turn to the Hunter street annex, which has a depth of seventy feet and a frontage of forty feet. This gives a ground floor space of 4,800 square feet. The rounded plate glass windows in the George street front give it a very handsome appearance. One of the windows is devoted to a magnificent exhibit of imported woollen suitings for the custom department and the other is reserved for a fine show of modern gentlemen's furnishings. The Hunter street front comprises three windows, which are divided between the ready-made clothing stock, hats and caps and gentlemen's furnishings.

The light given from the great expanse of plate glass in the two big fronts as well as from th windows in the rear, make the store, without question, the best lighted in the business, and in order to outstrip all competitors at night as well as in the day time, the firm has installed a most complete arrangement of electric lighting by utilizing both the incandescent and arc light systems.

The entire fittings are of polished cherry and the effect is very handsome, as shown up against the robin's egg blue ingrain paper with its blended freize shading into the cream colouring of the ceiling. The brass electric light fixtures still further increase the handsome and striking appearance of the interior. The floors throughout are of oiled hardwood.

On entering the George street door the gentlemen's furnishings are shown to advantage, in the plate glass "silent salesmen" show cases, and on the prettily furnished shelving. Across on the other side of the store a grand display is made of the imported woollen goods purchased for the custom trade. At the rear a massive stairway, with elegantly polished cherry balusters leads to an elevated platform reserved for the use of the cutter in the custom department. Just at the turn into the Hunter street store a neat little counting house has been placed.

The first thing that strikes the notice on entering the Hunter street annex, is the great flood of light which is thrown upon the big display of ready-made clothing and which is so essential to picking out garmets and selecting the most suitable colours. The department is fitted up expressly with this idea in view, and the purchaser gets the full benefit. A large and varied stock of hats and caps is also kept in the annex.

The second flat of the premises is utilized for storing the reserve stock and an inspection of the bales and cases of goods is a revelation of the enormous trade which must be done by the firm to necessitate carrying a reserve stock of such dimensions. The front portion of this flat has been partioned off for the girls who work in the tailoring department, while the top flat has been fitted up for the men.

Two of the cellars are needed for the furnaces, and the third is fitted up with shelving, and it is here that the woollen underwear stock is kept. The quantity already in hand is immense, as the annual turn over will amount to five hundred dozen garmets. The cellars are all well lighted. Separate lavatories have been provided for the girls and men working in the establishment.

Mr. William Langford was awarded the contract for remodelling the premises and he has accomplished the work in a manner which reflects the greatest credit on him. The beautiful fixtures were put in by the Peterborough Canoe Company, the painting and graining was done by Messrs. Duncan and Doupe, the paper was supplied by Messrs. A. H. Stratton & Co., and the electric light fixtures by Mr. F. R. J. McPherson. Messrs. A. E. Micks & Co. supplied the metallic ceiling, and Mr. Adam Hall was given the contract fo rthe plumbing. The new sign came from the shop of Mr. Fred Cook.

BACK TO SCHOOL.

The Attendance at the Collegiate is Larger Than Usual.

The summer holiday season is over, for the school boy and the school girl at least and the busy clatter of children could be heard from 8 o'clock yesterday morning along the streets that lead to the various schools of the town. For the past few days families, who have been holidaying at the lakes and elsewhere, have been swarming back to town, and sunburnt youngsters, the picture of good health, are resuming their daily studies. The attendance at the various public schools was fairly large, whilst at the Collegiate Institute there was a rather larger opening attendance than usual. The roll showed an attendance for the first morning of 207. The pupils were given a list of their books required, etc., and information of a general nature and were then dismissed for the day.

For a Certainty I am Cured.

Mr. James Treneman, butcher, 536 Adelaide Street, London, Ont., writes that for two years he was laid up with kidney disease and urinary troubles. He became dropsical and his legs would swell so that he could scarcely go round. He never used any medicine that did him so much good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and knows for a certainty that this treatment cured him. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

A SPECIAL COMMITTEE

A special committee appointed to recommend a basis of settlement with the Dickson Company with respect to the building of the bridge on London street in 1898, reported as follows;

We have made enquiries from gentlemen who were members of the council in the years when the bridge was built, and the stone got from the town by the company, and have also received a letter from the Dickson Company, which is attached to this report.

We have ascertained as closely as possible, and we believe accurately, the quantity of stone, according to what we believe was the understanding at the time, and a fair basis of settlement, the town should allow the company $1000 for building the bridge. Mr. Ranney's estimate of a bridge the same size as the old one, was $767.39, but this was for a wooden bridge, while the bridge erected has concrete abutments and steel superstructure. The bridge cost much more than $1000, but the company widened the raceway, and by thus enlarging the water course made it necessary to have a more expensive bridge, and the sum we have mentioned is, we think, a fair allowance. The company procured from the town in 1898 and 1899 broken stone to the value, as we have estimated, of $789.82, so that deducting this from the $1000 allowed on account of the bridge, there would be $210.18 payable to the Dickson Company by the town, and we recommend that the treasurer be instructed to pay this sum of $210.18 to the company for the purpose of settling the matter, provided it is so accepted by the company.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
H. RUSH,
B. SHORTLY.

The following is the letter referred to in the report:

H. Rush, Esq.:

Dear Sir,—Referring to our interview regarding settlement of London street bridge and also the corporation's account against us for stone, we beg leave to submit that in view of the fact that the negotiations between the Town and the Dickson Company in reference to the building of the bridge seemed never to have reached a definite conclusion or to have been reduced to writing, we think the equitable and fair way would be to consider the question on its merits, as we have evidence in existing conditions which are about as follows:

Our Company have received from the Town, according to our account about 587 yards of stone, 340 yards of which went into the London street bridge, and 247 yards into repairs on the raceway. The London street bridge was built and paid for by the Dickson Company, and cost $3,928. The price put on the stone was $1 a yard or $340. We grant that considerable extra cost was added to the bridge because the head gates were put in, which extra cost should be borne by us, but the town has to-day a bridge which is as substantial and creditable a structure as is required and one which will stand for a good many years without cost of renewal.

The question is what do you consider such a bridge worth to the town? We think in all fairness $2,000 would be a reasonable price for it; allowing $1,-928 for extra cost of head gates. Deduct from this price of $2,000 the value of the stone supplied by the Town, say $600, and we think the balance ($1,400) would be only a fair amount for the Town to pay us.

The public have had almost contiuous use of the bridge across the dam, which bridge was built and maintained entirely by the Dickson Company, and should entitle us to favourable consideration.

We respectfully submit this as our opinion as what would be a fair and just settlement under the circumstances, and ask you to consider it in the fair minded spirit which has always characterized you and your colleagues on the Council Board.

Awaiting your reply. Yours truly,
THE DICKSON COMPANY
J. C. Shook, Gen Manager.

The report was adopted.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE reported through Ald. Edgcumbe as appended;

1. That the Mayor write to Mr. Timmerman, Supt. of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and inform him that the signal bell at the George street crossing, is inadequate, and that gates are required.

2. That the Town Solicitor be instructed to take steps to have the order of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council enforced in regard to gates being placed at the crossings of the Grand Trunk Railway at Charlotte and Simcoe streets.

3. That the salary of the Chief of Police be increased to $1000 a year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
JAS. EDGCUMBE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

On motion of Ald. Shortly and Edgcumbe the matter of the continuation of the pavement on the east side of George street, past J. J. Turner & Sons' premises, was referred to the Board of Works, with power to act.

The matter of placing electric lights on Charlotte street near Gilmour street, and near St. Peter's Cathedral, was on motion of Alderman Turner, referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Mrs. Scollie addressed the council in reference to her claim on the council created through her father, Contractor Fowler, having benefitted the town by reason of building a portion of the old Grand Junction Railway.—The question was referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Ald. Clinkscale and Batten, the Mayor was authorized to sign papers of admission for a child to attend the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville.

The bylaws providing for the construction of the pavement on Walton street, was passed, signed and sealed, as was one for the construction of a sewer on Harvey street, between London and McDonel streets.

The council then adjourned.

CHEESE.

Low Price of Cheese on the Lindsay Market.

Local cheese buyers are going to take such action at the next meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board as will call the attention of those interested in the business to the methods employed at the last meeting of the Lindsay Board by certain of the buyers who were anxious to purchase at a less price than was given at a meeting of the Peterborough Board a few days previously. According to the Lindsay Post, when the Lindsay salesmen refused 9 5-16 cents for their cheese, asking that the higher figure given at the Peterborough Board be offered them, the statement was made by one buyer and endorsed by another, that a lot of the Peterborough cheese had been afterwards refused by the buyers. On this representation the Lindsay salesmen accepted the lower price. The local buyers and salesmen are greatly incensed over such a statement being made, particularly when careful inquiry fails to bring to light more than one factory which was refused, and this for a reason which which was satisfactory to the factory. After the matter is threshed out here at the next meeting of the Board, a communication will be forwarded to Lindsay, which will somewhat open the eyes of the patrons of that Board.

PLOWING BEES.

Interesting and Practical Methods of Welcome Among the Tykes.

How many people know that there are spots in this country where workmen are not only willing, but eager, to put in a good day's labor for nothing, in order to show their welcome and good-will towards a newcomer?

It sounds too good to be true at this time of day, says London Answers, when everybody one meets seems to be ever "on the make," from the waiter at the restaurant to the office boy, who never hurries unless you promise him "something special."

If you are intending to go into the farming line it would appear that the district around Richmond, in Yorkshire, is one of the best places to settle down in, for then you may come in for that extraordinary warm day known as "plowing day." It is a strange custom, of ancient lineage, and was exercised not long ago by the neighboring farmers in favor of Mr. T. C. Hutchinson, of Bradbury, Durham, who had taken a big farm at Skeeby, near Richmond. The jovial, hospitable Tykes who were to be his neighbors, resolved to give him a rousing welcome and to make a "plowing day," by which is meant that they would spend a whole day together in plowing his land for him to start with. No less than 44 teams of horses, with plows, arrived from surrounding farms and set to work on Mr. Hutchinson's new land. It was believed to have been almost a record welcome, even in hospitable Yorkshire, which is saying a good deal.

It is curious to note that this institution of helping the new or necessitous farmer has been carried into our colonies, and is a well known practice in Queensland. Probably it was some good Tyke who carried it out there with him from the old land. At any rate, Mr. H. W. Gibson, a recent settler there, found that he had had his "lines cast in pleasant places" not long ago, for when he was so incapacitated by illness as to be unable to get his land ready by seed time, the neighboring farmers arranged to give him a "plowing day," as all his children were too younb to undertake the work of the farm.

They accordingly assembled at the appointed day in good time, and soon got fifteen plows to work upon the land, with the result that they prepared over thirty acres of Mr. Gibson's farm ready for the sowing of seed, and when that delighted gentleman left the hospital some days later it did his heart good to see the splendid practical help that his neighbors had given him.

It is not long ago since the hundreds of "hands" at a big Halifax factory offered to work a month for nothing in order to help their masters at the mills to tide over a period of great anxiety in financial matters. There had been an excellent spirit existing for long years between masters and workmen in this particular mill, and when it became known that the firm was in difficulties from various causes, the large number of employes soon called a meeting and determined to come to the rescue of those who had so often helped them.

The outcome was that these ordinary workpeople offered, as stated, to work for a whole month without wages, which meant a saving to the firm of thousands of pounds. It was a noble offer to come from poor people, who were actually dependent upon those same weekly earnings for their very bread, and the firm appreciated the offer deeply. But they, unfortunately, found it impossible to accept it

It is quite a common custom in several villages in Lancashire and Yorkshire for the people to give their services to prepare a house, so far as the cleaning goes, for a homecoming bride. They will undertake the labor of cleaning, whitewashing, papering, and so forth, without expecting a farthing's worth of reward, merely as a sort of greeting to the woman who is coming among them as a new wife.

In similar fashion, the girl friends of a bride of the working classes on the border seldom let her work to pay for their own bridal array and finery. They invariably work themselves, and pay for the wedding outfit of the fortunate one of their number who is about to enter the "holy bonds of matrimony."

CANADA TO THE NIGHT WIND.

Breezes low, that softly steal across the sea,
As from the east the sad night-shadow creeps,
To that wide veldt where my dead hero sleeps:

Breathe low thy song of bitterness and grief,
Take thou my gift, his loved maple leaf,
And leave it there upon my heroes breast.

MUSKOKA.

Mr. James Bain, of Toronto Public Library, on Who Discovered It.

Mr. James Bain, D.C.L., writes:—The discussion on this subject, which has been started by "Kaoxonian" in The Westminster, revives early recollections. The lakes of the Muskoka district were a favorable hunting ground from the earliest times for the Indians, and for the white trapper from the middle of the eighteenth century until the influx of civilization destroyed the game within our own time. So abundant were Muskoka furs that Mr. Quetton St. George regularly visited Washago from 1800-1801 to purchase from the trappers. Mr. Bailey was agent for the Hudson's Bay Company for many years previous to 1860, at what is now Bracebridge, and the ruins of a trading post were visible on the banks of the Joseph River some 40 years ago. A rough outline of the lake appears in Mitchell's map of North America, published in 1760, but the division between Lakes Muskoka and Rousseau were not shown in any map till the publication of the S.P.V.K. atlas in 1885. In this map the whole route from the Ottawa to Penetanguishene is laid down from the descriptions of Alexander Sheriff, who crossed in either 1829 or 1830 by the Petewawa and Muskoka Rivers, describing in his paper the general appearance of the lakes and rivers and approximately giving distances. The first Government survey was made by I. Houghton Dennis, C.E., in 1859, who discovered Lake Joseph and named it after his son.

The Muskoka road was one of the earliest cut through the dense bush to open up the free grant lands and was finished as far as Bracebridge in the winter of 1859-60. In July, 1860, Mr. John Campbell, now Professor Campbell, and the writer walked over this road and camped on the shore of the lake. Not a tree was cut along the shores, and the park from what is now Gravenhurst to the bay was one of Nature's own providing. Two Indian bark wigwams stood on the beach where now the railway station and lumber piles hold sway. The following year we returned with a party of five, bringing with us a boat which was carried across the Muskoka road by a yoke of oxen, who occupied nearly fourteen hours on the journey of thirteen miles. The party reached on this occasion the upper part of Lake Joseph and found so much to interest them that the trip became an annual one, and the writer purchased on behalf of some of the members 300 acres of islands among which is the one now known as Yoho.

It is pleasant to see testimony borne to the energy and perseverance with which Mr. A. P. Cockburn devoted himself to opening up the lakes to the general visitor, though it interfered sadly with the unrestricted freedom which the few who visited Muskoka had heretofore enjoyed Mr. Cockburn's first visit was in 1865, and his first steamer was launched in 1866.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Could Scarcely Walk and was Given up by Doctors—An Extraordinary Case—Now Believes His Life was Saved by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. James A. Deal, a respected resident of Bridgewater, N. S., writes:—"About a year ago I suffered a stroke of paralysis, which left me in a very bad state of health. To add to my troubles, last winter I took la grippe, which completely exhausted my nervous system. I could scarcely walk or talk, my legs and arms were partially paralyzed, my blood did not circulate properly, and I could not do any work. In fact, I was so bad that the doctors gave me up and thought I could not live through the summer.

"I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and persevered in the treatment, until now I am at work again. The change in my condition has been most remarkable. It is a surprise to everyone to know that I am able to be around again. My nervous system has been built up wonderfully by this remedy. I am able to rest well, my circulation is normal, and my general health good. My appetite is first-class, and I have gained considerably in flesh.

"The results I have obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food have been most gratifying, and I have no hesitation in stating that I believe I owe my life to this preparation. I am willing that you publish this letter, with the hope that it may be the means of helping others to regain their health."

A PRIVATE SECRETARY.

That For an M.P. Is a Difficult Post to Fill—The Qualities That Make for Success in This Calling.

"Nothing," said Addison, "that is not a real crime makes a man appear so contemptible and little in the eyes of the world as inconsistency."

I am quite sure that all private secretaries who attend at the House of Commons are models of single-minded devotion to their chiefs. I have used the room devoted to their purposes for some years, and I seldom meet new faces. And I feel therefore, that I have some ground for thinking that the fact of the same secretaries meeting session after session redounds not a little to their credit.

The post of a private secretary to a member of Parliament is by no means an easy one to fill. He must in the first place display an absolutely unselfish devotion. He must to a great extent sink his individuality in his master. He must resolutely set himself to reject dignity and all kinds of personal gain, and in order to enjoy complete trust and sympathy, he must display a thorough constancy to the man to whom he practically dedicates his life.

The private secretaries in the House of Commons are a comparatively small but none the less important body; small, because only a limited number of legislators can afford the luxury of their service. Two long conference rooms are given up to their use, and from the time the House begins to sit until it adjourns they continue to come and go. Some members work early in the afternoon, some just before dinner, others as late as 10 or 11 o'clock. But the rooms are seen at their best between 5 and 6 when it is ofetn difficult to get a table.

The secretaries who use the rooms are of different types. There is the "hack," there is the briefless barrister, the lawyer's clerk, and there is the shorthand writer pure and simple. Although we meet every day, few of us know each other's names. We like to know one another by the names of our chiefs. The practice is one upon which wo rather pride ourselves, as it affords conclusive proof of our ability to sink our individuality.

The rooms are often employed for receiving deputations. Constituents with grievances come to represent their case, and the member naturally finds it convenient to have at his side an uninterested witness in the shape of his secretary, who can note with exactness what he hears.

Most of the secretaries are stenographers, and there is no doubt that the thoroughly equipped private secretary, if he wishes to be armed for all emergencies should know shorthand. Not that it is always the most important qualification. A great deal of good work can be done without it. I remember watching with envy last session a secretary entirely unacquainted with stenography but possessing such a well-trained memory that he was able to carry out long and elaborate directions from his chief without a note, and was able to write from memory a wonderfully correct report of the deputation, giving the substance of each spokesman's remarks, the questions, answers, comments, and intimations with astonishing accuracy.

The rooms afford plenty of amusement to those who make a study of human nature. A vast amount of work is accomplished there, but often under the most trying conditions. One drawback to the place is that it can seldom be used for work which requires real solid thinking. At any moment an industrious secretary may find seated opposite to him an equally industrious member of Parliament, dictating in stringent tones, a mass of the most uninteresting correspondence to his secretary. One member used to have a strong objection to anyone else working in the same room as himself and his secretary, and had no scruples in asking others to remove their papers. That room was for some time labelled Mr. So-and-So's office, but I fancy the new rules of procedure enable the member to remain a little longer in the city to do his business, for, without disrespect, he has happily not been near us this session.

A private secretary makes a great mistake if he expresses his own opinion on questions too frequently. One is often tempted to put one's own ideas into letters and speeches, but unless specially invited it is best to use the chief's exact language. This is why shorthand is so essential a qualification. But the secretary must avoid the danger of becoming a mere machine. If he can do no more than take notes and transact them, if he cannot produce an original thought or put forward a criticism, he had better remain at the reporter's desk.

Industry and accuracy are essential to success, but a knowledge of the world, a cultivation of the amenities of life, and the possession of extensive information are equally indispensable to the private secretary.

Although we, who try to be our members' other selves, are a contented body, we shall not always be satisfied at remaining private secretaries. We feel the honor and the dignity of the position, but we do not like to banish from our heads the thought of one day becoming celebrated. There have been many distinguished men who have used the rooms we work in, and have attained eminence by giving the best of their brains to those for whom they have worked. Speaking personally, if I were ten years younger and had to choose my lot again, I should elect that of a secretary as the groundwork of a career. A young fellow who becomes associated in the enterprises and responsibilities of a member of Parliament by force and character can enjoy no better training. Much, however, depends upon your chief. Get hold of a man who stimulates you, not one whose voice is simply the echo of the popular cry of the moment. You will find that he will keep your intelligence lively and that your working energies will stand in no danger of being sapped —London Graphic.

A BLIND MAN.

A Musical Doctor Who Has Become Famous and Successful in London.

Dr. F. J. Campbell, the founder and principal of the Royal Normal College and Academy of Music for the Blind, takes premier rank in the great kingdom of the blind. From boyhood he has thrown off the inertia which attacks the blind, and has revealed a constant tenacity and persistence worthy of his Scotch ancestry. Born in the slave State of Tennessee with normal eyesight, it was during play between his third and fourth year that a sharp acacia thorn on his father's farm pierced the eyeball. Bad doctoring caused inflammation, and the sight of both eyes was lost. Surreptitiously he began to learn music—his great mainstay in life. He then obtained pupils, learnt Latin and Greek, beginning at 4 o'clock in the morning; climbed mountains, hunted, fished, skated and thus preserved the vitality which was his heritage.

At length he went to Harvard University, married, lost his money, took again to music teaching in Tennessee and was within a few hours of being hanged as an Abolitionist but his infirmity saved him. Boston for seven years provided him with music pupils. A year's furlough enabled him to visit all the principal blind institutions in Europe, with a view to starting a great conservatorium for music in the States. During a three days' stay in London on the homeward journey he met Dr. Armitage. Thanks to his assistance, with that of Prof. Fawcett, the Duke of Westminster and others, the institution intended for the States has blossomed among us instead.—The London Chronicle.

Portsmouth Harbor.

There has existed a harbor at Portsmouth, England, resorted to by fighting ships from the most ancient times in our history. The Romans undoubtedly used it when they had their stronghold at Portchester, and they appear to have named it Portus Magnus, or the Great Port. The footsteps of the Roman provincials and of the Saxons and Normans may be traced, and from these times onward the name of Portsmouth occurs frequently in our history. The place had attained some measure of importance in the reign of Henry I. Richard Cœur de Lion set sail thence when last he left the shores of his kingdom, and in the time of his successor a naval establishment existed at the port.—London Globe.

The Greatest Men.

It would be a difficult task, if not an impossible one, to persuade any half dozen men casually brought together into unanimity of opinion concerning the greatest man who ever lived. Most of them would agree no doubt with Lord Brougham that Julius Cæsar was "the greatest man of ancient times," but how many of the six would accept Professor Gardiner's estimate of Cromwell as "the greatest Englishman of all times?" Each of them, we may be reasonably sure, would accept Shakespeare as the greatest poet, yet Lord Lytton once spoke of Milton as "the greatest poet of our country." And where will be found two men out of Scotland to agree with Charles Mackey when he says of Burns that he was "the greatest poet—next perhaps to King David of the Jews—whom any age has produced?"

LOTS OF GOOD CATCHES.

A gentleman in Pittsburg wishes to inquire about the lakes, and asks what there is to be caught. The gentleman is requested to pack his grip and come right along, for there is more catching done here than he ever dreamed of. Why in the canal alone, only a short stretch that runs in front of the office of this great journal, there is all the catching any man can wish for. To commence with, and it commences at 6.15 a. m., there are three boats to catch, and the efforts made by fully twenty per cent. of the catchers would make a horse laugh. A Washington lady the other day caught seven perch, thirteen sunfish, and two mudpouts, and little Tommy Schener got into the river to his neck and caught the tarnationist old larroping of his life. He has been lying on his little tummy ever since, and it happened three days ago. A gentleman from Buffalo caught four fine bass in less than ten minutes on Monday last, and the lockmaster caught a cord and a half of fine driftwood. Last season a young lady, none too young either, caught a husband while sitting on the wharf waiting for the Saturday night boat. She would be glad to trade him off for a second-hand carpet sweeper, or mostly any old thing now, but she caught him all the same, and you wouldn't have classed her as much of a catcher. Then a gentleman from Syracuse got into a boat the other morning on his first fishing expedition. He was real pretty to look at. Costume was the very thing, and brand new. He was a daisy, and said he didn't see any reason why he couldn't row. He caught a crab on the second stroke, and when he came up from under the boat he wanted to know if a water spout had struck them, or what it was anyhow. It is all right, dear boy, if catching is what you are after. Go to your nearest railway station and ask for a Kawartha Lake Tourist ticket, to Bobcaygeon, and you can rely on a round of catching that will keep you wondering for a year or more.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Advertising Versus Merit.

The enormous sale of most medicines has depended entirely on large advertising. The enormous sale of Merrill's System Tonic has depended entirely on the merits of this wonderful compound. We say it is the best medicine to purify the blood, build up the system, strengthen the nerves and regulate the bowels made. Invest 50 cents in one bottle and you will know that we speak the truth. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

Lord Pauncefote's Ready Wit

Le Gaulois tells this story illustrative of the humor of the late Lord Pauncefote: In the Peace Congress of The Hague he attracted the attention of the delegates by taking notes with a fountain pen, the hands of which was formed by the shell of a dum-dum bullet. One day the representative of a foreign power, excited by the heat of the discussion in the interests of eternal peace, said to him sharply: "My lord, it isn't right for you to use that murderous shell in this congress. The instruments used by persons are almost emblematic. They can become a part of themselves, an expression of their ideas and of their personality." Lord Pauncefote smiled but said nothing. The following day his critic, wanting to write something, turned to the English diplomat to borrow a pen. The ambassador pulled out of his pocket an old-fashioned pen made of a grey goose quill, and after the borrower had finished said: "Monsieur, it isn't right for you to use such an instrument in this congress. The instruments used by persons are almost sure to become part of their personality."

Your Opportunity to get Well.

You are offered Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the most perfect restorative, blood creator and system builder that was ever prepared. The name of the discoverer, Dr. A. W. Chase, is enough to guarantee this, and besides you have the testimony of scores and hundreds of cured ones in every part of Canada and the United States. You can use it knowing that it is bound to do you good.

Kitchener's Starling.

Stories about Lord Kitchener are just now bulking largely in most of the journals. His Lordship's pet starling, which was a known character in Pretoria, is the subject of some of these. A correspondent of Navy and Army relates the following about this sagacious creature:

This bird, for the time being, was the apple of Lord Kitchener's eye. He always had it near him, and often, when some difficult problem of the campaign troubled him, he could be seen standing in front of the cage, cigar in mouth, gazing at the captive bird. One day an idea struck him. It seemed that the pet was in poor spirits. Lord Kitchener conceived the idea that the bird was lonely—that it required a mate. In a moment the whole of the headquarters was in a ferment. Imperial interests were of a secondary consideration. Staff officers who had not a moment to call their own were out hunting through Pretoria for a mate for the pet of the chief, who had steadfastly refused to allow any of his married officers to be joined by their mates while in service.

Mr. W. H. Hill, in accordance with the notice of motion he gave at the last meeting of the Board, moved;

That the Property Committee be instructed to inquire as to the cost of the erection of a suitable building for the Collegiate Institute and Domestic Science and Manual Training School, with a view to asking the Town Council to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers to provide the money for the erection of such a building.

Mr. Hill added very little to what he said in support of the motion at the last meeting of the Board. He thought that there was no doubt that the town required a new Collegiate Institute building.

The motion was seconded by Mr. McBain and carried.

Mr. Fessenden, principal of the Collegiate Institute, addressed the Board, asking that as there were 210 students on the roll, he be given an assistant. He explained the necessity of having an assistant at once, in order that the classes might be arranged forthwith.

Mr. McBain moved that the matter be left with the Committee on Appointments, with power to act. The motion was seconded by Mr. Fair and carried.

Miss Rush was appointed to the position of first assistant on the Kindergarten staff of the South Central School, and Miss Bell as first assistant on the teaching staff of the Central School, after which the Board adjourned.

Rain Helps India's Crops.

Bombay, Sept. 3.—The rainfall continues, and is greatly benefiting the crops. Cotton in Berar (a province of the Deccan), is flourishing, in Bengal it is normal, in the Kahandeish district (Bombay presidency), it is below the average, and in Gujerai, a district of the Punjab, it is favorable.

London, Sept. 3.—It is reported that the King, before leaving for Ballachulich, Scotland, proposes to visit Lord Strathcona at Glencoe.

Women Wanted in South Africa.

The lack of British women in South Africa is one of the most serious facts with which the statesman has to grapple, says The London Mail. It is vital that a carefully directed emigration of women from England should be organized by the state. A writer in The Quarterly Review reckons that 3,000 British women are needed a year to meet the emergency, and this is a total which it should not be difficult to find in England, where we have a very large excess of women.

President's Drag Overturned by a Trolley Car.

ONE OF HIS BODY GUARD KILLED

The President of the United States Himself Escaped With No Severe Injury—Mr. Cortelyou, His Secretary, Was Also in the Wreck—How the Accident Occurred—Trolley Men Arrested.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 4.—The President of the United States escaped a tragic death by only a few feet in a collison between his carriage and an electric street car in this city yesterday, while one of his most trusted guards, Secret Service Agent Wm. Craig, was instantly killed, and David J. Pratt of Dalton, who was guiding the horses attached to the vehicle, died from his injuries.

President Roosevelt himself was badly shaken up, but received only a slight facial bruise. His secretary, who occupied a seat directly opposite the Chief Magistrate in the landau, sustained a minor wound in the back of the head, and Governor Crane, who sat behind the President, extricated himself from the wreck with a few scratches, the carriage was demolished by the impact of the rapidly moving car, and the wheel horse on the side nearest the car was killed outright. The crew and passengers of the car escaped injury.

The car was in charge of Conductor James Kelly, with Motorman Luke J. Madden on the front platform. They were at once arrested and brought to Pittsfield. Pratt, the driver of the coach, also was brought here and placed in the Pittsfield Hospital, where he died.

The trolley car came up behind the President's carriage at terrific speed. The carriage was struck as it was crossing the tracks diagonally.

Craig, while standing up in an effort to warn the trolley car back, was knocked from the box to the track, and the car passed over him, killing him instantly. The carriage was knocked to one side and wrecked.

The President was thrown out and the wreck of the carriage fell against him. He was picked up bleeding from a cut on the right cheek, but he was able to get on his feet at once.

Secretary Cortelyou was unconscious when picked up. He was badly hurt on the back of the head and cut on the face, but soon recovered enough to ask for the President. Gov. Crane was badly bruised. Representative Lawrence was the least hurt of any of the party in the President's carriage.

The driver of the carriage, D. J. Pratt, was hurt fatally. He fell with Craig, but the reins swung him out of the path of the car.

The President at once directed that Craig's body be cared for, and sent couriers ahead to prevent cheering and to announce that he would go at once to his train, which had been sent ahead to Stockbridge. After a few words to the people from the steps of the Hotel Aspinwall he went on to Stockbridge.

The President asked the motorman: "Why were you running your car like that?" which brought only the response:

"Because I had the right of way."

The President said that when he saw the car coming at such terrific speed he felt that all in the carriage would surely be killed.

The latest report is that the motorman tried to avoid the accident but was too late. Motorman Madden and Conductor Kelly were bailed last evening. The charge against them is manslaughter. Bail for the motorman of $5,000 was furnished.

Bryan's Life in Danger.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 4.—While William J. Bryan was returning home from addressing a Labor Day gathering in Lincoln Park, a fighting drunken man drew a revolver and advanced upon Mr. Bryan with a knife in the other. Before the man could raise the weapon to a proper height to shoot, the former Presidential candidate compelled the man to drop the revolver by a quick powerful wrench. Bystanders say Mr. Bryan was cool when "within an inch of his life." His assailant was then seized and jailed.

The Government will guarantee the issue of the company's bonds, and the company will be exempted from all taxation.

NO TARIFF INCREASE

Mr. Sifton Says the West is Solidly Against It.

HIS OWN POSITION STATED

Present Tariff Is a Compromise Well and Carefully Worked Out—As Opposed to Very High Protection It Has Made Our Trade Grow Beyond the Most Sanguine Predictions.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, was interviewed yesterday regarding the discussion of the tariff now going on in the press.

"Do the speeches of Mr. Tarte indicate action by the Government on the tariff at the next session in the way of a general increase?" Mr. Sifton was asked.

"I do not know that I have seen an exact report of any of Mr. Tarte's recent speeches," replied the Minister, "but if he spoke of favoring an increase in the tariff he was expressing his own views, and not those of the Government or the Liberal party."

"There seems to be a concerted movement in the direction of an increase in the tariff?"

"I think it will be found to be confined to somewhat narrow limits, so far as the Liberal party is concerned."

"What is your own position as representing the western Liberals?"

"My position is that the tariff as it stands is a compromise, well and carefully worked out. Its adaptability to the requirements of the trade of Canada is shown by results. Manufacturers and consumers are alike getting fair treatment. We would like the tariff lower, but we recognize that there must be mutual concessions and for the present we recognize the present tariff as a reasonable one."

"Will not some revisions be necessary at the next session?"

"Revision of the tariff from time to time at reasonable intervals becomes necessary, and it may be that at the next session something will be done in that direction."

"That is probably when the attempt will be made to induce the Government to go back to high protection?" suggested the correspondent.

Mr. Sifton's reply was very explicit:—"Any attempt to increase the protective features of the tariff in favor of manufacturers as against consumers will meet with the strenuous opposition of every Liberal west of Lake Superior."

"You are absolutely determined on that?"

"Quite so. With a trade which was stationary under high protection now growing beyond the most sanguine predicitions, and with the Western prairies, empty and desolate under Conservative rule, filling up with settlers and increasing their product by millions, we regard the position as extremely satisfactory, and we have certainly no intention of supporting an attempt to saddle ourselves with the discredited Tory policy which kept the country in a state of stagnation for fifteen years."

"Will you, with your western supporters, stand alone in this attitude?"

"Not at all. I am satisfied that the great bulk of the Liberal party is sound on the question."

Hon. Mr. Sifton announced yesterday that the writ for the election of a member of the House of Commons for the Yukon Territory had been issued. Nominations will be received on November 4th, and the act of last session provides that the polling shall take place 28 days after the date of nomination. The election, therefore, takes place on December 2nd. Hon. James H. Ross, now Commissioner of the Yukon, will be a candidate. It is not known whether he will be opposed, but in any event there seems no reason to doubt his election. "Mr. Ross," observed the Minister, "is unquestionably one of the most capable public men we have ever had in the west. He had a most useful and successful career in public life in the Northwest Territories, and from all that I can learn has won the confidence of the people of the Yukon district in a very great degree."

Trades' Union Congress.

London, Sept. 4.—The Trades' Union Congress was yesterday addressed by Harry Blackmore and Patrick Dolan, the American delegates.

Mr. Dolan referred to the coal miners' strike in Pennsylvania, pointing out how 300,000 organized miners of the United States were voluntarily contributing one dollar per week each in support of the strikers.

Mr. Blackmore spoke strongly in favor of an eight-hour day.

12 to 18 Men Killed.

New York, Sept. 4.—A large gas tank located on Wythe avenue, East Brooklyn, collapsed yesterday afternoon, and it is feared that from twelve to eighteen men were killed. The men were engaged in riveting the tank when it collapsed.

THE RELATIONS OF HOME AND SCHOOL TRAINING.

In the past few days the thousands of children of school age are again deep in their school studies after the long summer vacation. How many of the older pupils have a realization that they are now laying the foundation of success in later life? In how many cases are the teachers' efforts sustained and seconded by those of the parents? To how many are school days a time of pleasure, and to how many others are they a period of drudgery? Of course most parents feel interested in their children's advancement, but how many are there who really feel that on them and not on the teacher rests the great responsibility for the good behaviour and diligence of their children? It is to be feared that the propaganda of some well-meaning people has tended to make some parents rather neglectful and to salve their consciences with the idea that the public schools should form their boys' and girls' characters—"The teachers are paid for it." Speaking of this, the St. John Telegraph says:

But despite their hopes and fears and advice, how many parents really help their children? How many really study their children to learn whether they are of the kind that can best be developed by advice and discipline, or by coaxing and confidences? How many parents really make friends of their children and consider their little confidences as strictly sacred and not to be discussed or ruthlessly talked about with neighbours? How many realize that it is not the school education but the education of the home which tells for most in making the character and ability of the child? How many know that there are people living lifetimes of regret because they had to learn so many things themselves from sad experience which their parents might have told them so nicely if they had gone the right way about it? Why is it that some children will make a confidante and adviser of an aunt or uncle rather than of their own parents? These are all problems that appeal to one in the line of education when the children go back to school.

The subject is a very important one. Many a father takes a deeper personal interest in the training of his dogs or his horses than in the training of his sons and daughters, yet he would not question that the raising of true manly men and healthy, virtuous women is immensely the more important task. Parents should help the teachers. They should study their own offspring and give to each that care and direction that will aid in making them healthy, honest, intelligent and capable men and women. That much they owe the children and it cannot be paid by proxy. And it will not be labour lost; it will pay. It will bring its return in both family and state. It will promote filial affection and strengthen family bonds; it will lessen crime and increase thrift and enlarge capacity for good. It will help to uplift the race.—Hamilton Times.

THE SCHOOL ABOLISHED.

Physical Culture Substituted at Orillia Asylum.

Bodily Training Will be Substituted for School Work Among the Feeble-minded Inmates.

Globe.

The Provincial Secretary has decided upon a complete reorganization of the system of instruction at the Orillia Asylum for the Feeble-Minded. Instead of attempting to teach the patients ordinary school work, as in the past, and as in other institutions, the Government will introduce physical culture in order to develop both body and mind. Hitherto, a comparatively small number of patients, all children, have been instructed in the school, as it was useless to attempt to interest the older patients in school work. By the adoption of Mr. Stratton's idea nearly all the patients will receive instruction, and it is hoped that their interest can be aroused in such a manner that will prove beneficial in a high degree.

The details of the new system have not yet been thought out, but the excellence of the idea is apparent. "Physical culture" must be taken in the broadest sense. It will probably include many forms of exercises and recreation that will combine the healthful elements of fresh air and interest.

Teachers of physical culture find that even very small children become deeply interested in the exercises, all of which require some attention. It seems reasonable to suppose that feeble-minded people will take sufficient interest in them to afford some exercise to the mind, which can be strengthened by graduated exercises. Apart altogether from the direct influence on the mind, if the concentration demanded by the exercises, the development of bodily strength, which graduated work of this kind, constantly practised, will produce, may reasonably be expected to promote mental strength and to lay a foundation upon which some education may be built.

It would of course be essential to such a scheme that the exercises, games, drill, and whatever other forms of work may be decided on, shall be interesting and carefully prepared to suit the unfortunate patients for whom they are intended, but the new departure is an interesting one, and suggests many possibilities in the treatment of people of unsound mind.

A CANADIAN PRODUCTION.

Canadians are proverbially a modest people who have a very strong aversion to anything which sounds like boasting—in fact a Canadian must go abroad to learn the true value, comparatively, of his own good country, its men and its products.

It is a well known fact that the standard of professional education is higher in Canada than perhaps anywhere else in the world.

Canadian physicians and pharmacists are superior to any others.

The natural result of this very high standard is of course a more critical and scrupulously careful examination into disease with its causes and cure.

Canadian minds developed the theory on which they are made and prepared the formula.

By Canadians are they made and sold and their reception by the Canadian people is the very best evidence of their sterling good qualities, for Canadians want only the best.

Like everything else Canadian they are honest and reliable. As a remedy for all stomach troubles they do just as much as is claimed for them. Thay cure completely — and and they can do no more.

But while it would naturally be supposed that the Canadian people would prefer the Canadian cure for Dyspepsia, it is very gratifying to know that in the mother land and also in the United States, where very many preparations have been offered for Dyspepsia. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have found their way right to the front.

The fame of fair Canada has always been enchanced by the superiority of her products and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done much to emphasize this superiority.

CHEESE INSPECTOR WARD.

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir, — Will you be kind enough to give me a small space in your valuable paper to briefly call the attention of the patrons of cheese factories in this section to the necessity of delivering nothing but clean, pure and sweet milk.

I find on examination of cans and milk that this is not always done, although it is a direct violation of the law. The greater part of the cans are not properly cleaned; a great many need repairs, and some have the tin worn off, which leaves them unfit for use. I wonder when I see the condition of the cans and the milk when it is delivered that our cheese turn out as satisfactory as they do. Surely what is worth doing for such valuable goods, and one of Canada's greatest industries, is worth doing well.

If this notice will set a lot of good, but very often careless and thoughtless, men, thinking, I will feel more than repaid for my trouble. Hoping to see an improvement at my next visit, and thanking you for this space, I remain,

Yours very truly,
R. W. WARD,
Inspector and Instructor.

HISTORIC HASTINGS.

Happenings in the Village on the Trent —Personal Mention.

The fishing in Hastings this year is excellent. Saturday morning a party of seven gentlemen returning to Buffalo passed through town, and each had all the fish he could carry away. The hotels in Hastings are overcrowded and a large number of private houses are taking in tourists. A number of Rochester and Syracuse sports are due in Hastings next week, not being able to secure hotel accommodation sooner.

The steamer Beaver was in dry dock at Hastings for two days this week undergoing repairs. Her rudder was smashed, having come in contact with a drive of logs in the lake.

There was much disappointment in Hastings on Thursday last. A lacrosse match was arranged and advertised between Millbrook and Hastings, and through some bungle the game did not materialize. Hastings was all ready and a crowd on hand to witness the match, but at the hour the match was to have commenced word was received from Millbrook that they "would not be here." We don't know who is to blame but it is too bad Hastings was not aware of definite information in time to avoid so much expense and disappointment.

Hastings will have quite a fleet of small steamers next year. Mr. H. G. Buck, of Norwood, had a fine one launched this summer, and Fraser Bros. have now one under construction. Mr. L. F. Clarry is also having a nice one built which will be launched in the spring.

"Politics will not be allowed to interfere in this strike," was President Baer's only comment.

Luncheon and Banquet to Premier Barton and Sir J. Forrest

PRESS AND MANUFACTURERS

A Unique Gathering at the Daily Luncheon of the Industrial Fair Directors—Manufacturers Present Sir Edmund With an Address—Banqueted by the Toronto Board of Trade.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Press Day at the Exhibition developed into a vehicle for the establishment of closer relations between Canada and the Australian confederacy. This interesting condition grew out of the presence of Sir Edmund Barton, Premier of the Australian Commonwealth; Sir John Forrest, M.P., and Hon. Austin Chapman, M.P., on the grounds. During the directors' luncheon, at which the three distinguished visitors were the principal guests, and later in the afternoon when a delegation from the Toronto Manufacturers' Association held a reception for the gentlemen in the administration building, the subject of closer relations between the two leading colonies of the Empire was discussed.

To meet these Australian gentlemen at the directors' luncheon, there were many well known newspaper men and manufacturers: J. F. M. Stewart, Otto H. R. Wiese, W. M. O'Beirne, Stratford Beacon; John W. Eddy, St. Thomas Times; R. W. Dillon, St. Mary's Argus; George Young, Trenton Courier; H. M. Hunt, Galt Reformer; Prof. J. A. Ruddick, A. F. Maclaren, George E. Gibbard, J. B. Samden, George Vair, J. E. Atkinson, Daniel McGillicuddy, president Canadian Press Association; H. E. Smallpiece, A. R. U. Colquhoun, A. L. Wallis, John A. Cooper, H. Gagnier, J. T. Clark, W. Mosby, L. H. Cameron, J. Tuck, Sydney, N. S. W.; N. Weatherston, James G. Glending, E. E. Sheppard, John R. Robinson, E. King Dodds, James Headley, T. H. Preston, M.P.P.; J. S. Willison, Geo. J. Bennett.

Sir Edward Barton.

Toasts to the King and the visitors were drunk, and Sir Edmund Barton was introduced. He talked for 20 minutes, in an easy way, that made those around feel much at home. The Fair he conceived to be of incalculable value. It was the biggest thing of the kind in the way of an annual exhibit he had ever seen. He could not say too much in praise of the men who managed the enterprise, and the community that supported it. The speaker was pleased to know that the volume of manufactured goods being sent to Australia annually by Canada was largely incr?asing. But the movement had just begun for closer relations between the two colonies. Trade questions between the colonies were a source of great importance just now, as tending to increase the influence of the whole Empire. At the same time, the speaker urged that the outlying colonies should give the Mother Country concessions in trade, as against foreign countries. Sir Wilfrid Laurier represented Canada in the conference to advantage.

The immense possibilities of trade between Canada and Australia were just beginning to be realized, and he hoped the manufacturers of Canada would continue to advance their goods in the markets of that colony. The benefits would be mutually advantageous, he was sure. The international trade question, they knew to be the all-absorbing question just at present, and its intelligent settlement would mean much for the success of those countries claiming allegiance to the British Crown. Common right was the keynote of the solution, and he was sure the term, "dependencies and colonies," was no longer applicable to these two countries. The leaders of these two colonies were entitled to be heard in the councils of the Empire, and they would be. This could be accomplished by making proper arrangements with the Mother Country. The people of the two countries would respond to any proposition that would be a benefit to the Mother Land, and the Empire as a whole.

"Canadians and Australians," he continued, "may rest assured that any concessions they make to the Mother Country will be returned in volume. I have no apprehension as to the future of the British Empire. I do not agree with the pessimist, who said, 'as the colonies progress in self-government, they get nearer the point of separation.' I see no lurking danger as to the solidarity of the Empire. It behooves these two colonies to look to the ocean for greater trade development, and, if the seas are to be policed by British ships, both should pay some of the expense of this vast work. Let us get closer in touch with the United Kingdom, not for pecuniary purposes, but because that country is the home of liberty. The recent conference has spoken freely on this subject, and I hope for good results from the meeting. There will be further conferences, and advantages will accrue to all concerned."

Sir John Forrest spoke in favor of reciprocity between all parts of the Empire. Canada should bear a share of the cost of the British Navy, he thought, and not leave its maintenance to Great Britain alone. He referred in glowing terms to the progress of Canada in the past four years, and attributed the marvellous development to the increased transportation facilities.

Daniel McGillicuddy responded to the toast of "the Press" and Hon. G. E. Foster spoke in a patriotic strain, and aroused much enthusiasm.

Address From Manufacturers.

At 5 o'clock a delegation from the Toronto Manufacturers' Association, held a reception in the administration building, and presented a tastily inscribed address to the Australian statesman. The presentation was made by President W. K. George, of the association, and, in return, Messrs. Barton, Chapman and Forrest spoke briefly in evidence of their appreciation. Mr. Barton was especially anxious to see the Toronto manufacturers better represented in his country. Toronto goods are not known in the markets of Australia, and the people of this progressive community, he thought would be surprised to know just how well known the municipality is, but there was a broader field in Australia for Canadian manufactured goods, and he hoped to see it taken advantage of. He personally desired to assure the business men of Toronto that he would aid in advancing their commerical interests, if given an opportunity. At the conclusion of the speeches three cheers were given for the "United States of the Pacific," and for Sir Edmund Barton.

A PRACTICAL FEDERATION.

Understanding at the Recent Conference Looks Like That.

Premier Barton of Australia delivered an eloquent and highly interesting speech at the banquet tendered him by the Board of Trade, last evening, in the Toronto Club. He dealt at some length with the importance of the colonial conference, and devolved, so far as was within the limits of discretion, the attitude taken by the representatives present upon the various questions discussed. He pointed out, with emphasis, that the representatives viewed the questions in the light of advancing the interest, and promoting the solidarity of the British Empire. The banquet was a marked success. President Ames of the Board of Trade occupied the chair, on his right being the guest of the evening and Sir John Forrest, and on his left Hon. G. W. Ross, and Lieut.-Col. J. P. Whitney.

In the course of his speech in reply to the toast "Our Guest," Sir Edmund uttered these pregnant words: "Every member was imbued with the idea of acting in the best interest of the Empire, and that is good news in itself, because it shows that there is existing an understanding—under any name you like—which seems to be a practical federation." (Loud applause.)

War in Steamboat Rates Enables Many to Reach Civilization.

Tacoma, Sept. 4.—The spirited rate war in progress between the White Pass and the independent up river lines has resulted in greatly stimulating the exodus of workmen from Dawson. CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

Mr. J. J. McBain has Leased his Elevator and Warehouse for a Term of Years.

The announcement will be received with surprise in business circles that Mr. J. J. McBain, who for so many years has been a large dealer in grain and general produce, has leased his elevator and warehouse for a term of years to Mr. Geo. Mathers, of Otonabee.

It is over thirty years since Mr. McBain embarked in the grain and produce business and his operations have been conducted on so large a scale as to make the aggregate of his yearly purchases of butter run up as high as from a quarter to half a million pounds, while his purchases of grain totalled at times over two million bushels for the season. He also dealt largely in pork and other produce. After being in partnership with his father and brother for some years, Mr. McBain did business on joint account with the late Mr. W. Oluxton.

Mr. McBain does not intend to remove from Peterborough, and has not yet announced that his retirement from business is permanent, his lease to Mr. Mathers of the elevator property being only for a term of years.

Mr. Mather comes to Peterborough from Otonabee with considerable experience in the grain trade, having for some years been dealing in fancy peas, as well as in fine grain to some extent, which fact will be of material assistance to him under the circumstances. He is well and favourably known throughout the country.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY TO-NIGHT.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, is being held this afternoon, to be continued this evening. The season has been very favourable for the growth of many varieties of flowers and there is sure to be a gorgeous display, and in all respects the exhibition promises to be quite up to the mark. It will be well worth attending for the enjoyment the exhibits will give. But there is another reason why the public should liberally patronize the show. For nearly a quarter of a century the Society has been a factor in developing a taste for floriculture, and general growth of trees and fruits. As a result we have the most beautiful town in Ontario in the matter of tree growth, attractive lawns and flower plots. The growth and culture of flowers is by no means a luxury of the wealthy, but almost everybody practices it; even the humblest home is brightened with flowers and shrubs. A score of years ago there was in town hardly a commercial florist except on a very modest scale; now there are half a dozen large flower growers and in the season even their extensive stocks cannot meet the call, and plants have to be imported to meet the general popular demand. This universal popular fondness for flowers is largely due to the persistant work of the Society and it is also due to it that Victoria Park is kept in such beautiful condition, and is so great a pride and delight to the public, and we owe the improvement of Central Park very largely to the Society.

And it is the duty of the public to encourage the Society, which can best be done to-night by visiting the flower show. The Society is, as is well known, not in so flourishing a financial condition that it has any great difficulty in finding profitable investment for its surplus funds. To fulfil its mission to the best advantage it needs both practical and moral encouragement, funds and sympathy with its work. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance at the Market Hall to-night.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

Its Present Beautiful Condition—This Season's Improvements.

Sentiment enters so largely into human affairs as to fully account for the unusual interest in a cemetery, which respect for the dead, and the desire for the beautifying and adornment of their sacred resting places, creates. There are but few happy exceptions to the fact that every home in Peterborough has a fond, but melancholy, interest in the Little Lake Cemetery, or some other, and a little reference to the present condition of the former, and the improvements of the season, will be timely.

A visitor to the cemetery will be struck with the general appearance of beauty and careful culture, it presents. The season has been most friendly to growth, and the grass of the smooth shorn turf and the foliage of the sheltering trees, is beautifully green and fresh. The flower plots at the cemetery entrance are surpassingly beautiful and attractive, the flowers in general throughout the cemetery are in excellent condition, and the evidence of efficient caretaking is observable everywhere.

But nature alone has not been busy in improving the cemetery. The directors of the company, and the efficient superintendent, Mr. Wise, have co-operated in making marked improvements. The beautiful chapel has received attention; the outside woodwork has been repainted, and the surroundings greatly improved. The laying down of granolithic pavements represents a great improvement to the approaches to the chapel.

An innovation which adds much to the seemliness and solemnity of burials, consists in providing a decent dark uniform for the men whose duty it is to fill in the grave, and another innovation consists in the adjusting of the sod over the grave before the burial can be considered complete. This admits of a seemly resting place for the floral offerings that are placed as the last mark of respect, upon the lowly resting place of the departed.

Altogether the cemetery this year presents a beautiful appearance, and it is a melancholy pleasure to those who visit the place where so many household treasures are laid, to note that the narrow house presents such grateful evidence of loving care and respect.

The Peterborough Rugby Club to Re-organize

And Once More Enter the O. R. F. U.—Bowling-on-the-Green—The Turf.

Football is well on its way to us again, and already there is a good deal of talk going on about the outlook for the season. Of course it is too early for anything definite to be said about the strength of the local teams. But there is a breath of football in the air and soon the blast will be carrying everything before it.

The first evidence of the revival of football is the announcement of the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club, which will be held in the Oriental Hotel on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock. There should be a large and representative attendance. While there has been little Rugby gossip in the local papers, still the Peterborough Rugby men have not been napping but have been quietly looking about, and are preparing for what promises to be the most active season in the history of the club.

The secretary of the local Rugby team has received the following communication from the secretary of the O.R.F.U.;

At the last annual meeting of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, the following rule was adopted governing players in the Junior Series;

"Rule 13. No member of a club which has a first fifteen in the Senior Series shall be eligible to play on an Intermediate fifteen having played more than once in the same Union season on a Senior fifteen in a tie match, and a match in the Senior series of his club must intervene in the following season before such player can again play on the Intermediate team of that club.

"No member of a club shall be eligible to play in a Junior tie match who has played more than once in any one season, on a Senior or Intermediate fifteen, or who has played during two seasons on a Junior championship fifteen. Notwithstanding anything in this rule contained, the Executive may, upon application from a club, grant a permit to any player, prohibited under this rule from competing on a Junior fifteen. Any Junior team playing a person in a championship match contrary to the provisions of this rule, may be suspended from the series by the Executive."

The above rule was adopted in order to increase the interest in Rugby Football in Ontario. By abolishing the age limit for Junior players there will be less difficulty in securing a team in many of the towns where the game has not heretofore been played.

If a sufficient number of members are secured for the Junior Series it is the intention of the Union to divide the clubs into districts. The district winners will then be drawn for the semi-finals and finals. By arranging the clubs into four club districts instead of playing under the tie system, each club is assured three home games and one away. The travelling expenses will be light as the clubs will have short distances to cover.

We only hope to establish new clubs by inducing persons interested in the game in the various towns to communicate and co-operate with us in organizing teams. Your name has been handed to us as the most suitable person in your town to assist in this work, which we trust you will take up promptly. Or, if you are unable to do so yourself, you might hand this letter to some person. All applications for admission to the Junior Series must be in the hands of the secretary not later than Sept. 25th.

We think it might assist you in forming a club if you would have this letter or a notice of it, published in your local papers, with a note calling a meeting to discuss the question of organizing a team, and asking the attendance of all interested.

Yours very truly,
A. W. BALLANTYNE,
President,
F. D. WOODWORTH,
Secretary.

Address all communications to the Secretary, care of Mail and Empire Building, Toronto.

Mr. A. J. McClelland intends getting into the game again this season.

The junior series of the O.R.F.U. will probably have more districts than either the senior or intermediate series. A special effort is being made by Secretary Woodworth to interest towns, which have not hitherto played the game, and nearly all of the new comers will tackle the junior series the first year.

Just what Peterborough will do this year without that prince of backs, Andy Scott, is hard to say.

It is rumoured that the T.A.S. intends entering a team in the O.R.F.U. this year.

Rumour has it, and apparently with some foundation, that George Kennedy, the Rough Riders' crack scrimmager, will be seen playing with Ottawa College when the season opens. Gleeson will also do business again at centre-half, and there is also a possibility that "King" Clancy will break into the game again.

Ardagh, Darling, Hardisty, Kent, Henderson, Boyd, Wright, Russell, Chadwick, Hill, Duggan, Hamber, McKenzie and Reifenstein are among the available men for the Toronto Argonauts' rugby team, which will be as strong as ever.

THE TURF.

Indications point to the Turf Club's meet in Peterborough on the 15th and 16th being a very great success indeed. The entry list is swelling, and although there are a large number of local horses entered they will have to stretch themselves to win. Mr. Myles Henry, it is understood, is anxious to enter a fine, reachy grey mare which he has just acquired, but it is more than likely that he will be barred, as he will give no information as to where the animal came from, but claims that it never won a race.

MODEST BRANTFORD.

The Brantford Expositor says: The Brantford people who saw the lacrosse game between the Shamrocks and the Torontos came away with the impression that the Brantford team can defeat either one of them, and that no matter what team in the N.A.L.U. wins the championship it will not be strong enough to keep the Minto Cup from the C.L.A. leaders. The Torontos have a strong defence, but their home is deplorably weak, and there are very few men on it who are willing to take a chance at any stage of the game. The Shamrocks have a magnificent defence, but that yarn about their never being drawn out is trash. They went all over the field, and when the Toronto home got in a little combination there was a score. The easterners also lob the ball from side to side, and there is very little of the fast combination work with them that is seen in Brantford. Local critics say that the short passes, made all on the run, for which the localplayers are famour, will work havoc with the N.A.L.U. style of play.

SIXTY-FIVE PER CENT. CUT.

C.P.R. Crop Report Shows Harvesting to Be Nearly Finished.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—The C. P. R. issued a crop report, covering conditions of the weather and crops for the past two weeks. The report shows that about 65 per cent. of the crop in the Province and Territories along the line as far west as Wolseley, has been cut.

Since the above report, an immense part of the wheat has been cut, and it may be safely said that a very small percentage of the wheat is now standing in Manitoba. Weather was cool last night, and frost is probable.

THE MOUNTED POLICE.

An Appreciation of Their Work by E. Pauline Johnson—How Two of Them Astonished the Americans.

E. Pauline Johnson, in a recent issue of The Globe, in describing the "tie up" of the C.P.R. by a recent washout for a day, says:

"I suppose I ought to begin the list with the English Lord and Lady aboard the Imperial Limited, but I won't. I head the list with a small "contingent" of our own gallant Northwest Mounted Police, eight of them, under command of Corporal Adams, of Regina, bound for the Yukon. What a "bully" lot of boys they were, and what a rare good fellow was the corporal. When the American passengers learned we were "tied up" in the heart of the country of the Blackfoots they shuddered—but they do not know the meaning of the scarlet tunic of the N. W. M. Police. We had to tell them that old, old story we never tire of telling a Yankee, of the days subsequent to our 1885 rebellion, when six hundred Canadian Indians invited themselves to sojourn "across the border," and found scant welcome in a country that had, according to "the great white father at Washington," "quite enough Indians of their own." Ottawa and Washington held conclave, and arrived at the decision that "Canada would care for her own Indians if Yankeeland would please escort them to the border." Yankeeland did—gladly. Six hundred not too friendly, discontented, quietly wild Indians were escorted to the boundary line by a "bunch" of American cavalry three hundred strong. At the boundary line were two British soldiers, astride two handsome horses, a corporal and a private of the Northwest Mounted Police. The American Colonel and the Canadian corporal held speech.

"Where," demanded the American officer, "is your escort for these six hundred unruly redskins?"

"We are here," replied Corporal "Canuck."

"Yes, yes, I see," was the answer, "but where is your regiment?"

"We are the regiment," said Corporal "Canuck."

"But there are only two of you," gasped the American Colonel.

"Yes, but we wear the British scarlet," said Corporal "Canuck."

It was enough.

The six hundred unruly Indians marched silently across the border. The two Mounted Policemen fell quietly to the rear, and conducted the "hostiles" a hundred miles northward, where they would fret Uncle Sam no more. It is on record that the American officer in command of the cavalry three hundred strong lifted his voice and swore. The incident was recorded and discussed at Washington, D. C. The cost of the affair to Uncle Sam was the pay and "living" of three hundred men and officers. The cost to Canada was one dollar a day for three days to two mounted policemen. Corporal "Canuck" made history when he said. "Yes, but we wear the British scarlet." And so our American fellow-passengers fell asleep like children, knowing well that Corporal Adams and his eight Yukon-bound men would "Keep the peace of the people,

And the honor of British law."

Helping the Heathen.

Aunt (severely)—How dare you take the money from your missionary box?

Willie—Didn't you say I was a regular little heathen?

"You are far worse."

"Well, I was saving the money for the heathen, and first come first served."

Stricken With Paralysis.

Could Scarcely Walk and was Given up by Doctors—An Extraordinary Case—Now Believes His Life was Saved by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. James A. Deal, a respected resident of Bridgewater, N. S., writes:—"About a year ago I suffered a stroke of paralysis, which left me in a very bad state of health. To add to my troubles, last winter I took la grippe, which completely exhausted my nervous system. I could scarcely walk or talk, my legs and arms were partially paralysed, my blood did not circulate properly, and I could not do any work. In fact, I was so bad that the doctors gave me up and thought I could not live through the summer.

"I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and persevered in the treatment, until now I am at work again. The change in my condition has been most remarkable. It is a surprise to everyone to know that I am able to be around again. My nervous system has been built up wonderfully by this remedy. I am able to rest well, my circulation is normal, and my general health good. My appetite is first-class, and I have gained considerably in flesh.

"The results I have obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food have been most gratifying, and I have no hesitation in stating that I believe I owe my life to this preparation. I am willing that you publish this letter, with the hope that it may be the means of helping others to regain their health."

THE KING NO FISHERMAN.

When His Majesty Was in Canada He Was Unskilful.

Among the mass of anecdotal matter recalled by the recent coronation of King Edward VII., Canadian sportsmen are interesting themselves in reminiscences of the lack of skill as an angler displayed by the King when, in the course of his progress through the Dominion in 1860 as Prince of Wales, he visited some of the best fishing waters of Canada.

The late Senator Price took the Prince on a trip up the Saguenay to Ste. Marguerite River, the present preserve of the Ste. Marguerite Salmon Club, and then, as now, noted for the abundance of its salmon and trout. A few small trout were, however, all that the whole party could boast of. Mr. Price hooked a large salmon for the Prince and gave it to him to land, but his attempt was not successful. The Prince had not had sufficient practice in salmon-fishing to enable him to kill a large fish.

The official historian of the tour notes that "it was not for the want of advice; there was plenty of that. Everyone called out what to do, and, as a matter of course, everyone suggested a different mode from everybody else, so that His Highness was bewildered, and the salmon proved the truth of the old proverb that 'in a multitude of counsellors there is safety,' and, breaking the line, got clear away."

King Edward has occasionally angled for coarse fish in Scotland, but has never made any reputation as an angler, though it was recently stated on the authority of Lord Knollys that upon one occasion he really did kill a 21-pound salmon in the Tweed. He has a reputation as a successful hunter, especially of large game, but he is almost the only member of the British royal family who is not also an enthusiastic and fortunate angler.

Many Canadian fishermen can testify from personal observation on the Restigouche and Cascapedia Rivers to the clever angling of the present Prince of Wales, and of his aunt, the Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, now Duchess of Argyll, the favorite sister of the King. The cottage built for her on the banks of the Cascapedia is still standing, and the pool in which she killed her largest salmon still bears her name.

It was while visiting her in Canada that the present Prince of Wales and his late brother, the Duke of Clarence, proved to the Canadian anglers their skill, with the fly rod. The Prince of Wales has, indeed, been called the angler-in-chief of the royal family, and both in dexterity and luck he recalls his late uncle, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Queen Alexandra is well known as a keen disciple of Izaak Walton, and often fishes for salmon in Scotland with her daughter, the Princess Victoria. The Alexandra fly, which has been called after her, is so deadly a killer on some of the Old Country streams that its use on many of them has been absolutely forbidden. This remarkable fly was not, as sometimes supposed, invented by the Queen, but by Dr. Hobbs. It was originally known as the Lady of the Lake, and this name was abandoned for its present one because of the success obtained with it by the then Princess Alexandra. In America it is less known as a salmon fly than as a successful lure for large trout.

In fact, it may not properly be called an artificial fly at all, being intended as a vague imitation of a minnow, and it was originally intended to be cast and played minnow fashion just below the surface of the water. Its coarse, green hackles partly enclose a bright, silvery body, glimpses of which are given to the fish by allowing the line to run with the current and then drawing it up stream by short, sudden jerks, which open and close the hackles. In this country, where salmon are not taken in fresh water by minnows or other live bait, as in the British Isles, this imitation is not so much affected by salmon fishermen.

King Edward's daughter, the Duchess of Fife, is devoted to angling, and spends much of her time at the sport, accompanied by her daughters, while the Duke is away deer-stalking. Fishing is the favorite amusement, too, of the little sons of the Prince of Wales, and they were recently quite proud of their ability to send a brace of trout of their own killing to the King, and another brace to their own parents.

Contrast.

Mary bought a bathing suit;
'Twas disappointing very—
While in the shop it looked quite cute;
It was a sight on Mary.

Trouble.

Sorrel—She's mad because she thinks her hat isn't on straight.

Egbert—Oh, yes; he knows he's running in debt.

"Just change the rest," said Dr. Strange. I put it to the test.
Hotel men got most all my change;
The waiters got the rest.

OUR NEW G.O.C.

Lord Dundonald and His Record—Sketch of His Career and the Establishment of Which He is Now Commander.

Lord Dundonald, who succeeds Major-General O'Grady-Haly in the command of the Canadian Militia, has reached Canada, and assumed the duties of his new office.

The general belongs to one of the most ancient families in Great Britain. Tradition has it that the Cochranes were derived from Scandinavian rovers, who settled at a remote age on lands in Renfrew and Ayr.

The newly-appointed commander to Canada, is the twelfth earl of Dundonald, and is the grandson of the famous Admiral Lord Cochrane, tenth earl of Dundonald, whose brilliant naval career attracted the eyes of the whole world — his service to his country in destroying Napoleon's fleet in the Basque Roads in 1809, is a matter of history, as is the aid he rendered to Chili in its war of independence in 1820, and to Peru and Greece.

The admiral was a scientist and inventor. He directed a great deal of energy to improving the engines of steam boats, and kept the advantages of such continually before the Admiralty.

At the time of the war with Russia, some fifty years ago, he laid a scheme before the Government, the secrets of which have never been made public, in which he claimed, by some chemical discovery, to have the power to reduce all the Russian strongholds bordering on the sea.

The ninth earl gave the chief energies of his long life to scientific research, to the considerable advantage of his nation. It was through his labors that the art of extracting tar from coal was discovered, and aided much in the manufacture of gas. His knowledge also gave an impetus to the production of glass at that time.

The present Earl has some of the inventive abiljty of his progenitors, having designed and perfected a "galloping carriage" for machine guns, a weapon on which he is an enthusiast.

He is now 50 years of age, having been born in 1852. He was educated at Eton, and entered the Second Life Guards in 1870.

During the Nile campaign of '84-'85 he served with his regiment, being mentioned in despatches for distinguished services, and receiving consequent promotion. The command of the camel transport was his in Sir Donald Stewart's famous desert march.

He was colonel of the Second Life Guards during 1895-99, and had retired on half-pay, but went into active service at the opening of the war, commanding the mounted troops that cleared the Natal district.

The Earl is a typical, dashing, cavalry leader, highly popular with both rank and file, and having led volunteers and colonials, does not look down upon them, as a few regular officers have been inclined to do.

It was his handling of these mounted troops that proved their effectiveness and utility as a mobile and quick-moving body for rapid machines against the evasive Boers, and led to the adoption of the general flying column scheme.

At the relief of Ladysmith he was the first man to enter at the head of a relieving column.

Lord Dundonald did some effective operating in the Transvaal, and was promoted to Major-General in 1900 for distinguished service.

On the death of his father in 1885, he succeeded to the earldom, and is married to Winnifred, daughter of Robert B. Hesketh, of Gwyich Castle, North Wales.

The army of regulars and volunteers that the Earl will command is one of which Canada may be justly proud. Although the history of Canada and her military forces is comparatively short, the efficiency of the soldiery has stood the test of many a hard fought field. The traditions of the British army have been nobly sustained by the offshoot on this side of the pond. True, the opportunities that have been afforded the Canadian militia to distinguish itself on the Canadian field of battle have fortunately not been very numerous, but at all times and under any circumstances has it been found perfectly fit and competent to discharge the duty required of it, as evidenced by the deeds of 1812, '37, '66 and '85, to say nothing about the fighting the Empire's battles in distant parts of the world. In this latter connection, it is interesting to note the list of Imperial war services credited to officers of the Canadian forces. Most prominent among these of coutse, is the late South African war, in which about 175 officers, and 6,500 men of Canada were engaged. Canadian officers also served in the Egyptian expeditions, Nigerian campaigns, the Soudan, China, etc.

In the Canadian militia to-day is represented nearly every arm of the British war service. The following list shows the authorized total establishment of the active militia in Canada.

BROTHERHOOD.

That plenty but reproaches me,
Which leaves my brother bare,
Not wholly glad my heart can be
While his is bowed with care.
If I go free, and sound and stout,
While his poor fetters clank,
Unrated still, I'll cry out,
And plead with Whom I thank.

Almighty, Thou who Father be
Of him, of me, of all,
Draw us together, him and me.
That whichsoever fall,
The other's hand may fall him not—
The other's strength decline
No task or succor that his lot
May claim for son of Thine.

I would be fed. I would be clad,
I would be housed and dry,
But if so be my heart be sad—
What benefit have I?
Best he whose shoulders best endure
The load that brings relief.
And best shall be his joy secure
Who shares that joy with grief.

Practical Inquiry.

The town council of a thriving burg in the west of Scotland recently acquired a piano for their town hall and appointed three of their number to inspect and report on the purchase. The councilors were not musical experts, but one—a joiner—bending down and applying his eye to the several corners of the instrument, remarked, "I'm nae judge of music, but I'll warrant ye a' the boards are plumb."

No Satisfying Her.

"Women are hard to understand."

"Think so?"

"Yes; I told her she carried her age well and she was offended."

"You don't say!"

"Yes; and then I told her she didn't carry it well, and she wouldn't speak."

Profanity of His Profession.

"Who is that scientific gent in room 15?" asked the scrub lady.

"I dunno," answered the broom gentleman; "but he's a funny one to swear. You ought to hear him. When he saw a lot of mold on top of his ink, he said, 'B'cillus!' just that way."

His Nickname.

"I hope they don't give my little boy any naughty nicknames in school."

"Yes, ma, they call me 'Corns.'"

"How dreadful! And why do they call you that?"

"'Cause I'm always at the foot of the class."

Thought It Likely.

Mrs. Dozzle—And will you love me when I'm old and unlovely?

Doozle—I suppose so. You see I'll be old and daffy then myself.

THE HERO OF KARS.

The career of a brilliant Canadian ended on July 26th, 1883, by the death of Sir William Fenwick Williams of Kars. He was born at Halifax, N.S., and is known familiarly as the hero of Kars. When a Colonel of engineers he was engaged in defining the Turco-Persian boundary, and was appointed British Military Commissioner with the Turkish army in Asia in 1854. He reached Kars, a town in Asiatic Territory, in September, and found the Turks wholly disorganized; but with indefatigable energy he corrected abuses, got rid of corrupt officials and endeared himself to the Turkish army. In June, 1855, the Russian General Mouraviell, with 40,000 infantry and 10,000 cavalry, besieged Kars, the garrison of which under General Williams, numbered 15,000 men, with three months' provisions and three days' ammunition. The siege lasted until the end of November of the same year, when, after one of the most heroic defences on record, in which his men suffered greatly from disease and lack of food, he was forced to capitulate. A grand assault of the Russians two months before resulted in a loss to them of 6,000 men, and it was only through famine that the gallant garrison was overcome. Even General Mouraviell, the commander of the besieging army, generously expressed his appreciation of his opponent's defence by saying. "General Williams, you have made yourself a name in history; and posterity will stand amazed at the endurance, the courage and the discipline which this siege has called forth in the remains of the army. Let us arrange a capitulation that will satisfy the demands of war without disgracing humanity." General Williams was detained in Russia as a prisoner until peace was declared when he was given a Baronetcy and an annuity of £1,000.

Advertising Versus Merit.

The enormous sale of most medicines has depended entirely on large advertising. The enormous sale of Merrill's System Tonic has depended entirely on the merits of this wonderful compound. We say it is the best medicine to purify the blood, build up the system, strengthen the nerves and regulate the bowels made. Invest 50 cents in one bottle and you will know that we speak the truth. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

Appetite and Hunger.

"Most persons do not discriminate between hunger and appetite," said a doctor of long experience. "Appetite is what makes a man drink or smoke and what makes most men and women eat. Many go through life never knowing what hunger really is. I often fast sixty hours and never feel the worse for it. A friend of mine, a physician in Brooklyn, goes without food sixteen days at a stretch and keeps up his work meanwhile. There isn't an organ that can contract any disease from lack of food. Most of them do become diseased through the effort to take care of too much food. They are all in better tone after a fast. Another thing, hunger is felt only in the mouth and throat. That gone feeling that many complain of is not hunger; that is a form of disease. If persons would eat only when they were hungry and only as much as hunger, not appetite, called for—well we doctors would have to fast."

Are Kidney's Fit to Eat?

Many people enjoy stewed kidneys. Did they know that it is the kidney that abstracts all the soluble impurpurities from the blood, they would not eat them. Merrill's System Tonic reconstructs kidney tissue, tones the kidney, and by also acting on the bowels, makes a complete cure of all kidney complaints. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cts. Sold at Ormond and Walsh's pharmacy.

A Naughty Boy.

The other day, just as a train was about to go out of station, a boy ran up to the ticket inspector and whispered, "Sir, there's two men traveling in the train and neither one of them has got any tickets." Off went the inspector and searched all the carriages through, but without avail. All the passengers had proper tickets. Then, seeing his informer standing near the entrance to the station, he shouted, "Where are the two men without tickets?" "On the engine!" shouted the boy.

Chase, is enough to guarantee this, and besides you have the testimony of scores and hundreds of cured ones in every part of Canada and the United States. THE PAN-AMERICAN FAILURE.

Due to Lack of Newspaper Advertising Says a Buffalo Man.

Early in the progress of the Pan-American Exposition preparations the papers pointed out that the publicity department was making a grave error in confining its advertising to the bill-board and pamphlet campaign which it conducted, and we were not in the least surprised at the woeful failure of the show. Now Mr. W. J. Conners, of Buffalo, who gave $50,000 towards the enterprise and who thoroughly understands the theory of advertising, says lack of good management in the advertising department was fatal to its success.

Over half a million dollars showed on the expense account of the publicity bureau of the fair, and it was supposed to have been spent principally with newspapers. It has been found, however, that less than $30,000 was devoted to newspaper advertising. I do not care to be quoted as saying that there was a big "graft" in that department of the fair, but it has been more than hinted at in Buffalo, and the investigation which was made did not result in a satisfactory accounting for the big sum of money. The very poorest kind of advertising resources were utilized and mediaeval methods were resorted to.

Mr. Connors does not say the money was stolen, but he avers it was largely wasted. He advises St. Louis Fair management to devote from one million to two million dollars in newspaper advertising in a business way, and assure the success of the show. It is the newspaper that brings the business. There's a moral in it for the private business man, too.

LETTER FROM MR. CULVERWELL

(From the Campbellford Despatch.)

To the Editor of the Despatch,—

Sir, — I notice that the Campbellford Herald has copied an article from a Cobourg paper which was evidently inspired by those who find my opposition rather too strong in Campbellford district water power matters. The cloven hoof is too much in evidence all through the article.

The statement that my Burleigh Company of Peterborough has lost its pole line franchises in Cobourg by lapse of time in commencing work, is an absolute falsehood—the bylaw on record showing there is about six months yet to erect the pole line, and which is the only requirement.

As regards the statement that I am grasping every chance and giving "nothing in return," I wish to say that I have given the necessary money "in return" for the deeds of the different waterpowers I have purchased, and have also bought them in the open market so this remark does not apply to me. I purchased also parts of Healey's Falls. I am not a Government grafter. However, the cap would nicely fit those who evidently inspired the article, and who are now attempting to secure a graft from the Department of Railways and Canals in their portion of the Healey's Falls waterpower, and also fit him who has prostituted his Government engineering position by trafficking in canal waterpowers, and in being also made a tool by those who are attempting to work a graft on the Government.

I am happy to state in conclusion that notwithstanding the unfair and determined opposition in the financial flotation of my Burleigh Company (The Central Ontario Power Company, of Peterborough,) this opposition has at last failed.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
J. ALEX. CULVERWELL.

Peterborough, Sept. 2, 1902.

For a Certainty I am Cured.

Mr. James Treneman, butcher, 536 Adelaide Street, London, Ont., writes that for two years he was laid up with kidney disease and urinary troubles. He became dropsical and his legs would swell so that he could scarcely go round. He never used any medicine that did him so much good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and knows for a certainty that this treatment cured him. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

DISEASED HORSE CHESTNUT LEAVES.

Are the Trees of This Kind in Peterborough Affected?

Mr. R. Fair has called the attention of the Examiner to a peculiar blight upon the leaves of the horse chestnut — aesculus hippocastaneum. This seems to be sporadic, since it affects trees of this kind all over the province.

Early in the summer the leaves of the horse-chestnut trees along the streets of Toronto began to turn brown in spots, and become disfigured. As time passed these spots increased in size until almost all the leaves became brownish in colour, giving to the trees a peculiar scorched appearance.

This phenomena was not confined to the city, but has appeared throughout the province, and has done much damage.

The cause is a fungous disease closely related to the Powdery Mildew of the grape. A close examination of the under surface of the diseased leaves will at this time reveal thousands of small black spherical bodies. These are the perithecia or "spore cases" of the disease, and in them are produced the spores which will propagate the disease for future years.

Spraying with a fungicide, of course in the early months, would do much to prevent the spread of the disease, but owing to it being so widespread, it is hardly practicable.

Whether the specimen left with the Examiner, is a sample of the same leaf trouble, the matter is worth looking into, for the shade trees of Peterborough are too valuable an aesthetic asset to be neglected. If any of our tree-fancying readers have noticed this peculiar affection of the leaf of the horse-chestnut and have discovered a remedy, they would be doing a service by making it known to the public.

Fortunately there are few horse-chestnuts in Peterborough, compared to the total of our trees. The horse-chestnut is not a tree that lends itself to planting in rows or close spaces. Planted by itself on a large lawn, or large open space, it grows into a lordly tree, but planted closely it becomes gnarled and stunted.

STOCK MARKETS.

The Outlook for the New Week.

New York, Sept. 3rd,—The bullish contingent have the market well in hand. The great bugaboo of money stringency is losing its effectiveness as a bogey, now that it is generally understood that the money market will be looked after by the banking interests and by the Government. We thoroughly explained the resources of the banks and the methods of borrowing money from abroad, when urging our clients to buy stocks to get the profits which would rapidly be made by so doing. The market has done just as outlined in these letters for the past three months. We now say buy, and buy freely. To do so will be to place yourself in a position to reap vast profits. Cliques are booming their favourites. Additional support will come to the market daily by the return of speculators and investors from their summer holidays, and prices will advance with frequent reactions due to profit taking. What to buy? You ask. It is a period when you can purchase most any stock and be almost certain of making good profits. It is probably a good idea to distribute your purchasing power over four or five stocks so as to be interested in different kinds. Your chances will thus be better for catching some of the more active issues as the market moves in groups, one kind moving up to-day, another kind to-morrow. We suggest as a selection, one Trunk, one Pac. stock, either U.P. or So. Pac., one coaler, either one of the Reading or Erie issues, or O. W. or B. & O., one granger, either Paul, Atchison, or M.O.P., and a lower grade issue, such as Wab. Pfr., Kt., etc. While to finish out your line take on one or two industrials. This will distribute your holdings nicely and you will be pretty apt to have on hand each day some stock that has recorded a good upward move. It is adviseable to thus distribute your market interest rather than to have it entirely in one stock. From every point that one views the market at present the outlook is most bright, while Wall street's greatest powers are arrayed upon the side of enhancing values. Margin up liberally and purchase freely, and we believe you will do well.

SURPRISED BY SIR WILFRID.

A Paris Journal Did Not Know He Was to British.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Last evening, La Patrie, commenting on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement at the banquet given in his honor by the Canadian colony, that there could be no question with regard to the political relations between France and Canada, says, if this shower of cold water will not convince those present that the man they were entertaining was not the man they imagined, they must possess an unlimited measure of confidence.

A writer in the Republique, who signs himself "French-Canadian," discants on Sir Wilfrid's loyalty and Liberalism, and says the former would disappear if the latter were menaced by British connection.

Sanitary Bread Discussed.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The first annual convention of the Canadian Master Bakers', opened yesterday. About 150 delegates were present. Prof. R. Harcourt of Guelph, in an address on "Flour, with Regard to Yield, Quality and Faults in Bread," spoke of the necessity of more chemical research work to discover the changes that actually take place in the making of bread. J. T. Burke of the Department of Agriculture, spoke on "Sanitary Requirements of Modern Bake-shops." He told of the necessity of having bakeshops in good sanitary condition. Unclean shops meant that the bakers would be carriers of bacteria. The baking of bread, he declared, did not kill any germs that might have found their way into the dough. Other addresses on technical subjects were well received.

Neck Broken by Fall.

Hudson, Que., Sept. 4.—The body of Xavier Verglas, the 15-year-old son of Veuve Xavier Verglas, was found opposite the Grand Cote Schoolhouse, lying on the side of the road. He had been driving a horse and wagon, and it is supposed that he fell out and broke his neck.

Annoying Symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Kidney disease is almost invariably accompanied by constipation and liver disorders. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are more effective than ordinary medicines, because they have a direct and combined action on kidney, liver and bowels. By this extraordinary power they entirely overcome complicated diseases of the digestive, filtering and excretory systems.

Mr. John Nayes, Ashburnham, Peterborough, Ont., states: — "Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with success I can strongly recommend them. For considerable time I was a sufferer from kidney disease and constipation, and besides being tortured by the shooting pains through the back put up with the other annoying and often distressing symptoms of kidney disorders. Sometimes I would go three or four days without a motion of the bowels and could get no relief.

"After using a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was well again and feeling fine. This treatment seemed to be exactly what I needed and promptly brought relief and cure."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 2

ALBERTA LIBERALS.

Resolution Against Increasing the Tariff Passed.

THE CONVENTION AT CALGARY

Objects Particularly to Any Increase in Tariff on Agricultural Implements—Vote of Confidence in Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Especially Department of the Interior.

Calgary, Sept. 5.—The Alberta Liberal Association met in convention at Calgary Wednesday evening. Delegates were present from Cardston, Lethbridge, Macleod, Red Deer, Edmonton and intermediate points, as well as a number of members of the Northwest Assembly, including Messrs. DeVeber of Lethbridge, Wolf of Cardston and Talbot of Lacombe. President Hon. A. L. Sifton occupied the chair. Mr. Frank Oliver, M. P., was also present, and addressed the convention.

Among the resolutions passed were the following: "That no general increase should be made in the customs tariff, particularly on agriculture implements. That more adequate postal facilities should be provided in the outlying districts. That the condition of affairs in the Territories and the state of Dominion revenues required and would justify a large increase in the grant to the Northwest Government. That action should be taken at the next session of the Dominion Parliament to provide better railway transportation facilities in the Territories. That the population of Alberta is increasing so rapidly as to justify the erection of three electoral districts therein."

Resolutions were also passed expressing confidence in the administration of all departments of the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and particularly of the Department of the Interior; also expressing confidence in the sitting member, Mr. Frank Oliver. After further organization work the convention adjourned.

C., of Windsor, the western manufacturers; Mr. Goldstein, for the eastern tobacco manufacturers; Mr. Whitton of the Tuckett Company, Hamilton; Mr. Stevens, of the McAlpine Company, Toronto, and Mr. J. M. Fortier, Montreal, were also present. Messrs. Goldstein and Fleming asked that the Empire and American companies should furnish a list of the tobacco dealers who signed the illegal contract, a list of their consignees, a list of those to whom they refused to consign, etc. Mr. Campbell was unable to say to what extent his clients were prepared to give the information asked for. It was decided that if the information were not furnished by agreement between the parties the commission would sit in Montreal next Monday to examine officers of the American and Empire Companies. Otherwise the commission will open in Windsor on Monday.

METHODIST FIGURES

Responsible for Stirring Address from Rev. Dr. Carman.

THE MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

Smaller Than During Any Other Quadrennial Since the Union of the Churches in 1883—Continuous and Abundant Revival a Necessity of the Methodist System—The Old Methods.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—The Methodist General Conference opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Grace Church, Rev. Dr. Carman presiding. After the devotional exercises the roll of ministers and laymen was called, when 189 delegates answered to their names. On motion of J. J. Maclaren, K.C., the rules of order of the last General Conference were adopted. Several eastern delegates missed connections, coming via Chicago, and will not arrive till to-day.

Rev. George Steele of Sackville, N. B., was elected secretary, out of about a dozen nominees.

Dr. Carman's Address.

The most interesting feature of the afternoon session was Rev. Dr. Carman's address:

A large amount of statistical information was given, from which the following figures are extracted. The membership of the church was 280,531 in 1898; in 1902, 291,895. There were 1,708 ministers in 1898 and 1,792 in the present year.

Other comparative figures for the same two years in the same order were: Number of Sabbath schools, 3,345 and 3,425; officers and teachers, 33,018 and 33,896; scholars, 270,320 and 272,506; Epworth Leagues and Young People's Societies, 1,947 and 1,809; membership of same, 81,935 and 69,402; churches, 3,329 and 3,413; parsonages, 1,133 and 1,208; colleges and schools, 19 and 22; value of churches, $11,296,802 and $11,836,410; value of parsonages and furniture, $2,024,711 and $2,173,544; value of college and school property, $1,561,037 and $2,168,104; value of book and publishing property, $395,536 and $443,351; total value of church property, $15,420,954 and $16,802,428; amount raised for all purposes, $9,276,986 and $10,911,271; total church and parsonage debts, $2,912,311 and $2,520,330.

Continuous and Abundant Revival.

Commenting on these figures, Dr. Carman said: "It will be observed the increase of membership for the quadrennium is 11,358. This is the smallest of the quadrennial increments since the union of 1883, which have run as follows in order: 27,666, 36,299, 27,085, 19,584, far more than doubling on average our present increase, and in one case more than tripling it. This ought not to be so amid twentieth century evangelistic movements, the multiplied labors of special evangelists and the forward movements, missions and Epworth Leagues. We shall soon have to ask ourselves whether there is after all any better method for the salvation of souls than the old protracted meeting and the penitent bench used by the revival pastor among his own people. Surely we need well to look to it that we be not drawn aside from our plain business and aim, the personal salvation of men, women and children. In other churches, efforts, however close akin and however excellent in their character, whatever other systems may accomplish, Methodism cannot fulfil its mission without continuous and abundant revival. For this all its ministers and all its people must labor and pray with the power of the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven."

ANGLICAN CHURCH MISSIONS.

A Primate's Canon For a General Missionary Society Passed.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—The Church of England Synod yesterday passed the primate's canon for a General Missionary Society. Every member of a church in Canada is a member of the society.

The aim of the society is to take over all the funds raised for the mission purposes in any diocese, to work outside that diocese, and to organize and have supervision of the work. As a result of the new board, the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Ecclesiastical Province are abolished. The Mission Board consists of the members of the two houses with power to add.

The executive of this board comprises all the bishops and two clergy and two laymen, to be elected by each diocese.

Against Compulsory Arbitration.

London, Sept. 5.—At yesterday's session of the Trades Union Congress there was a very heated discussion of a compulsory arbitration resolution. Many of the delegates opposed the resolution on the ground that under such a system the trades unions would not only lose many of the advantages they had wrung from the employers, but would die of inanition, since the need for their survival would no longer exist. The resolution eventually was rejected by 961,000 to 305,000 represented votes.

WILL UNIONISM DECAY?

"Just as in many fruits, the full completion of maturing is but an invisible step from the beginning of decay; so in successful accomplishment, often lies the germ of future failure. Trades Unionism in its day has done a great work. Capital is, and always has been, selfish, though perhaps not more so than Labour, and, in pursuing its chief object, to obtain as much return as possible from as little as possible expenditure, the moral right of individual helpers has often been trodden upon. In old days this course met with comparatively few obstacles that could not be overcome; capital was strong, labour weak, with the natural result that the one was being continually overridden by the other. Then came the days of organization, and unions were formed which did much to protect the worker from the greed of grasping employers. They did good work, and such work was sorely needed; had it not been for the success with which they met in the face of a most determined resistance the condition of labour today might have approached something very near to serfdom."

Thus moralizes the Monetary Times. "Will unionism decay?" seems to be a puzzling question, but the answer is simple, and is simply, No. That is, if unionism is true to the principles of justice and fairness upon which it is based. Unionism, as we take it, is merely an organized demand for justice and fair play, as between the naturally conflicting claims of Capital and Labour. "Naturally conflicting interests," is merely a convenient form of expression, not a statement of fact. There is really no conflict between the interests of Capital and Labour. When Capital yields to Labour its just dues it creates the conditions that permit Labour to perform the most profitable service, and when Labour, in its turn, yields to Capital its just dues, it creates the conditions which permit Capital to give the most, and the most profitable, employment. Where the seeming conflict of interest enters is when neither Capital nor Labour acts up to the full measure of reciprocal justice. The human element of selfishness, which unconsciously to us, often colours our best intentions, if allowed to dwarf our conception of the rights of others, is what creates the apparent conflict of interests. Unionism will not decay, so long as it holds to the principle of justice, a principle which is eternal, a condition which it must necessarily confer upon any organisation in which justice enters as the essential motive. Trade unionism will last so long as this principle is kept to the front as the prime consideration. When both Capital and Labour come to a practical recognition of this principle; when the Golden Rule, laid down by the Divine Carpenter of Nazareth, the Founder of true unionism—"Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you"—becomes the governing principle of both, then, and not till then, will the labour problem be solved. This problem came into the world with the fall of man; and it will not be removed until the principles of the Heaven from the fall, come into full exercise.

SIR WILFRID IN FRANCE.

The Montreal Star, a Conservative journal, not unduly friendly to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is, however, just enough to vindicate Sir Wilfrid's manly stand in regard to the benefit of British connection to Quebec even to the face of the nation from which the fortunes of war wrested the French possessions in America. The Star says:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier seems to be taking great pains to tell the French people that, while French Canada has an affection for France and would willingly buy and sell with them, its political allegiance is irrevocably to Britain. This is precisely the message that a French-speaking Premier of the British colony of Canada should carry to the French Republic. It is to be expected that men of French speech and French blood should look with especial interest upon the nation whence they sprang and which speaks their language. But it is equally expected that no false or foolish encouragement should be given France to dream of reversing the history of a long century and a half, and obtaining any political advantage from the fact that a section of a British colony still preserve the tongue, customs and religion of their ancestors. That they do so is a sign of that broad and politic British tolerance which has made them so content with British connection. It would be very easy for a superficial onlooker in Paris to imagine that French Canada was ready to welcome a re-conquest; and it would be more than easy for a French-speaking Premier of Canada to encourage that folly by keeping silent on the subject of his loyalty to Britain. But it would be a criminal silence, leaving the door open to appalling perils and tragic ambitions. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, however, has not kept silent. He has spoken, and spoken with an emphasis that must carry conviction. Naturally a disappointed Nationalist press snarls at him for it; but the calmer men who have kept the republic safe for more than three decades will thank him for his frankness and stand doubly ready to encourage a trade that will know nothing of politics."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Toronto Mail and Empire says that Manitoba has sixty million reasons for being thankful this year. This implies that any quantity of wheat less than a bushel is not worth being thankful for.

The latest news from the coal regions whence we get our coal supply, presents a cold look out for fuel for the coming winter. There seems to be no present prospect of the strike ending, and work being resumed in mining coal; and if coal is not mined it can't be shipped; if it can't be shipped we can't get it in Peterborough. With coal so uncome-at-able wood will be wood this winter. Now is the time to try what the Trent Valley Canal can do by lessening cost of transportation to furnish us with cheaper fuel. Why can't the line of canal which is said to be about completed to Nassau be thrown open for traffic, and permit of a few hundred cords of wood being shipped from the back country?

MINING INTERESTS AND INDUSTRIES OF ONTARIO.

Annual Report of the Bureau of Mines — Evidence of Satisfactory Progress in Mining Development.

The annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines for 1901 which has just been issued is of more than usual interest, and indicates that rapid and satisfactory progress is being made in the development of the mining industry. It embraces a wide range of topics connected with mining and mineral products and the volume of statistics presented enables the reader to appreciate the great and growing importance of the mining interest. The total production of minerals during the year amounted in value to $11,831,086, as compared with $9,298,624 in 1900 and $7,235,877 in 1898. The metallic output of last year was valued at $5,016,734 as against $2,565,286 in 1900 and $1,689,062 in 1898. So that while the total production of last year as compared with that of 1898 showed an increase in value of $4,595,209 or 63 per cent., the metallic products increased by $3,827,208 or 191 per cent.

The two largest items in the list of metallic products are nickel and pig iron. The value of the nickel output was $1,859,870 and of the pig iron product $1,701,703. The production of these two metals in 1898 was nickel, $514,220 and pig iron $530,789. Gold shows a slihgt falling off, the value of the output of 14,288 ounces in 1901 being $244,443 as compared with $297,901 the year previous and $275,078 in 1898. The yield of silver was 151,499 ounces of the value of $84,839 as compared with 160,612 ounces in 1900 warth $86,387.

raised has increased during this period from 93,155 to 328,945, the number of tons smelted from 96,093 to 270,390, the nickel contents of the matte produced from 1,889 to 4,441 tons, copper contents 2,750 to 4,197 tons, value of nickel from $359,651 to $1,859,870; value of copper from $206,067 to $589,080. In 1897 this industry gave employment to 535 men who received $253,226 in wages. In 1901 2,284 workmen were employed, and the wages bill amounted to $1,045,889.

The production of iron ore in 1901 was more than three times that of the previous year, 218,548 tons valued at $174,428 being raised and shipped, as against 90,802 tons, value $111,905, for the preceding twelve months. By far the larger proportion was the product of the Helen mine in the Michipicoten Mining Division. The pig iron product was 146,370 tons, valued at $1,701,703, an increase of 53,984 tons, and $765,537, over the output of 1900. This is mainly due to the fact that there were three furnaces running in 1901, and only two the year previous. Of the ore used, 109,109 tons, or 57 per cent., was from Ontario mines. The proportion of native ore in 1900 was only 23 per cent. The steel making industry is growing rapidly, as shown by last year's output of 14,471 tons, valued at $347,280, as compared with 2,819 tons, worth $46,380 in 1900. The number of men employed in the production of iron and steel last year was 580, drawing wages amounting to $274,554. Bounties were paid out of the Iron Mining Fund in 1901 to the amount of $25,000. Of zinc ore 1,500 tons were produced, valued at $15,000.

Comparing the output of metallic products for the first three months of the present year with that of the corresponding period of 1901, the figures show an aggregate value of $1,254,685, as against $824,036, being an increase of $430,609 or 52 per cent. There is a specially noteworthy the gains in value in these metals being $355,498 and $121,545 respectively, due not merely to the larger output but to the fact that the mattes of the Sudbury district are subjected to processes which secure greater richness in their metallic contents.

Among the non-metallic products cement is one of increasing importance, the output of Portland cement being valued at $563,235 and of natural rock cement at $107,625. Corundum, one of the newer additions to the list, was produced to the value of $53,115, and iron pyrites appears for the first time, the yield being valued at $17,500.

The report presents an interesting survey of the work being accomplished under the auspices of the Bureau in the way of geological exploration. Prof. A. P. Coleman reports as to investigations carried on, on the iron ranges of north-western Ontario, and also contributes a study of the syentes of Port Colborne. The great metallurgical and mineral industries of Sault Ste. Marie are described by Prof. A. B. Willmot. Messrs. Coleman and Willmot furnished jointly a detailed and carefully worked-out report on the Michipicoton Iron Region, including the well known Helen mine. Prof. Miller presents the results of an examination of the eastern Ontario gold belt and of his investigation into the mineral resources of Nipissing District between Lake Temiscaming and the Height of Land.

Mr. J. Walter Wells reports on the work of the Provincial Assay Office and has also furnished a paper on Arsenic in Ontario, and Dr. W. L. Goodwin supplies a report on the work of the summer mining classes held under the Bureau's auspices. A specially valuable paper is that by Frank N. Speller, Superintendent of the exhibit of Ontario minerals at the Pan-American, who furnishes some interesting details as to the display. Rev. Thos. Nattress contributes a description of the Cornwallerous rocks found in Anderdon Township, Essex County, and Mr. W. E. H. Carter as Inspector of Mines, gives an account of the working mines of the Province as at the close of 1901. The report will be much appreciated by all concerned either from a practical or scientific point of view in Ontario mining and metallic industries.

Closing Session of the Canadian Master Bakers' Convention.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The annual convention of the Canadian Master Bakers was brought to a close yesterday. The closing session was attended by a large number, and a great deal of important business was transacted. A number of interesting papers were then read followed by discussion of the subjects they introduced.

The following resolution was passed:

"That this association place on record its conviction that local organizations should be encouraged in every way amongst master bakers, for we feel that great benefits can be derived in the way of ameliorating the evils of excessive competition and in satisfactorily dealing with labor and legislative problems relating to the baking trade and that the Executive of this association be instructed to assist as far as possible in this direction."

The following officers were elected: President, R. E. Jamieson, Ottawa; vice-presidents, E. Parnell, London; A. A. Lees, Hamilton; M. Bredin, Toronto; J. McKeown, Montreal; treasurer, George Weston, Toronto; secretary, James Acton, Toronto; Executive, A. W. Carrick, Toronto; George Williams, Guelph; W. J. Harris, Hamilton and W. J. Boyd, Winnipeg.

Pimples, Blotches and Skin Eruptions

How unsightly, sometimes even disgusting, and certainly very mortifying to the sufferer. They are merely an evidence of impure, poisoned blood, and lowered vitality of the elementary organs, which can be quickly changed by taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone cleanses the blood of all poisons and eruptions, makes it rich in red corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy ruddy complexion. To have a pure, soft skin and good complexion simply use Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Ormond & Walsh's.

Sir Edmund Barton at Kingston.

Kingston, Sept. 5. — Sir Edmund Barton, Premier of the Commonwealth of Australia, arrived in the city yesterday from Toronto. The distinguished visitor was met at the outer station by Mayor Shaw and Ald. J. B. Walker, and at 3 o'clock visited the principal points of interest about the historic limestone city, including the Royal Military College and Queen's University. Sir Edmund leaves for Quebec at 6 o'clock this morning. During his stay here he remains on board his private car.

Hon. G. W. Ross is in the city, the guest of Sir Richard Cartwright, acting Premier of Canada.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. CAR SHORTAGE DIFFICULTY

A Better Service Promised For This Year by the I.C.R. and G.T.R.—What the Executive Recommends to the Association—The Membership Increasing—Officers Elected For the Current Year.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association was held here yesterday afternoon. Freight rates, shortage of cars, federation with Newfoundland, the unjust discrimination of Germany against Canadian products, and the advancement of the industry were all discussed.

The meeting was presided over by the first vice-president, W. G. Bailey of Hamilton, in the absence of the president, J. C. Vanstone of Bowmanville.

Several recommendations were made in the report of the Executive Committee. In the matter of car shortage, the greatest complaints were made against the Intercolonial Railway. The matter was brought before the Government, and both the I.C.R. and the G.T.R. promised the millers a better service this year, which would be possible in view of the fact that many new cars were being placed in service. The report declared that in reference to preferential trade the Premier did not seem very enthusiastic on the subject when the question was brought to his notice by the deputation from the Boards of Trade conference. "Under the present tariff in free trade Britain," said the report, "the miller has a straight protection of about 34c. a barrel on flour, while in protected Canada the flour and oatmeal miller is without any protection whatever. Although the corn meal miller has a straight protection of 25c. per barrel, as owing to the preference granted Great Britain our grain and grain products are practically excluded from Germany by a practically prohibitory tariff, and while the products of the United States are admitted under a low tariff, although the duties charged by the United States on German goods are from 50 to 100 per cent. higher than Canada charges, it might be well for this meeting to consider the advisability of passing resolutions in favor of our Government imposing retaliatory duties on German imports and withdrawing the rebate granted Great Britain unless Great Britain grants a similar rebate on colonial agricultural products."

Secretary C. B. Watts, in his report, stated that during the year four members were removed by death, and 18 new firms admitted to membership. The report dealt with the agitation for a better railway car service, a preferential tariff and the discrimination in freight rates. The receipts of the year were $1,090.44, and the expenditure $998.72.

The following officers were elected: President, W. G. Bailey, Hamilton; first vice-president, John Goldie, Guelph; second vice-president, Hedley Shaw, Thorold; treasurer, William Galbraith, Toronto; secretary, C. B. Watts, Toronto; Executive Committee, H. Barrett, Port Hope; J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay; George Goldie, Galt; M. McLaughlin, Toronto; R. Noble, Norval; H. L. Rice, St. Mary's.

On the conclusion of the meeting, the members proceeded to the Exhibition grounds, where they had dinner in Webb's pavilion. President Bailey presided, and an interesting toast list was gone through. The members spent the balance of the evening taking in the sights of the Fair.

A CANADIAN PRODUCTION.

Canadians are proverbially a modest people who have a very strong aversion to anything which sounds like boasting—in fact a Canadian must go abroad to learn the true value, comparatively, of his own good country, its men and its products.

It is a well known fact that the standard of professional education is higher in Canada than perhaps anywhere else in the world.

Canadian physicians and pharmacists are superior to any others.

The natural result of this very high standard is of course a more critical and scrupulously careful examination into disease with its causes and cure.

Canadian minds developed the theory on which they are made and prepared the formula.

By Canadians are they made and sold and their reception by the Canadian people is the very best evidence of their sterling good qualities, for Canadians want only the best.

Like everything else Canadian they are honest and reliable. As a remedy for all stomach troubles they do just as much as is claimed for them. They cure completely — and and they can do no more.

But while it would naturally be supposed that the Canadian people would prefer the Canadian cure for Dyspepsia, it is very gratifying to know that in the mother land and also in the United States, where very many preparations have been offered for Dyspepsia. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have found their way right to the front.

The fame of fair Canada has always been enchanced by the superiority of her products and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done much to emphasize this superiority.

New Stores.

The three stores which have been fitted up by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company in the premises formerly known as the Crystal Block, are undoubtedly handsome quarters and add materially to the business appearance of the east side of George street. The store to the south will be occupied by Mr. W. G. Rowden, the centre store will be occupied by Mr. W. J. Morgan, who will move his barber shop a few doors south, whilst the Tate Optical Co., will occupy the third store, next to Mr. Harry Long's.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Exhibitors Urged to Make Their Entries.

The Central Exhibition begins on Tuesday next, Sept. 9th, and it is high time that those who intend making a display should make entries of their exhibits with the secretary. It is doubtless a busy time but it must be remembered that the time between this and Sept. 9th will slip away rapidly. The success of the exhibition depends upon the heartily co-operation of the public.

THE NEW RINK.

It Will be 68x170 Feet in Size—Tenders to be Called for at Once.

The Directors of the new Rink Company met last evening with Mayor Denne presiding and the following members present,—Messrs. A. H. Stratton, H. R. H. Kenner, W. A. Sanderson and W. H. Hill. Mr. Angus McIntosh was also present and Architect Miller, of Toronto, submitted the plans which he had prepared and which have been on exhibition in Mr. Denne's window on George street for some days. The Directors decided that the scale on which the plans were prepared was too small for the building which they contemplated erecting and the architect was given instructions to prepare plans for a building which would be 68x170 feet in size, with a capacity for seating 1,800. The manner in which the club rooms and waiting rooms should be laid out was also carefully discussed.

The new plans are to be drawn up and returned to Peterborough at once in order that tenders may be called for within the next few days.

It is understood that one of the conditions in the specifications will be that the rink shall be finished by December 15th.

BOOM IN THE NORTH END.

Mr. John D. Griffiths, capitalist, of St. Louis, Mo., who is an old Peterborough boy, has been spending a short holiday in the town, naturally notices a marvellous growth since he left to seek his fortune in 1863.

Mr. Griffith's boyhood days were spent in the north end of the town and it is that particular portion of Peterborough in which he appears to be most interested as during his stay he purchased the Langford Block from Mr. Wm. Langford, on the south-east corner of Water and Smith streets, as well as secured from Mr. T. H. G. Denne lots 6, 7 and 8 on the north-west corner of the same streets. It is Mr. Griffith's intention to erect a handsome $20,000 block of stores on the last named lots, including a fully equipped and finely finished drug store.

The real estate purchases which have been made in the north end recently should tend to advance the value of property quite considerably in that vicinity.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW IS OVER.

Last Night's Exhibit in the Market Hall.

THE LIST OF PRIZE WINNERS

The annual show of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, which was held in the Market Hall yesterday, passed off quite successfully. The entries were about fifty or more in excess of those of last year, but there is not doubt that the number of entries would have been much larger had it not been for the fact that the show was put on considerably earlier than last year, without very much notice having been given to the public, a circumstance which, however, was due to the uncertainty of the weather, the directors fearing that a wave of cold weather might play havoc with the flowers and plants of the horticulturists.

The market hall presented a very attractive appearance last night. The judging had been concluded, and many townspeople took advantage of the occasion to visit the show. The interior of the market hall was transformed into a huge conservatory, the sight of which was pleasant to the eye, whilst the music of the 57th Regiment Band, which was stationed to the south end of the hall, was correspondingly pleasant to the ear.

Among the exhibitors were many who had in previous years carried off the red and blue tickets, and their exhibits on the present occasion were quite up to those of former years.

Mr. Percy Hamilton had several most attractive exhibits of ferns, which were viewed with much interest, as well as his exhibits of cut flowers, sweet peas, and phlox.

Mr. H. Nesbitt was warmly congratulated upon his elegant display of sweet peas, which consisted of 60 different varieties. Mr. Nesbitt also had a neat exhibit of asters. Mrs. Cooney was a prominent exhibitor in a number of varieties, and had a particularly fine display of begonias.

Messrs. Jordon Bros. had a much admired exhibit of palms, and Mr. Mason also put on an attractive display.

Amongst the many flowers that are to-day decorating the editorial sanctum is a handsome bunch of sweet peas from Mr. Henderson Nesbitt.

Mr. Chas. Dredge and Mr. Harry Beale, the secretary of the Society, were warmly congratulated upon the manner in which the flowers were displayed. They superintended the work in that regard.

POLICE COURT.

Several Cases That Came up This Morning—The Italian.

At the police court this morning, John Hinds was fined $5 for a breach of the Weights and Measures Act.

An Italian was fined $5 for assaulting Caroline McLean on Labour Day. It appears that the Italian was going down to the Exhibition Grounds, when some boys shouted "Dago" after him. Considering that he was insulted, he picked up a stone, and fired it at the boys. However, it struck Mrs. McLean, instead, and this morning in the police court the Italian paid for his mis-shot.

Earl Downey and Wm. Huffman were charged with stealing rubber from Chas. Delill. The charge has been standing since last spring, but Downey has been away from town. Downey was remanded, and Huffman was allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear when wanted.

Remember that J. M. Donovan sells the same baking powder and coffee used by the Gurney-Tilden Co. in demonstrating their Souvenir Ranges at Adam Hall's store. A postal to address, box 619, will have prompt attention at all times.

FEEDING AN ARMY CORPS.

The Enormous Amount of Provisions Required to Feed a Fifty Line That in South Africa.

The most serious problem with which a general in the field can be faced is that of keeping up the necessary food supply for the troops under his command. An army, indeed, marches on its stomach. At a pinch it can make shift to do without tents or transport, while, as is well known, successful operations have at times been carried out in a hostile area when not a single cartridge has been expended for weeks on end. Yet, though bullets may be dispensed with, this is certainly not the case with regard to bread, or its equivalent. This, at any rate, has always been the opinion of the great military leaders—Napoleon, for example, being reported on one occasion to have had a soldier shot for throwing away a bag of biscuit in order to make room for some ammunition.

The scale on which the commissariat arrangements for a protracted campaign are conducted—such as that now happily concluded in South Africa—is an exceedingly large one. A fact that contributes materially to this is that not only have rations and fodder to be issued daily to every man and horse on duty, but also that a considerable reserve supply has to be maintained at the base of operations. In the recent Boer war, for example, the amount of food thus stored was as far as possible that equalling a four months' consumption. When it is remembered that the number of troops drawing upon it was well over 200,000 at a time during the greater portion of the war, it will readily be seen that such a supply: necessarily represented a very large stock indeed. To go into actual figures, it may be of interest to learn that at the head of the various items composing it, was 24,000,000 pounds of biscuit. This enormous total was closely approached by the "bully beef" one, as for every pound of the former commodity there was at least ¾ pound of the latter. To render it more palatable than it would be in itself, the commissariat department was required to keep in store 1,600,000 pounds of compressed vegetables and 800,000 pounds of salt. As appropriate accompaniments to the beef and biscuit coffee and tea to the extent of 300,000 pounds and 400,000 respectively were also included in the reserve supply.

In addition to such absolute necessities as biscuits, beef, and vegetables, the four months' food supply for the average army corps in the field includes many items that may almost be described as luxuries. For example, that for the British troops in South Africa, contained 2,900,000 tins of jam (each holding 1 pound) and 720,000 tins of condensed milk. Jam, it is worth noting, was first introduced as an article of diet for soldiers on active service during the Egyptian campaign of 1884. As it was found to have excellent results (chiefly on account of its antiscorbutic properties), and also to be extremely appreciated by the men, it has, remained a "field-ration" ever since. It is generally eaten with biscuit, as bread is but rarely obtainable in the actual theatre of war.

"Drinkables" occupy almost as large a place as do "eatables" in the reserve food supply of an army corp when on active service. After the 800,000 pounds of coffee and 400,000 pounds of tea already referred to, the principal totals maintained in South Africa during the progress of the recent hostilities, were 40,000 gallons of rum, 64,000 bottles of port, and 24,000 bottles of whiskey. There was also a very large quantity of lime-juice, kept in the reserve for the benefit of the sick and wounded.

Among the "miscellaneous stores" which the commander of the army corps looks to his commissariat department to furnish when called upon, are 160 tons of alum for purifying doubtful water), 40 tons of chloride of lime, 12,000 pounds of carbolic acid and 20,000 gallons of izal, and some 80,000 pounds weight of candles. The food supply for the horses and mules is also on a generous scale, thousands of tons of hay, oats and bran being always kept at the base in readiness for instant despatch to the front.

Of course, it must be understood that these huge totals are subjected to an almost continuous drain, while hostilities are in progress, consequently in a few weeks after the outbreak of war the reserve stock has necessarily assumed much smaller proportions than was the case at the commencement. In the same way, when the end of the campaign is within measurable distance, the forwarding of fresh supplies from England is instantly put a stop to. Despite every precaution, however, the commissariat department is almost bound to find itself, on the declaration of peace, saddled with an immense accumulation of perishable stores for which there is no further use. The general procedure in these instances is to sell by public auction such surplus stock for what it will fetch. As a rule, this is remarkably little, and certainly not more than a tithe of its original cost.

In an article on the supply of rations to troops engaged on active service, Lord Wolseley has laid it down for the guidance of officers that "it may be accepted as a fact that the better the men are fed the more you will be able to get out of them, the better will be their health and strength, the more contented they will be, and the better will be their discipline." Judging from the liberal scale on which rations are issued in time of war, the soundness of these views seems to be accepted without demur by the authorities. The actual quantities which the soldier receives daily are, under ordinary circumstances (i.e., when the commissariat wagons are in touch with the column), as follows:— Bread, 1½ pounds; meat, 1 pound; coffee, 1-8 ounce; tea, 1-6 ounces; and sugar, 2 ounces. Jam, cheese, pickles, and compressed vegetables are also included in the ration allowance as frequently as possible.—Horace Wyndham.

CAPE RETURN CARGOES.

Skins and Wattle to Be Sent to Toronto as an Experiment.

A copy of The Times of Natal, which was received the other day, contains an interview with Mr. J. G. Jardine, the Dominion Government's trade agent in South Africa. Mr. Jardine enumerates many lines of manufactures Canada could export to South Africa. In reply, however to the question, "What about exports to Canada?" he replies:

"That is at present the difficulty. When the new direct line is running we shall, of course, want a return cargo, but so far the prospect is poor. We can take any quantity of your goat and sheepskins, and I am in hopes of introducing wattle into Canada. At present our tanners have to use hemlock, and we import American oak leather from the States. Sir Benjamin Greenacre is interesting himself in the project, and the first ship of the new line will take back with her a hundredweight of wattle to each of the principal tanning firms in Canada. If the experimental cargo proves a success, there is no reason why the trade should not develop."

Regarding the feasibility of Mr. Jardine's ideas, Mr. A. R. Clarke of the firm of Clarke & Co., Toronto, large dealers in imported hides, was interviewed. "The bulk of the Cape skins of both sheep and goats," said Mr. Clarke, "goes to London. New York also takes quite a lot. At present Canada doesn't trade in them very much, but conditions would be altered if they could be imported as cheaply as return cargo. The reason London receives so large a proportion of these skins is because of her large trade with the Cape. The skins are return cargoes. It might be advantageous for us to get some also. There is another special reason, however, why the bulk of the Cape sheep skins go to London. Cape wool is very fine, and is largely used in the manufacture of tweeds by the large factories near London. We have not the factories that could handle the wool and turn out such fine cloth. Still, there is considerable trade in Cape sheep and goat skins in New York, and we ought to be able to do something in that way, too.

"I have had no experience of wattle for tanning," continued Mr. Clarke, "but I understand that it gives a fair, light russet color. Yes, that is just what our tanners want. It might be handled as a powder or an extract in order to save freight. It's altogether a matter of cost. The cost is reckoned on the percentage of tanning obtained. Hemlock is used because it is indigenous to the country. It is, however, becoming scarce, but not so scarce that wattle could displace it, supposing both equally good, unless freight rates were very low. Gambia is imported from India and sumac from Sicily. Why not wattle from South Africa?"

Then, after a few moments' thought upon the matter, Mr. Clarke added: "Yes, I think there might be, on the whole, considerable business worked up in those lines."

Annoying Symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Kidney disease is almost invariably accompanied by constipation and liver disorders. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are more effective than ordinary medicines, because they have a direct and combined action on kidney, liver and bowels. By this extraordinary power they entirely overcome complicated diseases of the digestive, filtering and excretory systems.

Mr. John Nayes, Ashburnham, Peterborough, Ont., states: — "Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with success I can strongly recommend them. For considerable time I was a sufferer from kidney disease and constipation, and besides being tortured by the shooting pains through the back put up with the other annoying and often distressing symptoms of kidney disorders. Sometimes I would go three or four days without a motion of the bowels and could get no relief.

"After using a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was well again and feeling fine. This treatment seemed to be exactly what I needed and promptly brought relief and cure."

FRUITS OF FREEDOM.

Remarks by Sir Wilfrid Laurier Regarding the Progress of the Empire—A Glowing Tribute to Good Old England.

The Colonial Premiers and their Ministers were dined by the Canadian Club of London at the Trocadero restaurant; Lord Strathcona presided. It is astonishing the amount of vitality in the High Commissioner. He moves about and talks like a man at fifty. The Lord Mayor was there, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Edmund Barton, Sir Robert Bond, Sir William Mulock, Hon. W. Paterson, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Lord Derby, Lord Ashbourne, Sir John Anderson, Mr. C. M. Hays, Hon. Dr. Montague, General Baily, Hon. M. T. Duffy, Hon. H. Peters, Hon. F. Haultain, Mr. J. S. Colmer, C.M.G., and quite a distinguished company..

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was loudly cheered, after expressing his appreciation of the overwhelming warmth of English hospitality and of the kind terms in which the Lord Mayor had referred to him, went on to say that his Lordship had spoken of Canada in language of great encomium, but, great as his encomium was, Canada deserved it all. (Cheers.) The Lord Mayor had said that the free institutions with which they were blessed in 1867 had maintained the loyalty of Canada. They had done more—they had enhanced the loyalty of Canada. (Cheers.) This was a free country, and a man was always welcome to speak his mind to a British audience. Let him say this, then, that if it had not been for the charter of liberty which Canada has received, the condition of things would perhaps have been different. In 1837, the first year of her late Majesty's reign, Canada was in a turmoil of excitement. There was rebellion in the French province of Quebec; there were rebels also in the British province of Ontario. The rebellion, was, in his opinion, quite justified by the unworthy system which then obtained, and by the attempt to rule what ought to have been a free people by methods which did not suit them. But in 1899, when they had a free charter, when they had a Parliament to which the Government of the day were responsible, when they had all the blessings of responsible government in the same measure in which the people of England enjoyed them—at that time, when the authority of Her Majesty was threatened in distant parts of her dominions, the very sons of the rebels of 1837 were the first to go to the rescue and take their coats off to maintain the domination of the Queen in South Africa. (Cheers.) That was the result of the wise policy which had been followed in regard to Canada and the other colonies of Great Britain. The 19th century had been in Great Britain, a century prolific in reforms; but in all the reforms which had been effected in that memorable period there was none which had been so prolific in great and useful results as the concession to the colonies of the power to govern themselves in accordance with their own will and with what they believed to be their own interests. (Cheers.) Canada was blessed not only with a good system of government, but she was also blessed with a good climate—cold in winter, very cold; warm in summer, very warm; but always dry, cheering and invigorating, and full of exhilaration. After describing the great strides which Canada had made during the last 100 years Sir Wilfrid Laurier went on to say that there was absolute certainty that Canada would be the granary of Great Britain. At the present time there was in Canada an ocean of ripening grain of a quality unsurpassed in the world, and as for quantity, in a few years there would be enough to feed the whole of Great Britain, nay the whole of Europe. (Cheers.) The one thing only which they wanted in Canada at the present time was population. They had a population of five million and a little more; they had room and land to give homes and shelter to a hundred millions at least, and by-and-by, as he hoped in a not very distant future, they would have within the bounds of Canada a population of a hundred millions. (Cheers.) They were going to repeat the history of the United States, and he thought that in so saying he was not over-confident. But when he came to England and saw the distressed condition of many of our people it was always to him a matter of some surprise that no greater efforts were made by the people of this country to send over their poor surplus population to that vast land of Western Canada. The Canadian Government was doing its share. It had emigration agents in all parts of Europe, but it preferred the people of those northern races to which we all belonged, because, after all, they were the best of all men in a new country. But no matter where they came from—Great Britain, or Ireland, or Norway, or France, or Germany, or Hungary, or the United States also—they treated them all in the same way and turned them out good Canadians one and all. (Cheers.) The Canadian Government gave 160 acres of land to every boy of eighteen years of age, who would make it a home, and the price they asked was that he should take a good wife and bring up his children upon the land. Not one dollar did they require from him. They offered further advantages, and on these conditions they opened their domain to all the destitute of Europe. If the poor of Great Britain who were longing for work, and who would be the best of settlers, would go to Canada, they would be in a few years, prosperous men with homes for themselves and families. If he had a request to make of the Canadian Club it was that they would second the efforts of the Canadian Government, and send emigrants to Canada. The more we sent population to Canada, the more we would bind her to our heart, and the more we should have that condition which we all hoped for the British Empire, of which he, a British subject not of British origin, was just as proud as any one to-day.

THE PICTURE, THE SONG, THE STORY

The artist throws his brush aside
In grief, because his art
Will not illume a canvas rare
With the picture of his heart.

With tears the singer's voice is dumb,
The strains within her lute,
They haunt her brain with heavenly airs,
But ah! she wanders mute.

The writer finds a glorious theme,
'Twill win him endless fame;
Words only come so poor and crude
He bends his head in shame.

The artist paints a picture true
Of a quiet mountain glen:
It stirs the blood of the wanderer,
Makes a man a child again.

The simple song the singer sang,
Of patience under wrong,
Taught captives in a foreign land
How suffering made one strong.

Among the little homely tales
The writer sent abroad
Was one that touched a singer's heart
And brought him home to God.

Our longings fixed on larger gifts;
The worth we fail to treasure,
Of quiet lines and little things
That brimming fills life's measure.

—Lawrence Irwin.

Well Placed Generosity.

In 1835 Liszt went on a tour in the French provinces. He arrived at the little town of L— to give a concert, as announced. But the inhabitants appeared to take but little interest in musical matters, for when the musician appeared on the platform he found himself face to face with an audience numbering exactly seven persons. Liszt stepped very calmly to the front and, bowing respectfully to the array of empty benches, he delivered himself as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I feel extremely flattered by your presence here this evening, but this room is not at all suitable; the air is literally stifling. Will you be good enough to accompany me to my hotel, where I will have the piano conveyed? We shall be quite comfortable there, and I will go through the whole of my programme."

The offer was unanimously accepted, and Liszt treated his guests not only to a splendid concert, but an excellent supper into the bargain. Next day, when the illustrious virtuoso appeared to give his second concert, the hall was not large enough to contain the crowd which claimed admittance.

Man, Woman and Love.

"If you are bald, never make love to a woman taller than you. Looked at from below, you are all right.

"Never let your ladylove see you without a collar; no—not even the very wife of your bosom. A man's head without a collar is like a bouquet without a holder.

"Never marry a woman richer than you, one taller than you, or one older than you. Be always gently superior to your wife in fortune, in size and in age, so that in every possible way she may appeal to you for help or protection, either through your purse, your strength or your experience in life. Marry her at an age that will always enable you to play with her all the different characteristic parts of a husband—a chum, a lover, an adviser, a protector and just a tiny suspicion of a father."

Stories of London Weather.

The Manchester Guardian tells a good story of the weather. The scene was a Strand omnibus. A leaden sky was overhead, the rain poured down uncompromisingly, mud was under foot. A red capped Parsee, who had been sitting near the dripping driver, got down as the conductor came up. "What sort o' chap is that?" asked the driver. "Don't yer know that?" answered the conductor. "Why, that's one o' them Indians that worship the sun." "Worships the sun?" said the shivering driver. "I suppose 'e's come over 'ere to 'ave a rest!"

This recalls the reply given on one occasion by an eastern potentate to Queen Victoria, who asked him whether his people did not worship the sun. "Yes, your majesty," said the oriental, "and if you saw him you would worship him also."

Jest a-guessin',
"How's the 'lections," feller said,
"Which side's comin' out ahead,
Now we'll hear from Uncle Jed—
Quit yer wasting'."

Advertising Versus Merit.

The enormous sale of most medicines has depended entirely on large advertising. The enormous sale of Merrill's System Tonic has depended entirely on the merits of this wonderful compound. We say it is the best medicine to purify the blood, build up the system, strengthen the nerves and regulate the bowels made. Invest 50 cents in one bottle and you will know that we speak the truth. A Grizzly's Revenge.

On Friday, July 25, a Kootenay Indian named "Big Jim," who was hunting up the Wild Horse creek, a tributary of the Kootenay, ran across a large grizzly bear and fired at him several shots. The bear got away and the Indian thinking he might have wounded him, as he found blood on the trail, followed, and in passing along was set upon by the bear, who had cached himself in some underbrush. The grizzly knocked the Indian down, tore away nearly all of the face, broke the under jaw in several places and made deep gashes on his shoulder and legs, leaving the poor Indian insensible.

Fortunately he had a good dog with him that attacked the bear and drove him away, or the Indian would have been killed outright.

He was afterwards found by his companions, who carried him several miles to the wagon road, and from there brought him to Fort Steele, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Brodie who at once pronounced it a case for the hospital. He was removed to St. Eugene's, where he was operated on by three doctors, but it is doubtful if the man will live.

The Indian was a noted bear hunter, and was considered one of the most skilful and determined amongst the Kootenays. — Fort Steele Prospector.

FOOTBALL.

A despatch from Ottawa says: — Word has been received that Britton, the crack quarter back of the Argos, will come to Ottawa and be employed by the Canada Atlantic, and Parmenter and Argo wing man, will also be in the city in a few days and will practice law. It is said that the two will play with the Rough Riders, and will do much to strengthen the team. The club are handicapped in starting practice, as several of the players are members of the lacrosse club."

LACROSSE.

The Ottawa Journal makes the following urgent appeal to the public to support the "Caps."

"The members of the Capital Lacrosse Club have demonstrated beyond any doubt that they have made good use of their stewardship. They have played excellent lacrosse all season and have to-day worked themselves into that position that makes the championship look inevitable for the local chaps. The public as a rule is a never satisfied public, they cry incoherently for a first class team and then when they get it they fail to support it. For sentimental reasons alone the people of this city should feel themselves obliged to support the Capital Lacrosse Club. If the different branches of sport are to remain active here and escape falling into the abyss of oblivion, the citizens of Ottawa must give sufficient of their precious to pay the running expenses of the different clubs. Too often the supporting of these organizations is left to a few, and on the surface there does not appear to be any sufficient or just reason for it. Outside of sentimental reasons, Ottawa should support the Capital Lacrosse Club, as it needs the money. The expense incidental to the successful carrying on of such a team are enormous and it is only right that the citizens should pay for this."

RUGBY.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held in the Oriental Hotel, commencing at 8 o'clock on Monday evening. Those interested in the grand old game of rugby are asked to bear the date in mind as a representative meeting is desired. The Peterborough team intends making another fight for the intermediate championship of the O.R.F.U. and the C.R.U.

The annual meeting of the London Rugby Club was held the other evening. Dr. Andrew Scott, formerly of the local team was elected to a position on the executive. Concerning the prospects of the Club the News says:

It is also stated that Mr. Crawford, who has a reputation all through Canada as a crack man on the rugby field, will inall probability be captain of the team.

During the meeting a heated discusion took place among members of the management of the team, in which one of the club members said that if a certain individual was elected manager, he would use all his influence to throw London from the league.

Dr. Scott, who has lately moved from Peterborough here, will be a strong addition to London's eleven. Dr. Scott played on Peterborough's team last year, and will be missed a great deal by that town.

Jas. McDougall, secretary-treasurer of the club, will also play on the team.

The team will start at hard practice right after the close of the Western Fair, and it is promised that London will put a stronger and heavier team on the field than ever.

The team may join the senior ranks, though this was not definitely decided upon, pending the action of the Peterborough club.

HOCKEY.

It is rumoured that the Peterboroughs this winter may lose Ernie Wasson, their invincible goal keeper. He may leave town.

It is possible that a hockey team from Dawson will visit Montreal next winter in quest of the Stanley Cup. Up in Sheriff Ellbeck's country they think they have a septette that would make the easterners hustle. The trip would cost $10,000, but that wouldn't worry the people in the land of the midnight sun. Among the Dawsons fast players are Weldy Young, Norman, Watt, formerly of Aylmer, Randy McLennan, Cap. Bennett, erstwhile of Halifax, Merritt, brother of the famous Winnipeg goal keeper, Kennedy, once of Winnipeg, Tom Watts, who learned hockey in Collingwood, Sandy Miller, of Quebec, Ed Sears, of Kingston, Hulme of Belleville, and Patterson, son of the ex-governor of Manitoba.

TWO AND A HALF MILES.

Compressed Air Sent That far at the Cordova Gold Mine.

Mr. A. W. Campbell, Assistant Commissioner of Public Works, returned to Toronto yesterday from the Cordova gold mine in Peterborough County, where he has been inspecting the road between the mine and Havelock. The road, he stated, would be improved immediately, as the traffic over it was now very great; and necessitated its being in first-class condition, as all the supplies for the mining camp had to be teamed over the road.

Mr. Campbell said that the village around the mine was growing, and that everything appeared to be in a prosperous condition. A compressor had been installed which utilized the water power, the compressed air being sent through a 12-inch main two and a half miles to the works, the greatest distance that compressed air is carried for such a purpose on the continent of America. Ten shafts have been sunk, and a 30-stamp mill is in constant operation. Mr. Kerr, the manager of the mine, stated to Mr. Campbell that the company contemplated duplicating the plant. The stamp mill was running regularly, with the exception of two hours on Sunday, and the machinery was of the very finest quality.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Ellie Elliott, of Dummer, and Mr. Wm. Bromwell, of Peterborough.

A happy event took place on Monday, Sept. 1st, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Elliott, Dummer, when her daughter, Miss Ellie was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Wm. Bromell, of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed at one o'clock p.m. by the Rev. J. McKee McLennan, rector of Christ church, Norwood, in the presence of about fifty guests.

The bride was assisted by Miss C. Cooke, of Campbellford, while the groom was attended by Mr. Chas. Sisson, of Peterborough.

The usual congratulations were extended to the newly wedded couple at the conclusion of the ceremony, after which the company repaired to the dining room where a well appointed wedding dinner was served.

STOCK MARKETS.

Distribute Your Stock Holdings.

New York, Sept. 4.—The bull market continues right along on its way. Prices are steadily creeping up and will go still higher. Group after group of stocks are taken in hand one after another, speculation broadening all the time, and breaking out daily in new places. The moment one group becomes quiet another is taken up, and, after a period of rest for the previously active group, during which time the stock becomes lodged or digested around the prices made, it again becomes active and a new range of values are made. We strongly advise when entering the present market, to distribute your purchasing orders through four or five different groups. By so doing you will be likely to be in some of the moving issues almost daily. Make your selections from the trunk lines group, the anthracite coal group, the bituminous coal group, the granger or cereal carrier group, the south western group, the Pacific group, and from among the industrials. By so doing all your financial eggs will not be in one basket. It adds to your safety, and is analagous to holding insurance with the policies taken out in a number of companies. We deem this to be good advice, so to some extent reiterate it from our letter last night. As to the market, it is, in our opinion, still a splendid one to buy into, and unusually safe to do so at the present time. The business ahead for the various roads and industrials fairly staggers their managers and the western people are pronouncedly bullish upon both kinds of issues. Declining exchange foreshadows the importation of gold from Europe, and we will shortly draw bills upon them in payment for food and other products sold them. Money will be closer for a time, but not tight or unobtainable. Do not let that bugaboo stand in the way when contemplating entering the stock market. The outlook for the fall and winter months is most excellent. The people who have been decrying values for the past three months should not be listened to. They are sold out bulls—consequently disappointed ones. One word more, in fact, a reiteration of ideas expressed quite often recently,—this is a good market in which to utilize your profits by buying more stocks. Allowing your standing profits to act as margin thereon, it increases them immensely and rapidly. The people who have followed the above advice each time it has been suggested in these letters have had no reason to regret it.

AUSTRALIAN RAILROADS.

Three Lines Will Shortly Stretch Across the Continent.

A wonderful impulse has been given to railroad building in Australia by the merging of colonial interests in the union formed by the Commonwealth. There is as yet no line of railroad stretching across the continent, but it is already certain that in the near future there are to be three such lines, and that each of them may be used to shorten the journey between Europe, Sydney and the southern ports by several days.

Sir John Forest, the first postmaster-general of the Commonwealth, is the author of the project, now authorized, to extend the southern system of railroads clear across the southern part of the continent, forming a connection between Sydney on the east and Perth on the west coast. Port Augusta, at the northern point of Spencer Gulf in South Australia, is now the western terminus of the South Australian railroads. It is the outlet for the pastoral regions to the west and the wheat lands northwest of it. A line 1,068 miles in length is to be built along the coast on the southern edge of the Great Victoria Desert to Port Eucla, the frontier town between the states of West Australia and South Australia, and thence northwest to the well-known gold mining centre of Kalgoorlie, which already has a railroad connecting it with Perth, the capital of West Australia, on the west coast. It is expected that this line, built along the level coast, may be quite cheaply constructed, the cost being estimated at something over $10,000,000.

A railroad has for a long time been in operation between Port Augusta and the town of Oodnadatta, far north in the State of South Australia. The best harbor on the north coast of the continent is Port Darwin, the outlet for the neighboring gold and tin mines, and the landing place of two of the cables that connect Europe and Australia. A railroad from Port Darwin, 145 miles long, extends to Pine Creek, in the heart of the mining region. Pine Creek and Oodnadatta are to be the terminal points of the new north and south railroad across the heart of Australia. When the road is completed the journey may be made by rail north and south through the middle of Australia from Adelaide on the south coast to Port Darwin, the distance being 1,896 miles.

The second transcontinental road north and south will have the same terminus on the north coast, but will lie to the east of the central route. The town of Bourke is now the terminus in the northwest of the railroad system of New South Wales. A railroad will be built in a comparatively straight line between Bourke and Pine Creek, its direction being northwest and southeast. It will be 1,600 miles long and its completion will link Sydney with Port Darwin by a continuous railroad 2,247 miles in length.

The first of these two north and south continental roads will be the shorter, but it will have the disadvantage of running through the uninhabitated and worthless desert of Central Australia. The longer route between Sydney and Port Darwin, however, will have the decided advantage of running through a great region of grazing lands whose utility may be largely enhanced in value by the development of artesian wells. It may also be reached easily by the extension of the Queensland lines, which now connect the east coast ports with the interior, and as the line will form a part of the shortest route to Europe. It will probably draw some part of the east coast trade. It is expected that the opening of this railroad will have a great effect upon the fortunes of Port Darwin, which now merely serves the needs of a few thousand miners in the most isolated part of the continent, but when connected with the most populous parts, both of south and southeast Australia, has every prospect of developing into a port of large importance.

The plans of these three great railroads have been completed, the building of the roads has been authorized by legal enactment, and the beginning of the work is within sight. These facts show that in spite of her small population the Commonwealth of Australia is determined to do everything in its power to advance the industrial and commercial facilities of the continent which it embraces.

A Pathmaster and a Woman.

The law has a hard hand and an unpitying eye in some of the small and remote communities, and no man is so exacting as the one clothed with a little brief authority. In the township of Albemarle, in Bruce county, a poor widow, with three children, was compelled by a pathmaster to work side by side with men for three quarters of a day, shoveling gravel in a pit. She is a hard-working woman trying to make a living for her three children. His vison blurred by a sense of duty, feeling himself the instrument of inexorable law, the pathmaster ruled that the woman's land being chargeable with certain statute labor, and as she wouldn't, or couldn't, or at all events, didn't, hire anybody else to do the work, she must do it herself. And she did it.

The roads in Albemarl should grow fine and smooth where statute labor is directed by so firm a hand. Where even the widow must do her shoveling let us hope that no man escapes his duty or loafs and gossips by the roadside in doing his day and a half per annum of gravel piling in the middle of the King's highway.

Berlin has an Industrial Committee, which looks after the business interests of the town. A sub-committee met the other day and decided to offer a prize of $20 for a write-up of the town, not exceeding 2,400 words, the story to be written in such a way as to be an interesting account of all the products manufactured in Berlin, as well as the points of interest. The prize money to be paid only on condition that a story acceptable to the committee be received. It was also decided to offer a prize of five dollars to the photographers of Berlin for the best full view of Victoria Park, the picture to be of a size named by the committee, and the prize to go to the picture chosen by the committee; the photo to be taken in proportions that can be enlarged to allow a cut 7 by 14 inches to be made therefrom.

SIR E. BARTON'S FUTURE.

Will Shortly Assume Chief Justiceship of Commonwealth.

Sydney, Sept. 6.—It is persistently rumored in Federal circles that Sir Edmund Barton, the Commonwealth Premier, has been offered a position in London at a salary of £5,000 per annum in connection with the proposed Imperial Court of Appeal.

Ministers deny any knowledge of this, but it is expected in well-informed circles that in a few months Sir Edmund Barton will retire from politics and will probably assume the Chief Justiceship of the Commonwealth.

Boy's Miraculous Escape.

Durham, Sept. 6.—Samual Bain, 12th concession of Glenelg, was giving his four-year-old son a ride on the binder, when in some way he fell on the canvas and was taken up, sticking fast under the roller. The horrified father thought his boy was gone. Calls brought the mother, and the distracted parents were most opportunely assisted by Mr. C. C. McFayden, who was passing at the time. Using rails to pry open the rollers, the boy was extricated, breath gone, and to all appearance dead, but restorative measure brought him round, and the parents rejoice over his miraculous escape.

The Stinson Bank Case.

Hamilton, Sept. 6. — Miss Nellie Sullivan of this city recently obtained judgment against John Stinson, Chicago, for the recovery of $4,851.70, and interest, the whole amounting to $4,899.56, deposited in the defunct Stinson Bank in this city. Yesterday morning, John Harrison, for the plaintiff, obtained an order from Judge Snider, settling the terms of the order appointing a receiver, and the rents and profits of James Stinson's Hamilton property are to go to pay off the mortgages. When the mortgages are paid off the balance is to be distributed among the creditors. Whether or not the creditors get much is a question.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—The 21st annual report of the C.P.R. directors for the year ending June 30, 1902, was issued yesterday. The financial statement, a summary of which has already appeared, shows that the gross earnings were $37,503,053,78; the working expenses were $23,417,-141.37, and the net earnings was $14,085,912.41; add interest on bonds, loans and deposits, total $958,926.61. Deduct fixed charges accrued during the year, including interest on land bonds, $7,334,825.09. The surplus for the year was $7,-709,913.96. Deduct amount applied against cost of steamships, $150,000. Carried forward, $7,559,913.96. From this there has been paid and declared dividends of $4,496,840. The surplus earnings account now amounts to $14,185,634. The working expenses for the year amounted to 62.44 per cent. of the gross earnings, and the net earnings to 37.56 per cent., as compared with 60.75 and 39.25 per cent. respectively in 1901. The earnings per passenger per mile were 1.75 cents, and per ton of freight per mile 0.75 cents as against 1.93 and 0.79 cents respectively in 1901. Four hundred and eighty miles of 80-pound rails are being laid on the main line this season and before the end of 1904 the directors hope to have the lighter rails replaced on all the main lines. In these busy days it is very difficult to secure additional locomotives and cars to keep pace with the growth of your traffic. Contracts were made, however, for all that could be delivered during the current year. On the completion of the large locomotive and car shops at Montreal, now in course of erection, the company will be able to provide these facilities more rapidly and economically.

The expenditure for improvements on main lines and branches during the year amounted to $1,917,273, including $353,004 on Montreal terminals. There was further spent on the Ontario & Quebec line $285,803, of which $64,207 was for real estate in Montreal and Toronto.

MARTYR TO CONSCIENCE.

Col. St. Remy Sent to Jail For One Day For Civil Offence.

Nantes, France, Sept. 6.—A court-martial yesterday sentenced Lieut.-Col. St. Remy, who on Aug. 7, refused to assist in closing the unauthorized schools, to one day's imprisonment.

The Lieut.-Col. was tried on two charges, First, refusing to obey an order given by the commanding General; second, refusing to direct the troops of his command to act on the requisition of the civil authorities.

The court-martial unanimously acquitted the Colonel of the charge of disobeying military orders, but by a vote of 6 to 1 found him guilty of refusing to obey civil requisition, and sentenced him to a day's imprisonment and costs.

The verdict was greeted with applause, as it was regarded as being practically an acquittal.

TO SETTLE IRISH TROUBLE.

Land Question Must Be Solved by Parties Interested.

London, Sept. 6.—Mr. George Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replying to inquiries made of him with reference to the conference proposed by Capt. Shawe Taylor, a prominent landlord of Ardrohan, County Galway, for the solution of the present trouble in Ireland, says: "The Irish land question must be settled by the parties interested. The extent of the useful action of the Government is limited to providing facilities and giving effect to the settlement. It is not for the Government to express any opinion as to the opportuneness of holding this conference. Any conference is a step in the right direction if it brings nearer the prospect of a settlement."

Mr. Samuel Blake's Donation.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—At the Church of England Synod yesterday, while the discussion on the mission work of the church was going on, Mr. Samuel Blake, K.C., arose and announced that he would give $1,000 toward missions in the diocese of Keewatin. The announcement was greeted with loud applause, and Bishop Loftus of Keewatin thanked Mr. Blake on the spot.

London, Sept. 6. — The conference between the Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain was held yesterday afternoon at Downing street. Just prior to their departure from their hotel, Abraham Fischer, the Boer delegate, had a conference with them.

The conference lasted two hours. Reporters were refused all information as to what took place.

Discipline and Sickness.

Wellington, Sept. 6.—The newspapers declare that the returned troopers from South Africa are responsible for the spread of a good deal of sickness in New Zealand. It is a matter of public notoriety that discipline on the troopships was deplorably lax, and that the conduct of the men was responsible, in large measure for the subsequent illness and trouble on board. The Transport Commission continues to take voluminous evidence, the effect of which cannot yet be accurately gauged.

Pioneer Day at the Fair.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Yesterday was Pioneer and Empire Day at the Exhibition. The grey beards were there in force, and many interesting recollections were revived. Many men who remember when the present site of Toronto was practically a wilderness were present, and during the directors' banquet to the leading pioneers, they regaled those present with stories of 50 years ago, and drew interesting comparisons. The real feature of the day, however, was addresses by Prof. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture for the Dominion, and Prof. Ruddick, Dairy Commissioner. The addresses touched on the art of comfort on the farm and the latent resources of the Ontario soil, possibilities of the dairy, the poultry yard and other parts of diversified farming.

Wants Canadian Lumber.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—John Charlton, M. P., says he is tolerably sure next session would see the American Congress adopt lower duties on Cuban products, and cut the present two-dollar duty against Canadian sawn lumber in two.

BEET ROOT SUGAR CULTURE.

When the Ontario Government procured legislation providing for the encouragement of the beet root sugar industry and setting apart $225,000 to be paid in bonuses, there was no little criticism and veiled, if not open, hostility to the proposal. But in this as in other things, the wisdom and foresight of the Government and the bona fides of their interest in the promotion of the interests of the farmers of the province, have been vindicated. The progress of educating the farmers in regard to the importance of the beet sugar industry, has been slow — the distribution of seed—the growth of experimental plots and the dissemination of the results have been rather slow work, but the energy thus expended has not been wasted and now we are beginning to reap the fruits. The tests inaugurated by the Government have demonstrated that the soil of Ontario is excellently adapted to the growth of beets of high sugar value, Peterborough being especially prominent in these tests, and we now have a beginning made. The inauguration of the sugar beet as a practical factor in Ontario farming dates from the year 1902. This year four factories have been established in various parts of Ontario, representing an investment of about two and a quarter million—$2,250,000. Twenty thousand acres have been placed under cultivation for beets, with a prospect of an average yield of at least 12 tons to the acre—Peterborough's average is about 14 tons to the acre—which yields the grower four dollars per ton delivered at the factory.

In another column is reprinted an interesting article describing the Wallaceburg beet root sugar factory, the pioneer establishment of the kind in Ontario. The farmers of Peterborough will find it most interesting reading and it is hoped it will be an inspiration to a renewal of the local agitation of last fall which promised, but unfortunately failed, to result in practical action. The reports of the experiments in beet growing last year showed that the beets grown in Peterborough had the highest percentages in sugar value of the counties of the province and the yield was equal to the best. There is therefore no reason, except not doing it, why Peterborough should not be the centre of one of the most flourishing beet root sugar industries in the province. Let the agitation be renewed and continued till this great industry is established here, giving the farmer a profitable new crop, which can be raised without interfering to any important extent with the present routine of farm operations, but will on the contrary fit the soil used for the more successful cultivation of other crops. We commend the article in another column to the careful reading of every farmer and every enterprising business man.

In an interview with the Winnipeg Telegram, Mr. Preston forecasts that, judging from the number of inquiries for information at the Government offices in London, and relying upon the favourable reports which the visiting British journals will give of the agricultural conditions of the Northwest, an immigration of 150,000 to 175,000 people from the British Islands may be looked for in the near future. We cannot get too many immigrants from the old country, that is if they are of the right stuff—and want to make homes for themselves in the best country on earth for successful farming and happy home-making with the least possible delay and

BEET SUGAR MANUFACTURE ESTABLISHED IN ONTARIO.

Four Large Factories Will be at Work This Autumn—Interesting Description of One of the Factories—A Matter of Live Interest to Peterborough Farmers and Business Men.

In the last issue of the Farmer's Advocate, is an interesting description of the Wallaceburg Beet Sugar Factory, with fine illustrations. Unfortunately, the Examiner cannot reproduce the pictures, but the article itself, which will be worthy of careful perusal, is reprinted below;

Although one hundred and fifty years have elapsed since Achard, a German investigator, discovered that sugar could be secured from the beet, no successful attempt at its wholesale manufacture was made until 1870. Over twenty years ago, two factories were started in Quebec, but failed through lack of capital, mismanagement, and indisposition of farmers to grow the beets. Of recent years however, the industry has made great strides in Europe and the United States, and can now be said to have become firmly implanted on Canadian soil. Within a few weeks, the production of sugar from the sugar beet will have been accomplished in our own land, and the prospects for its future development are most encouraging.

Of the four factories about to be completed in Ontario, that owned by the Wallaceburg Sugar Beet Company, Limited, Wallaceburg, Ont., will likely be the first in operation. On a recent visit to that town, a Farmer's Advocate representative was shown over the immense new building and the splendid beet fields by D. A. Gould, manager of the company, and D. Lefavour, his efficient assistant. From what was seen, the people of that district have just reason to feel proud of the magnificent structure of steel and brick on the banks of the Sydenham River. The Kilby Manufacturing Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, have had the contract of this gigantic concern, which when completed will cost $600,000. It has been the aim of both contractors and promoters to erect a plant capable of extracting from the beets the largest amount of sugar at the least possible cost. Nothing but the most improved machinery has been installed and the quality of the workmanship as pronounced by experts is unequalled. A very commendable feature of this plant, and one which exemplifies the keen foresight of the management, is the arrangement of the plant in such a manner that either cut-loaf, yellow or granulated sugar may be manufactured. The latter being in the greatest demand at present, will alone be produced this year, but changes in future markets can be equally well catered to by this company.

THE BUILDING.

The framework of the entire building is of steel, the walls are of brick, and 300 heavy pillars of iron support the cement floors, upon which the machinery is laid. The main apartment is 258 feet in length, 67 feet wide, and 73 feet, or four stories, in height. In a direct line with the main building stands the warehouse for refined sugar, a two-story structure, 197 feet long, 67 feet wide, and 30 feet high, having a capacity for storing 15,000 barrels. The beet shed, which is built of cement and structural steel, has a capacity of 10,000 tons, and affords accommodation for unloading from either waggon, train or boat, a combination possessed by but few factories. It is 400 feet long, 196 feet wide, and 21 feet high. Closely connected with the main building is the boiler house, 164 feet by 47 feet, and 31 feet high, containing eight 250-horse-power Scotch marine boilers. Adjoining this is the permanent workshop, with its large lathes, planes, drill presses and pipe and nipple cutting machines. Next, and at the south-east corner, stands the lime department, having a length, breadth and depth of 71, 41 and 65 feet respectively. The kiln itself, which towers from the centre of the building, has a capacity of 21,250 cubic feet.

THE PROCESS OF MANUFACTURE.

The various stages in the manufacture involve machinery both intricate and elaborate. They are, nevertheless, interesting, and anyone who visits a factory for the first time cannot but be struck with the ingenuity and completeness of the process. As the beets leave the shed, they float in cement flumes to a scroll which leads to the beet washer. From thence they are elevated to the upper story of the main building, and weighed by an automatic beet scale, which afterwards dumps the beets into a slicer. When sliced they fall on an endless belt over the diffusion battery, where warm water is used to assist in the separation of sugar and pulp. The cells of this apparatus each hold three tons of sliced beets (cossets.) Leaving the battery the juice is measured, after which it passes through the first calorisators, of which there are six. At this point an excess of lime is added and the juice treated with carbonic acid gas to precipitate impurities. It is then passed through mud presses, where it is filtered and the juice collected in a tank, to be pumped to the second carbonator, where lime and carbonic acid are again introduced for the precipitation of foreign matter which may remain. The filtration which follows is performed by three large mechanical filters, operated by gravity. This juice having been received in a tank, is then pumped up to the first saturation tank, where sulphuric acid gas is then introduced for further purification and for bleaching. Again the juice is filtered, passing on to the evaporator supply tank and thence to the evaporators, of which there are four, each having a capacity of 3,000 square feet heating surface. At this time the juice becomes a syrup and is pumped up to the syrup saturation station, to be treated with sulphurous acid gas, after which it passes over five small filters, and is forced up to the vacuum pan supply tanks. Leaving the vacuum pans, where much of the moisture is removed, it enters the mixers, and passes on to the crystalizers, of which there are ten, each having a capacity of 45 tons. From these it emerges as granulated sugar, ready to be barrelled or bagged for the trade, and at once finds a place in the warehouse.

DISPOSITION OF THE PULP.

When juice is extracted from the sliced beets, the pulp is conveyed by means of carriers to a large pit or silo, about ten rods square and 6 feet deep, situated just south of the factory. From this basin a complete system of drainage has been arranged, so that the objectionable odours so often found in the vicinity of pulp pits will be reduced to a minimum.

This years the patrons of the Wallaceburg factory will be allowed to remove free of cost an amount of this by-product equal to the quantity of beets supplied the factory. At the Michigan factories a similar policy has been pursued until the farmers were convinced of its feeding value, after which from 35c to $1 per ton has been willingly paid by feeders. Some experiments have shown the dry matter in beet pulp to be equal, pound for pound, with the dry matter in corn silage, and therefore very valuable as a milk producing agent. Cows, it is said, will readily consume from 50 to 100 pounds daily.

THE BEET FIELDS.

Before the company could decide to invest the large amount of capital required to build and operate a factory, it was necessary that the farmers give definite assurance that a supply of beets would be forthcoming. This, the husbandmen of Kent County readily did, to the extent of 4,800 acres, and a visit to the country around Wallaceburg would convince any traveller that the seed was not sown to be neglected, but has undoubtedly received at the hands of the growers that care and cultivation which the crop demanded, so far as the season would permit. For the Dresden factory a similar acreage is under cultivation. That the farmers might be directed in the most scientific and up-todate methods of procedure, the company have had a band of six expert agriculturists engaged since the beginning of the season giving instruction in preparing the soil, sowing the seed, cultivating, and raising the beets beets when mature. Some, whose faith in the success of this industry was firm, devoted a considerable portion of their farm to the sweet roots. Capt. Steinhoff has 60 acres, D. A. Gordon, 60, J. S. Fraser and John Cooper, 50 each, and John Coffee 90 acres in one field. The balance of the large acreage being grown for this factory may be found within a radius of six miles. Everywhere, on well-drained soil, the beets presented a magnificent sight, and should the present month be a favourable one for storing up sugar the highest anticipations of the most optimistic may be realized.

PROBABLE YIELD.

In many cases the yield will doubtless be 15 tons per acre, and over a large area 12 tons will surely be harvested, indicating, if all goes well, a probable output of, say, 6,000 tons of sugar this season from the Wallaceburg factory. For these the farmers will this year be paid four dollars per ton. Next season the price will range according to the amount of sugar in the beet. In the Michigan factories 33 1-3 cents for each one per cent. sugar in the beets is commonly paid. So great is the company's faith in the future of their enterprise, and in their ability to satisfy the growers that they have required the latter to sign contracts to grow beets for but one year. The profits obtained, it is considered, will be sufficient inducement to cause them to continue.

NOT AN EXHAUSTIVE CROP.

Some prominent agriculturists have declared that sugar beets were an exhaustive crop on the soil, and that land on which they were grown was unfitted to produce a heavy yield of any cereal grain thereafter. Such, however, has not been found the case in actual practice. At Wallaceburg some farmers pointed to the best crop on their premises with the statement, "I had sugar beets on that field last year." A field of oats grown on the farm of D. A. Gordon, were superior in every respect to any seen by the writer on the trip from London to this place. It is well known that the beet top contains a comparatively higher per cent. of fertilizing constituents than the root, and when the former is fed on the field or in the stable, and the manure returned to the soil, no loss can accrue from that source. Moreover, when the patron of any factory appreciates as he should, the value of beet pulp, and returns to his farm to be fed the amount allotted to him at the factory, no loss in fertilizer is suffered through beet growing. This is proven by the well-known fact that sugar in itself contains neither nitrogen, potash, lime nor phosphorus, but is composed entirely of the elements, carbon, oxygen and hydrogen, obtained either directly or indirectly from the air. It is said that in France, where nothing but sugar has been removed from the farms during many years of sugar-beet growing no diminution in plant food has resulted. The growing of beets affords a splendid opportunity of combating noxious weeds, which have, unfortunately, become very prevalent in certain portions of Ontario, and the frequent cultivation necessary to conserve moisture and aerate the surface layers is sure to improve the mechanical condition of the soil.

THE LABOUR PROBLEM.

In some parts of Ontario, where factories have been proposed, or are being erected, farmers have feared that the scarcity of labourers would render the rearing of sugar beets in any quantity an impossibility. At Wallaceburg about one hundred men were imported from Belgium to assist in carrying on the work. These have proved a valuable acquisition, as many of them were familiar with the industry in their native land. Although objections were at first offered to the newcomers, no one appears to have suffered. All who cared to work have found employment, and that at remunerative wages. Growers have generally been able to keep pace with the work so far, and until raising and hauling to the factory begins no rush will be necessary. Every precaution is already being taken to make the transportation of the beets from the fields to the sheds as light as possible. Wharves are being built at convenient points along the river, and sidings are already laid at places along the railway, where farmers can easily unload their beets from the wagons. Many flat boats capable of carrying several tons, are also either in course of construction or are completed, and altogether the preparations are proceeding in a most enterprising and business-like way.

SHIPPING FACILITIES AND FUTURE PROSPECTS.

During the process of manufacture, which will likely last about 150 days, upwards of 300 men will be employed, and that too at a time when other industries are generally slack. The splendid shipping facilities at the command of this company, comprise in themselves a feature worthy of special mention. Passing through the town of Wallaceburg, and connecting it with Chatham, St. Thomas, London, Port Stanley, Detroit and Sarnia, is the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway. At this place also the north and east branches of the Sydneham River join, making a stream deep and broad enough to accommodate a steamer of considerable size as it flows on its way to Lake St. Clair, 16 miles distant. Thus means are afforded not only for placing the sugar in the hands of buyers, but also for the importation of coal, lime, or any other commodity required in the process of manufacture.

The above paragraph, referring to the traffic facilities of Wallaceburg, only emphasize the importance of the fact in connection with the beet sugar industry, that Peterborough's traffic facilities are unsurpassed. We have railway connection radiating in several different directions—the Canadian Pacific Railway east and west; Grand Trunk Railway south, south-east, north-east and north-west, and the Trent Valley Canal, nearly completed, for internal navigation purposes, running north and south. No better site exists in Ontario, all things considered, as the centre of a beet sugar industry than Peterborough.

Just what this new industry will mean to Canada it is difficult to estimate. By its introduction into Michigan farming has been placed on a more paying basis than ever before, and the price of agriculture lands in the vicinity of factories has nearly doubled in value. Already the stimulus is being felt in the districts surrounding Wallaceburg, Dresden, Berlin and Wiarton, the four town in which factories will be in operation this season. The outlook is one of great moment to the husbandmen of this country. Canada consumes annually about 300,000,000 pounds, the product of other countries. If our soil and climate be as well adapted as present appearances indicate, we have surely room for several more factories. At least twenty of ordinary size would be reqquired to supply the home demand, and if farmers in districts where good beets can be grown, will but consider their own interests and co-operate with those who are ready to invest the necessary capital in a plant there is no reason why Canada may not soon become an exporter rather than an importer of sugar.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Help Little Babies and Big Children in all Their Minor Illnesses.

When your child—whether it is a big child or little baby—suffers from stomach or bowel troubles of any kind, is nervous, fidgety or cross and doesn't sleep well, give Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine is the quickest and surest cure—and the safest, because it contains no opiate or harmful drug. No matter how young or how feeble your little one is the Tablets can be given with a certainty that the result will be good. For very young infants crush the Tablets to a powder. Mrs. Geo. W. Porter, Thorold, Ont., says:—"My baby had indigestion badly when he was about three months old. He was constantly hungry and his food did him no good as he vomited it as soon as he took it. He was very thin and pale and got but little sleep, as he cried nearly all the time, both day and night. He was constipated; his tongue coated and his breath bad. Nothing did him any good until I got Baby's Own Tablets, and after giving him these a short time he began to get better. His food digested properly; his bowels became regular, he began to grow, and is now a big, healthy boy. I always keep the Tablets on hand and can recommend them to other mothers."

The Tablets can be obtained at any drug store or you can get them by mail, post paid, at 25 cents a box by writing direct to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

THE TRADES UNION CONGRESS

British Representative Workmen Discuss the Modern Combines—Congress Then Adopts Unanimously an Anti-Trust Resolution—Record Their Unqualified Disapproval of the South African War.

London, Sept. 6.—The Trades Union Congress, at its session yesterday, voted that the Parliamentary Committee be instructed to introduce a bill in the House of Commons to prevent any children under 15 years of age being employed in any textile or non-textile factories.

The Cigarmakers' Mutual Association introduced a resolution aimed against "capitalistic combines," which was unanimously adopted. It was worded as follows:

"That, in the opinion of this Congress, the growth of gigantic capitalistic trusts, with their enormous power of controlling production is injurious to the advancement of the working classes, as by such combination the prices of commodities are raised, the standard of comfort of the people can be reduced, the workmen's freedom endangered, and national prosperity menaced."

The speakers contended that the time had arrived when, if the State did not control the trusts, the latter would control the State, and that the only permanent solution of the difficulty rested in national ownership and control of these monopolies.

At the instance of the Navies and General Laborers' Union the following resolution was passed:

"That this Congress of British trade unionists places on record its unqualified disapproval of the war against the Orange Free State, and the Transvaal Republics, believing that the question of extending the franchise and the protection of industry was not the real cause of the dispute, but the mere shield to cover an unscrupulous conspiracy to grab territory and replace well-paid white labor with unpaid, partially enslaved blacks and Asiatics.

"Further, this Congress reaffirms its continued hostility to all wars of foreign aggression, which only tend to enrich the sinister figure of cosmopolitan finance, whose main object is to hold the workers of all countries in universal, social and economic servitude."

ESCAPED FROM CANADIAN OFFICER.

Man Wanted in Buffalo For Murder Gets Away at Port Robinson.

Buffalo, Sept. 6.—As the result of a quarrel following a game of craps at the new race track in Kenilworth Park on Thursday evening, A. Johnson, a negro known as "Ternee," and wanted by the police of several cities, shot and instantly killed John Robinson, another negro, 29 years old. He made good his escape.

At 7 o'clock last evening the fugitive put in an appearance at Port Robinson, Ont., and was stopped by Constable Dick Smith, who was accompanied by Charles Park, a young man of the village. Smith shoved his revolver into Johnson's face and commanded him to throw up his hands. Johnson did so, but ducked when Park was putting the handcuffs on him. When about 20 feet away, Johnson turned, and, drawing a revolver, fired. The constable returned the fire and feels sure he winged the fugitive, who ran into an adjoining bush.

"LORD OF THE MANOR."

New Yorker Buys Old Seigniory Cap a Laigle in Quebec.

Manoir Richelieu, Point de Pic., Que., Sept. 6.—George T. Bonner, of New York, bought yesterday the old seigniory at Cap a Laigle, in Canada, which takes in a tract of land eighteen miles long by six miles wide, on the north bank of the lower St. Lawrence, extending eastward from Murray Bay.

This purchase makes Mr. Bonner the new seigneur of Cap a Laigle. Although an American citizen, he was born in Canada, and has lived in the summer season for many years on Murray Bay.

Three Canadian seigniories are virtually the last survivors of the old feudal system, and Mr. Bonner now becomes lord of the manor, with a manor house to which the inhabitants will come annually and pay tithes. In this seigniory is included the famous fishing lakes of Lagravelle and the scenery is mountainous and grand in the extreme.

The new seigneur exceeds the Honorable John F. Reeve, a bachelor, from whom Gilbert Parker is supposed to have drawn his character of Rossignol, a seigneur, in his novel "The Right of Way." Mr. Bonner lived for many years at New Brighton, but is closely identified with New York. He married a Miss Sewell of Quebec, and one of his daughters is Mrs. Francis Cabot and the other Mrs. Benoni Lockwood, both of New York. The price paid for the seigniory is supposed to be about $50,000, a low figure considering the amount of territory involved.

MORBID.

A chronic, morbid condition of any part of your body, indicates a weakness, or lack of vitality in the system, always the result of the absence of oxygen in the blood. It may be a running sore; it may be a nasty cough, a lame back, a debilitated system; all these signs point to a small oxygen supply, and what are you going to do about it?

There's one way of supplying the lack of oxygen, one way that is as nearly infallible as it is possible to expect in this life, and that is by Powley's Liquified Ozone. By this means you increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, and restore the health conditions that are normal in the body. Powley's Liquified Ozone disinfects the tissues, destroys any germ life that may be producing or protracting this morbid weakness, and eliminates the germ poisons from the body. It will recreate health in all its energy and vigor.

Mrs. Geo. Cookman

"On the 6th, August, 1901, I wrote to you about my son. If you remember, I told you about him having a running sore on his side, caused from pleurisy. I now write to tell you how much good the Ozone has done him. His side ran matter for over two years, and he was weak and miserable. The Ozone was the first thing that really helped him. About three months ago the matter changed to clear water, till about one month ago, when it dried up, and it seems to be quite healed up now. He is getting stronger and feels well, and he never looked as well in his life. He has taken six large bottles.

"I am recommending the Ozone to everyone I think it may help, and you can make use of this, if you wish. My son's name is Herbert Cookman. Yours very gratefully,

MRS. GEO. COOKMAN, Huntsville, Ont.

Miss Amelia Cartwright

"Over a year ago I was so reduced in flesh and blood that I looked like a corpse. I had been using medicines of various kinds, but could get no relief, till at last a friend advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I have used about eighteen dollar bottles, and have regained my weight, and feel that my former vitality has returned.

"I am a strong believer in Ozone, as I find it does not in the least injure my system, but has proved a splendid blood-builder in my case.

"My trouble was uric acid of the blood, arising from disordered kidneys.

"I can strongly recommend Ozone to any sick person. Very respectfully yours,

MISS AMELIA CARTWRIGHT, 633 Spadina Ave., Toronto.

While your druggist does not prescribe, (he cannot legally) he can give you information regarding Powley's Liquified Ozone, and tell you about some of the remarkable cures it is effecting. Ask him about Ozone; ask him how it compares with other treatments and products, and then act on his advice.

50c. and $1.00 a Bottle, at all Druggists.

Who Owns "Ping-Pong?"

"Ping Pong" is the name of a cute little fox terrior that was escorted into the Police Station this morning. "Ping Pong's" attendants were three or four little girls, who while they liked the dog very much, still performed the imperative duty of handing it over to the Chief: The dog had taken up his abode at the home of one of the girls and the owner of it was not known. "Ping Pong's" name is engraved on his collar and a neat little chain trails therefrom. The girls will keep "Ping Pong" until the owner calls for him, by orders of the Chief, who will direct the owner of the dog as to where he can be got.

The Peterborough Colony.

Mr. Gilbert Scott, who for some time has been a resident of Sydney, C.B., arrived in Peterborough last night, and intends remaining at his old home before leaving to reside in Uncle Sam's domains. Mr. Scott when leaving Sydney was given a hearty send-off by the Peterborough colony of that town, which includes amongst others Messrs. George Dawson and Jack Gerrard. Mr. Dawson is president of the Peterborough Club and having gained a good knowledge of the drill book while a member of the 57th, here, he uses his training to good advantage by forming the Peterborough Club into a squad and putting them through their facings, as a result he has been given the name of "Colonel." Mr. Scott speaks as though the Peterborough boys are doing well in the city by the sea.

MR. SORSOLEIL SELECTED

As Mr. Principal Fessenden's Assistant.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education, Mr. Fessenden requested the appointment of an assistant, as the large attendance this term made such additional help a necessity. The matter was referred to the Committee on Appointments, which yesterday appointed the gentleman selected by Mr. Fessenden, Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil, of the South Central Public School. The appointment is a good one and is a distinct compliment to Mr. Sorsoleil, his selection by Mr. Fessenden—not so easy to please where the success of his school is involved—not being the least important part of the practical tribute to Mr. Sorsoleil's qualifications for the new position.

CEREAL COMPANY'S DAM.

Work Progressing Quickly Under Contractor O'Toole's Administration.

The operations on the new Cereal Company dam are just reaching an interesting stage. The first coffer dam has been completed and reaches out from the west bank of the river to within about ninety feet of the cribwork on the opposite side and the steam pump will be at work in a few days removing the water from the interior. An interesting circumstance in connection with the coffer dam is the fact that the timber used in its construction was all obtained from the old Dickson Company mill which was purchased by the Cereal Company and has just been torn down.

Contractor O'Toole has Mr. Bouchier, of town, as his engineer and Messrs. Murphy and Hogg, of Ottawa, are looking after the office work, Mr. Lennon being foreman on the works. Mr. Larmont, of Ottawa, represents Mr. Keefer, as the Cereal Company's engineer.

A glance at the plans is convincing of the massiveness of the structure. There will be twelve concrete piers eighteen feet apart and a ten foot timber slide. The piers will stand about twenty feet above the level of the water at its present height below the dam and will be six feet wide and twenty-six feet long. The dam will serve the purposes of a railway bridge and a single track will be laid over the piers connecting the spur line which runs through the works with the old Lakefield line on the other side of the river.

A big steam shovel has cleared away the sawdust and slabs down to the rock just below the old mill in preparation for the steam drills to get to work on the foundations of the new power house. The water will pass beneath the power house through a 128 foot iron rack and the tail race will cut across through the huge sawdust bank entering the river at a point almost opposite the present power house.

DISGRACEFUL SCENES

Which are Enacted Nightly in Victoria Park—More Light Needed.

The question of better light and better police protection in the vicinity of Victoria Park, has been left too long in abeyance by the council. From time to time during the summer the press has called attention to the disgraceful state of affairs at the park after nightfall.

It seems a pity that a spot so beatiful should be allowed to become a resort for dissolute characters in the evenings. That this is the case, there is not the shadow of a doubt, and the statement can easily be verified by any citizen who has had occasion to cross the park, or even walk on the same side of the street at any time after nine o'clock at night.

Only last night the screams of a woman were heard to issue from the park, intermingled with the curses and imprecations of men. No one cared to enter into the shade and become mixed up in the affair, without knowing the rights of the matter, when interference would be attended with no inconsiderable risk.

In a town of twelve thousand inhabitants such a condition of affairs is a disgrace to the community, especially in the light of the fact that the Peterborough Light and Power Company offered long ago to illuminate the park free of charge if the council would defray the expense of stringing the wires and purchasing the lamps.

STONY LAKE

Stirs the Poetical Instincts of a Peterborough Boy.

The following verses, composed by the fourteen-year old son of Rev. T. A. Shaw, of Bethany Tabernacle, give promise that the race of poets will not run out. The ideas are not strikingly original, but the versification is smooth and the rhyme superior to the work of thousands of adult "poets" who fancy they have a mission to write poetry:

AN ODE TO STONY LAKE.

Oh, Stony Lake, off thee,
Sovereign of all the sea,
This song I sing.
Thy waves so turbulent,
Thy isles so freyed and bent,
'Tis all magnificent,
Thou aqueous king.

While crossing Heaven's sea,
The sun in majesty,
Pursues its course.
Thy splendor glorious,
Thy waters furious,
Thy winds uproarious,
By nature's force.

When at the sunset grand,
From every island strand,
A view superb
Is spread before our eyes.
The deeply tinted skies,
Our admiration ties,
And feelings curb.

At twilight lovers meet,
And there at Love's own feet,
Their offerings bring.
There tales of love bestowed,
Are told and maidens wooed,
And all with Nature should,
Rejoice and sing.

JOHN D. SHAW.

Peterborough, Sept. 1st, 1902.

An American Gentleman in Town To-day Looking Around.

A committee meeting of the Town Council was held last night for the purpose of meeting a representative of a large American manufacturing concern which is desirous of locating in Canada. The factory would cover about an acre and a half of ground and about 100 skilled men would be employed. Matters were informally talked over and this morning Alderman Rush, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, is driving the representative of the firm around town, and showing him the advantages Peterborough possesses as a manufacturing centre.

SIX MONTHS EACH.

The Police Will not Allow Tramps Around the Town.

The police department of Peterborough is determined to wage war on the tramps that infest the town. This morning two able bodied men occupied the box at the police court. One gave his name as John Dolan, alleging Hamilton as his home, and the other claimed to be John Malyen, of Belleville. The two strangers were arrested in the vicinity of the C.P.R. They had been lying out in open air all day having a sleep. It was proven that Dolan had been begging for old boots. The Magistrate gave them each six months in the Central Prison for vagrancy. As the two men were being escorted back to their cells, Dolan murmured to the Magistrate — "Its sometimes better to be a thief than be poor, your Worship."

Pianos Skilfully Polished.

Your piano looks as though it had been working over-time. Why not have "Joe" Halpany repolish it? The cost will be a mere trifle, and the instrument, after "Joe" gets through with it, will present as good an appearance as the day it left the factory. Orders left at Ormond and Walsh's drug store promptly attended to.

SEVEN BEARS.

A Silver Lake Man ran Across a Whole Colony in His Oat Field.

The Silver Lake correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent says;—Talk about bears, why bears are around here in flocks like sheep. Mr. William Coulter, our popular mail driver, went out to his back field of oats the other day to see if they were ready for cutting. Noticing a big patch that appeared to have been knocked down he went over to see how it was. When nearing the place he was a trifle surprised to see a good sized bear calmly chewing away at the oats. He was within half a dozen yards of it, and it did not pay any more attention to him than to move off a few paces and take another mouthful of Mr. Coulter's oats. A trifle riled by the cool nerve of the animal and the quantity of oats tramped down, Mr. Coulter was stooping to pick up a stone when his eye caught sight of another and another, and they were going through the oats to their heart's delight. Noticing a movement to his right Mr. Coulter threw a stone into the oats, and before he could say Jack Robinson, he had two young cubs running around his legs. At this point Mr. Coulter thought he had seen as much bear as he had any use for, and made tracks for home. Altogether there were seven, three large old ones and two pairs of cubs. The following night a party went out to look for the game and Henry Lambert came upon the flock. At least he got sight of one big fellow, and raising his rifle let fly. The effect of the report was astonishing. The rushing through the oats sounded like a tornado, and the three cubs went scrambling up trees. Then there was some banging of firearms, and the cubs backed down like cats. This was fatal to one, but the others got away. Harry hit his big one all right, and after tracing him a short distance into the woods came upon him dead. Wanting to get another shot at the others, Harry marked the spot in his mind, as he thought, and returned to the field, but he did not get any more shooting, and when he returned in the morning, he was unable to find the bear. The bub weighed about one hundred pounds and was as fat as butter. The pelt, too, was in good condition. Fully an acre of oats had been eaten and tramped down by the bears.

A NEW INSURANCE SCHEME.

Mayor Collins, Dundas, has an Insurance Proposition for the Municipal Association.

At the meeting of the Municipal Association to be held at Brockville at which Peterborough will be represented, Mayor Collins, of Dundas, intends to introduce a plan that will, he claims, furnish insurance at net cost, and yet be founded on a financial basis. An outline of the scheme is as follows: The union for insurance purposes of a number of municipalities, say twenty, each having a population of not less than 5,000 and an assessment of $1,000,000. Each municipality to have a system for fire protection conforming to total assessment, the combined municipalities to elect a board of officers and negotiate a loan of a million dollars at say 4 per cent. interest, the sum to be deposited in a bank and drawn on to pay any losses by fire. The money on deposit would be paying 3 per cent. interest, and a rate of half a mill on the total assessment of the combined municipalities would produce $10,000, which would be the one per cent. to make up the interest due on the loan. Another half mill would provide a sinking fund of $10,000 more to cover all expenses, making the total charge 1 mill on the dollar. Every ratepayer would be insured to three-fourths of the assessed value of property liable to damage by fire. The amount paid for losses by fire would be raised by debentures of the joint municipalities and paid into the common sinking fund. There can also be a profit netted on the sale of the debentures. If it was deemed preferable instead of borrowing the million dollars and putting it into a sinking fund from which to pay the losses, an arrangement might be made to pay them directly by the sale of the debentures. This plan could be easily arranged, and it would save the $10,000 paid in interest. Some change would have to be made in the assessment roll so that household effects would be valued. The fact of the insurance being based on the assessed value would secure to the municipalities a better assessment than is now attainable, as it would be to the ratepayers interests to have their property assessed at its actual value in order to get three-fourths of its value in case of loss by fire. This would undoubtedly lessen the work of the Court of Revision. Apparently, by the accounts published of the heavy losses frequently occurring in cities, the rural districts are paying a higher rate for insurance than is necessary. The reports of the superintendent of insurance shows that companies doing business in Canada made a good profit each year, and part of this might be saved by the above plan and at the same time get rid of the arbitrary dictation of the Underwriters' Association.

Local Rugbyists Organize Next Week.

Practice Starts This Afternoon—The T. A. S. may Organize a Team—Bowling-on-the-Green.

RUGBY.

Everything points to a successful meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club on Tuesday evening next. There is considerable rugby talk on the street and the boys all seem anxious to get into the game again. The annual meeting will be held in the Oriental Hotel and a thorough representation is asked. Remember the night, Tuesday of next week.

Many people were wondering what the local team would do this year for a quarter back but Manager McPherson kept quiet, and awaited events. It was with general satisfaction then that it was announced that Mr. Arthur McClelland intends getting into the game after an absence from the gridiron of two seasons. "Mac" has just invested in a complete new outfit and is prepared to make matters interesting this fall.

The members of the Peterborough Rugby Club are asked to be sharp on time at the meeting to be held on Tuesday night. The meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m. sharp.

The announcement that the T.A.S. intended putting a team in the O.R.F.U., and that whatever members of the T.A.S. belonged to the Peterborough Club would withdraw, caused some little anxiety. There are comparatively few towns in Canada that support a rugby team and Peterborough is one of them. Whether she could support two or not is doubtful. As the Peterborough Club is an established institution with a somewhat lengthy and a decidedly creditable record, it would be regretted much if its strength would in any way be weakened by the withdrawal of the T.A.S. men who have given such enthusiastic support in the past. The Examiner is not authorized to speak for the T.A.S., but it was said "on the street" last night that the T.A.S. men had decided not to break away this season at least.

The season is now about on us and the boys with padded knickers and chrysanthemum hair will soon be in their glory. The past year, however, has not brought any improvements in Peterborough regarding the matter of grounds and the local men will have to contend with the same difficulty they have battled against for years. As a result of this inconvenience the local club encounters great financial difficulties. As is well known there is no means of collecting a gate on the Nicholls Oval where the matches are played and the management has to start on a begging crusade at the beginning of each season.

Secretary Woodworth of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, has notified London that on payment of $10 due to Peterborough the club's suspension would be raised.

Kingston Whig, — "Guy Curtis, whose football and hockey fame should entitle him to a monument on Queen's grounds, is at Delta, where his greatness is going to seed. Asked why he didn't work, Guy replied: 'I daren't.'"

A meeting is called for Monday evening at 8 o'clock of all the members of St. Peter's T.A.S. who are interested in rugby football, for the purpose of organizing a fifteen. The meeting will be held in the T.A.S. rooms and a large attendance is requested.

The new football rules which have been adopted by the American Rugby Union, and which have just been published, show that the most important change in the playing regulations adopted by the rules committee at its recent meeting is that providing for a change of goals after each touch down or goal kicked. This change, when it was first proposed, early in the summer, met with instant approval from nearly all football experts. It is believed that it will not only greatly equalize things when there is sun or wind to contend with or one part of the field is preferable for some other reason but that it will also do much to improve the game from the spectator's point of view. Under the old rule when one team had a decided advantage in strength, the spectator sitting behind the goal posts of the superior team saw nothing during half of the game at least but a struggling heap of men in a far corner of the field. When, as often happened, darkness descended over the gridiron early in the succeeding half and the spectator could see but little of the play in his own end of the field, he could hardly be said to have got his money's worth. The change of goals after each score will do away with this formerly frequent complaint and by giving everybody an equal chance to see what is going on, should do much to make the game more popular.

Another change requires that the referee, when he believes darkness is likely to come before the expiration of the regular playing time, may arbitrarily shorten the halves.

A number of other changes are made as to penalties. For holding, the punishment is made five yards in place of ten. Improper use of the hands or arms, violation as to offside play, tripping and tackling below the knees, are penalized by a five-yard set back also, except where the offending side had the ball, in which event it must be passed over to their opponents instanter. Where the foul committed has not affected the play, the rule says, "the offended side may decline the penalty." The rule goes on to say, however, that "in case of a run being made from this play, not more than 25 yards from the spot where the foul was committed, shall be allowed."

There are also numerous minor changes. Clearly the committee did not take Butterworth's advice to let the rules alone so that the schoolboys could learn the game without having to assimilate a lot of new regulations. The schoolboy who wants to know how to play the game according to the 1902 style, will need to look over the new rulebook rather carefully.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. Grace, the great cricketer, never had any intention of making a tour of Canada or the United States. A. E. Lawton, captain of the Derbyshire eleven, is considering the possibility of an American tour.

A new record for 10 standing jumps has just been made by Dr. B. J. Milligan of the Knickerbocker A. C., of New York. He cleared 116 feet 3 1-2 inches. The best previous performance was that of the late Malcolm W. Ford, who had a mark of 113 feet 5 1-2 inches. M. F. Sweeney has raised the hitch and kick to 9 feet 4 inches, which is 1 1-2 inches better than the best previous record.

SPELLBOUND BY SONG.

San Francisco, Sept. 5th.—When thirty more or less bedraggled men lined up before Judge Fritz in the City Prison this morning, after a night in the tanks as punishment superimposed by law upon nature's penalty for overmuch drinking, and the usual horrid tale of misery and depravity was unfolded there, from a cell near by came floating the strains of The Holy City, sung in a fine baritone.

Frank Alfred, once known professionally as Alfert, a member of the Grau Opera Company, now awaiting trial for forgery, was singing. Judge Fritz stopped, amazed, to listen, while the men in line turned as one man to hear the music. Two or three men fell to their knees and began to pray, and none listened without some show of emotion.

The man sang with all his heart in his voice, and the wonderful music lifted and pealed through the corridors of the jail.

"Jerusalem, Jerusalem, Lift up Thy Gates and Sing—"

The tones were jubilant, appealing. One old man prayed audibly, while one younger and better looking wiped his eyes furtively and edged toward the desk behind which Judge Fritz was standing. A lad leaned suddenly against the wall and buried his head in his folded arms, sobbing deeply; those great strangling sobs which come right from the very heart of men and tear and rend as no knife ever tore. "Oh mother, mother, come back to me," he cried.

"I can't stand this," suddenly shouted the wreck of what had once been a man. "Judge, we were brought here to be punished, not for this. It's brutal to make us suffer in this way."

"Shut up——you," cried a lad, "Let us hear it. It's heaven to me, and it's saved me, for I'll never drink another drop as long as I live!"

"Hosannah in the Highest, Hosannah Forever More."

The great voice rose higher and higher in its ecstasy of melody and then stopped as suddenly as it began.

Sergt. Bidwell and the prison keepers tried in vain to get the men into line once more, but they were quite beyond police control, for the time being. Judge Fritz dismissed every man in the line without a word of reprimand.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

For Cool September Days.

Mismatched effects are not very popular this season with two notable exceptions. One is the covert coat, to be worn with skirts of dark blue or black mohair or serge, and the other is the skirt of shepherd's checked cheviot to be worn with close fitting body coats of dark blue or black matching the check. In this costume the colouring is black and white, the the material being braid in radiating tucks, each of which shows a tiny piping of black cloth, and is stitched with black Corticelli silk to within about twelve inches of the edge, where it is freed to give the flare. The little close fitting Eton coat is made of the black cloth, and shows the favorite velvet faced coat collar. The revers are faced with white moire, and ornamented with a single row of fancy braid.

MANNERS IN PARLIAMENT.

Most Courteous Man Is Also the Incarnation of Indifference.

Nobody can visit the House of Commons without coming away with the general impression that the people who possess in the most valid degree the rudiments of manners are the Irish and Labor members. There is something exquisitely entertaining about the solemn Tory discussions as to whether workingmen can behave themselves in the House when we remember that John Burns was once vigorously employed in trying to prevent Conservative noble lords and Liberal honorable members from blacking one another's eyes. But I should desire to be correctly understood in the phrase I use; I say that the Labor members alone have the rudiments of manners. They have the rudiments of manners, but not, it may be, the flower and crown of them The ordinary Conservative member of Parliament possesses, it may be, the crown and flower, but he does not possess the rudiments of manners. No one can listen to an Irish member or a Labor member without feeling that he is doing his best: he is uttering the most genuine opinions in their most adequate form. Now, to do one's best is the one and solitary and supreme compliment; these speakers are paying the one and solitary and supreme compliment to the House of Commons. The art cultivated by the young Conservative country gentleman is the art of doing his worst elegantly; and to do one's worst, however elegantly, remains what it is, the one and solitary and supreme insult. If a man throws his worst or his tenth best to anything, it matters nothing if the thing he throws be the "Iliad" or a casket of sapphires, it still remains an insult. And this insult to the ancient English Parliament is expressed in every line of the figures of the well-dressed members of the House. The new Premier, a man with a million genuine moral and intellectual charms, is, by this astounding perversion of language, supposed to be a man with good manners. This simply means that he exhibits an unusal degree of physical grace in the act of putting his boots within a foot or two of the Mace of the King of England. Such an act is sufficient proof that the real Conservatism was dead long ago But it is a terrible thing that while true courtesy is a transcendental virtue and involves admiration, the most courteous man in modern politics is also the incarnation of indifference.—London Daily News.

A CANADIAN PRODUCTION.

Canadians are proverbially a modest people who have a very strong aversion to anything which sounds like boasting—in fact a Canadian must go abroad to learn the true value, comparatively, of his own good country, its men and its products.

It is a well known fact that the standard of professional education is higher in Canada than perhaps anywhere else in the world.

Canadian physicians and pharmacists are superior to any others.

The natural result of this very high standard is of course a more critical and scrupulously careful examination into disease with its causes and cure.

Canadian minds developed the theory on which they are made and prepared the formula.

By Canadians are they made and sold and their reception by the Canadian people is the very best evidence of their sterling good qualities, for Canadians want only the best.

Like everything else Canadian they are honest and reliable. As a remedy for all stomach troubles they do just as much as is claimed for them. They cure completely — and and they can do no more.

But while it would naturally be supposed that the Canadian people would prefer the Canadian cure for Dyspepsia, it is very gratifying to know that in the mother land and also in the United States, where very many preparations have been offered for Dyspepsia. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have found their way right to the front.

The fame of fair Canada has always been enchanced by the superiority of her products and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done much to emphasize this superiority.

EXPERIENCE HAS PROVED

That Paine's Celery Compound has no equal for building up the weak and rundown. It is specially recommended to sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous prostration. Paine's Celery Compound stands far above all other medicines as a disease banisher.

Music and Plants.

A musician in New York asserts that not only animals, but plants, have a passion for sweet music, and a Boston musician avers that when he plays harmonics his sensitive plant "stretches abroad, drinking in the music like sunshine." If, on the other hand, he strikes a discord, the plant trembles and closes.

EXILED POTENTATES

ONCE POWERFUL DUSKY MONARCHS BANISHED TO AN ISLAND.

King Mwanga and King Kabbe Rega Sent Into Exile by the British—Mwanga Made one of the Bloodiest of Records That Any Native Prince of Africa Ever Achieved—Kabbe Rega's History.

The British have sent into exile two of the most distinguished expotentates of Central Africa. King Mwanga and King Kabbe Rega are now sojourning on one of the Seychelles Islands in the Indian Ocean, about 1,000 miles east of Zanzibar. These islands are thus to be famous as the home of two African kings as well as the region that raises the sea cocoanut, a fruit of great swimming qualities. When the sea cocoanut drops into the ocean, as it often does, it is likely to drift clear to India, Java and the other Malayan Islands, where it is esteemed as a treasure. The people there imagine that the fruit grows on the bottom of the ocean and comes to their islands for their special regalement.

Mwanga's family circle in his new home is comparatively small. While he was King of Uganda, on the northern and western shores of Victoria Nyanza, his establishment contained about 1,000 wives, quite a moderate number, considering that his royal father's harem included over 7,000 women. King Mwanga is of ancient lineage, being able to boast a longer ancestry than many a distinguished person in civilized countries is able to trace. Though a savage in all that the word implies, he can climb his ancestral tree through a line of twenty kings of Uganda, back to the time of Queen Elizabeth. Before his country came into the possession of the British he had an army of 25,000 men, over 2,000 muskets and plenty of ammunition which he obtained from the Zanzibar traders. He has reached the age of 35 years, and came to the throne when he was about 20 years old.

This barbarian made one of the bloodiest records that any native African prince ever achieved. His father permitted many missionaries, Protestant and Catholic, to settle in Uganda. They were very successful in their missionary work, and thousands of converts were made; but when Mwanga came to the throne he decided that the superstitious beliefs of his ancestors were good enough for the people of Uganda, and he set about the large undertaking of wiping out all the Christians in the country. It was he who murdered Bishop Hannington, who was approaching Uganda from the Indian Ocean, little suspecting that there could be any hostile intent on the part of the new ruler. The Bishop was shot, and the fifty helpless porters with him were speared to death. Then Mwanga set about the work of killing all the native Christians and destroying all the work the missionaries had done in six years.

Most of the King's atrocities were crowded into the first six months of 1886. The annals of martyrdom show no finer examples of heroic fortitude and unshaken faith than these Uganda massacres present. The native Christians were shockingly mutilated, tied to trees and burned alive with fuel piled high around them. The victims numbered about 2,000, and it is not known that a single one abjured his new faith to save his life. Several thousands more would undoubtedly have been slain if British forces had not arrived on the scene in time to stop the further effusion of blood. The courageous death of these hundreds of people proved that the Waganda are a superior African tribe, and that in them may be developed the best and sternest moral qualities.

The executioners who carried out the cruel will of the King said later that they were amazed at the calm demeanor of their victims. While dying they sang sacred songs and prayed for their murderers. The head executioner went to the King and told him he had never seen men die so bravely. He said they endured pain without a murmur, and prayed to God in the fire. The King and the chiefs around him laughed heartily when told of the dying prayers of the victims. The young monarch remarked that God did not seem able to rescue the Christians from his power.

The blood of the martyrs has indeed been the seed of the church in Uganda. In no part of Africa have such wonders been wrought through missionary effort. There are now 90,000 professing Christians in that country. There are over 300 churches one of which will seat an audience of 2,000 persons. Over 50,000 of the natives can read, and most of the Bible has been translated into their language.

In spite of the atrocities Mwanga had committed it was decided to retain him on the throne if he showed himself amenable to white influences. He still retained large influence over a great number of his people. His actions, however, demonstrated only stupidity and duplicity. He turned Protestant, Catholic and Mohammedan by turns. He plotted against the British, while pretending to be their friend. So it was decided at last to remove him from the kingship. Another member of the royal family was placed on the throne; and Mwanga, having lost his last friend in Uganda, and now dependent for existence upon the bounty of the British has been removed from his country forever.

King Kabba Rega never pretended to submit to the British. He was king of the large country of Unyoro, north of Uganda. He never made a treaty with the British, and declared that he would fight them to the last. The British claimed his country because it was a part of the Egyptian Soudan, the whole of which is now in the British sphere of influence. Several hard campaigns were fought against Kabba Rega before his power was broken. At last he went into hiding, and the British chased him for over a year from one swamp to another until he was finally captured. His country is now fully under the control of the whites, and peace reigns both in Uganda and Unyoro

It was Kabba Rega, who made a prisoner of the Italian explorer, Casati, whom Emin Pasha sent as his representative to the chief town of the King. There was no quarrel between the whites and Kabba Rega, and for about 20 months Casati was fairly well treated by the King. It was one of Casati's duties to act as postmaster for Emin, who sent to him his correspondence for Europe, Casati making the best arrangements he could to forward the letters to the coast. One day the capricious King suddenly changed his humor and sentenced Casati to death. The white man was bound hand and foot, but in spite of this fact, with the assistance of a native friend, he managed to escape one dark night, and for three days wandered almost naked and without a morsel of food until he reached Albert Nyanza. He finally made his way in a starving condition to Emin's camp.

There are about a dozen African kings now in exile. They are fully convinced by this time that it would have been to their personal interest if they had made terms with the whites.

RE-BUILDING
The Brokendown Structure.
PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Can we re-build our pain-racked, emaciated and wasted bodies? Yes, the work can be done even though the spark of life glimmers but fitfully and feebly. This work of rebuilding can only be effectually accomplished by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, that marvellous medicine that has saved so many lives in the past.

Paine's Celery Compound, nature's fortifier and builder, acts directly on the great nervous system, giving pure, vitalizing blood, nerve force, digestive vigour, refreshing sleep and increased weight.

Begin the good work of health-building to-day. Take home a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, use it faithfully, and you will have cause for rejoicing and thanksgiving. Mr. C. B. Holman, 262 King street, West, Hamilton, Ont., happily saved from a complication of serious troubles, writes thus:

"Having been troubled with a cough, debility and general depression of spirits, I used a number of medicines but received no benefit from them. I was then advised to use Paine's Celery Compound. I procured the preparation and began to use it with wonderful benefit. I am now convinced, after using several bottles of this unequalled medicine, that no other can compare with it in any respect. I am now a changed man; my health is renewed, depression of spirits gone, my appetite is good, and I can sleep well. I will always say a good word for Paine's Celery Compound."

The Wesley Bicentenary.

Worldwide Methodism is beginning to interest itself in the bicentenary of the birth of John Wesley, which event will occur in June of next year, says The London Telegraph. On the other side of the Atlantic, where Methodism is remarkably strong, extensive arrangements are being made for its due observance. No definite steps have yet been taken by the parent body in this country (England), but it is likely to come before the conference, which meets soon in Manchester. It will be interesting to many to learn that the journals and letters of John Wesley are to be brought out in a new, enlarged and specially edited form, under the direction of the Wesleyan book-room, in the near future. They will be a suitable memorial to the famous evangelist who nearly 200 years ago first saw the light at Epworth rectory.

Annoying Symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Kidney disease is almost invariably accompanied by constipation and liver disorders. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are more effective than ordinary medicines, because they have a direct and combined action on kidney, liver and bowels. By this extraordinary power they entirely overcome complicated diseases of the digestive, filtering and excretory systems.

Mr. John Nayes, Ashburnham, Peterborough, Ont., states: — "Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with success I can strongly recommend them. For considerable time I was a sufferer from kidney disease and constipation, and besides being tortured by the shooting pains through the back put up with the other annoying and often distressing symptoms of kidney disorders. Sometimes I would go three or four days without a motion of the bowels and could get no relief.

"After using a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was well again and feeling fine. This treatment seemed to be exactly what I needed and promptly brought relief and cure."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHAT KIPLING FORGOT.

The list of British sports to which Mr. Kipling made such graceful allusions is unfortunately incomplete. The following line will (possibly) be inserted in future editions:

The half-witted hurler of hammers, the lubber that leaps at a lath;
The ruffian riding in red, and the gaby in gaiters that shoots;
The fatuous flapper of flies, and the scoundrel that skates on his boots;
The lout that loafs on the links, with his flags of "flies" and "the like";
The blundering, bent-backed bounder that buckets along on a bike;
(And I think you will freely admit that I've bettered my earlier style).

Three Laughs.

A young and pretty woman entered Charing Cross Telegraph office the other day and wrote out a despatch to be sent to Birmingham. She read it over, reflected for a moment, and then dropped it on the floor and wrote a second. This she also threw down, but was satisfied with the third and sent it off. The three telegrams read:

1. "Never let me hear from you again."
2. "No one expects you to return."
3. "Come home, dearest—all is forgiven."—London Answers.

Quackery Versus Science.

Most patent medicines emanate from people who do not know anything of medicine or chemistry. Merrill's System Tonic is skilfully compounded in one of Ontario's largest drug stores after the suggestions of three eminent physicians. It purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens all the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cents. Sold by Ormond and Walsh.

Sacred Nuts of Japan.

Although well known to travelers and collectors of curiosities, the horn nut, or "sacred nut," of Japan was almost wholly unknown to fruit and nut dealers in this country prior to 1888, when a New York commission merchant received the first large consignment. They are called "sacred nuts" because used in certain forms of Japanese worship, where they are placed on the altar and ignited. Being very rich in oil, they burn with a hot, bluish flame and give off a peculiar odor, the fumes being supposed to rise as an acceptable incense to the gods. They grow under water and have a leaf like an American lily, the form of the nut itself being an almost exact counterpart of an Asian buffalo's head, drooping horns and all. In the raw state they are hard and tasteless, but when cooked the flavor resembles that of boiled chestnuts. They are said to retain their edible qualities for upward of twenty years.

The English Crown Ruby.

The ruby of the English crown is famous in popular estimation, but—history apart—what does the connoisseur say as to its value? asks the London Chronicle. Is it a ruby or is it only a fine and large spinel? Some people call a spinel a spinel ruby, but a spinel is not a ruby. The stone last named, when it is of more than three and a half carats in weight and flawless all through, is more precious than a perfect diamond of the same size. When it is considerably larger, its value is not to be estimated and may be anything, according to the passion of the collector. But the spinel, a much less hard crystal, even when it reaches the weight of four carats, is valued at half the worth of a four carat diamond. There are famous royal rubies, but that which flames in the royal crown is, according to a common rumor among experts, the lowlier spinel.

A Most Wonderful Feat.

William Lyon, a London actor of the latter part of the eighteenth century, once offered to wager that he could repeat every word in a Daily Advertiser at the next morning's rehearsal. Accordingly, the next morning his opponent ridiculed him for bragging upon his feats of memory. Lyon forthwith handed the paper to a judge agreed upon, and, notwithstanding the want of connection between the news items, editorials, stories and advertisements, he repeated every word of the entire paper from beginning to end without the least hesitation or mistake.

Are Kidneys Fit to Eat?

Many people enjoy stewed kidneys. Did they know that it is the kidney that abstracts all the soluble impurities from the blood, they would not eat them. Merrill's System Tonic reconstructs kidney tissue, tones the kidney, and by also acting on the bowels, makes a complete cure of all kidney complaints. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cts. Sold at Ormond and Walsh's pharmacy.

After Long Years.

An old man who had been working for a city firm for forty-two years, was called one morning into his master's private office.

"I'm awfully sorry, Mr. Holden," said his employer, "but we've decided to reduce our staff, so your services will not be required after next week."

The old fellow seemed to be considerably astonished.

"Surely there's some mistake, sir!" he exclaimed. "Why, when I started I was told the job was regular!"—London Answers.

AMONG BLACKFOOTS.

The Bow River's Work—Imperial Limited Brought to a Standstill—Guests of the C.P.R.—A Detroiter's Find—Bushels of Mushrooms Daily—Sketch of the Blackfoot—Men Thrifty and Women Marvels of Dexterity.

We were aboard No. 1, the C.P.R. westbound, and it was the 4th of July. We pulled into Medicine Hat long after twilight, and were informed by the porter that there was a washout ahead, and we were to lie in the siding all night. The Americans aboard fired their last bunch of firecrackers, and the porter, after the manner of his kind, bundled us all into our births, and the following morning the C.P.R. did a great and memorable thing. It pulled us one hundred and twenty-five miles west, then tied us up for forty-eight hours at Gleichen, in the heart of the Blackfoot Indian reserve.

No spot on the entire system of the great transcontinental highway could have been of so intense interest and few more beautiful.

We had not halted very long when the pride and delight of the true Canadian's heart—the "Imperial Limited"—roared up abaft, and in another twelve hours a second "No. 1," stood in to harbor, and then we learned the truth—two bridges down, one east, one west, of Calgary. No. 2 stuck at Banff; the Imperial Limited, eastbound, tied up the gods alone know where. Never in the history of the C.P.R., has traffic been so congested, never has the great Imperial Limited ceased its ninety-seven hour career across continent. That criminal little Bow River has done what saint nor satan, fiend nor fairy, could never dare to do; it has brought the great panting transcontinental flyer to a standstill.

Traffic had congested but 24 hours when the C.P.R. took us over as its guests. For a week it has "boarded" thousands of transients at the very best hotels, the dining cars, the cafes. The company spared no pains, no money, so long as their patrons could be royally treated. At Gleichen more than six hundred of us were the guests of the C.P.R. for two days. At Calgary 800, at Banff and at Field another five or six hundred—all treated like Princes at the expense of the road, that is hourly dropping unestimated thousands. One million dollars will hardly cover the loss, and yet every official smiles through it all, and the public are treated with a consideration open-handed enough to almost border on extravagance, and even the ever-exacting American tourist remarked loudly that after "free meals" had been declared to the traveling colony at Gleichen neither service nor menu in the two dining cars "St Cloud" and "Frogmore," fell off one jot.

But just here a delightful surprise awaited us all, an indefatigable Detroiter, who wandered up prairie trails, ever searching for information, discovered mushrooms, of that large, luscious, shell-pink variety that only comes from wild stretches of field, and that have a flavor far more delicate and appetizing than those found in the city markets. Buckets, baskets and even hats were requisitioned, and we supplied the dining cars for every meal with these delicacies. The Detroiter gave us impromptu lectures on edible fungi. He was a man of most extensive information, had traveled the world over and kept his eyes open, but he told us he had never seen such quantities of mushrooms together as these. We gathered bushels of them daily. I hardly think the Indians eat these fungi, or else the enormous camp of Blackfoots would have been up betimes and secured our breakfasts while we yet dozed in comfortable berths, for their tepees arose, smoke-tipped and conical, not 500 yards from the siding where we lay. The Indians made a good thing out of the C. P. R. mishaps, for the tourists hired horses from them at "a dollar a ride," and even the tender-foot would vault into the Mexican saddle and ride away across the prairie. The sturdy, shaggy inappi laying back his ears and loping away with the long, clean rocking motion, never seen except in the prairie-bred animal. Only one lamentable accident occurred, in the evening, when we had baseball and horse races. In the latter a fine grey pony, the property of a splendidly handsome blanket and buckskin clad Blackfoot, plunged into a badger hole, fell, and instantly expired with a broken neck. And just here it is time to refute an aspersion too frequently laid upon our wilder Indian tribes of the great west. The prejudiced white man will tell you that the Indians will eat anything, animals that die of disease, unclean portions of meat, etc. The detractors of the redman, and there were plenty of them abroad, assured the crowd that "the Indians will have a great pow-pow and the feast of the dead horse," over the unlucky animal that lay near the track. But the next morning and the next night, and yet another morning came and waned, and the horse lay where it had fallen and the Blackfoot braves shook their heads when asked about a "feast." A goodly collection was taken up for the owner, which reward he deserved, as his steed had expired in making "a white man's holiday."

This identical brave exhibited great appreciation of class distinctions. A curious Chinaman came forth from his car, and a tourist asked the Blackfoot, "Is this your brother?" indicating the Mongolian. Such scorn and hauteur as the reply "No" expressed, such a lifting of the red chin, and indignant glance. It amazed some, but I was proud of my color-cousin of the prairie, and of his fine old aristocratic red blood, that has come down through the centuries to pulse in his conservative veins.

We visited the camp; a group of some dozen tepees, neat, orderly and picturesque, were bunched against the southern rim of the prairie. Great herds of fat cattle and excellent ponies grazed near by, for the Blackfoot is a thrifty person, and his wife is a marvel of dexterity in needlework. Beside very tepee was a travois, the peculiar vehicle that supplies the place of a cart. It is a fixture like two shafts, fastened at the lower end by a horizontal pole, firmly lashed in place by deer sinew. An immense amount of duffle can be stowed on this contrivance, and when the band "treks" the clothing, utensils, tepees and the smaller children are all packed atop the travois, a horse or dog is harnessed between the shafts, and the cavalcade starts up the trail.

The interior of the tepees was a delight. A fire burned in the centre, the smoke ascending through the apex of the canvas. Beautiful beadwork, buckskin garments, fringed and ornamented elaborately, hung about in profusion. Well-blanketed women cared for tiny children, whose painted cheeks glowed vermillion and yellow in the fire and sunshine. The gay coloring of the tepees, the silently-moving, graceful figures of the red folk, the sleek, fat herds, the camp fire, and the glorious carpet of coral colored prairie flowers, the over-hanging blue of the wide territorial skies, the far-off Rockies, with their snowy coronets, made a picture beyond the limitations of the artist's brush or pen, and always and ever the vivid scarlet of the tunics of the Mounted Police. We sighed a keen regret when the engine sounded a long series of whistles to get us aboard, for word had been flashed from Calgary that the Bow River had been conquered and that our 48-hour blockade was broken.—E. Pauline Johnson in the Toronto Globe.

Beliefs About the Rainbow.

In many countries the rainbow is spoken of as being a great bent pump, or siphon tube, drawing water from the earth by mechanical means. In parts of Russia, in the Don country, and also in Moscow and vicinity it is known by a name which is equivalent to "the bent water pipe." In nearly all the Slavonic dialects it is known by terms signifying "the cloud siphon," and in Hungary it is "the pump," "Noah's pump" and "God's pump." The Malayan natives call it by the same name that they do their banded water cobra (necheta), only that they add "bobo" (meaning double headed), the equivalent in our language being the "double headed watersnake." They tell you that the bow is a real thing of life, that it drinks with its two mouths and that the water is transferred to the clouds through an opening in the upper side of the center of the great arch.

In the province of Charkoy, Russia, the rainbow is said to drain the wells, and to prevent this many are provided with heavy, tight fitting stone platforms. In the province of Saratov the bow is said to be under control of three angels, one of whom pumps the water, the second "feeds" the clouds and the third sends the rain.

Checks For the Communion Table.

The author of "The Sabbath In Puritan New England" mentions a custom which prevailed in several New England churches that made it the duty of the deacons to walk up and down the aisles of the church at the close of each service and deliver to every person who in their judgment was fitted to commune a metal check, which entitled him at the next celebration of the Lord's Supper to join in the sacred ordinance.

On the communion Sabbath it was the deacons' duty to see that every one who presented himself at the Lord's table had this check and to collect it from the communicant before passing to him the bread and wine.

A PREGNANT ILLUSTRATION.

The Difference Between the Officer and the Private in Canada.

Speaking at a reception to two returned soldiers at Lambton Mills last night, Mr. J. D. Evans expressed the loyal sentiments appropriate to the occasion, and then went on to make some patriotic remarks no less appropriate. He referred to the small value that was at first put upon the fighting uses of Canadians untrained in war and to the great change that took place when the men showed of what stuff they were made. While he thought that Canada should put men in the field in case of necessity, he thought they should go as Canadians and be commanded as Canadians., it was evident that these views were acreptable to the large crowd present.

The great difference between our soldiery—if we are to have soldiers at all—and the troops of the Mother Country, was strikingly illustrated by the affair at Lambton Mills. The big demonstration was equally in honor of an officer and a private—the officer being a son of a canon of the Church of England, a university graduate with a medical degree. The two men were driven in the same vehicle at the head of the procession, given equal prominence, stood up together while an address was read to them, and were alike presented with gold watches. The point is that it occurred to neither the officer nor the private that one should be distinguished above the other, nor did the idea suggest itself to the community that the officer deserved more consideration than the private. The view simply was that two Lambton boys having returned from the war, the citizens should welcome them home, which they did. That is the way people feel about such matters in this country.

The officer and the private are not thus levelled up in England at the conclusion of a war. They do not regard themselves as equals, nor are they so regarded by their townsmen. But more important than that is the fact that they are not equals—in education and self-reliance—for through life they move on different levels. Here our private soldiers may be in every particular the equals of their officers, except in knowledge of drill and tactics. The popular view here is, says the Toronto Star, that it is a military necessity that some of the men should be officers.

STOCK MARKETS.

No Wonder Stocks Boom.

New York, Sept. 5th, 1902.—These facts considered, no wonder stocks boom. Think of the gigantic earnings constantly reported by the great railway systems, consider what it means for the shareholders. The Penna. lines directly operated show an increase in net earnings for July amounting to seven hundred, and thirty-six thousand, three hundred dollars. The surplus of the Manhattan Company for the year ending June 30th last increased seven hundred and fifty-one thousand and nineteen dollars. Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. showing for July will show an increase in gross earnings of about $31,000, and a large gain in surplus, amounting to nearly one hundred thousand dollars. Atch. and the grangers are reporting after the same manner. Every road in the United States will, during their present fiscal year, make the largest earnings they have ever recorded. The railroads of the country have already contracted for one million and one half tons of new steel rails for 1903 delivery, the bulk of which will be supplied by the United States Steel Corporation. Penna. is about to spend ten million dollars in new cars and fresh equipment. Other roads are doing proportionately. The coal companies will this fall and winter make new records for the mining and transportation of coal. Their earnings will consequently be enormous. They will get higher prices for their product also and will be kept busy indefinitely mining and hauling coal to the various distribution points, as supplies are exhausted. These facts are also before the market. Record breaking carrying of corn and wheat is also ahead of us. The producers will have plenty of money, and their consumption of luxuries as well as necessities, will naturally increase, and the wheels of commerce will spin in a lively manner. Never before in the history of the United States were so many of its people comfortably off, consequently consumers of even luxuries. Such a state of affairs is always accompanied by business activity, a period of money making and rising values for the stocks and other commodities. We cannot too strongly urge you to come into the market at the present time and buy, thereby participating in the general era of prosperity, at least to some extent.

St. Paul sold 191; M.O.P. sold up to 120. Excellent demand all day for Penna., Manh., S.P., U.P., C. & O., O.W. and the UAtchisons. Readings may possibly sell a shade lower, temporarily, as demand for control seems to be satisfied. Reading will be sold before many days above par. Insiders throughout the day tried to bag the stock dripping of such holders as were scared into selling by a firmer rate of money. Should to-morrow's bank statement prove disinteresting, there will probably be more shading of prices. Take advantage of it by purchasing. It is a bull market. Total sales 900,000.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

From McIntyre and Marshall.

New York, Sept. 6.—The bank statement to-day was a great deal worse than has been expected. It shows that more than half the 61 banks, members of local clearing houses, are now under the cash reserves they are required to carry by law and they must do something at once to increase their resources. This means that there will not only be a discontinuance of accommodation to speculators for stock market purposes, but that there will be a great many loans called by the banks early next week. This will in all probability lead to some further disturbance in the call-money market with somewhat higher rate probably being reached than the eight per cent. recorded yesterday. Under these circumstances we do not see how extensive bull speculation can be carried on in the stock market with any degree of success and as a consequence we look forward to a period of irregularity and declines in prices for the generality of the list of stocks the ensuing week, and we think it would be more prudent to continue the policy of advocating profit taking sales on the reduction of holdings which we adopted on Thursday morning than we would to advise purchasing. There is no doubt that bullish speculation was over done and prices carried higher in the bull movement which culminated the early part of this week. While liquidation since that time has been of comparatively large proportions it has not progressed sufficient to even up the market, especially as the principal buyers last week were the shorts and outsiders, and we expect to see more of this contraction in speculation accounts the ensuing week with a further set back to prices generally. We do not think a resumption of bull movement will be attempted until the banks have added materially to their reserves and the local money market had otherwise improved sufficient to again extend liberal accommodation for such purposes. Prices n to-day's market would have declined further than they did but for some forced support from the bulls and various pools.

COUNCIL OF HARVEY.

The municipal council of the Township of Harvey met in the School House at Nogie's Creek, on Saturday, Aug. 23rd, pursuant to adjournment. Members all present, Jas. Ingram, Esq., Reeve, in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. Communications were read from R. P. Watt, John Smith, R. E. Wood, A. Bell, and the Post Office Department. On motion of Elliott and Flynn, the clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Chas. Harris to remove his fence from off the east half of the road allowance on the 17th concession line before the 1st of April next. A bylaw was introduced and passed levying rates and taxes for the year 1902. On motion of Elliott and McKenty Mr. Flynn was allowed the use of the beaver meadow on side line between lots 20 and 21, concession 9, until such time as the council requires it. On motion of Cairnduff and McKenty, the following orders were drawn on the treasurer;

Wm. Wolfram, 20 loads gravel ...$	8 00
Jas. Richmond, equal. S.S. No. 5 ...	3 00
Joe. Stevenson, 20 loads gravel	1 50
R. E. Wood, 52 loads gravel...	2 60
D. Weir, clerk, part salary	40 00

On motion of McKenty and Flynn the council adjourned till the 9th of October, at the town hall.

THE ACTON LIBRARY.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie's Remarkable Gift to Mr. Morley.

The late Lord Acton's library, which Andrew Carnegie, the purchaser, has presented to Mr. John Morley, contains some 7,000 volumes, The London Daily News says:—"This is, in some respects, Mr. Carnegie's most remarkable gift, and one of the most princely and splendid acts of friendship on record. It is a tribute of wealth to genius, and Mr. Carnegie could not have chosen a more fitting recipient. It is a scholar's library, and it needed, to achieve its highest usefulness, to be placed in a scholar's hands."

The library is exceedingly rich in historical and ecclesiastical works. For this reason, and because it would cost £20,000, to erect a building for it. The Daily Chronicle thinks that Mr. Carnegie does not intend the gift for Mr. Morley's private use, but rather that he should hold it in trust for some public use, probably for one of the universities, preferably Cambridge, with which university the late Lord Acton was connected.

The library which Lord Acton collected at Alderham Park, and for which he had, some thirty years ago, a special addition to his house built, is so complete as a storehouse of modern secular and ecclesiastical history that is surpassed by few public institutions, and is equaled by no private library in Europe or America. In one respect, indeed, the library is unique. A large number of the volumes were annotated by Lord Acton. That great scholar, whose learning has been proverbial in England for the last quarter of a century, wrote very little, but his enormous stores of information were used in amplifying the volumes in his possession. Doubtless it is this fact that has induced Mr. Carnegie to present the books to the Right Hon. John Morley, for Mr. Morley is perhaps the one man in the world best equipped to utilize the knowledge which is contained in the Acton books and the annotations which Lord Acton made.

The subjects which chiefly interested Lord Acton, such as the history of the Papacy, and that of modern Europe, especially Germany, France and Italy, the Jesuits, and the evolution of political opinion and of political economy, are most of them subjects on which Mr. Morley is authority. The library is rich in volumes on these subjects, and is particularly rich in Indices Librorum Prohibitorum, Jesuitica, collections of letters in Italian, Latin and French, books relating to the Council of Trent, and the histories of Protestantism in the several French provinces.

One remarkable feature of the library is that it contains no rarities, as such, without other qualities of value. Every book that Lord Acton bought was bought because he desired to read it. The fact that a very large proportion of his books were extremely rare, and in some cases unique, was only incidental. Mr. Morley has so often expressed the view that such a collection as he now possesses should be available for public purposes, that it may be expected that the library will eventually be added to some public institution.

MATTERS MILITARY

BY SENTRY.

Sgt.-Major Brittain, of the 57th Regiment, has made application to attend a special short course at the School of Infantry this fall. This is in order that the Sgt.-Major may be thoroughly posted on the new drill.

• • •

Sgt.-Major Brittain has received a letter from Lieut.-Col. Pellatt, who commanded the Coronation Contingent, stating that the members of the Contingent will receive a medal to commemorate their service to the Coronation.

• • •

The members of the 57th Regiment have not had their annual outing as yet. Some have suggested that the men be given an outing at the Toronto Exhibition, while again it has been suggested to have the Regiment go under canvass for a few days at Niagara.

• • •

Some idea of the vast quantities of discarded war material thrown upon the general market by the successive changes in armament adopted by the various great powers may be gathered from the list of arms now offered for sale from this cause by the Italian Government. The list includes 600,000 rifles adopted as recently as 1887, with 45,000,000 cartridges, 1,200 9-pounders, and 60 7-pounder guns, with 200,000 shells and 170 7-pounder mountain guns with 17,000 shells.

The name of the 14th Durham Field Battery has been changed to the 14th Midland Field Battery. Some years ago the strength of the 14th was drawn almost exclusively from the county of Durham, the headquarters of the corps being Port Hope. However, the 14th gradually began to creep away from Durham county, until the headquarters of two sections are located in Peterborough, and the headquarters of the Battery is now at Cobourg. In fact, there is not an officer of the corps who resides in Port Hope, and scarcely one, in fact, who resides in Durham county.

Next Monday morning at 8 o'clock the Royal Military College will reopen. On Wednesday last the recruits arrived, and were enrolled. Thirty-three recruits make up the class for this year. A number of them were around on Thursday getting their undress uniforms fitted at a tailoring establishment, and getting their hair cut military fashion by Mr. Jones, the veteran barber. They are a fine, hearty looking lot of young men. For the first couple of months the recruits are only served out with the undress uniform. The training they get in the gymnasium begins to show on them after that time and they are ready for their red tunics. Inspector Price has not yet arrived in the city.—Kingston News.

Col. E. B. Edwards, Commanding Officer 57th Regt., has been appointed on the staff of the 3rd Division of the Camp at Niagara.

• • •

In the results of the Military Rifle League the Peterborough men did most creditably. The first team o fthe 57th have won 3rd place and the 2nd team about 11th place amongst all the regiments of Canada.

In the morning the band of the 4th Lanark, a Glasgow corps, refused twice when ordered to accompany the regiment to the scene of the day's manoeuvres and they were placed under arrest in their tents, with the exception of the buglers. Half-a-dozen men mounted guard over the mutineers, who numbered twenty-five. The act of insubordination was due to a belief on the part of the bandsmen that they were receiving an inadequate allowance.

On the return of the regiment from manoeuvres at lunch time the bandsmen were drummed out of the camp and dismissed from the service by Lieut.-Col. Smith, the officer commanding, in the presence of the whole brigade.

In a scathing speech Col. Smith remarked that the band refused to parade because they seemed to have discovered that bands in other regiments were receiving more remuneration for their services in camp. The band joined as volunteers, and were not entitled to be paid any more than any other member of the battalion. As he had intimated in the morning, he intended now to dismiss them with ignominy. It was most painful to him personally. Such a thing had never happened before in the annals of the regiment, but he could not overlook it for the good name of the whole battalion.

Bandmaster Jarvis having called out the names of the offenders, the men's facings were cut off, and the colonel dismissed them "as a disgrace to the regiment and to the uniform they wore."

The Belleville Intelligencer says; Lt. Harold Brunson, now a guest at Hotel Quinte, this city, tells the story of Harts River with splendid effect. Lieut. Brunson, then a full private in the rear rank, went to Africa with the First Contingent, and fought at Paardeburg alongside of Sergt. Glencoe Hulme, of this city. Upon his return, finding his martial ardor still unabated, he joined the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles as Lieutenant. He was in the famous fight at Harts River, of which so many inspiring accounts have been written, and talks of his experiences in a highly interesting way. The whole Canadian Regiment, he says, was engaged; and all behaved nobly. If some did more work than others it was because fortune threw the chance in their way. The Boer charges, he says, were the most magnificent spectacles he ever saw. They came thundering up, converged to the right and left, halted, fired three volleys and then withdrew. This was repeated again and again. It was war, and it was splendid. A very modest, manly young soldier is Lieut. Brunson, who tells his story in a vivid way, very pleasant to listen to. In Canadian military life Lieut. Brunson was an officer in the 13th York Rangers. He is at present visiting friends in Belleville, and seems to be enjoying himself."

Pagans in Scotland.

Nearly all travelers in Central Africa have referred to the curious customs prevalent among almost all pagan native tribes, of driving quantities of nails into sacred trees and other objects that have been adjudged worthy of veneration; and this not in malice, but as a religious rite the nails in question being intended as votive offerings.

Exactly the same thing may be witnessed to-day at the sacred well of Loch Maree, Ross Shire, where is an ancient oak tree, studded with countless nails of all sizes, the offerings of invalid pilgrims, who came to worship and be cured.

Pennies and half-pennies, also, are to be seen in enormous quantities, driven edgewise into the tough bark; and a friend of the writer's, who visited the spot some little time back, discovered in a cleft high up in the trunk what he took to be a shilling.

On being extracted, however, it proved to be counterfeit. Probably the donor, finding that he could get no value for his coin in the natural world, concluded he might as well try, as a last resource, what effect it might have in the spiritual.

Of course, the poor cotters and others, who flock to St. Maebruha with their nails and their pence, do not for a moment admit that they are assisting at a pagan ceremony. But they most undoubtedly are.

Well worship has always occupied an important place in paganism; and the sacred oak, before which each pilgrim must thrice kneel, humbly presenting his offering—what is it but an obvious survival of the sacred groves of Druidical times?—Stray Stories.

Prince of Wales' Crown.

Perhaps the most remarkable headgear which the coronation will bring forth is not the King's crown, but that of the Prince of Wales. The existence of this diadem has been generally ignored, which is excusable, as it has never figured among the regalia at the Tower, and was only once worn by King Edward, and then in India on the occasion of the great durbar at Delhi. It resembles an ordinary coronet, but its apex bears a tuft of feathers tipped with gold. These are the tail feathers of the feriwah, which is the rarest member of the family of the bird of paradise. As the feriwah is not only uncommon but also frequents the haunts of tigers its capture is a matter of the greatest danger and difficulty. Moreover it must be caught alive and the feathers plucked from the tail of the living bird, as instantly after death the plumage loses its lustre. Hence it is not remarkable that the Prince of Wales' feathers took twenty years to collect, cost the lives of a dozen hunters, and are worth £10,000.

No Handicap Needed.

A golfer who was loafing around a club house on the off chance of getting a game, espied a man who seemed to be in a similar plight. He sought out his caddie and took him into a corner. "How does he play?" he asked the lad.

"Not worth a hang," was the prompt reply.

"Then, what handicap should I let him have?" asked the player.

"Nothing," said the caddy.—Golf.

MOUNTAINOUS LANDSLIDE.

Twenty Villages Destroyed and 700 People Killed.

Vienna, Sept. 6. — Correspondence received here from Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Russia, gives a graphic account of a disaster which occurred August 17, when, as the result of a landslide, supposed to have been due to seismic disturbances, some twenty villages were destroyed and nearly 700 persons were killed. On the northern slope of Mount Kasbeck lies the watering place of Tmenkau. Early in the morning of Aug. 17, subterranean disturbances were noted at Tmenkau, but the hundreds of bathers at the hot springs there scouted the idea of a catastrophe, and in spite of warnings remained in the town.

GREAT STRIKE OF SHEARERS.

Australia Refuses to Exercise Its Compulsory Powers.

Sydney, Sept. 6.—Sixteen thousand shearers in New South Wales are on strike. The employers at present are winning with the help of a rival union of shearers, aided by the circumstance that there is a huge shortage through drought of sheep fit for shearing.

Neither side is in favor of voluntary arbitration, and the Government refuses to exercise its compulsory powers under the new act.

King Rules Family.

It is not generally known that on ascending the throne King Edward became guardian of his grandchildren, the parents' rights being superceded. This arrangement was established by law nearly 200 years ago, and the right was frequently exercised by the Georges, who had a way of quarreling with their sons. No member of the royal family may marry without the King's consent; otherwise the marriage is void. The act governing this matter was passed at the instigation of George III. in consequence of his brothers marrying subjects.

FIRE CLAIMS THREE

Man in Kingsville, and Woman and Child in Montreal.

AT ERIE TOBACCO CO.'S WORKS

The Loss Was $25,000—Jesse Robinson's Body Was Found in the Ruins—Mrs. Yon and a Daughter of Rev. Prof. Elliott Die by Fire in Montreal—A Hamilton Tragedy.

Kingsville, Sept. 8.—A destructive fire, accompanied with loss of life, occurred in this town Saturday night. At 11.45 p.m. the alarm was given that the Erie Tobacco Company's plant was on fire. The flames were soon beyond control, and in a short time the plant was in ruins.

Fred Fox, secretary of the company, and Jesse Robinson occupied a room, adjoining the office on the first floor. Mr. Fox retired early, about the same time Mr. Robinson left the building to visit some friends.

Mr. Fox was awakened by the crackling of flames in the office. With the assistance of the watchman he fought the fire until driven from the building by the smoke. Mr. Fox had no idea that Robinson had returned to the building.

A search yesterday resulted in finding his charred remains near the rear door, which he was doubtless trying to find when overcome by the smoke and heat. Robinson had been with the company since its organization, coming from Detroit. He had a widowed mother living in Detroit. The building, owned by Hiram Walker & Sons, Walkerville, and erected two years ago especially for the Erie Tobacco Co., was valued at $15,000. The tobacco company's loss is about $20,000.

Burned to Death.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Edward Yon, living at 36 Devannie street, was burned to death Saturday evening, her house taking fire, and although the husband and the children escaped, the mother could not be rea hed and perished in the flames.

Child Fatally Burned.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Marion, Elliott, the eight-year-old daughter of Rev. Prof. Elliott of the Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church, who was so seriously burned Saturday afternoon, died yesterday in the Royal Victoria Hospital. While playing with her girl companions around a fire they had started in Fletcher's field the child's dress caught fire, and the driver of a passing hearse, after some trouble, put the flames out with a blanket.

Suicide by Strychnine.

Hamilton, Sept. 8.—Archibald Peffer, proprietor of the Volunteer Hotel, James street, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking strychnine. He was on the verge of a severe illness, it is said. Peffer lived alone. Coroner MacKelcan ordered an inquest.

TERRIBLER MET HORRIBLE FATE.

Fell From Ladder and Prongs of Pitchfork Penetrated His Body.

Belleville, Sept. 8. —A fatal accident occurred at Tyendinaga, near Belleville Saturday afternoon, by which Patrick Wims lost his life. The unfortunate man was working with a threshing machine, being engaged in putting away the straw in the barn. It appears that he was descending a ladder with a pitchfork in his hand; one of the rungs of the ladder broke and the poor fellow fell to the floor beneath, the handle of the fork breaking and penetrating his abdomen to a depth of over a foot. The unfortunate man bled to death in five minutes. He was a married man, about 45 years of age.

FIREMAN JONES WAS KILLED.

Train on Elmira Branch Derailed, Engine and Two Cars Ditched.

Waterloo, Sept. 8.—A train on the Elmira branch was derailed about two miles north of Waterloo at 9 o'clock to-night, while on its way from Waterloo to Elmira.

The engine, baggage car and one passenger coach left the track and pitched into the ditch. Fireman Walter Jones of Stratford was killed instantly, but Engineer Mitchell miraculously escaped unhurt.

About fifty passengers were on board, but none were seriously injured, the majority escaping with a few bruises and a rough shaking.

The auxiliary from Stratford arrived on the scene at midnight and had the track cleared in a few hours.

Fireman Jones was about 25 years old and had been married only seven months.

WEIGHTER BLEW OUT THE GAS.

Young Man From Walkerton Found Dead in Bed at Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning Frank Weighter of Walkerton, was found dead in bed in his room at the Bull's Head Hotel. The gas jet was turned on full and it is believed the young man must have blown out the gas. An inquest was deemed unnecessary. The remains wre taken to Walkerton for interment. Deceased was 20 years of age, and a son of A. Weighter, one of the best known cattle dealers in thip province.

Toronto Man Fatally Injured.

Ashtabula, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Joseph J. Finley of Toronto, Canada, was run down by a Lake Shore train on Saturday night and received such severe injuries that the doctors hold out little or no hope for his recovery. His left leg was severed from the body and he is also suffering from internal injuries. He is now in the hospital here.

"Man Overboard."

Kingston, Sept. 8.—Officers of the steamer Kingston of the R. & O. line report that a man named Robinson, going from Toronto to Kingston, was accidentally drowned on Saturday afternoon. He was leaning against the rail of the gangway when it slid out and he fell overboard. The steamer, which was then opposite Monro Park, turned about, but could not find him.

One of the waiting cars was driven through the front of a shop. Twenty of the passengers who were injured were removed to an infirmary. The drivers of two of the cars and several of the passengers are in a critical condition.

Chicago Murderer Found Drowned.

Marshalltown, Iowa, Sept. 8.—A special to The Times, Republican, from Lowther, Howard County, Saturday afternoon, says: The body of a man, who called himself Sunday, was found in Flaxfield near here. A letter was found on the body stating that he was William Bartholin, the murderer of his mother and sweetheart at Chicago.

SYMPATHY WITH MINERS.

Final Session of Trades Union Congress Held Saturday.

London, Sept. 7.—The Trades Union Congress at its final session here Saturday re-elected Sam Woods secretary, and appointed E. Edwards of the Miners' Federation and M. Arrandale of the United Machine Workers as delegates to the congress of the American Federation of Labor.

The congress passed a resolution expressing sympathy with the American workingmen in resisting "trusts and railroad presidents."

The resolution expressing sympathy with the American miners also urged furnishing them with immediate financial support.

Another resolution congratulated the tin-plate workers of America "on resisting the reduction of 25 per cent. in their wages, attempted by the trusts," and expressed the hope that everything would be done to prevent unfair competition in the wages rate of the men on both sides of the water.

London, Sept. 8.—Three hundred and seventeen striking colliers were fined $30 each at Doncaster Saturday for leaving work without notice.

Found After Many Months.

London, Sept. 8.—Mr. Alfred Cumming, the postmaster and general merchant of Arva, London Township, who so mysteriously disappeared from his home several months since, arrived in the city Saturday morning from Cleveland, via Port Stanley. He was located at the Louisville, Kentucky, Hospital, and was brought home by his son. Mr. Cumming had been in the hospital for four months with a complication of diseases, and is now very feeble from the effects of his long continued illness. Regarding his wanderings since he left home, he knows very little, and is not disposed to talk.

Murder Madness in London.

London, Sept. 8.—Madness seems to have come over London, a passion to murder and commit other desperate crimes. Since the Old Bailey sessions five weeks ago twenty people have been murdered in London. In the same time there have been 350 deaths from violence, including sixty suicides. It will be a long black list on the next Old Bailey calendar.

Another Through the Rapids.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 8.—Charles A. Percy of Niagara Falls, N.Y., yesterday afternoon successfully navigated the turbulent rapids of the Niagara River from the Cantilever Bridge to the Whirlpool, in a boat of his own construction. Percy reached shore about 30 minutes after he started. Thousands of spectators from the river banks and from the steel bridge watched the craft descend the river. The boat is 16 feet long and provided with air chambers at each end. Both ends are painted and the craft was so weighted as to keep it on its keel almost the entire voyage.

Bishop Dart's Black Eye.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Bishop Dart of New Westminster, who started from home to attend the synod, arrived Saturday with a black eye and in a delapidated condition generally. His Lordship says he got off the train near Port Aruthur, and when it started he failed to get on board and was knocked to the ground. The bishop was taken care of, however, by a section man, and proceeded along later on. He is now in the hospital.

Often a Guest.

In a public park at Calcutta are several birds of the adjutant species. They are the storks of the East Indies and average about six feet in height. These birds parade in a stately way and at a distance look so much like soldiers that strangers often mistake them for grenadiers.

WOMAN'S ADVANCE.

The general conference of the Methodist church, according to a dispatch from Winnipeg, has decided in favour of women voting in all church courts. This may be regarded as a distinct advance step and a righteous recognition of one of the most useful practical elements in church work and progress. The story of the women being first at the sepulchre of their crucified Lord is an old one but the force of their example persists. Women in all ages of the world and in none more so than in this twentieth century of grace, have ever been foremost in Christian as well as church work. Take any week-day service in any of the churches and, it is safe to say that, the vast majority of the congregation present will consist of women. Why, there have been special week-day church services in Peterborough, like say, a Harvest Festival Service, when in a full church, there would hardly be, besides the sexton, enough men to take the offertory. We all know that women are more faithful to their religious duties in the public services of the church than men, as they are more faithful, self-sacrificing and energetic in certain forms of church work. Cynics may say that women are more devoted because they require more repentence. Such an idea is to be repelled. Is it not more probable that with their greater heroism in smaller things with their higher sense of duty they may feel it incumbent upon them to be religious both for themselves and for their lords? It may be something like the man, addicted hopelessly to drink, who was persuaded to sign the pledge, and on being reproached next day for being drunk and breaking his pledge had the answer ready—"I know I took the pledge and—the old woman is keeping it." So it seems that men, as a rule take, upon themselves religious vows and the obligations of church membership and allow their wives to keep and fulfil them. When women are, aside from the clergy and other paid servants of the church, the foremost in church work, when they practically do most of the work both by devotion and secular service, why should they not have some voice in church courts, where the affairs of the church are dealt with? In primitive conditions of society women were regarded as almost without souls but as civilization developed, as Christianity exercised its influence the status of women became elevated, and the recognition of women's rights to vote in a church court is another advanced step. It would perhaps be ungallant not to hope that the ladies will be satisfied with this recognition—that they will not go further and invade the pulpit. One cannot think they will; they might be satisfied with their acknowledged supremacy upon the domestic lecture platform.

A CANADIAN TRANSPORTATION POLICY.

"Hon. J. Israel Tarte," says the Farmer's Advocate, "hit the nail on the head at the recent banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Halifax, when he declared that the problem of Canada was the problem of transportation. Proper facilities at equitable rates, for the carriage of animals and their products and the products of the field and orchard over Canadian highways, constitutes the most outstanding need of Canadian agriculture. If statesmen and officials will attend to this end of the business, the intelligence, enterprise and industry of the Canadian farmer will do the rest. Another point, How shall Eastern and Western Canada be kept together in comity of interest? Very largely by favourable transportation rates on the manufactures, breeding animals and products of Eastern Canada required in the West, and adequate facilities at fair rates for carrying the grain and live stock of Manitoba and the Northwest. Facilities and rates should be such as to furnish the people of Manitoba and the Territories with all the British Columbia or Ontario fruit that they want, and to promote generally an interchange of products between the Canadian provinces." The Advertiser speaks for a constituency of readers forming by far the most important section of our population, and one likely to be most importantly affected by transportation rates. Reasonable rates on farm produce mean profit and prosperity. Carrying overcharges strike a blow at the farming industry. What this industry most needs are both high and low rates — high rates as to speed and low rates as to price.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Since 1898 in Ontario, while the production of minerals has increased 63 per cent, the increase of the metallic products has been 191 per cent.

Let everybody help to make the "Made in Canada' campaign a success. We can all cheerfully do that, although some of us, remarks the Hamilton Times, do not feel like helping the protected interests to "skin" Canadians. When two articles of equal worth are matter of choice, one of home and one of foreign make, choose the home one.

On Monday last, the train known as the Grand Trunk's International Limited, made a run between London and Windsor that gives it the record of that system. The train left London nineteen minutes behind time, and was only two minutes late when it reached Windsor. The distance of 110 miles was covered in 118 minutes. The average speed was a fraction over a mile a minute. There's plenty of life in the old Grand Trunk yet.

The Prince of Wales opened the Australian Parliament in May, 1901, the session is still going on, and is likely to run into 1903. The Australian Hansard was up in the 13,000 pages last month; the Premier had spoken over 700 times before he left to attend the coronation, and the index man was several months behind his work, although he had over 100 pages of index compiled. Australia must be a commeanwealth in the sense that it has a wealth of common words.

The find of a rich deposit of iron ore is reported near—a few miles from—the new steel plant at Sault Ste. Marie. A shaft is being sunk to determine the value and extent of the deposit and already the indications are that the property will rival the famous Chapin mine at Iron Mountain in Michigan. Mining men who have inspected the find are said to be securing options on the property in the vicinity. The ore runs about 60 per cent. iron, and if as extensive as believed, the discovery means much for the future of the "Soo." We can form no idea of the riches the rocky ribs of New Ontario are concealing.

The Dominion fruit inspector at Winnipeg has seized a box of apples taken from the middle of a consignment shipped to Winnipeg by a firm in Galt, Ont. The apples were described by the shipper as "Fancy Canadian Apples," but the specimens taken are very poor quality indeed. Twenty of them weighed only twenty-eight ounces. The inspector has been instructed by the Government to prosecute the shipper in this instance and in every similar instance which comes under his notice. The man or firm capable of such a petty act of roguery cannot be adequately punished by any simple penalty. He is an enemy to society and a greater enemy to the trade he disgraces, for he brings into discredit the whole apple shipping fraternity, and risks the profits of the business.

"Steamer Louise" Stamped on It—Was There a Wreck?—A Fatal Cave-in —Canada to Chili.

The anthracite coal miners strike has now lasted seventeen weeks, and the approximate loss is $100,000,000.

It is now practically settled that Sir Thomas Lipton's next challenger for the America Cup will be built entirely of steel.

Saturday was Commercial Travelers' Day at the Industrial Exhibition at Toronto. There was a very large crowd of people present; the biggest attendance of the week.

A fatal cave-in occurred in the tunnel which is being constructed between Loudwater and Beaconsfield, England, Sunday. Eight men were buried. Of these two were extricated. It is feared the others are dead.

The international committee appointed at the Pan-American Congress will meet shortly to boom the route from Canada to Chili. It is claimed that the railway may be a reality within the next eight years.

Miss Kate Livingstone, who is a cousin of the famous explorer, Dr. Livingstone, has now completed her 107th year. The aged lady is living at Finnish, Isle of Mull, under the solicitous care of Mrs. Fletcher, proprietress of Glen Aros, Mull, where she was long a privileged domestic.

"Pewee" Johnson, the negro who shot and killed an attendant at the Kenilworth race track last week during a quarrel over a game of craps, was captured at Suspension Bridge, New York, Saturday evening. Johnson fled immediately. The fugitive was seen and recognized by the Canadian frontier police, and a chase began, which lasted two days and two nights.

KING EDWARD VISITS SKIBO.

Calls on Andrew Carnegie in Course of Automobile Drive.

London, Sept. 8. — King Edward visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie Saturday afternoon at Skibo Castle.

King Edward rode in a motor car to Dornock, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, accompanied by the Duke of Sutherland, the Marquis de Soveral, the Portuguese Minister to Great Britain, and Mr. Austin Chamberlain, the Postmaster-General. His Majesty proceeded from Golspie, by way of Skibo Castle, where he visited the Carnegies, and thence rode to Dornock Station. The King looked particularly well.

The Carnegie house party was invited to tea at Dunrobin Castle to meet King Edward and Queen Alexandra. The party consisted of Mr. Joseph H. Choate, United States Ambassador, and Mrs. Choate. Mr. and Mrs. James Bryce, Sir Walter and Lady Foster and Mrs. Harry Whitfield and others.

At the visit to Skibo Castle King Edward's suite took tea with the Carnegies and drove through the grounds. "God Save the King" was played on the organ as the royal party entered, and the pipers repeated it as His Majesty drove off. King Edward expressed surprise and delight at the attractions at Skibo Castle.

The Dissyllabic Scot.

The difficulty of rhyming to "girl" is mainly due to the varieties of its pronunciation. It is never pronounced, as it is so often conventionally written, "gall," but one often hears "gell," with a hard "g." Moreover, in Scotland, though it is as well not to mention the fact to a Scotsman, it consists of two syllables—"gurrel." The other day it was pointed out to a Scotsman that the name of his national poet was a dissyllable in Ayrshire. "Hoot awa'!" he said, or words to that effect. "Burruns two syllables! Absurrud!"

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress F. J. Flint's yacht, the Arrow, Saturday proved herself the fastest boat afloat, exceeding by two miles an hour the world's record, held by the British torpedo boat destroyer Viper, of 43 miles an hour. Medical License to Marry.

Paris, Sept. 8.—The proposed bill to exact from male and female candidates for matrimony medical certificates that they are fit to be parents is causing much talk. Its supporters agree that it is the only way to keep the race physically sound and normal, as well as to stop the appalling increase of criminals and degenerates. Its opponents brand the proposed medical investigation as incompatible with decency.

TO FEDERATE WITH CANADA.

Sugar Planters of Jamaica Pass Resolutions to That Effect.

Kingston, Jamica, Sept. 8.—At a representative meeting Saturday of sugar planters of Jamaica resolutions were passed condemning Great Britain's neglect of the West Indies, resulting almost in ruin to the sugar industry, setting forth the total inadequacy of the measures proposed by Great Britain for the relief of her West Indian sugar planters, and calling for federation with Canada as the only means of retrieving the fallen fortune of Jamaica. Although the subject has been much discussed lately this was the first time a definite proposal for federation with Canada has been made.

Coolie Rioters Shot Down.

Georgetown, British Guiana, Sept. 8.—Discontent has prevailed for upwards of a month among the East Indian emigrants working on the sugar estates in Dutch Guiana. They allege bad treatment, hard work and low wages. On July 28 a gang of coolies murdered Mr. Mavor, the Scottish manager of the Marienburg estate.

When an attempt was made to arrest the ringleaders the coolies armed themselves with cutlasses and refused to disperse. The Attorney-General of Surinam, having vainly ordered them five times to disarm and disperse, the military opened fire.

Thirteen coolies were shot dead and over forty wounded, eight of the latter subsequently succumbing to their injuries. The remainder withdrew.

Sunk by German Gunboat.

Cape Haytien, Sept. 8.—The gunboat Crete-A-Pierrot was sunk yesterday by the German gun boat Panther. The crew of the former had been ordered to leave because they were Piritinists. Before a prize crew from the Panther could take possession the cruiser was seen to be afire. The Panther then fired on the Crete-A-Pierrot till she was immersed.

MR. TARTE AT THE FAIR

Minister Speaks of Tariff and Transportation Issues.

HE URGES A CANADIAN POLICY

Farmers' and Manufacturers' Interests Are Not Necessarily Antagonistic, and a Visit to Toronto, Should a Dominion Exhibition be Organized, Would Tend to Unite All Sections of the Country.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The Hon. J. Israel Tarte was a guest of the directors of the Industrial Fair on Saturday at luncheon, and delivered a speech upon tariff and transportation questions, his address making this luncheon exceedingly interesting.

Hon. Mr. Tarte on rising to respond to the toast of his health was cheered most enthusiastically. He congratulated the directors on the fact that the Exhibition is growing bigger every year, in keeping with the progress of the country. In fact it had grown big enough, in his opinion, for them to put their shoulders to the wheel and organize a Canadian Exhibition next year. As a public man from the Province of Quebec, he could assure the directors that that Province would give them most hearty co-operation. Canadians perhaps did not know their country as they should know it. He saw no reason under the sun why they should not make earnest efforts to bring their friends from the north-west and from the Maritime Provinces to the centre of Canada. If they came they would very soon find that the manufacturing interests, for instance, of the older Provinces were not their enemies. The farming community and the manufacturing community were destined to work together. Those who said the manufacturing interest intended raising the taxation of the country against the interests of the farmers did not understand the question. Take Toronto, Montreal, London and other cities where there were large manufacturing industries, and what were they? They were markets for the farmers—(applause)—and they were markets for the Canadian nation. (Cheers.)

"I am a good Canadian and I do not know why Canadians should buy from foreign countries. If we give Western Canadians transportation facilities they will buy our manufactured goods. We have a great foreign immigration from the United States, but I do not fear this. It means some difficulties, but nothing serious. We must look to the markets of the We must not look to the markets of the Ugited States. If we go on spending a hundred and fifty million annually with our neighbors for manufactured products we are not helping ourselves.

"I see no shame in changing one's position in these matters as conditions change. That is natural. It is right. The truth is not dangerous. Time changes all things. I desire the privilege of changing my mind. We have the great natural resources—corn, coal, wheat, lands and fine harbors. Why have we not made more progress in the past than the United States? Why? Because they have transportation and protection for their industries. Our prospects are bright and we have the products of the farm and of the manufactories side by side. Germany can take care of herself; the United States can take care of herself; so can John Bull. Let us take care of ourselves. The best way to keep the country under the British flag, is to build up our own industries, our own trade. Why have we not the proper transportation, tariff laws and harbors? After all it is purely a question of home markets. In building a nation, making a tariff, there should be no party question and there is not. In discussing the question of a fiscal policy let us discuss it in a broad Canadian spirit. Look to the great resources of our country and sink personal and party feeling.

"This is the position I take and I am not ashamed of it. But other public men are entitled to their opinion, too, and after all the people are the judge of the soundness of our ideas. This is the court of last resort to which these things must be submitted. The petty interests of party should never be permitted to stand in the way of a nation's progress. Let us show all parts of Canada and all interests represented that we have a common purpose—the building of a nation—and invite all to contribute in the promotion of Canadian industries."

At the conclusion of the remarks Mr. Tarte was given something of an ovation. He returned to the east Saturday evening. He refused to discuss politics and declared that he had come over to see the Exhibition and what he had to say he had said in his speech.

30 TO 35 BUSHELS TO ACRE.

Favorable Weather Prevails All Over Wheat District of West.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Saturday was a busy day in the west, threshing being in progress at many points. The grain averages 20 to 35 bushels to the acre. Favorable weather prevails all over the wheat-growing districts of the west. The weather is cool and prevents any damage from sprouting. Some 15,000 bushels of new wheat were marketed Friday, coming principally from Emerson and Gretna districts.

TRUSTS TO CURB PRESIDENT.

Said He Has Mortally Offended Morgan and Others.

New York, Sept. 8. — The Herald says that the trusts are behind a plot to curb the President in his crusade. Roosevelt's forcing of the issue has given mortal offence to Morgan and others. He has been given to understand that if he insists upon telling the people that trusts can be made subservient to law, he may have to fight for the Presidency of 1904. He has replied that his attitude toward the trusts was taken without thought of its political effect, but because he believed it to be right, and that he intends to maintain it regardless of his own political future.

THE CORONATION DURBAR.

It Will Be Unparalleled in Splendor—84 Rajahs and Numberless Lesser Chiefs Will Attend at Delhi.

There is no truth in the report that the Prince of Wales will visit India for the coronation durbar on January 1.

It is, on the other hand, practically settled that a State visit for the durbar will be paid to the Viceroy by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who will be conveyed from Great Britain to Bombay on a British warship.

The obvious difficulties of precedence have hitherto prevented the question being settled. The Duke of Connaught will represent the Royal family; the Viceroy, Lord Curzon, the King.

It will of course, not be the first visit of his Royal Highness to India, he having been commander-in-chief in India.

As to the subsequent plans of their Royal Highnesses nothing has, of course, been thought of, but it is certain that few, if any, ceremonial visits will be paid to the courts of native princes, as the latter would be attending the durbar and unable to make adequate arrangements for a proper welcome.

Meantime the work at Delhi is being pushed rapidly forward. The manoeuvres which precede the durbar will be of the most important character, and Lord Kitchener will arrive in ample time to supervise them.

Fifty-four of the leading princes of India, who, owing to their importance, are entitled to an invitation direct from the Supreme Government, have been formally invited to the durbar and most of them have accepted.

Beyond these specially distinguished guests there will be present numberless chiefs of lesser rank, who will be brought to the durbar by the various local Governments.

Taken as a whole, the assemblage will be one of absolutely unprecedented Royal magnificence.

The total area of the durbar camp is seven miles long by five broad, and already twenty miles of roads have been laid out. It is proposed to lay a 2 ft. 6 in. gauge railway from the Kashmir gate to the great amphitheatre, where the durbar proper takes place.

The Kashmir gate is the one against which Lieuts. Selkeld and Home, of the Royal Engineers, assisted by a dozen British and native non-commissioned officers and men, in the memorable siege during the Mutiny, placed the powder bags under a storm of fire, which burst the gates in, and enabled the storming of Delhi to be commenced.

The whole of the durbar camp is to be brilliantly lighted by electricity, and the camp on the right of the special vicereal camp will be occupied by the Governor of Bombay and his suite. The next one to it will be allotted to the commander-in-chief, Lord Kitchener.

The two divisions of the army which have been detailed for the durbar will be encamped close to Dheerpore, while taking part in the functions. For the first time in the military history of Indian balloons will be used in the manoeuvres, which form part of the celebration.

The coronation durbar will mean a great deal more to the Indian people than a mere pageant, trained as they are for tradition and the experience of generations to spectacular ceremonials. It will be the final coping-stone placed upon the Imperial experiment of 1877, and will convey to the princes of India a fulfilment of the sentiment of supreme British rule, which they accepted on that date, also at Delhi, at the hands of Lord Beaconsfield.

Most of the tents in the Viceroy's camp will be two great rows on either side of the main road, and clustering round will be multitudinous tents of the staff and officials.

The official amphitheatre is built in horseshoe shape on rising ground. The floor is 350 feet in diameter from seat to seat, and the total accommodation is designed for nearly 8,000 persons. The most elaborate seating arrangements are planned whereby the different ranks will be placed on rising tiers, and behind the actual chairs is a broad promenade, affording space for many thousands more.

Outside the official proceedings and the military manoeuvres, one of the greatest attractions of the durbar will be the Art Exhibition, which has been organized on a very great scale. The entrance hall of the exhibition somewhat resembles the Agra Taj, and is approached by an imposing flight of steps. At right angles to the main hall will be spacious pillared galleries containing the exhibits of real Indian work only, no mere imitations of European art being permitted. The verandahs surrounding the exhibition will contain native shops of the best class only.

Many of the foremost Indian jewelers will have magnificent exhibits. A Madras firm is showing goods to the value of £300,000. A native Bombay firm is sending £150,000 worth, and among the exhibits are two jewels worth respectively £80,000 and £13,000.

Besides jewelry, the exhibits will be representative of all that is best and most typical in every branch of Indian art and industry.

"England" or "Britain."

The London Spectator has been called down for using the term "England" in referring to the people of Great Britain, where the latter name should have been used. In extenuation The Spectator pleads that the word "England" is more euphonious and more attractive by association than the word "Britain," and adds: "We wish 'the English' could be held to mean 'the English-speaking race.'"

For a Certainty I am Cured.

Mr. James Treneman, butcher, 536 Adelaide Street, London, Ont., writes that for two years he was laid up with kidney disease and urinary troubles. He became dropsical and his legs would swell so that he could scarcely go round. He never used any medicine that did him so much good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and knows for a certainty that this treatment cured him. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

OPPORTUNITY.

This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream:
There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;
And underneath the cloud, or in it, raged
A furious battle, and men yelled, and swords
Shocked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner
Wavered, then staggered backward, hemmed by foes.
A craven hung along the battle's edge,
And thought, "Had I sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the king's son bears—but this Blunt thing!"—He snapt and flung it from his hand,
And lowering crept away, and left the field.
Then came the king's son, wounded, sore bestead,
And weaponless, and saw the broken sword,
Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden sand,
And ran and snatched it, and with battle shout
Lifted afresh he hewed his enemy down,
And saved a great cause that heroic day.

How Coal Was First Named.

Curiously, the word coal was in use long before as well as long after the commencement of the coal trade, with a meaning quite different from that which it now has. The term originally belonged to wood fuel and was applied in particular to wood which had been charred, or what is now called charcoal.

When the trade in mineral coal began, this was usually distinguished by the singular name of sea coal. It would seem that from having been gathered in early times on the seashore, more especially of Northumberland, along with seaweed and other wreckage cast up by the waves, this peculiar substance was supposed to be of marine origin. From this circumstance and its resemblance to wood coal in color and burning properties it obtained the name of sea coal, by which it was so long and so widely known. Then in the course of time, as the new fuel gained upon and superseded the old, the simple name of coal became universally transferred to it.

A SHEEP-EATING WOLF.

Hunger Drives Him as Far to the Front as Cobourg.

If one had heard that a wolf had been discovered killing sheep in the Village of Apsley, which is situated not far from the primeval forest, the surprise would not be great, but it is a matter of genuine surprise that a wolf should have strayed so far from its natural haunts as to invade the vicinity of Cobourg—one of the earliest settled districts of the province. A despatch from Cobourg states that for some time there has been considerable sheep-killing going on in Haldimand Township, which was thought to be the work of dogs. Recently an animal prowling around the vicinity was noticed by a number of persons. On one occasion it is said to have followed a man around the field while ploughing and later entered a barn yard and killed a calf. On Saturday night, last, some sheep were killed on the Campbell farm between Wicklow and Lakeport. The animal was a few nights later shot by Mr. James McMurray, while in the act of killing sheep. It was brought to Cobourg, and a local taxidermist says he thinks it is a common grey wolf. It measures five feet from nose to tip of tail, and is eighteen inches high.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

RUGBY

The local Rugbyists had their first skirmish on Saturday afternoon when a number of them turned out on the Separate School grounds and chased the pigskin for an hour or so. "Mac" McClellan was on hand with a natty uniform of immaculate white, whilst Bill Crowley was in great form in a uniform that had seen historic days. Dainard, big and husky as ever, pranced around like a young colt, and Meagher appeared to be as anxious as ever to get into the game. Manager McPherson stood smilingly looking on and at intervals took a dash at the sport himself. From this time forward the practices will be on in real earnest, and the boys are all asked to turn out.

The annual meeting of the club will take place to-morrow night in the Oriental Hotel. There promises to be a large attendance and a rousing meeting should be the result.

There will be a practice of the local rugbyists at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon on the Central Park.

Brantford Expositor:—"Now that the lacrosse season is over it is up to some of the Rugby football enthusiasts of the season to call meetings and organize a club that will do business here this fall. There is no better game, and if the start is made in the right way there is no reason that the game cannot be made the same success that lacrosse has been. It is a fact that there are a lot of first class players in Brantford, men who have figured on some of the best teams in the country in past years, and they are all willing to get into the game here. All that is needed is someone to make the start and results will follow. If it is possible to arrange a junior team the city could be grouped with Simcoe, Dundas and Paris, and an intermediate team would find a place with London and Hamilton. A meeting should be called at once, so that practices can be started early. It is not necessary that the team should win everything at first to become successful. The history of lacrosse has shown that Brantford people do not expect too much, but there must be a start."

GOLF.

An English golfer on a holiday at Montrose, had a smart little chap for a caddie. The visitor was playing a good game, but no matter how fine a stroke he had the caddie remembered a better played from the same spot by one Cobb or another. Jack Cobb holed from a bunker when Kelior was lying dead in the odd; Bob Cobb drove twenty yards farther than this in the shield competition—there's the mark of his iron yet; Willie Cobb could do this; and Dave Cobb could do the other. At last the Englishman won his match by holing out a really grand stymie shot at the last hole, and he triumphantly asked his caddie if he ever saw a Cobb do that.

"I since did it myself," replied the unblushing historian of the Cobbs.

"And what is your name then?" yelled the enraged Samsenach.

"Johnnie Cobb," was the staid reply.

DISTRESSING RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A most distressing accident befel Mr. William Anthony, jr., at noon to-day. He is employed as a machinist at the works of the William Hamilton Mfg. Co., and boards at the Queen's Hotel, Charlotte street. On his way home to dinner to-day, in attempting—as he is said to have been in the habit of doing — to board the steps of the incoming Toronto express to take him to Charlotte street, he missed his footing, and was swung with his foot under the car, and the wheels passed over his left foot, frightfully crushing the bone, and mangling the flesh.

A good many persons being on the street at the noon hour, the young man was picked up, and conveyed in a carriage to St. Joseph's Hospital. Dr. Bradd was summoned and took charge of the case. An examination showed that the crushed condition of the young man's limb, excluded the idea of saving the foot. Amputation was performed at two o'clock this afternoon, the operation being well borne by the patient.

Mr. Anthony, who is about 25 years of age, is a son of Mr. W. H. Anthony, whose boot and shoe shop is situated at 159 Simcoe street. The young man was of exemplary character, a good mechanic, steady, reliable, and lived a good life. He is a member of the local Y.M.C.A., and held in high esteem by all who knew him, and will receive general sympathy in his misfortune.

THE MEN'S MEETING.

Rev. Mr. Reddick, of Apsley, gave a very impressive message to men at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, there being a good attendance. His theme was "The Creator's Interest in Men." He traced God's interest in man from the time when he was created in His own image, through the fall and back to the place provided for him, through Redemption.

The interest of God should be reflected in His children, and in conclusion the speaker exhorted young men to greater faithfulness in dealing with others.

The Charlotte street quartette, composed of Messrs. Jolliffe, Froude, Prest and Doidge, sang "Launch Away," and "Nearer My God to Thee," both being much appreciated and impressive.

The fourth annual Bible study rally day will be held on Sunday, the 21st. The speaker for the day will be Rev. R. P. MacKay, of Toronto, a Bible teacher with a wide reputation.

A GOOD ONE.

A Biggish Maskinonge Captured by a New Jersey "Shooter."

The following story is told by the Bobcaygeon Independent, and as the Independent never departs from the straight line of veracity, even to the width of a fishing line, it must be true; "On Friday last while Mr. and Mrs. Garland, of Orange, N. J., were out trawling on Sturgeon Lake, with a guide, Roland Reid, Mr. Garland hooked on to a good sized maskinonge, weighing 24 pounds. The party had it photoed, and the guide was bouqueted by the American ladies at the Rockland that evening. The fish was sent to Elcome's, Peterborough, to be mounted, and will hang in Mr. Garland's library as a trophy of the Kawartha Lakes."

As of necessity there will be many whose avocations and engagements will not permit of their going to the grounds to hear the band and an opportunity will be afforded so to do by attending the grand concert to be given by the band in the Market Hall, on the evening of Wednesday, 10th, inst. Please keep the date in mind.

The last time, and in fact the only time, this fine band has appeared in Peterborough, they were brought here by private enterprise, which was appreciated, as should always be the case, but the admission fee was placed at 50 cents and 75 cents for tickets to the concert. These prices did not do more than let the promotors out without loss. On Wednesday evening next, the opportunity will be afforded to hear the band at the moderate fee of 25 cents. It is more than cheap. It is an opportunity for the people to hear the finest class of music for a trifle, and it is only possible because the band are here on a day's engagement.

The programme will be thoroughly interesting. It will embrace, as is shown by the items following, the very best of music. In addition to the band selections there will be given sword dances, by the experts in that art, vocal selections by singers of the company, in short a very complete and interesting programme and one embracing sufficient variety to be sure to please-

SAD DROWNING AT MUD LAKE.

Mr. James Roberts and Two Sons Lose Their Lives.

ALL THE BODIES RECOVERED.

Particulars as to how it Occurred are not Known—Mr. Roberts a Prominent Smith Farmer.

A very sad triple drowning fatality occurred at Mud Lake last night, the victims of the unfortunate affair being Mr. James M. Roberts, of Smith, and his two young sons, Edward and Kenneth.

Mr. Roberts, whose beautiful farm is situated on the 12th concession of Smith, over-looking Mud Lake, left his home early in the evening in a canoe for the purpose of conducting service at the Indian Village, on the Chemong Reserve. This he had done on many previous occasions. He was accompanied last night by his two young sons, Edward, aged 12 years, and Kenneth, aged 10.

When her husband and sons had not arrived home long after the usual hour, Mrs. Roberts, naturally, became anxious, and finally determined to start out in search of the three members of her family, Accompanied by one of Mr. Roberts' farm hands, she started across to the Indian Village in a skiff, and soon made her mission known. She was informed by Mr. Dan Whetung of the Reserve, that Mr. Roberts and the two boys had left for home at about 8.30 o'clock. This fact caused great anxiety, as they all knew that Mr. Roberts intended going straight to his home, and had plenty of time to reach it. A search was at once instituted, which resulted some hours later in finding the canoe in which Mr. Roberts and his two boys had started for home. There was now little doubt but that the father and two boys had met a watery grave, and the feelings of the unfortunate wife and mother can, to some extent be imagined, but not described.

Early this morning the sad news was brought to town and grappling irons procured in order that the bodies might be reclaimed from the Mud Lake waters.

But the residents of the village were not idle, and when the news of the failure of the party to arrive home reached the village, there was little sleep for the rest of the villagers that night. Mr. Roberts was held in very high esteem by the entire village, where his father, the late Ed. Roberts, was Indian Agent for twenty years — from about 1878 to 1898 — and Mr. Roberts himself was in the habit of coming over to the village and conducting religious services in the Methodist church. The bell of the Methodist church was rung, both as an alarm to call the villagers together, and as a token of respect to the deceased, whose death was no longer a matter of doubt. Searching parties armed with trawling lines, at once set forth, and the search was successful.

The late Mr. Roberts was about 45 years of age and was the son of the late Rev. Ed. Roberts, formerly Baptist minister of Smith. He was prominently known throughout the township as a consistent advocate of temperance and was, in fact, one of the township's most highly respected citizens. He owned a beautiful farm on the shores of Mud Lake. He married a Miss Benson from near Port Hope, who together with a boy and girl survive him. The surviving son, the eldest of the family, is attending Woodstock College. He will be home by an evening train.

Kenneth, aged 10 years, and Edward aged 12 were two promising young boys, who were great favourities amongst their playmates and exceptionally clever in their school work. They spent a great deal of their time in town with their aunt, Miss Agnes J. Roberts, 690 Bethune street, and attended for a time the Central Public School.

Various theories are advanced as to how the accident occurred. During the afternoon the lake was exceedingly rough, but towards evening it calmed down, and it is hardly probable that the canoe become swamped by rough water. The canoe may have in some manner up set and in the father's attempt to same his boys the three very likely sank together.

Lieut. Col. E. B. Edwards, who was a great personal friend of the deceased, left this morning for the scene of the disaster in order to assist in the search for the bodies.

The bodies of the unfortunate victims were discovered about 9 o'clock this morning on the Smithtown side of the lake, by Mr. Dan Whetung, Jr. The body of the father was found standing in an erect position, in about six feet of water, the bodies of the sons lying at his feet. The remains were conveyed to the saddened home in which their lamented death makes a triple vacancy, one half of a happy family of six having been swept into eternity by one blow of misfortune.

Mr. D. Belleghem, undertaker, went out to Selwyn to prepare the bodies for interment, the date of which has not yet been announced. Three hearses will be required for the three-fold funeral.

CONVENTION

Of the Public School Teachers of Peterborough County.

The Peterborough County Teachers' Association Executive Committee met on September 6th, and made arrangements for the annual convention to be held on Thursday and Friday, October 16 and 17, at Ashburnham and Peterborough, of which particulars will be given on the programmes when issued.

It was decided to discontinue paying part of the subscription price of the "Canadian Teacher," owing to the present condition of the finances of the Association.

BOER WAR STORIES.

An Innocent "Tommy" and His Query to General Botha.

The London Daily Mail's war correspondent, Mr. Edgar Wallace, writing from Klerksdorp, says: "There is an unrecorded incident of the peace conference which caused some amusement among the Boer delegates. The train conveying General Botha to Klerksdorp was standing at a small station when a Tommy, impelled by curiosity, drew near to the special saloon on the bridge of which Louis Botha was standing, and, respectfully saluting the Boer leader, asked, 'When are you going to let us go home, sir?' Botha smiled and replied, 'Very soon,' he hoped. 'The sooner the quicker,' quoted Atkins, and Botha laughed heartily."

A story is told in the English papers concerning a captain of the Fighting Fifth who fell into General Delarey's hands on December 13, 1900, when, in conjunction with Commandant Beyers he surprised General Clements at Nooitgedacht. After the engagement General Delarey, addressing the captain in friendly tones, said:—"Our day to-day, captain, yours to-morrow." He then gave an order that the prisoners should be removed to a neighboring mill, and offered the captain his own pony that he might ride there.

The offer was accepted, but, on mounting, the officer found himself in the position of being an armed man again, for Delarey's rifle was resting in the stirrup cup. "Perhaps you had better take this, General," he said, handing the weapon to Delarey, who laughingly replied that perhaps he had.

He then said, "But I must have those glasses, captain," indicating a pair of field glasses which his prisoner was carrying. The latter, however, begged to be allowed to retain these, as he particularly prized them.

"I am very sorry, captain," was the reply, "but I must have them. But I tell you what I will do. As soon as this (the war) is over I will send them to you, or their value"—and the captain still believes that he will keep his word.

HAD LITTLE FAITH.

How a Doubtful Man was Convinced and Restored.

A Story That Illustrates the Advantage of Reading and Being Guided by Newspaper Advertisements.

Lower Windsor, N B., September 7th. — Special. "I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

This is the declaration of Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, who for a long time was the victim of a very severe case of this painful disease.

Mr. Belyea reads the newspapers and after he had tried plasters and liniments and all kinds of external remedies as well as doctors' treatments, with no good results, he began reading the testimonials of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says—

"This remedy was so highly recommended for kidney trouble, that after reading some testimonials I concluded to try them for a short time, but I must admit that having tried so many things and failed to effect a cure, I had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else could or would help me.

"However, I did not use them long before I found out that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I used to have very bad spells, which of late years became so frequent and so severe that I was almost laid up.

I received more benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills than from any other medicine I have ever used and they certainly made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me so many years."

Mr. Belyea is not the first skeptical man that has been convinced by experience of the medicinal value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Making It Plain.

A writer in the Lancet, says the Chicago Record-Herald, generously sets himself the task of giving out valuable information as to the amount of food one should eat. He proceeds to make the matter plain to the masses by saying:

"If you desire to know how much you ought to eat per diem, you must first determine whether you are temperamentally anabolic or katobolic. Then, taking into account your age, sex, size, the amount of exercise you get and the temperature of the atmosphere, you should calculate the amount of food necessary to maintain the minimum weight of the body consistent with the best health of which you are capable."

Hereafter there should be no excuse whatever for overeating or undereating.

The Discovery of Florida.

Juan Ponce de Leon, sailing from Porto Rico in search of new land, discovered Florida on March 27, 1512. He landed near St. Augustine, planted the cross and took possession in the name of the Spanish monarch. In 1763 a treaty ceding east and west Florida to Great Britain, in exchange for Havana and the western part of Cuba, was ratified. In 1781 part of Florida was receded to Spain, and in 1783 Great Britain ceded east and west Florida to Spain. On Feb. 22, 1819, east and west Florida were ceded to the United States by treaty and purchase, Spain receiving $5,000,000.

CANADA AT CORK.

The Canadian Government has a building of its own, which is one of the most striking and beautiful on the grounds, and is placed on the choicest site at the entrance to the western grounds, facing the river Lee, says the Cork (Ireland) Constitution. The pavilion (which covers an area of 5,000 square feet) is rectangular in plan, and is flanked by two towers at each end, which give it a very imposing and dignified effect, their proportions and symmetry being particularly striking. The main entrance is very effectively dealt with by a massive arch in fibrous plaster, over which appears in plain black letters, the word "Canada."

The first object to claim attention on entering is an immense case containing a great variety of leading brands of Canadian food products, consisting of meat, fruit and vegetables, such as chicken, turkey, goose, duck, corn, beef, pigs' feet, ox and lunch tongues, potted meats, sausage, roast meats, etc.; raspberries, strawberries, cherries, damson plums, greengages, currants, Bartlett pears, Crawford peaches, egg plums, apples, etc., wax string beans, petit pois, tomatoes, sweet corn, cauliflower, beets, baked beans, tomato catsup, etc. These cases also contain pyramids of "Radnor" mineral water, and Canada's "Club" Rye Whiskey, as well as Imperial cheese, honey, beaver oats, and Swiss food. Behind this is a small case containing flour, oatmeal, peas, etc.

The whole of the eastern side of the building is devoted to agriculture, and one is struck with admiration at the beautiful display of cereals, both grain in straw and in bottles, the former being elaborately set up in arches, pyramids, sheaves, and bunches, festooned and wreathed in many varied and artistic forms. It also forms the frames of a series of oil paintings which appeal strongly to the imagination, showing such scenes as seed-time, harvest and threshing operations in the Canadian Northwest. Between these paintings, on small stands erected for the purpose, as well as round each pillar, are hundreds of bottles of all shapes and sizes, containing specimens of wheat, oats, barley, rye, Italian corn, peas, flax, millet, buckwheat, of grain, grasses, and fodder which and, in fact, all the leading varieties grow to such perfection in Canada. The collection contains thousands of samples, comprising over 500 different varieties, and the exhibit is undoubtedly the best of the kind ever seen in this country. It cannot fail to impress everyone who sees it with the fact that Canada is a country rich in agricultural resources of almost endless variety.

Returning to the centre we find immediately behind the large case already referred to, a display of Canada's varied luscious fruit. These are preserved in antiseptics in glass bottles, and comprise several varieties of grapes, plums, raspberries, blueberries, cherries, etc., also some samples of peas, string beans, Windsor beans, etc. Around these are placed about 150 plates (containing specimens in their natural condition) of about 35 varieties of Canadian apples, picked last October, and which have since been preserved in cold storage. Adjoining this is the cold storage chamber which is kept at a temperature of about 34 degrees, and in which are to be found Canadian cheese, both white and colored, butter, eggs, apples in cases, dressed poultry, maple sugar, honey, etc.

The western side is devoted to timber and minerals. The timber exhibit shows all the leading varieties of wood, especially those most suitable for export, such as pine (white, yellow and red), spruce, birch, oak, ash, elm, and numerous other varieties which it is needless for us to mention here, as Canada's production of this article is already sufficiently well known to need further comment, but we cannot leave this section without making a reference to the fine display of photographs showing the various trees, each photograph being framed in the wood of the tree represented. There is also a very fine series of photographs illustrating lumbering operations.

Passing on to the minerals, we have specimens of almost every known mineral in existence, with the exception of tin, as Canada can produce a larger variety of minerals than any other country in the world. The list is almost too varied to attempt to enumerate it. We will, therefore, content ourselves with saying there are silver ores, gold ores, quartz, felspar, mica, asbestos and corundum, the latter being one of the minerals which is, so far, to be found in no other country. Nickel and nickel productions, manganese and mineral paint, are also in evidence, and what will no doubt appeal most to the average visitor will be the display of gold nuggets from the Klondike, the exhibit representing pulp forests, rafts, and lumbering scenes generally, as well as waterfalls, hunting and river scenes.

The Canadian pavilion and exhibit is unquestionably one of the most striking and picturesque of many attractive features in the Western grounds. Though its opening has been delayed until the present advanced stage of the exhibition, it is now introduced in very complete and interesting form. Canada has been represented at a number of exhibitions both in these countries, and the continent, during recent years, and many advantages have thereby been gained by the progressive and prospering portion of the King's dominions. A visit to the Canadian Pavilion will astonish and please, for herein are shown the great resources and wonderful possibilities of development of the Dominion. The Canadian Government have employed the most experienced and competent men to superintend these exhibitions, and in the case of Cork, Mr. James Brodie, the secretary, has shown his experience and skill with most happy effect.

The rack was one of the instruments of torture in the olden time. The music rack is usually used for the same purpose to-day.

AS A GOLD DIGGER.

When the Late Premier of Great Britain Was in Australia.

Lord Salisbury's retirement has once more raised the interesting question whether he did actually dig gold when he was in Australia in 1852. Now that he has more leisure he may satisfy curiosity by something of an autobiography. His latest biographer, F. D. How, gives the most complete account of Lord Salisbury's Australian experiences that has so far appeared in print. According to Mr. How, who apparently gathered his information at Hatfield, young Lord Robert Cecil was a member of a party that pegged out a claim on the Mount Alexander gold field, which was 23 miles on the Melbourne side of Bendigo, and is now the town of Castlemaine. Mr. How cites the statement of a living miner who remembers seeing Lord Robert Cecil working the claim, and the kindness of the future Prime Minister to a sick digger in a neighboring tent is also mentioned. But Lord Robert was not among the lucky ones at Mount Alexander, where fabulous fortunes were made by a few, and he afterward proceeded to Bendigo, where his interest in auriferous operations was more scientific than personal. There is a speech of Lord Salisbury's in which he made incidental and humorous reference to a time when circumstances constrained him to become his own cook and laundress.—London Chronicle.

Quackery Versus Science.

Most patent medicines emanate from people who do not know anything of medicine or chemistry. Merrill's System Tonic is skillfully compounded in one of Ontario's largest drug stores after the suggestions of three eminent physicians. It purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens all the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cents. Sold by Ormond and Walsh.

Lord Roberts' Retort.

Lord Roberts once found himself the centre of a circle of new friends in a London club. There was a very tall gentleman present, who, evidently believing himself to shine as a wit, seized every opportunity to raise a laugh at the other people's expense. On being introduced to Lord Roberts, the wit bent down patronizingly to his lordship and remarked:

"I have often heard of you, but"—shading his eyes with one hand, as though the famous general, being so small, could be only seen with difficulty—"I have never seen you before."

To this Lord Roberts promptly replied:

"I have often seen you, sir, but I have never heard of you."

Everyone present was delighted with Lord Roberts' reply, and the "wit" soon afterwards disappeared.—London Answers.

Lombard Architecture.

The Lombard style of architecture, to which our Norman is allied, placed the support conspicuously in the wall. Of great thickness, with large blank spaces unpierced and prominent, the walls plainly tell their work and their capacity to do it. The ornamentation is subservient to the idea. Shallow recesses and paneling bring the surface of the wall into prominence. Where they are pierced for window or door the beveling and molding in perspective increase the idea of strength. The arcading points to the depth. The circular arch indicates the solidity of the wall above. The circular windows were adapted to emphasize the notion of power.

In the Egyptian the wall is unnoticed, in the Greek it receded from view, in the Byzantine it played no part, in the Moresque it is chopped up and scattered, but in the Lombard, without buttress or pilaster, it asserted itself as the main element of support. —London Tablet.

DISTRESSING ITCHING PILES

Especially Disagreeable During the Warm weather—Mr. Hewson Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

If you go to a physician for a cure for piles he will probably tell you that a surgical operation is necessary, or else that there is no cure for piles. Physicians who are not prejudiced will recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment.

We believe that the best testimony to the powers of Dr Chase's Ointment is that of cured ones and the newspapers of this country are filled with evidence such as the following;

Mr. Thos. H. Hewson, blacksmith, Orangeville, Ont., writes, "I find Dr. Chase's Ointment the best thing I ever used for itching piles for whenever I have been troubled with this disagreeable and distressing ailment it has brought prompt relief and cure. It is also excellent as a treatment for burns and sores, such as a person receives in my trade. I can fully recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching piles and burns and sores."

THE G.O.M. OF CRICKET.

Dr. W. G. Grace Continues His Wonderful Work at the Wicket at 54—He Plays Every Week Day.

Dr. W. G. Grace, the greatest cricket player that England, or, for that matter, the world, has ever produced, has just celebrated his fifty-fourth birthday. Two days before the happening of the anniversary he completed his two hundredth century at the game in matches with first-class clubs in a contest between the London County Cricket Club and the Marylebone Cricket Club. Dr. Grace is the captain and the greatest drawing card of the London County Club. Compiling his two hundredth century means that he has made more than 100 runs in match games 200 times. He is an amateur, and only plays cricket for the fun and sport he finds in it, and yet despite his age he plays nearly every week-day during the season. Besides being a great batsman, he is a first-class bowler, and in the game mentioned he had the satisfaction of putting out the recently knighted novelist, Dr. Conan Doyle. They do not raise cricket players to the knighthood, else the honor would have been conferred on Dr. Grace many years ago. Relative to Grace's two hundredth century in connection with his birthday, The London Morning Leader has this to say:

"Dr. W. G. Grace is 54 years old to-day, and we wish him many happy returns. Not long ago a well known writer gravely suggested the probability of the champion qualifying by residence to play for Kent County Club. The wish was no doubt father to the thought—especially among those who had the good fortune to see him make 257 runs at Gravesend in the year 1895, but the hero of two hundred centuries appears to have taken a final farewell of the county championship, and today he appeals to us as a batsman of Empire—a cricketer whose influence in the sporting world has been as potent as that of the retiring Premier in the domain of politics.

"Dr Grace, who is the perfect embodiment of John Bull, has been before the public over forty years as a cricketer, and a gentleman, and in grateful recollection of his matchless services to the game, we are proud to accept him as such. It was in the year 1899 that W. G, severed his connection with Gloucester cricket, and came up to found that London County Club at the Crystal Palace. There can be little doubt that the English champion has done much to foster the game in the metropolis, especially among second-class cricketers, who at once flocked to his standard. but for the sake of the old memories at Downend and the many triumphs he had won in the western county, it seemed rather regrettable that he should have left the home of the Graces and identified himself with a new body. For mere sentimental reasons we would have preferred the name of Grace to have been a synonym for Gloucester cricket to the end of the chapter, but cricket is not run on sentimental lines, and the country gentleman of the nineties is the blase Londoner of the new century.

"The absurdity of comparing modern batsmen with the champion is more apparent when one reflects that he was born in 1848, and that he will be 54 years old next Friday. Ranjitsinjhi dazzled us yesterday with a magnificent innings at Hastings, but the Indian is still a young man, and it is doubtful if he will ever be found scoring over 300 runs, as Grace did in a single innings at the age of 48. The quality in Grace that compels the admiration of the whole sporting world is the marvelous consistency which he has shown for nearly half a century against all sorts of bowlers and upon every condition of wicket.

"In the days of his boyhood, when the famous brothers played in the quaint old garden at Downend, W. G. was always a prominent figure, and he had reached the discreet age of 9 when he was called on to assist West Gloucestershire. At 15 he scored 170 and 56 not out against the Gentlemen of Sussex at Brighton; at 18 he made 224 not out for England against Surrey at the Oval; and if Grace had never reached his majority he would have glorified the traditions of the game. For five years in succession he scored a thousand runs and took a hundred wickets in first-class cricket; he has topped the double century thirteen times; he has taken all ten wickets for the M. C. C., and scored for the same club in the year 1876 the enormous total of 344.

"Coming down to more recent times, he startled the cricket world by taking five wickets for 29 runs against the Australians at Lord's for the M.C.C. in May last. Last year he topped the hundred on two occasions—against Cambridge University and the M.C.C.—and both scores were made at the Palace, where the doctor has now been playing for three years on behalf of the London County team."

How unsightly, sometimes even disgusting, and certainly very mortifying to the sufferer. They are merely an evidence of impure, poisoned blood, and lowered vitality of the elementary organs, which can be quickly changed by taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone cleanses the blood of all poisons and eruptions, makes it rich in red corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy ruddy complexion. To have a pure, soft skin and good complexion simply use Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Ormond & Walsh's.

Novel Life Saving Apparatus.

If all that is claimed for the new life saving apparatus constructed by a Geneva citizen be true, we may expect that in the near future no wrecks, however disastrous, will have a fatal issue. The novel apparatus is constructed after the manner of a diving suit, of which the legs are weighted. It is rendered so buoyant with air chambers that half the body remains above water, and outside pockets are provided to hold a lamp, matches, food, a trumpet and a weapon to ward off the attacks of large fish.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Wifely Appreciation.

"There's one thing I will say about Charley," said young Mrs. Torkins; "he has a lovely disposition even if he doesn't always display it at home."

"How do you know?"

Rest.

When a razor refuses to take an edge, the barber stops fussing with it, lays it away, and in a little while, no one knows just how, the edge returns. If we treated our brains and our bodies that way instead of wearing them out on the grindstone, it would be a good deal more sensible.

A Big Scheme.

Engineering gives some details of the most important of all the electrical power-distribution undertakings in England—that of the Yorkshire Electric Power Company. The area of the district is 1,800 square miles, and contains a population of close upon 2,000,000. There are within the area 158 local authorities with a population varying from 400 to 400,000, and it is the policy of the promoters to confine operations to the supply in bulk to local authorities and other large consumers. The extent of business which awaits the development of the company may be gauged from the fact that there is 2,000,000 horse-power in use in this area; 20 local authorities have works in operation or in process of construction 16 local authorities have provisional orders, but have not yet executed them; 12 local authorities have applied for power; 110 miles of tramways have been authorized, and orders have been sought for thirty more miles of tramways. A reference to the map in Engineering shows that it is proposed to serve this district from four power stations, located at Thornhill, near Dewsbury, Methley, Wath, and Bingley. It has been thought advisable to locate the first instalment of plant at Thornhill. The first instalment of plant will amount to 10,000 kilowatts, and two 2,50 2,500 kilowatts, after which the extensions will be carried out in units of 5,000 kilowatts. The district will be first served from sixteen sub-stations. It has been arranged, adds Engineering, that a considerable area can be supplied direct from the sub-stations without transformation. The pressure of transmission is 10,000 volts, and all the sub-stations are interconnected on the high-tension side, or else served by a duplicate set of mains.

Canada's Polyglot Population.

Canada is becoming a polyglot country as the streams of immigration pour into its western regions from other parts of the American continent, the United Kingdom and Europe. No less than forty nationalities or countries are tabulated in a sample Government report showing the arrivals, and the mere alphabetical enumeration will best illustrate this racial diversity, viz: Austrian, Arab, Belgian, Bohemian, Chinese, Canadians, Dutch, Doukhobors, Danish, English, French, Finnish, German, Greek, Hebrew, Hungarian, half-breeds, Hollander, Irish, Italian, Icelander, Moldavian, Norwegian, Newfoundlander, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Ruthenian, Roumanian, Slovack, Swiss, Stundist, Swedish, Syrian, Spanish, Scotch, United States, Welsh West Indies, and others! Truly a varied procession of humanity! Ten years ago 86 per cent. of the population was Canadian-born, 10 per cent. born under the British flag, and only 3 per cent. foreign-born; but the recently-taken census, when analyzed, will no doubt show a decided increase in those of alien birth. Thus these widely-diversified peoples are finding in the great Canadian West their Land of Liberty. Among the inflow have been 40,000 Slavs, 30,000 Galicians, and nearly 10,000 Doukhobors, or Russian Quakers, who came to Canada in a body in 1899. Hundreds of villages have sprung up over the prairies where these foreigners live their quaint communal life, and they are making good progress in farming and stock-raising. So are the Mennonites, whose farms in Southern Manitoba are among the best in that Province. The Icelanders and Scandinavians are no less prosperous. The exodus from the United States to the Canadian West is another remarkable feature of immigration, numbering thousands annually, and these have included large numbers of Mormons, who, settling in Alberta, have literally made the desert to blossom as the rose. Thus all over the fertile lands of the great Dominion, from Winnipeg to the Rockies, men of many nationalities are gathering under the Union Jack, in our Canadian colony, constituting as they do a grave problem of assimilation that will test the wisdom of the statesmen of the Dominion. —Frank Yeigh, in Leisure Hours."

A Useful Note.

A Canadian firm recently placed with the Montreal and Toronto newspapers an advertisement of a new nursing bottle it had patented and was about to place on the market. After giving directions for use, the "ad" ended in this manner:

"When the baby is done drinking, it must be unscrewed and laid in a cool place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk, it should be boiled." — Philadelphia Times.

Advertising Versus Merit.

The enormous sale of most medicines has depended entirely on large advertising. The enormous sale of Merrill's System Tonic has depended entirely on the merits of this wonderful compound. We say it is the best medicine to purify the blood, build up the system, strengthen the nerves and regulate the bowels made. Invest 50 cents in one bottle and you will know that we speak the truth. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

A Reminder of Nelson.

The popular receptions given to Lord Kitchener when he appears in theatres and other popular places of resort in London, recall those which Lord Nelson experienced a century ago. But there was this difference, that Lord Kitchener always appears as the type of the military hero who has "married his sword," whereas Lord Nelson appeared in the midst of a group of persons including the woman he most loved. Under the heading of "Covent Garden," a newspaper of 1800 records:—"Lord Nelson of the Nile visited this theatre last night and Lady Hamilton and his lordship's father, the Rev. Mr. Nelson, to see a 'pleasant comedy of Life.'" The words recall for the moment the cynical modern definition of marriage as a tragedy for two and a comedy— though hardly a pleasant comedy of life—for three. A few days later the same paper makes record:—"The Right Hon. Lord Nelson, accompanied by Sir William and Lady Hamilton, and the mother of Lady Hamilton, arrived at Fonthill, on a visit to Mr. Beckford." Lady Nelson, by the way, is ascribed as "dressed in white, with a violet satin headdress and a very pleasing appearance."

And They Didn't Get Potatoes.

General Sir William Olpherts, recently deceased, otherwise known as "Hell Fire Jack," a celebrated British soldier, was famous for his blunt language. During a critical period in the Indian mutiny one of the Irish regiments complained because it had no potatoes. Olpherts, who was in command of the district, heard of the trouble and ordered the regiment out on parade. "Now, my men," he shouted as he rode in front of the lines, "I hear you want potatoes! Is that so?" "We do, we do!" howled the regiment with its thousand throats. "Then you won't get 'em," replied Olpherts. "You're good enough soldiers, I'll admit, but if you think that Providence is willing to grow potatoes for your benefit on the dry plains of India you're blanker fools than I take you for." The demand for potatoes ceased.

KAWARTHA LAKES GROWING FAMOUS.

A Philadelphia Manufacturer Describes a two Weeks' Holiday—Unequalled Fishing Along a Stretch of Seventy Miles of Lovely Lakes.

The following article is taken from The Manufacturer, a Philadelphia business publication, and describes the impressions of one of the "Captains of Industry" of that city on making his first visit to the Kawartha Lakes. His unstinted admiration will no doubt be the means of arousing the enthusiasm of others, and we may look forward to the coming of a regiment of Philadelphians next season. The letter, which is headed "Better Take a Rest," reads as follows;

The life of the average manufacturer is an exacting one. In season and out, his nose is at the grindstone, and the grinding goes ahead pretty steadily. If there is any individual who deserves a regular vacation, it is he, and if there is any one to whom a vacation would be more beneficial, he remains to be found. The fact is that there is something particularly strenuous in manufacturing activity which should be relieved by frequent periods of rest. The manager of the whole concern and his assistants need intervals of inactivity just as much as the great engines and dynamos which furnish the physical power to their works. Brain power may be easily exhausted, and it is just as necessary that it be kept to a full head as it is that steam shall not be lacking in the boilers.

Now of all ways of spending a vacation, there is one that meets every necessity of recuperation beyond any other. One may sing the praises of golf, and extract a certain amount of pleasure and a moderate amount of exercise by driving or attempting to drive the elusive sphere over an 18-hole link; others may sigh for the delight of the rolling ocean, viewed from the vantage of a six-by nine bedroom, and others blessed with the necessary condition of solvency to provide for contingent expenses, consequent upon the injured feelings of more or less injured pedestrians, may tour about the country in lightning motor cars, but for pure enjoyment and the greatest amount of health-giving ozone, he who hies himself to the woods and waters with a nine-ounce rod and a quadruple action reel, containing 50 yards of well-woven silk, need ask no odds of any others, nor envy any in his choice of vacation methods.

But there is fishing and fishing. Like hunting, fishing is possible everywhere. It is the catch which is the question, and that is where he who having found teeming waters unselfishly imparts the information to his fellow Waltonians as a benefactor indeed. To those to whom the rustle of the green wood and the whirl of the reel is music to the ear, the recital of one experience may be pleasant and profitable.

There lies in Middle Canada, about 80 miles north of Toronto, bordering upon the primeval woods, a chain of lakes called "Kawartha," less known than they deserve to be, and are certain to be because of their piscatorial wealth and surpassing beauty sought by thousands. Here is the home of fish worthy the name. The swift, leaping, weighty and cunning maskinonge, and the real black bass type, which attaining portly dimensions and a weight of five pounds, makes a mockery of anything less than a line of 17 pounds breaking strain. In each of the five lakes, which constitute the 70 miles of water way, the game fish makes his home, and in each one he is awaiting the angler in sufficient numbers to make satisfactory catches certain no matter what the wind or weather may be. Both the fish and the catching are of the highest order; made none the less agreeable by the entire absence of mosquitoes, gnats and other disagreeable forms of insect life.

To be sure, it is only for a week or so, immediately after the season opens in June, that the wily bass will consent to be decoyed by an artificial fly; at all other times the real thing is food, and preferably a good-sized minnow must be offered him. Once hooked, however, there is as pretty a fight awaiting you as one could well wish, and the sportsman will not consider it a detracting circumstances to know that only such light tackle is used that the fish, with exceeding cunning, secure their freedom almost as often as they are caught. It is queer, too, that this great natural fish preserve is not better known to the fishermen who gladly seek the more distant waters of Northern Maine, for accessibility is one of its strongest points. Scarcely any other waters so prolific in sport-giving can be reached in such comfort.

By means of the beautifully appointed Lehigh Valley trains leaving the Reading Terminal in Philadelphia at 8.45 p.m., one makes connection with the Grand Trunk Railway at Suspension Bridge, and with an all too fleeting glimpse of Niagara, from the world famous bridge, erected by Grand Trunk enterprise, in a couple of hours is in Toronto, whence after a short wait, an interesting two hours' journey over the same road, lands him in Lindsay, a quaint town in the Province of Ontario, and the southernmost portion of the Kawartha Lakes; here the admirably clean and commodious steamer of the Trent Valley Navigation Company which control navigation on the Kawartha Lakes is taken, and in a short time any one of the fishing villages on the lakes from Buckhorn Falls on the east to Bobcaygeon, the central point, or Coboconk, the most northern point, may be reached, so that in less than a full day's ride from Philadelphia, one can begin a clean and hospitable inn, with plenty of time remaining to engage his guide and make his preparations for beginning early next morning a campaign, every minute of which will be filled with the delight known only to the true fisherman.

Try it yourself for a couple of weeks, and see if it is not so.

If the Philadelphia tourist had gone further east and sampled the delights and fishing of Stony Lake his enthusiasm would have threatened to burst the boiler of enthusiastic praise.

The average rate on the dollar for all purposes is something less than 1 cent, a pretty good showing for the economy practiced by our township legislators during the present year. On motion of Mr. Condon and Mr. Allen the sum of $7 was appropriated towards making a waterplace for the use of the public on line of road between concessions 4 and 5, in front of lot 6, on condition that persons residing in the vicinity contribute the balance, if any, necessary to complete said watering place. On motion the council adjourned to the 17th day of November next, to meet at ten o'clock a.m.

TORONTO'S GRAND NEW HOTEL

The King Edward Nearly Finished—Active Work on Toronto's new Palace Hotel—A Magnificent Structure—Fittings Alone to Cost $250,000.

To the promoters who feared for a time that the work on the new King Edward Hotel would not be completed as expeditiously as the originators of the Toronto Hotel Company expected at the outset, it is now an assured fact that the construction upon the vast work will be carried through without a hitch, to completion.

The threatened cessation of work was due to the fact that the capital of the original company had become exhausted, and that in order to complete the hotel a large additional sum was necessary. When it was believed by some that the operations might come to a standstill, Mr. Geo. Gooderham came forward with the necessary capital and made it possible for what will be in many ways a great public benefit, to be an assured fact. The building fund is $1,502,000.

The King Edward Hotel Company, the incorporation of which was announced a few days ago, will be capitalized at $500,000, which will be scribed and paid in by Mr. Gooderham. This company will finish, furnish and operate the hotel, and operate the hotel, and some idea of the magnitude of the undertaking may be gained from the fact that the amount necessary for the furnishings alone will exceed a quarter of a million dollars.

PREPARED FOR A SIEGE.

Mine Operators Build Barracks for Guards.

Winter Clothing Ordered—The Output now Reported 18,500 Tons per day—Vicious Intimidation—Coal Supply Twenty Million Tons Short.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 6.—That the operators expect the strike to drag on for many weary weeks is evident by the order issued to-day by the Philadelphia & Reading Company for the building of substantial barracks at its collieries and the furnishing of winter clothing, together with heavy boots and gloves, to each of the men employed as guards. This places the company in the position of believing that the strike will not be settled when the cold comes and that the guards will be needed during the winter.

It was learned to-day that a force of men estimated at 175 is at work in the St. Nicholas colliery of the company, and that they have been there for a week, the company making successful efforts to keep the fact unknown. Guards patrol the mine at a distance of three hundred yards from the workings, and no one is allowed to pass the line, so that it is difficult to see what is going on behind the stockade. For several days the strikers have been aware that forty to fifty cars of anthracite coal were shipped each night, and it is now learned that this comes from the St. Nicholas.

According to Thomas P. Fowler, President of the Ontario & Western Railway Company, it will be two years and a half before all the demands for coal can be satisfied, so great is the shortage caused by the strike. In the annual report of his road, dated August 12, Mr. Fowler made the statement that up to that time the shortage for all companies was 13,500,000 tons, and it was predicted that if the strike continued to the middle of August the deficiency in supply would reach 20,000,000 tons.

STOCK MARKETS.

Shaping Towards Further Concentration.

New York, Sept. 6.—It looks now as if the Pennsylvania Road has become the possessor of a majority of the Reading stock. If it has, after a possible further set back in the price of the shares of that coaler, it will do to purchase and hold the common stock for par. It would definitely settle for all time the coal situation and hasten the enhancement in values of all coal properties. The coal combine is to-day practically a unit in its management and operation and the consumption of coal is bound to increase with gigantic strides in this country while sources of supplies are the only existing mines. Undoubtedly the Morgan and Vanderbilt interests are associated with him. With their vast systems working in unison, the division and distribution of coal will be carried on amicably and to the common benefit of all. Things continue to shape towards further concentration in the handling of the railway business of the country. It means better earnings and lower expenses, consequently higher prices. Atch. will also drift into the possession of some other lines or be so closely affiliated with them that it will amount to the same thing. The same condition of affairs is coming about in the Souther States. It is also ceaselessly working to the same ends in the great south-west where Gould forces are dominant. The Gould systems will get through to the Atlantic seaboard and there will be business enough for all. The new Gould line, whether it be some existent lines bought up or an absolutely new built line, will have sufficient business supplied it by the Gould system to maintain it splendidly. Time will probably witness the Wabash company as the medium by which it will be accomplished and the securities of that property will then be selling away above what they are at present. It is more than probable that this country will never see again the prices formerly ruling for railway stocks. They will steadily increase in values.

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER
IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 35, Concession 2, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., at Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 100 acres choice land, 50 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beach, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold as 1,600 cords hardwood and 2,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would sell readily for more than $10,000, and total expense would not exceed $6,000. A man with teams and two or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Wise men will see us quickly about this. Ploughing possession at once.

BRAINS BEATEN OUT

A Striking Italian Miner Shot and then Clubbed and Stoned

HIS COMPANION MAY ALSO DIE

They Were Mistaken by Striking Miners' Pickets For Armed Non-Union Men Going to Work and Were Promptly Attacked—Friends of the Victims Promise That They Will Avenge Them.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 9. — Two Italian striking miners named Frank Portay and Sistino Vancostello left their homes in Swoyersville, near here, yesterday morning to go on a hunting trip. As they approached the Harry E. colliery they were held up by the pickets, who mistook them for armed non-union men going to work. The pickets at once attacked the Italians. Vancostello was shot in the leg and his brains beaten out with stones and clubs. His companion, Portay was knocked down, his gun taken from him, and he was so severely beaten that his life is despaired of. The friends of the dead Italians have sworn vengeance and threaten to kill the men who committed the assault.

Troops Held in Readiness.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 9.—Capt. Shermerhorn, of the second city troop and Colonels Clement of the 12th and Hoffman of the 8th regiments, were ordered last night to hold their commands in readiness to move at a moment's notice. MISSING MAN LOCATED.

W. H. Bradford Thought He Had a Mission to Preach the Gospel.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—William H. Bradford, the young man who disappeared from his home at 320 East Gerrard street, Toronto, on Aug. 22, was found here yesterday afternoon, and will be sent home to-day in charge of a friend, named Stewart, who arrived from Toronto last night. Bradford was walking towards the lake about 5 o'clock, when he was met and recognized by Chief Creen, who had received a circular from Inspector Gregory of Toronto giving a description of the missing man. Bradford readily admitted his identity, and declared that he had left Toronto to preach the gospel. The young man is a nephew of E. P. Roden of the City Engineer's Department, Toronto.

DANCE TO KEEP ALIVE.

Peasants of Spain Stung by Tarantulas—A Strange Remedy.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—The territory of Osuna, Andalusia, was invaded by the deadly tarantula spider, millions of which crawl in the fields, while tens of thousands have invaded villages and houses. To cure the afflicted people an army of guitar players and other musicians was prescribed, for music invites dancing—the only way to cure bites. To throw off the poison the persons stung must work themselves into a perpetual sweat, and no better or other cure has ever been effected. While all Osuna is dancing, the military performs the necessary harvesting work.

Traced to Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Another abduction case was reported to the police yesterday, when Mrs. Zolda Rosenberg came to Toronto from Montreal and caused the arrest of Harmon Davidson, a Roumanian. The girls in the case is a daughter of Mrs. Rosenberg and a cousin of the prisoner. Davidson is said to have a wife and two children living in Roumania. The girl was handed over to the custody of her mother. Mrs. Rosenberg says her daughter is but 15 years of age, but Davidson declares she is nearly 20. The prisoner is 28 years of age.

"OMINOUS POSSIBILITIES."

London, Sept. 9.—Intense interest has been evoked here by the sinking of the revolutionary gunboat Crete-A-Peirrot at Gonaives, Hayti, by the German cruiser Panther, and the morning papers devote lengthy editorial articles to the incident. A majority of the papers agree that there is no likelihood of serious developments from the occurrence, but they expatiate upon the ominous possibilities which the affair has evoked.

EARTHQUAKE IN BENGAL.

Terrible Convulsions of Nature Are Prophesied For That Country.

London, Sept. 9.—A despatch to a news agency from Calcutta, says that an earth shock has been felt throughout the Province of Assam, and the Chittagong division of Bengal. The inhabitants were panic stricken. Terrible convulsions of nature are prophesied.

Beaten and Robbed in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—John Hagan, who says he belongs to Carleton, N. Y., is in the General Hospital suffering from a wound in his right eye, which has affected the pupil, and several bruises on his body. Hagan, who is a middle-aged man, was taken to the hospital shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday. He claims to have been robbed of a sum of money and several articles of value. How he came by the injuries he does not know. He says he reached the city from Rochester, and with a friend went for a car ride. He remembers going into a saloon, but what followed he does not know. When he came to his senses he found he had been robbed and beaten. A policeman directed him to a doctor, who sent him to the hospital.

Premier Seddon's Farewell.

London, Sept. 9.—The Prime Minister of New Zealand, Mr. Seddon, delivered a characteristic farewell address at Plymouth yesterday upon his departure for home. Mr. Seddon declared that he believed the people were prepared to go further than were their representatives in the recent colonial conference or the Imperial officials. He advocated a national council for colonial affairs, and advised Colonial Secretary Chamberlain that the leaders of the opposition were visiting all of the colonies. Mr. Seddon said the cheering of the Boer generals was not consistent with British dignity, and that it would not commend itself to the colonies.

Coming to Canada.

London, Sept. 9.—Theatrical circles were much surprised yesterday when it was learned that the European magicians, Le Ray, Talmo and Basco, who were one of the features of the theatrical entertainment given here a short time ago in honor of the Shah of Persia by His Majesty King Edward had accepted a Canadian engagement, as their services are much in demand in continental capitals.

"Grand Seigneur of London."

London, Sept. 9.—By the death of Mr. Panmure Gordon, the Stock Exchange has lost a most interesting personality. He was a great purveyor of successful tips to Mayfair—tips which circulated like magic. He was a great figure on the Stock Exchange. He lived both his business and social life at top pressure. His ideals varied over a wide range. His lordly style of life gained for him among his numerous friends in financial circles the sobriquet of "Grand Seigneur of the City."

Negro's Horrid Crime.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 9.—Thomas Burke is dead at his home here, with his head almost completely severed from his body, while his wife is in a dangerous condition from either knife or razor wounds, inflicted by Matthew Alexander, a colored man, who had been employed about the house for the past five years.

Mrs. White and her son, Jackson, left here Saturday evening in a sailboat for the lighthouse, and, it is supposed, a squall capsized their boat.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hon. Mr. Barton, premier of Australia, refers to the change which cable news undergoes by filtering through the American Press Association. The Examiner thinks with the Kingston Whig, that Canada's press is pretty nearly strong enough and rich enough to maintain a cable service of its own.

Several women have been reported as having climbed Mount Sir Donald in the Canadian Rockies. Yet these same ladies would have "that tired feeling" if they had to climb a platform and hang out a washing on a clothes line reel. There's a great difference between doing something useful and something to be talked about.

It is not so much what one makes as what one saves, that counts. The wages of British workmen are proverbially lower than on this continent. But the steady British workman has a habit of thrift that is better than lavish waste of wages, and living up to the last cent. The workmen of Great Britain have laid by £339,897,703, or more than sixteen hundred million dollars, in different forms of saving—Post Office and other savings banks.

It is interesting to hear that Mr. J. P. Morgan has an interest either through control, through membership on their boards, through financing them, or by reason of acting as their fiscal agents, in companies capitalized as follows: Ships, $170,000,000; railroads, $3,088,500; industrials, $2,022,250,000; banks, $187,000,000; miscellaneous, $980,750,000; total, $6,448,500,000. Yet this plutocrat will die, and at the judgment seat he will not be able to claim that he has made the world better by his living it it, or establish as good a claim to divine clemency as millions of poor men who have lived lives of simple usefulness and never owned as many mills as Morgan has millions of money.

Germany is only injuring itself by excluding Canadian wheat from its harbours. They are missing a chance to grow great on the finest wheat in the world, and Canada does not suffer anything to speak of. There is a market in Great Britain for over three times the wheat Canada can produce for years to come. Germany's little specimen of spleen may be some satisfaction to her and it doesn't injure Canada. Her petty little action reminds one of the stalwart Cornishman who, when he was reproached for allowing his rather undersized wife to thrash him, said, "It pleases she, and it don't hurt Oi."

OBJECTIONS TO UNIONISM ANSWERED.

Ottawa Journal; Another accusation is that unionists boycott non-unionists—that the unionist is ready to prevent the non-unionist from earning a livelihood. The accusation is often just. The law society of Ontario will not allow anyone to practice law in this province who has not joined the union. Neither will the medical society. Neither will the dental society. The civil engineers' union is seeking legislation to prevent any one practising engineering or surveying unless he joins the union. The labour unions have not succeeded yet in getting laws passed to prevent non-unionists working in the province, but when strong enough they often endeavour to attain the same purpose by their own action. The excuse in all cases, whether by professional or labour unions, is that the public ought to be protected against inferior service—that the man who is properly trained and governed as a doctor, or a lawyer, or mechanic, under regulations laid down by the expert members of the profession or trade, will give better service to the public and be altogether a more desirable unit of the community. This solicitude for the public does crop up in all bodies of men who see an advantage to their own pockets in it. Perhaps there is something valuable in the idea. At all events, it is not confined to the labour unions; in other words let us not suppose that something peculiarly scandalous in union ideas of the working classes is responsible for this readiness to starve out anyone who won't ally himself with some of the rest of us in a way that we think desirable.

WHO ARE THE OWNERS?

(Bobcaygeon Independent.)

Coal is very dear. It is nearly double the price at which it was selling two years ago. The rise in price is caused by its scarcity. There is almost a coal famine, as a result of the strike of the coal miners. The miners want higher wages, and the coal owners refused to give higher wages. The miners then struck, and no coal is produced. The miners are out of work and people of the entire continent are put to great inconvenience, expense, loss, and discomfort. Such being the case, the first question to ask is—"to whom does the coal belong?" To whom did the Creator give the coal? Did the Creator give the coal to all his creatures—to all the human race, — or did he give it to a few specially favoured individuals for them to enjoy, and for them to sell at a big profit to those who need to use it? There can be but one truthful answer to that question;—The Creator gave coal to all his creatures, not to a few favoured individuals. Such being the case the coal owners should be vigorously ejected from the coal mines and coal should be claimed as common property of the people, and mines sold in the interest of the people's welfare. It may be some little time before that idea is adopted and what are we to do in the meantime? Peat. What about Peat? There's lots of peat. Peat is plentiful all over Ontario, and when prepared fully answers the purpose of coal. Our esteemed subscriber Mrs. Jones, of North Harvey, within half a mile of her residence owns what they call a "beaver meadow" and that meadow contains decomposing vegetable matter to the depth of 17 feet. Dig out the swampy vegetable muck, dry it, and press it, and you have an excellent substitute for coal. That is peat, and peat is nature's remedy for the felonuous appropriation of our coal mines by groups of usurers, capitalists, and legalised robbers. The position is serious. Coal eleven dollars a ton. Something must be done. Let us do something.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST WATER ROUTE.

It is predicted by the Engineering and Mining Jornal that the traffic of the "Soo" canals to and from Lake Superior during the present season will reach 35,000,000 tons. So far, the traffic has passed all previous records and there are prospects of continued activity at high pressure to the end of the season. Up to the end of July, the total eastbound freight recorded in the canals was 13,886,984 tons, as compared with 9,350,923 tons last year. The comparison may be slightly misleading, owing to the late opening of navigation last year, but during the same period in 1900 the total was 10,069,802 tons. The westbound freight for the same part of the present season was 2,681,915 tons as compared with 2,197,269 tons for the corresponding period last year, and 2,705,444 tons up to the same date in 1900.

The total freight both ways up to the end of June last was 15,568,899 tons, an increase of 48.5 per cent. over the record of last year, and 29.6 per cent. as compared with the corresponding period in 1900. In the classified freight record the most significant increase is in iron ore, the total for the period covered by the reports during the present season being 11,594,239 tons, as compared with 7,685,808 tons last year. Comparing the same periods, the record of coal, hard and soft, increased from 1,914,794 to 2,302,646 tons. The record of the present season shows that 11,029 vessels have passed through the locks. It is difficult to appreciate the part played by the great lakes in affording transportation routes to and from the heart of of the continent.—Globe.

Tails Cut Off Cattle.

London, Sept. 9.—A campaign of midnight outrages is reported to have commenced in the Boyle district. The tails have been cut off a number of cattle on the Dromard Farm on the borders of South Leitrim, and other borders of South Leitrim. A yacht the property of Mr. Costello, J. P., a local landlord, has been found gutted on the shores of Lough Garn.

STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

Murderous Attack on Night-Watchman Renshaw in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—"My wife wanted money; he must have it; I heard you had it; I am sorry for what I have done." This was the explanation offered by John Joseph Scott, 28 years of age, to the police for the murderous assault he committed on John Renshaw, watchman for the Imperial Varnish and Color Co., Limited, Morse street, late last night. Scott is now under arrest at the Wilton avenue station on charges of wounding and attempting to rob, and will not be tried until the results of Renshaw's injuries are known.

Scott has been employed at the Varnish Works as a laborer for the past few months and was well acquainted with Renshaw. About 11.30 last night Scott walked into the works, and while Renshaw was in a stooping position, Scott picked up a heavy monkey wrench and hit the watchman over the head four times. Renshaw was stunned by the blows, but recovered sufficiently in a few minutes to engage in a fight for his life with his would-be murderer. The watchman is a powerful man, and dragged him out of the premises and across the street to the home of John Boles, at 17 Morse street. Boles took charge of Scott, while Renshaw hurried back to the works and telephoned for the police. Then he had his wound dressed.

A Familiar Name

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

Anglicans Will Retain Name.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Yesterday in the Lower House of the General Synod, a most interesting discussion took place on a motion of Chancellor Worrell, that the name of the Church of England in Canada should be altered to one of a national character. Judge McDonald strongly opposed the resolution, which was defeated by two votes.

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 25, Concession 2, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., at Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 100 acres choice land, 50 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beach, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold as 1,000 cords hardwood and 2,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would sell readily for more than $10,000, and total expense would not exceed $6,000. A man with teams and two or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Wise men will see us quickly about this. Ploughing possession at once.

"FORCE" FOOD CO.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen,—I took home a package of "FORCE" yesterday and the children were anxious to try it for supper. We found it suited our palates and our little two-year-old girl cried for the second dish. The first thing this morning on reaching the breakfast table, she, in her baby English, made us understand that she wanted "FORCE" for her breakfast. We are all in love with it, but I am fearful you have got me into a "peck of trouble," as the children want "FORCE" for dinner and supper as well as breakfast.

Yours very truly, —— ——

ESSEX COUNTY TOBACCO.

The Combine Inquiry Opened at Windsor on Monday.

Windsor, Sept. 9.—The inquiry into the tobacco trade of Canada, which is being conducted by Hon. D. B. McTavish as a royal commissioner, was begun in this city yesterday afternoon. Only three witnesses were produced yesterday by Mr. Oscar C. Fleming, who is acting as counsel for the Ontario manufacturers. They were Mr. W. Johnson of Leamington, Mr. D. Wigle of Gosfield and Mr. F. Conver of Kingsville. The examination of witnesses was then taken up. There was a noticeable absence of any attempts yesterday to introduce the question of the alleged combine. The testimony related principally to the condition of the tobacco industry in Essex County to-day, with comparisons, as far as could be made, with previous years.

CHANCE FOR THE CITY.

St. Thomas Trolleys Tied Up For Want of Funds.

St. Thomas, Sept. 8.—The city street railway system was tied up yesterday, not a car being run. The cause of the tie-up is lack of electric power. Manager Yiu of the Gas and Electric Light Company refusing to further continue to supply power until the amount due the company by the Street Railway Company is paid.

It is understood that the position of the Street Railway Company is that there is no funds and they can not pay, and the probabilities are, indeed, it might be said for a certainty, that the road will fall into the hands of the city.

DO NOT TRIFLE WITH THEM?

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Sick and nervous headaches are amongst the worst ills of life. The man or woman who is subject to headache at irregular intervals, goes through life bearing a load of misery and wretchedness that is terrible to think of.

Headaches as a rule, result from a disordered condition of the nervous system. Mental excitement, loss of sleep, bodily fatigue and disordered digestion are exciting causes. When the brain becomes tired and debilitated, the whole nervous system is weakened, and headaches result. If the liver is sluggish, the kidneys inactive and digestion deranged, headaches invariably follow. To cure and prevent headache, the nervous system must be strengthened and vitalized. The most persistent cases of headache, nervous feebleness and sleeplessness are permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound; it is the great reconstructant of the nervous system. Mrs. A. H. Watson, Creemore, Ont., writes as follows:

"For many years I was sorely troubled with violent headache, so that at times I was completely prostrated and unable to attend to household duties. I started to use Paine's Celery Compound, and experienced immediate relief; and since using it I have not had a recurrence of the trouble. I consider Paine's Celery Compound an invaluable remedy, and will always be pleased to say a word for it."

DEADLY GERMS.

Reported Discovery of the Microbe of Summer Complaints.

New York, Sept. 9.—The death of John D. Rockefeller's grandson "Jack," two years ago, has enabled two students, one at Johns Hopkins, and the other at the University of Pennsylvania Medical Schools, to discover what is believed to be the organism or germ of disease that carries off so many little ones every summer and which is commonly called "summer complaint," says a Baltimore special to The World.

When little Jack died, two years ago, Mr. Rockefeller is said to have offered a fund of $200,000 to be devoted to research. The outcome of this offer is the reported discovery of the fatal germ. In forty-two cases the organism found is nearly identified with that which produces dysentery in adults.

STEYN GROWING BETTER.

Fetes For Mr. Kruger Are Proposed For October Next.

London, Sept. 9.—The Villa Gene at Mentone, says the Paris correspondent of The Times, has been hired for Kruger from the middle of October. Festivities in his honor are proposed.

The Brussels correspondent of The Times says Steyn's health continues to improve. He can now move his hands and arms a little. Steyn will not go to Montreux for the present. The doctors agree that the air of Holland is equally favorable to his convalescence.

NEW TOURIST SCHEME.

One Ticket to Canada and Back to Cover All Expenses by Sea and Land.

London, Sept. 9.—Sir Alfred Jones, an ardent Imperialist, is working out the details of a scheme for circular tours at an inclusive price between Great Britain and Canada. His idea is that a passenger ought to be able to go to a tourist agency and pay for a ticket which would cover all expenses, including those by sea and land, both travelling and hotel. He has tried the scheme with the West Indias and the Canary Islands and travel to these places has been greatly stimulated.

HAD LITTLE FAITH.

How a Doubtful Man was Convinced and Restored.

A Story That Illustrates the Advantage of Reading and Being Guided by Newspaper Advertisements.

Lower Windsor, N B., September 7th. — Special. "I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

This is the declaration of Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, who for a long time was the victim of a very severe case of this painful disease.

Mr. Belyea reads the newspapers and after he had tried plasters and liniments and all kinds of external remedies as well as doctors' treatments, with no good results, he began reading the testimonials of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says—

"This remedy was so highly recommended for kidney trouble, that after reading some testimonials I concluded to try them for a short time, but I must admit that having tried so many things and failed to effect a cure, I had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else could or would help me.

"However, I did not use them long before I found out that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I used to have very bad spells, which of late years became so frequent and so severe that I was almost laid up.

I received more benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills than from any other medicine I have ever used and they certainly made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me so many years."

Mr. Belyea is not the first skeptical man that has been convinced by experience of the medicinal value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

4-DAYS' SHAM BATTLE

80,000 Troops Engaged in the German Manoeuvres.

BANQUET ON EVE OF THE BATTLE

Earl Roberts in Seat of Honor Beside the Empress Opposite the Kaiser—Some Idea of the Extent of the Military Display of Germany — The Emperor Will Lead the Cavalry.

Frankfort-on-Oder, Sept. 9.—Eighty thousand soldiers camped in the open air last night, and 12,000 more are quartered in farm houses. The troops were waiting for the four days' sham battle on an immense scale, that began at dawn to-day. Emperor William left Potsdam at 4 o'clock this morning, in order to be early on the field. A great blue and white pavilion, fringed with gold hangings, has been pitched on the southern shore of the Weissensee and here Emperor William will bivouac Wednesday night. He will lead the cavalry down into action on Thursday. There was some slight skirmishing by the cavalry yesterday. The roads about here are in wretched condition, having been cut up by the recent rains.

Banqueted 110 Notable Guests.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—Emperor William entertained 110 guests at dinner last night in the new palace at Potsdam. His Majesty's guests were nearly all visitors who have come to attend the manoeuvres, and they included Earl Roberts, chief of the forces of Great Britain, Mr. Brodrick, British Secretary of War, and the British generals who are here for the manoeuvres, the visiting German Princes and the commanding generals in charge of the manoeuvres. The Empress of Germany was present, sitting opposite the Emperor, with Earl Roberts at her right.

CUT BOTH NIGHT AND DAY.

Hired Men With Lanterns Showed the Binders the Way.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—The weather yesterday was clear and warm, and by last night 85 per cent. of the crop in Manitoba and 70 per cent. in the Territories was cut. Threshing is in progress all over, and would be more general if hands could be secured for the machines.

Wheat is turning out 20 to 35 bushels to the acre, and prices quoted are 58c. to 57c. On Mennonite Reserve it ranges from 20 to 23; around Roland and Emerson, 30 to 35; around Melita, 25 to 30; Portage Plains, 25 to 30; Brandon, 30 to 35. On Saturday 25,000 bushels were marketed.

A peculiar feature this year was that many farmers cut night and day, men running ahead of binders with lanterns.

For the Territories the best of good reports are received. The yield is high, and 70 per cent. of the harvest is over.

Various Improvements to the St. Lawrence Route Suggested.

London, Sept. 9.—A letter has been forwarded to Hon. James Sutherland, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, by the Elder-Dempster Steamship Company, suggesting various improvements to the St. Lawrence route. The chart of Belle Isle Straits should take in 60 miles round Belle Isle. The company offers the services of two of its most experienced captains to confer with Hon. James Sutherland in regard to improvements to St. Lawrence navigation.

Was Lighted.

The buildings of the Canadian Cereal Company, Peterborough's new manufacturing concern, were all illuminated for a short while last night and presented a very striking appearance. The many windows in the huge eight storey brick structure sent forth bright rays of electric light that gave one some idea of the magnitude of the immense concern when it gets in full running order.

Doing Well.

Mr. William Albert Anthony who yesterday while attempting to board the noon G. T. THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The First Day a Wet Blanket Discourager.

The elements are against the Central Exhibition again this year. At any rate Japiter Pluvius in great shape was an uninvited and unwelcome guest the first day. Still the downpour of rain this morning did not entirely discourage exhibitors, no matter how it dampened the spirits of the directors. A fairly creditable display of exhibits was placed in the main building, and the exhibits here will be well up to the standard of last year. The number of entries made to date is slightly in excess of those of last year, and if the weather turns our favourably there should be a large attendance on to-morrow, the opening day, when the exhibition will be formally opened at 1.30 o'clock.

The great attraction, the Kilties' Band, will also be present with their splendid music and programme of special national dances. The band will arrive in town to-morrow morning in full force.

The other events of the day will be the

Pony Competition. — Pony under 13 hands, harnessed to vehicle, driven by boy or girl under 15. First, $3; second, $2.

Farmers' trot or pace. — For single horses which have never won public money in a race; owned and driven by farmers or farmers' sons, engaged exclusively in farming not less than 50 acres, the horse to be owned by exhibitor. First, $5; second, $3; third, $2. Entrance fee, $1.

Road drivers' parade — Trot or pace. Single roadster outfit. Speed and outfit to be considered. First, $5; second, $3; third, $2. Entrance fee, $1.

At night, the 48th Highlanders' band will give a grand concert in the Market Hall, with moving pictures of the King's Coronation. Admission only 25 cents to all parts of the hall.

GOT THREE YEARS.

David Hogan Stole Money From a Peterborough Barrister.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Toronto, September 9. — David Hogan, who a few days ago stole $38 from a Peterborough barrister, was to-day in the police court sentenced to three years in the Kingston penitentiary. Hogan met the man in a saloon, and seeing him pull out a bandfull of bills out of his pocket, seized them and ran.

Query—Was the "Peterborough barrister" a real entity, or only a figment of the press agent's imagination?

WAS RUN OVER

By a Bicyclist Last Evening on George Street.

Carl, the four-year-old son of Mr. Albert Talbot, had a narrow escape, last evening, from being seriously hurt, being run over by a bicyclist while playing on the street in front of his father's house. The little fellow was badly shaken up, and his head cut to a considerable extent. The wheelman did not even wait to make enquiries as to the nature of the injuries.

OBITUARY.

Death of Miss Hazel Hendren in Lakefield—Funeral To-morrow.

The death took place last evening of Miss Hazel Hendren, youngest daughter of Mr. Abraham Hendren, of Lakefield, and sister of the late Miss Myrtle Hendren. Lung trouble was the cause of death, the deceased having taken ill at about the same time as her sister, whose demise was recently recorded. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

AN OUTING.

The Members of the T. V. C. Staff at Stony Lake.

The members of the Trent Valley Canal and the employees of the staff are having an outing to Stony Lake to-day. The affair is being largely attended by members of the staff, from the Chief Engineer down to the junior workman on the Government dredge. The party left here on the regular morning train for Lakefield, where the Government tug, Empire, will convey the party to the head of Stony Lake. It is unfortunate that the weather is so unfavourable for their outing.

OFF TO CAMP.

The 14th Midland Field Battery go Under Canvas To-day.

The two local sections of the 14th Midland Field Battery, Canadian Artillery, left this morning for Cobourg, where they will go under canvas for the next twelve days. The two local sections left Peterborough commanded by Lieut. W. C. Ackerman. Lieut. E. O. Bradburn finds it impossible to get to camp with his corps this year.

The 14th is now in excellent condition, and is under the command of Major E. A. MacNoughton, of Cobourg. This is the only field battery in the Canadian service to be supplied with the latest quick firing machine guns.

The Salvation Army Band will give a concert in their hall, Simcoe street, on Tuesday, September 16th. Particulars later.

THE CORONATION OF THE KING.

At the "Kilties" band concert on Wednesday evening, in addition to the programme will be presented the moving pictures, taken in Westminster Abbey of the Coronation of King Edward. These are the originals and for the first time shown in Canada. Come and see this unique representation of this historic event. No extra charge. Market Hall. Admission 25 cents.

The change of seasons affects pianos as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with twenty-eight years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

INTERMENT TO-MORROW

Of the Late James M. R. Roberts and His Two Sons.

The funeral of the late James M. R. Roberts, and his two sons, who lost their lives in Chemong Lake on Sunday night, while crossing the lake from attending service at the Indian Village will take place at 1.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the family residence on the 12th line of Smith. Service will be conducted at the house by Rev. R. A. Gunton, of the Memorial Church, and interment will take place at the Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough.

Pianos Skilfully Polished.

Your piano looks as though it had been working over-time. Why not have "Joe" Halpany repolish it? The cost will be a mere trifle, and the instrument, after "Joe" gets through with it, will present as good an appearance as the day it left the factory. Orders left at Ormond and Walsh's drug store promptly attended to.

Don't fail to hear the famous "Kilties" band at the concert Wednesday evening, Sept. 10th, Market Hall.—25 cents.

WERE NOT IMPOSTORS.

Several Salvation Army Men Became Excited This Morning

Police Constable Stewart had a little walk to-day for nothing. It appears that the local Salvation Army is putting on a Harvest Festival, and the members of the local corps are engaged in canvassing the town for donations towards the affair. One of the local officers hustled into the police station this morning and informed the Chief that an imposter was at work in the North end of the town; that two men, strangers at that, were engaged in soliciting donations on behalf of the Salvation Army, without the authority of the local Salvationists. When P. C. Stewart, accompanied by one of the Army officers, went north to arrest the alleged imposter, the Captain recognized the men as members of his flock, but being unacquainted with the town they had got out of their latitude in which they were supposed to work. It appears that the Captain was informed of the presence of the two men by one of the local Salvationists, who really did not know his two brothers, who were recruits.

"The Kilties," the famous band of the 48th Highlanders, will give a concert in the Market Hall Wednesday evening, September 10th. Be sure and hear them. The finest musical treat of the year. Only 25 cents. No seats reserved. Tickets for sale at the door.

WHEAT GROWING IN MANITOBA

Mr. E. J. Waller, grocer, Charlotte street, has written home stating that he had just finished harvesting the crops on his farm at Souris, Man. Six men and two binders cut 270 acres of wheat in nine days, which is at the rate of 15 acres per day for a binder and three men. This record is made possible by the fact that two or three shifts are worked. The binder never ceases during daylight; at certain hours the horses and drivers are changed, and, therefore, the work of cutting is practically continuous.

Mr. Waller writes that the yield per acre of wheat was greater than that of last year, when his wheat scored 37 bushels to the acre. Though the acreage was the same as last year, and indeed the same soil, the quantity of binder twine used was 100 pounds greater than last year. A yield like this will remind the older farmers of this province of the productiveness of their lands in the early days of the country.

KEEP THE STREETS CLEAN.

Something the City Fathers Should Look After.

The downpour of rain this morning, while it dampened the prospects of the Central Exhibition, served to show how filth and rubbish are allowed to be placed on the streets. The gutters on each side of George street were flowing with water, and with the water was carried down a disgusting quantity of paper, straw, and other rubbish, and of this what was not lodged in unsightly heaps alongside the curbs, was carried into the sewer gratings. A glance into one of these revealed bushels of paper scraps, straw, etc. This will tend to clog the sewer, and if an obstruction is formed the streets will have to be ripped up, and much expense incurred to make the sewer serviceable again.

Now, we don't want our streets to look like an untidy farm yard. The town fathers should either forbid the throwing of waste paper and rubbish on the streets, or employ someone to rake up the shop sweepings, and other litter, that are put upon the streets in such careless manner.

A GRAND ILLUMINATION.

"The Fierce White Light That Beats Upon" H. LeBrun & Co.

A good, square, honest business does not fear the light. The quality of the goods of H. LeBrun & Co., sign of the Golden Horse-Shoe, will bear the light. This is shown by the splendid arrangements of their new premises, corner George and Hunter streets, for not only admitting the light of day, but also for artificial illumination. On the opening night in the new premises, as well as on Saturday night, the display of light was gorgeous. In front, high over the George street entrance, blazed the Golden Horse-Shoe, a dazzling semi-circle of coloured incandescent lights. In the show windows were flaming lines of incandescent bulbs, and throughout the whole store incandescent lights radiated a brilliancy that rivalled the light of the sun. There were also several interior arc lights, and altogether from both the George street and Hunter street fronts floods of dazzling light poured out upon the streets, indicating to the world outside, far and near, the site of the splendid new home of H. eLBrun & Co. The display attracted great attention, and evoked much complimentary comment. Mr. LeBrun, in addition to viva voca admiration of his magnificent illumination, has received letters from points as far distant as Toronto complimenting him on his magnificent illumination, which was indeed a beacon light guiding those in need of first-class clothing to the splendid emporium of LeBrun & Co., corner of George and Hunter streets.

Each Thursday will be tea day at the Club house, and the members, both playing and associate, are asked to come out and bring their tea with them as they will be quite informal.

An invitation has been extended the Peterborough Club to attend the 2nd annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Club, held on the Toronto Club Links, Oct. 6th to 11th. A programme will be found at the Club house.

RUGBY.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Athletic Section of St. Peter's T.A.S. was held in the society rooms last evening for the purpose of considering the advisability of organizing a football club in connection with the society. There was a large attendance at the meeting and the enthusiasm displayed augurs well for the future of the new team. Mr. John O'Brien occupied the chair, and an informal discussion took place regarding the formation of a rugby team. The introduction of athletics duing the past season into the society proved a wonderful impetus to the cause of temperance, and enlisted the assistance and co-operation of the young men to a marked degree. Especially is this the case in regard to lacrosse, and the success achieved by the two teams during the season, encouraged the boys to go into football; and endeavoured to boom the game in town. The meeting was unanimous in its decision to introduce football into the T.A.S., as it was felt that the society had plenty of material for a first-class fifteen, a great many of the boys having played the game on different occasions. The organization of the club then followed, and the following gentlemen were elected to office:

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. O'Brien.
President—Mr. John O'Brien.
1st Vice-President—Mr. W. Kearney.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. J. Sharpe.
Secretary—Mr. T. J. Begley.
Treasurer—Mr. L. J. Picard.
Manager—Mr. Wm. Crowley.
Executive Committee—Messrs. W. Crowley, W. Meagher, L. J. Picard, F. McGrath, J. Angloscy, J. Dennard and the captain.

The captain of the team will be selected by the players later on.

The first practice of the team will be held on Saturday afternoon on the Murray street grounds, and a good turn-out is requested.

The boys are fortunate in having in their line-up several players who have figured on some of the best teams in Canada and the United States, and with the assistance of the old timers as well as several new men who intend coming to town to reside, ought certainly make things hum in the football line.

The club will meet again shortly to deal with other important matters in connection with the organization.

The present season will very likely see a great many new men on the field in Peterborough, a number of promising juniors having come up within the last few years, and should be able to fill the vacancies that have been created by the removal from town of such men as Revell, Scott, Bell, Smith, Hurtubise and others. Manager McPherson will very likely announce the names of a number of recruits at to-night's meeting of the club.

There has not been a great deal of street gossip so far as to the probable officers of the club for the present year. The office of president has had very capable men in the past, such as Mr. R. B. Rogers, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner and Mr. R. F. McWilliams. There will be a vacancy in the office of secretary-treasurer, and in fact a general shuffling up of the officers, might not be an unwise idea.

The local Rugbyists are again reminded of the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club, which which will take place in the Oriental Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

LACROSSE.

The Galt Reporter says: — "Sox" Clark is back from Toronto again, where he played all season with the Tecumsehs. Asked as to Brantford's chances, he said, "In my opinion Brantford has the best lacrosse team in Canada, not even excepting the Shamrocks. Brantford and the Irishmen, by the way, play identically the same game in system, though I believe that Brantford has the advantage in effect. What is more, if the Brantford bunch go after the Minto Cup, they'll get it."

HOCKEY.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:— Port Hope have already started talking hockey. They are building a new rink and securing "new men," both of which are badly needed there. It is said that Masterson and Roach, two fast men from the Point St. Charles, Montreal, Club, have located there. Peterborough is also undergoing the same experience, and have a new man named Robinson from the Niagara District Club, and Cavanah, an old point player of the Champion Colts of 1901, is to return. These two teams intend making it warm for one another. Cobourg may also have an intermediate team this year, and Oshawa has signified its intention of running a lacrosse ranch in hockey this winter. This district will have good hockey if all these clubs go into it.

SIR WM. MULOCK BACK

The Postmaster-General Talks of Colonial Conference.

LOOKS WELL AFTER HIS TRIP.

Growing Interest in Everything Canadian in Britain—Newspaper and Periodical Rates of Postage—The Metric System—Lloyd's to Send an Agent to Inspect the St. Lawrence Route.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—"One hundred miles out from New York; will reach home Sunday morning at 11.30 o'clock."

The receipt of this Marconi telegram by Lady Mulock on Friday evening last, heralded the arrival home of Sir William Mulock at the hour mentioned Sunday morning.

Sir William is looking well after his trip. He kept a copy of the Marconi message sent to his home from on board the Campania for the purpose of testing its accuracy, and he was pleased to have noted on comparing it with the message as received that there was not one single mistake.

Asked how he found the feeling in England towards Canada, Sir William remarked. "In all quarters you find a growing interest in everything Canadian. Canadian people, no matter what walk in life they may be in, are objects of the kindliest attention, and there is a strong disposition to patronize Canadian products and to assist the Canadian people in the development of their country."

Cheaper Postal Rates.

"What steps have been taken to secure a reduction in the newspaper and periodical rate between Great Britain and Canada?"

"In 1897, and subsequently, I applied to the English Postoffice Department to agree to a reduction, but they have always refused. At the recent conference I made a motion favoring such a reduction, but the Imperial Government was not at the time prepared to express an opinion on the proposition. However, it is to receive careful consideration, and I am hopeful that at least some progress in the desired direction will be made."

The Metric System.

"Is it intended that the different countries shall put into force at once, or as soon as convenient, the metric system of weights and measures, such as adopted at the recent conference?"

"We" no time could be suggested for the practical adoption of the system. As the people throughout the Empire will have to become acquainted with the system, the resolution will have the effect of directing attention to it, leading to its being taught in the schools. In this way the various countries will prepare themselves, and it will be for the parliaments of the different countries to adopt the necessary legislation whenever they think the people are ready for it."

Lloyds' and St. Lawrence Route.

As to the important question of the discrimination in insurance rates against the St. Lawrence route, Sir William said in answer to a question: "I took advantage of being called upon to speak at a Lloyds' banquet to point out the injury done to Canadian trade by reason of the high rate of insurance charged by Lloyds on Canadian shipping, and suggested that perhaps a conference might be the means of bringing about a more satisfactory state of affairs. Subsequently a committee of Lloyds', acting on the suggestion, arranged for a conference. Mr. Fielding and myself attended and discussed the subject, informing the committee that the Canadian Government was prepared to do everything reasonable in order to improve the navigation of Canadian waters and if possible for the satisfaction of Lloyds', and suggested that they should name some competent person, enjoying their confidence, to report what improvements be deemed necessary. They have not yet, so far as I have heard, made such an appointment, but I had an intimation before leaving London that they would likely appoint a sea captain who has had much experience on the St. Lawrence route. Their communication on this subject will be sent to Mr. Sutherland, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who has already given great attention to this subject and is endeavoring in all possible ways to make the St. Lawrence route a safe highway for our commerce."

TRADE WITH AFRICA.

Canadians Advised to Ship as Promptly as Possible.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—"If Canadians are true to themselves they must ship goods promptly and up to sample," are the words of Mr. Jardine, Canadian Trade Commissioner to South Africa, in writing to the Department of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Jardine states that Johannesburghers are taking great interest in the new Canada-to-the-Cape steamship service and will give it their hearty support, especially if the steamships call at Durban or Delagoa Bay, as well as at Cape Town. Three-fourths of the tonnage for Johannesburg goes via Natal or Lorenzo Marquez. The railway haul between Durban and Johannesburg is 500 miles shorter than by Cape Town. American and German steamers, Mr. Jardine states, call at both Cape Town and Durban ports and occasionally go up to Delagoa Bay as well.

Big Clerical Manifestation.

Paris, Sept. 9.—A despatch from Lesneven, Department of Finister, says that a religious festival which is being held at Folgoet is becoming an important clerical manifestation. Thirty thousand peasants from all parts of Brittany attended yesterday an open-air service. The Bishop of Quimper and 300 of the clergy, headed by a cross and banners, marched from the church to an altar erected on a plain, and decorated it with Breton and French flags.

Not Captain, But Sailing Master.

Tromsoe, Norway, Sept. 9.—The Maritime Court has found that Capt. Johansson's claim, that he was captain of the Baldwin-Ziegler Arctic steamer America, is untenable. He was only sailing master and subject to Evelyns B. Baldwin's orders, both on sea and land.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 9.—The receipts of the Exhibition here show a surplus of only $2,000, and the City Council will make an inquiry into the accounts of the Fair board.

The Way He Gloated.

Two buses were traveling down Regent street in close proximity when the conductor of the foremost one took off his badge and dangled it in the air, to the obvious annoyance of the rival driver.

"What did you do that for?" asked a passenger.

"Why," said the conductor, pointing a derisive thumb at the infuriated driver, "'is father was 'ung."—London Tit-Bits.

Origin of Spoons.

Two natural objects seem to have furnished the model for the spoon to primitive man—the river or sea shell and the leaf of plants. In southern China shell spoons are still used that are closely reproduced in the familiar porcelain spoon of that country, while metal spoons are found in India on which are reproduced even the veins of the leaves from which they were copied.

The Minister Disturbed.

Many times during a sermon the point is lost, drowned by a coughing congregation. The speaker should advise the use of Four T's, which cures a cough in two days. Get a 25 cent bottle to-day from Ormond & Walsh's drug store and avoid pneumonia.

Lengthening a Bee's Tongue.

Man is often blamed for driving to extinction many sorts of beautiful creatures, but the account is far more than balanced by the amount of good he has done for those animals which proved useful and could be tamed.

Take the case of the bee. The bee lives by its tongue, with which organ it is able to extract the honey from flowers. Now, a bee's tongue is naturally about a twenty-fifth of an inch long. Clever beekeepers, by keeping only those bees with naturally long tongues, have succeeded in lengthening the tongues of a number of bee colonies to the extent of another hundredth of an inch. It does not sound much, but it enables those insects to do a quarter as much work again in the same time.

Man has done more than this for bees. He has given them ready made homes, where they are safe from wasps and other enemies; frames for making their combs without using large quantities of wax for outside walls, and food during flowerless weather.

DISTRESSING ITCHING PILES

Dr. Chase's Ointment

If you go to a physician for a cure for piles he will probably tell you that a surgical operation is necessary, or else that there is no cure for piles. Physicians who are not prejudiced will recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment.

We believe that the best testimony to the powers of Dr. Chase's Ointment is that of cured ones and the newspapers of this country are filled with evidence such as the following;

Mr. Thos. H. Hewson, blacksmith, Orangeville, Ont., writes, "I find Dr. Chase's Ointment the best thing I ever used for itching piles, for whenever I have been troubled with this disagreeable and distressing ailment it has brought prompt relief and cure. It is also excellent as a treatment for burns and sores, such as a person receives in my trade. I can fully recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching piles and burns and sores."

NATURE'S BENEFICENCE.

The fellowship of nature is not denied to dwellers in the city, says The Toronto Globe. Though it may seem far away and lost in impossible distance, it is really crowding in on every hand. The animals may have long since departed, the wisest being first to go. The beaver leaves with the first indication of permanent human settlement, as a wise man who seeth the evil and fleeth. One by one his forest friends depart, as wisdom gives them understanding, until a few degenerates like the muskrat and the skunk fall into habits of domestication. Birds may avoid the city, with its fumes and exhalations, as a place unclean. Still the fellowship of nature is at our doors. In every neglected field, in every swampy indentation, under every clump of witch hazel or dogwood, among the seedling oaks, maples and elms, by every muddy stream not yet diverted to a culvert, and even along the open roadways, the varied colors and fantastic shapes of the wild flora show that nature's lamp still holds out to burn. It is not necessary to make a long pilgrimage to the primeval forest—any to envy those blessed with the privilege of a private audience with nature in her own home. Almost within the street car and pavement radius the whole growing year, from the first revival of spring life till the white coverlet is spread over the sleeping earth, may be enlivened by the beauty in which nature renews her youth. The flowers remain, and, while the boldest bedeck the fields and roadsides, the timid look eagerly for recognition from every nook and shady corner. They seem to find protection in the shadow of the city, for while the thrifty farmer prides himself on the devastation of every square foot of his broad acres, there is a respite in the shadow of the city, and nature is allowed to resume her activities.

A suburban ramble will always disclose in the margin of forest life that seems to have escaped between the builder on the one side and the farmer on the other, enticing little spots where the proximity of a great aggregation of struggling humanity can be forgotten, and a few hours of real life can be enjoyed in peace. In these places the wild flowers seem to call the stroller away from the cities and summer resorts. They have new attractions to present daily. The delicate blossoms of early spring, the hepaticas and dog-tooth violets, the squirrel corn, blood root, spring beauty, and that whole train of early debutantes have disappeared, but a more vigorous and more aggressively handsome company have taken their place. The downy convolvulus, with its great, delicate, white bell, and sturdily-leafed stalk, is now in flower. The yellow blossoms of the rock rose, the rich, blue lobes of the gentians, the blue stars of the chicory, the delicate pink flowers and pretty foliage of the dog-bane, the imposing hues of the wild orange lily, the tall, pink-purple spires of the great, willow herb, are now among the common offerings of suburban fields, and a score of more retiring flowers are waiting quietly in out-of-the-way nooks to greet their inquiring friends. The golden-rods are already showing their distinctive hue, and the loose strife, intricately handsome in foliage and flower, is marking the courses of the rush-choked streams. The dogwoods are shedding their white masses of diminutive flowers, and the yellow spangles are disappearing from the bush honeysuckles. The rewards of an hour in the suburbs are infinite, while the returns from the days striving in the city are uncertain. "Loaf and invite your soul," says the Poet of Democracy, and the real world has many blessings for the devotees who live the philosophy of this mandate.

The Case for Canada

Mr. Thomas Hodgins, the Master-in-Chancery, has an article in the Contemporary Review, which is a sharp answer to a long series of hostile American criticism on the Alaskan boundary question. It is almost needless to say that Mr. Hodgins' article bears the marks of extensive research, and the material he uses so authoritatively could only have been drawn from original sources. We venture to guess, says The Toronto Star, that the learned Master-in-Chancery put the British Museum library and the official correspondence between Washington and London under large contribution before he wrote this story. Nothing short of strict accuracy in facts and reasonableness in deduction would suit a precise mind like his. Mr. Hodgins' article on the Alaskan question is, of course, pro-Canadian, but it is quite as logical as it is zealous. He has based his line of argument on the official correspondence, and his law is entirely on American precedents, so that the American adversary is largely convicted out of his own mouth. Urging arbitration in the Alaskan boundary, he trips Uncle Sam up with the uncompromising utterances of President Cleveland, when he was demanding that Great Britain arbitrate the Venezuelan boundary.

Mr. Hodgins' argument not only flatters our patriotism, but satisfies our reason with its judicial perspicuity. He has condensed his plea most adroitly, and marshalled his facts strongly. It answers adequately articles from the American standpoint, which have appeared within the last three years in the Fortnightly, the Geographers' Magazine, and the Atlantic. Mr. Hodgins deals particularly with ex-Secretary Foster's and Dr. Mendenhall's arguments, which were perhaps the strongest presented for the American interpretation of the boundary treaty.

His Teacher Was Satisfied.

Papa—Is the teacher satisfied with you? Toby—Oh, quite. Papa—Did he tell you so? Toby—Yes; after a close examination he said to me the other day, "If all my scholars were like you, I should shut up my school this very day." That shows that I know enough.—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

NEWSPAPER MEN IN OFFICE.

There is a popular opinion that the civil service, either inside or out, is the ultimate home of the political newspaper men. To a certain extent this idea is founded on fact, for there are many men to-day filling political appointments in the outside service as a reward for having for many years been consistent supporters of the party to which they belonged, and who were either editors or owners of party papers.

In the inside service there are not so many, yet there are a goodly number of old newspaper men in the ranks of the service. Of these a large proportion have not passed the necessary qualifying examinations; a number having been appointed as possessors of university degrees, which are accepted, instead of the examination, and some for "special qualification." A newspaper man who has for some years followed his profession in the Capital, especially if he has been a member of the Press Gallery of the House of Commons for any length of time, possesses a very keen insight into the work of the departments, and as a rule could pass more than the qualifying examination without being plucked.

Amongst the private secretaries at the present time are a small band of newspaper men, and it would be impossible to find a better school for training private secretaries than an up-to-date newspaper office. The long habit of working at all hours, and as many hours at a stretch as the occasion demands, the being all things to all men that a newspaper man early acquires, the practice in mastering the contents of papers or the details of intricate questions are all of them attributes of the successful private secretary. The private secretaries at present in office are gathered from the four winds of heaven—from the north, south, east and west. One received his training in the United States newspaper school; another in Scotland, and still retains a delightful burr of the auld pronunciation in his speech. The others are mostly gathered from the Canadian provinces, where they graduated in politics before entering on the real school at Ottawa.

A gentleman who for many years sent out from Ottawa as much news daily as it falls to most men to gather in a week, may now be met with in every part of His Majesty's Dominion of Canada, by land and water, day and night, endeavoring to instil into the minds of erstwhile lawbreakers the old adage that "honesty is the best policy." After having spent many years in obtaining information surreptitiously, he is now devoting his energies to the putting down of the habit of obtaining liquor by any other modes than those recognized by the Customs and Revenue Acts of Parliament.

In a quiet, well arranged little room in one of the buildings there works one who for many years was the editor-in-chief of one of the largest political dailies in Canada, and who in his term as editor probably did more to elevate and enlighten the Ontario press than any other living man. Now he reigns as head over one of the most important branches of the service, and whilst serving his country still continues to serve his day and generation by periodical papers on books and other matters. His writings form no small part of the attractions of one of the weeklies and are looked for eagerly by many competent judges of things literary and journalistic.

In the next room, separated by a stone wall, and reached by another entrance, works an old laborer in the French-Canadian newspaper world, and who, from having been a writer of politics and a friend and confidant of the leaders of his party and nationality, now serves his countrymen by supervising their interests in the department committed to his charge. For many years one of the confidential councillors of one of Quebec's most gifted and ambitious sons, his memory holds a vast amount of unwritten details, which, if ever published, will throw vivid lights and well defined shades on many pages of the history of Quebec politics since Confederation.

Another old newspaper man who for many years occupied a confidential and prominent place in the political world, though never of it, occupies the position of head of a department from which information flows, and which annually issues a book without which no well-assorted library is complete. Retired from politics and the hurry and bustle of active life amongst men fighting for an existence, he, from his sheltered place of ease, sends forth many times a year articles which are read by many who never heard his name and who do not even know that he exists.

A quiet conversationally inclined gentleman, well up in years, presides over a branch of public work from which Canada has expected great things and from which she may get them in the fullness of time. Well read, and well stocked with anecdotes he years ago shone as a light in Ontario newspaperdom. Since then, he has been in the employ of more than one Government. Now he is struggling with unused surroundings to meet the demands of an eager public.

In every department the newspaper man is to be found, and in almost every case he is in a position of trust and is doing work that will tell in the course of years to come, though oftimes undervalued at the time of doing.—Yelme Dene, in Montreal Star.

The Vicious Latin Quarter.

"After two years of life in the Quartier Latin," says Charles Theodore Murray, "where I got my studies of French character for 'Mlle. Fouchette,' I may freely say that it is the worst place in the world to send a young man or woman if you entertain any hope of meeting him or her in heaven.

"I have had much experience in the role of journalist and have investigated the slums of London and Liverpool, know the 'Tenderloin' of New York and the 'attractions' at Berlin and Vienna, but for downright Satanic ingenuity of viciousness and gilt edged debauchery you must go to the Quartier Latin, for it is here that immorality is accepted as a virtue, and real virtue has no line of demarcation to distinguish it from immorality.

"No young man or young woman can survive such environment untarnished, and many are ruined for life. That which, like London slums, is repulsive is not dangerous. It is attractive vice, sugar coated immorality, which is dangerous, and that is what young men and women find in the Quartier Latin."

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

A Curious Custom.

In some parts of Brittany a curious marriage custom prevails. On certain fete days the marriageable girls appear in red petticoats, with white or yellow borders round them. The number of borders denote the portion the father is willing to give his daughter. Each white band denotes $20 per annum; each yellow band represents $200 a year.

VICTORIA CHEESE BOARD.

1762 Boxes Offered at Monday Morning's Sale.

(Lindsay Post.)

A meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board was held this morning at 10.20 o'clock in the Market Chamber. President Robertson, Treasurer Sandford, Secretary Shine and the salesmen for the different factories were present, also Buyers Flavelle and Fitzgerald.

Before business was taken up Mr. Flavelle referred to a statement made at the last meeting with reference to cheese bought at a certain price on the Peterborough Board having been refused. The report had evidently arisen through an error, as he had received the following letter from Mr. Wrighton, of the Board.

Peterborough, August 27, 1902.

Dear Flavelle, — I see by the report of your cheese board sale that you stated that you had heard there was a lot of Peterborough cheese at last sale refused by the buyers. You asked Mr. Fitzgerald if it was true, and he replied that it was.

If such was the case I think I would have heard of it. I have inspected mine and shipped to-day, and found the cheese fine. Mr. Rollins inspected his, and made no complaint—saw him last night. I have heard of no further inspection.

Buyer Fitzgerald added a few words of explanation, after which President Robertson expressed his satisfaction at the outcome of the affair. He had intended to refer to it if Mr. Flavelle omitted doing so.

It was decided that the factories pay one-half the Inspector's fees at next meeting, and that the Board fees be cancelled, there being a surplus of $42 in the treasury at present.

FACTORIES REPRESENTED.

Star	120
Cameron	122
Dunsford	141
Mariposa	118
Janetville	39
Omemee	158
Fenelon Falls	85
North Verulam	125
North Ops	87
Pine Grove	56
Roxboro	133
Robcaygeon	196
Maple Leaf	113
Palestine	75
Red Rock	179
Total	1,763

HOW THE BIDDING WENT.

Mr. Flavelle opened with an offer of 9 1-2c., and the salesmen smiled, having been prepared to hear 9c. as a starter. Mr. Fitzgerald responded by raising it a sixteenth, Mr. Flavalle came back with 9 5-8c., and Mr. Fitzgerald jumped to 9 3-4c.

Mr. Flavelle—"Our firm is paying 14c. for eggs and farmers are asking 15c.—that is more than anyone can afford to pay, and there's a limit to cheese also."

President Robertson—"Parties who are consigning their cheese this year are making more money than factories selling on the board—Cambray is $160 ahead on three shipments. I'm through with low prices."

Reports of recent sales at outside points were read, the quotations ranging from 9 1-2c. to 10c.

Mr. Flavelle—"Well, I'll make my offer 9 11-16c." This was not bettered, and he called Red Rock, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Cameron, Bobcaygeon, Palestine and Mariposa, all accepting. Total 870 boxes.

Mr. Fitzgerald then made the same offer for the remaining factories—Maple Leaf, Roxboro, Pine Grove, North Ops, Omemee, Dunsford, Star and Janetville, the latter being subject to Lindsay inspection. All accepted—total 892 boxes.

By a subsequent arrangement Mr. Fitzgerald exchanged Dunsford and North Ops with Mr. Flavelle, taking Mariposa and Palestine instead.

The top price paid last year at the first September sale was 9 1-8c., as compared with 9 11-16c. to-day.

The Board adjourned for two weeks.

STOCK MARKETS.

Fall Market Outlook Magnificent.

New York, Sept. 8.—Another week has started with the people conducting the campaign of rising values as confident and energetic as ever. The past week has witnessed, if anything, an accumulation of stock holdings by them considerably in excess of their sales. The vanguard of the public has made its appearance in the street and they are commencing to make some purchases. We predict that later on in the fall the public will be falling over itself in its anxiety to buy stocks, and at considerably higher prices than those existing at present. Then will be a time for some discrimination until the over-loaded purchasers are shook out of their holdings with the drift of shares again into the possession of the cliques and manipulators. Last week several of the great railway companies made wonderous reports as to increasing monthly gross and net earnings. In some instances the figures were absolutely staggering. They will be greater still during this winter and fall. No power on earth can keep the railways from coming into their own, in the way of net earnings, during that period, facing as they do the most beneficent crops ever harvested in this country. Partly accountable for the immense increase in railway earnings, is the greater stability of rates brought about through the various community of interest operations now in vogue in the railway as well as the industrial world. Probably it has had more to do in bringing about such results than has the increased volume of traffic. The fact that the corn-carrying roads all made vast increases in earnings, while transporting a poor crop last year, plainly indicates the above statement to be a fact. The community of interest factor is booming greater all the time, and will continue to have its beneficial effect upon earnings. It also enables the roads to transact their business at a greatly decreased expense, and in the railroad world, as elsewhere, the penny saved is the penny earned. Earnings are in all instances the dominating indicators and makers of values. There is no getting away from the trite truth, and such as are gauging their market operations by the history of the past, will fail to participate in the profits which will be distributed this fall and winter through medium of stock speculation. We regret that many are among this class, if our clientele are, it is their fault, and not ours.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Why Hate a Jew?

What is the quality in him w incenses the Gentile? We think it a form of arrogance, a form, perhaps, even of insolence, surely excusable in a proud people who remember their humiliations and cannot forget their greatness. The genius of the Jew has "beset" the nations "behind and before," and laid its mark upon them. Israel is in the strange position of a people who have given the law to the multitudes who have grudged them liberty. A hard life has materialized the children of Abraham, and turned the most spiritual into in some respects the most earthly of people. The Jew has been obliged to make use of flattery and insolence to get his daily bread, and he discards neither when he gets rich. For all that we may not forget that he has "been in grace"; that it has been given to him to "know the knowledge of God, and see a vision of the Almighty." This knowledge and this vision he has given to the white races, upon whom he now lives, and from whom he now begs for patience. The Roman and Orthodox Churches hate him, but St. Paul, the great Apostle of Protestantism, pleads for the Jew—Paul of Tarsus, that "Hebrew of Hebrews," who taught that charity was greater than faith, and who was a past master of manners as well as of morals; my typical of his race, yet whose pride was as free from insolence as his humanity was free from baseness; who had learned like so many Jews, "how to suffer need," but who, unlike most of his brethren to-day, knew also, by grace or by nature, "how to abound." "Are they Israelites?" we hear him say: "so am I." "If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we reap your carnal things?"—London Spectator.

SENSATIONALLY OPPORTUNE

DRESS GOODS SALE.

To all appearance, there is neither rhyme nor reason in a ruthless reduction in Dress Goods at the beginning of the season. Not every merchant would do so; but the merchant who sees nothing more in merchandising than mere money-making is perhaps a little short-sighted. To inaugurate what there is good reason to believe will be the best season in our history, we commence, on Friday Morning, Sept. 12th, a Sensational Early Sale of 800 YARDS OF DRESS GOODS.

These have been picked from our regular stock and consist of Fine Imported Suitings and Dress Goods, the latter embracing Broadcloths, Ladies' Cloths, Box Cloths, Venetian Suitings, Serges, Popular Cloths and Vigoureaux de Beiges—all high-class fabrics, made in France, Germany and England. Regular selling prices of these goods ranged from 75c to $1.50 per yard. Special Sensational Sale Price only—

55 Cents Per Yard.

Colours are black, brown, fawn, castor, green, navy blue, old rose, and other handsome combinations of colours. This Sale will be continued Friday, Saturday and Monday only, and will begin at eight o'clock each morning. The goods will be laid out on special tables in the centre of the store. Mr. Goldwin Smith Approves Farmers' Combine Project.

AN ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED

The Resolutions Passed—Association to Be Non-Political—Tariff Question Debated—Organization to Be the First Subject Undertaken—Committee Appointed—Seventy-Five Pay Fees and Become Members.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Last night a hundred or more representative farmers and others interested in agricultural problems from various parts of the province gathered together here and after lengthy discussion brought into existence "The Farmers' Association." At the close of the meeting about 75 paid their annual fee and were enrolled as members.

While the principles of the association have not been definitely promulgated, they will be based on the following resolution, introduced by L. E. Annis of Scarboro, and seconded by Joseph Stratford of Brantford, and carried with but one dissenting voice:

"That, while deeming it inadvisable to establish a political party we believe it is for the welfare of the country that there should be an organization ready to bring its influence to bear to secure and promote the interests of the farmer in the matter of legislation and otherwise, and that we now proceed to establish such an organization."

A committee of fifteen was chosen with power to appoint an executive committee for the association, and they will endeavor to offer suggestions when the meeting is continued to-day.

C. A. Mallory of Cobourg was appointed chairman, and W. L. Smith of The Weekly Sun, secretary pro tem.

Mr. Annis thought his resolution should meet with the views of every farmer in Canada. They had great difficulties to contend with now, and the day had come when they should take action for the betterment of their position. This could be done without in any way interfering with a man's politics. They did not desire any advantage over any other class, but they were at present treated badly by the governments of either party because they lacked organization, and therefore wielded no great influence, as did manufacturing and industrial interests. Farmers should be able, when questions affecting them came before Parliament, to bring sufficient pressure to bear to obtain their desires. The tariff was being raised against their interests, and they were unable to effectively protest.

Thomas Henderson of Rockton was in unity with the purpose of the resolution. Farmers were at a disadvantage because they were so isolated one from the other and unable to get together to discuss their affairs. Farmers produced the country's greatest wealth, and legislation which would give the greatest good to the greatest number was common sense. He favored a simple but thorough organization confined strictly to agriculturists.

A number of others talked in the same strain. George Wrigley of Toronto thought the resolution was good enough to begin with, but declared that the association should become recognized as a purely political factor if it expected to reap its full reward.

W. H. McLeod of Vanneck, Ont., pointed out that the farmers' organization in the States had compelled Congress to do its bidding as regards an oleomargerine bill, though it was free from politics.

F. Hunt of Middlemarch moved, seconded by D. D. Rogers, ex-M. P., Kingston:

"That this meeting enters its protest against any increase in the tariff, and declares that a tariff for revenue only is best calculated to advance the general interests of Canada."

This caused considerable discussion, the end of which was that the meeting throught the tariff had best be left alone for a while, as savoring too much of party politics for the association to deal with so soon.

Jabel Robinson, M.P., for West Elgin, related some facts concerning the good work done by The Grange in its palmier days, and thought that the association could do no better than endorse its principles forthwith. The party in power was always willing to listen to anybody whose influence would help to keep them in office.

Dr. Goldwin Smith was present on invitation, and he said that, while it was true his sympathies generally were with "the under dog," yet this was not a bad omen, for history showed that these "under dogs" frequently came out on top. The farmer had been under a heavy load, what with corporations, subsidies and bonuses. He had watched with interest the efforts of the Patrons. Members had been elected to the legislature to support the farmers, but to no avail. The reason, to his mind, was because the influence had been put into the legislature instead of on it. Being in, the representatives invariably became mixed with political questions and became involved in sinister and difficult relations with the political parties. Financial reasons accounted for the failure.

"But there is no reason why you should not form an organization to bring influence to bear upon your special questions in the legislature," he said. "The other great interests have their organizations; the manufacturers have theirs and other interests have theirs in their Boards of Trade. You should have one also and it need not be injurious to the other interests. I trust that nothing will prevent it being brought about. The fact that the Patrons' movement spread so widely shows the desire for such an organization as I hope may take rise here this evening."

On motion of J. F. Beam of Black Creek and J. F. Wilson, Glengarry, it was decided to call to organization the Farmers' Association and that an executive board be appointed by the committee, which is to formulate a constitution and report to-day. It was decided to make the annual fee $1.

This committee will report: Representing Eastern Ontario, William McCrimmon, James Sangster, Angus McDonald, J. L. Wilson, D. D. Rogers. Central Ontario, C. A. Mallory, L. E. Annis, J. Goodfellow, C. W. Hyatt, F. E. Webster. Western Ontario, F. Hunt, Major Hood, J. F. Beam, A. H. Van Loon, W. H. McLeod.

Among those present at the meeting were Joseph L. Haycock, Cataraqui, and Col. McLennan, Glengarry.

RURAL DEANERY.

It Met at Hastings on Sept. 8th and 9th —Important Resolutions Passed.

The Rural Deanery of Northumberland, met in the Parish of Hastings, of which Rev. E. R. James is Incumbent, on September 8 and 9. There were present, the Ven. Archdeacon T. W. Allen, M.A., D.C.L., Rev. Rural Dean Warren, B.A., Lakefield; Rev. J. C. Davidson, M.A., Peterborough; Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., Ashburnham; Rev. C. H. Brooks, B.A., Grafton; Rev. G. A. Field, M.A., Gore's Landing; Rev. J. M. McLennan, Norwood; Rev. W. Cremswick, L.Th., of Young's Point; Rev. W. R. Tandy, M.A., Havelock, Rev. A. S. Dickinson, of Warsaw, and Mr. Hansfield, a lay reader, Warkworth.

Divine service was held in St. George's church on Monday evening at which Rev. C. A. Brooks, B. A., was the special preacher. His text was St. Matt. 22, 28, (in part), "The Son of Man came to give His life a ransom for many."

On Tuesday evening at 7.30 the Holy Eucharist was celebrated, the Rev. Rural Dean Warren being the celebrant, assisted by Rev. A. S. Dickinson.

At the meeting which followed, instructive papers were read on "Preaching," by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt; on "The State of the Church in the Rural Deanery," by Rev. A. G. Westmacott; on "The Position and Policy of the Church of England in Canada," by Rev. J. C. Davidson.

Important resolutions were also passed, to be brought before the Archdiaconal Conference and Diocesan Synod, such as "The Reconstruction of the Deaneries of Northumberland and of Durham and Victoria," "The Creation of the new Diocese of Peterborough."

The clergy were hospitably entertained by the parishioners of St. George's, and the stay in Hastings was a very pleasant one.

Every one was of the opinion that in attendance and interest this meeting proved to have been one of the best.

TEACHERS APPOINTED.

The Applications of Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil and Mr. W. J. Stacey Were Accepted.

The Committee on Appointments of the Board of Education met last evening and formally appointed Mr. Mr. A. Sorsoleil, of the South Central School, to the vacancy in the Collegiate Institute. Mr. W. J. Stacey, Principal of the Inniskillen Public School, received the appointment to the vacancy created by Mr. Sorsoleil's promotion. Mr. Stacey comes to Peterborough very highly recommended.

PETERBOROUGH NOT ALONE.

St. Thomas People are Having Trouble With Their Street Cars.

Peterborough is by no means the only town or city that has had, or is having trouble with its street car system. The experience of Brockville and Belleville are well known to all, but the latest city to get a set back in this regard is St. Thomas. Yesterday the city street railway system was tied up not a car being run.

The cause of the tie-up is the lack of electric power, Manager Gill of the Gas and Electric Light Company refusing to further continue to supply power until the amount due the company by the Street Railway Company is paid.

It is understood that the position of the Street Railway Company is that there is no funds and they cannot pay, and the probabilities are, indeed, it might be said for a certainty, that the road will fall into the hands of the city.

CRYSTAL BLOCK COMPLETED.

About Ready for Occupation—Three Fine Shops and Suites of Apartments the Result

The work of restoration of the Crystal Block, George street, partially destroyed by fire last spring, is practically completed, and the block has been converted into three fine shops, one for the Tate Optical Company, one for William Morgan, barber, and one for W. G. Howden, meat market. These shops are finely fitted up within, and the fronts are in especially good taste, with recessed oak doors, with side panelling in oak, and plate glass fronts with brass angle frames. Each shop is provided with a broad belt of Luxifer Prisms, above the plate glass windows, which makes the lighting of the best. The upper floors are converted into handsome and convenient suites of apartments for house-keeping. The work has been very satisfactorily completed under the superintendence of Mr. James Froude, J. E. Belcher, architect. Mr. J. J. Hartley had the contract for the brick-work, Mr. Wm. Henry for the plastering, and Mr. John Watson for the painting. A peculiarity of the roof plan is that the roof is in the shape of a huge hopper, the storm water converging to the centre, where a five inch iron pipe conveys it down through the several stores of the building, obviating the danger of frost. This pipe is also arranged to work in connection with the sewerage conveniences of the building.

GOOD ROADS IN UNITED STATES.

In a magazine article recently contributed by him Hon. Martin Dodge, director of office of Public Road Enquiries, deals with the progress which has been made with the road reform movement in the United States, so far as it has been aided by the national government.

He points out that within the last decade there has been remarkable progress in the direction of awakening public interest to the importance of good roads and in bringing into practice more sane and practical methods of dealing with the public highways. The inception of this movement was due to individual effort, but it soon became strong enough to attract the attention of the state and national legislatures. Several states framed laws which provided for the gradual construction of good roads through a system of state aid and supervision, and in 1893 Congress again took up the subject as one deserving of legislative attention. In that year a small appropriation was made, to be expended under the direction of the Department of Agriculture in the dissemination of scientific information on the subject of road construction among states, communities, or individuals, desiring it. Congress set aside $8,000 for this purpose during each succeeding year until 1901, when the amount was increased to $20,000. It may be assumed, therefore, that the government of the United States is fairly committed to the cause of good roads, and that its policy will continue along the conservative lines on which it has developed during the last eight or nine years.

As at present organized the national government's share in the work of providing good roads is performed by a division of the Department of Agriculture known as the Office of Public Road Inquiries, in charge of a director, associated with whom are an assistant director and a number of road experts designated as special agents. Considerable didatic literature has been published by the office in the form of pamphlets, which are distributed free to the citizens of the various states upon application. During the last year the task of the office has been increased by adding three important features to the work. First of all, the Secretary of Agriculture, Hon. James Wilson, has divided the country into four parts for the purpose of making examinations of the road-building materials of the section, and reporting to the government the natural conditions and available road-making materials therein. In addition to this, he has established at Washington a physical and chemical laboratory for the purpose of testing scientifically the road-building material of every section of the country, as it may be discovered or proposed for use in highway construction. By means of these scientific tests he is able to determine accurately the hardness and durability of all road-making materials, and so avoid the costly mistakes into which different localities often fall by using an unsuitable substance for the purpose of hardening the surface of a highway, when perhaps more suitable material could be secured in the same vicinity at no greater cost. This scientific work is carried on without cost to the people in any locality which wishes to have tests made, showing the value for road-making purposes of any material in the vicinity. Any citizen desiring to have such tests made may address the Office of Public Road Inquiries with his request, and specific directions will be forwarded to him from the office, showing how to proceed and what sample of material will be needed. The most scientific information obtainable anywhere in the world touching this subject can be obtained without cost by any citizen in the United States who will apply to his government in the manner indicated above.

This didactic method of teaching has been supplemented by object roads which have been constructed in various parts of the country under the auspices of the Public Road Enquiries department. Roads of this kind, a mile or more in length, have been constructed at Port Huron, Saginaw and Traverse City, Michigan, Springfield, Illinois, and Topeka, Kansas. In his last report Mr. Dodge recommended that the sum of $45,000 should be appropriated by Congress to enable him to construct an object lesson road in every one of 45 states. This recommendation has not yet been carried out, but this will likely be done in the near future. However, Mr. Dodge joined the National Association of Good Roads, in the great enterprise of building object-lesson roads in several of the Southern States in co-operation with the Good Roads train and the local communities when the train stopped. By this united movement a great impetus has been given to the cause of good roads in the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

A brief account of the work of the Good Roads train may perhaps be of interest. It was in operation during the months of April, May, June, July and August of last year, through the Mississippi Valley, from New Orleans to Chicago. The Illinois Central railroad furnished the train, including nine cars for machinery, one car for labourers, and one combination dining and sleeping car for road experts, officials, and press representatives. The railroad company also provisioned the train, and furnished part of the skilled and common labour. The machinery was donated by the manufacturers, who also supplied experts to operate it.

The Good Roads train visited the following places, where sample roads, varying in length from half a mile to a mile and a half were built, and where the officers of the National Association organized permanent local and state associations; Flossmore, Illinois, New Orleans, Louisiana, Natchez, Vicksburg, Greenville, Clarksdale, Oxford, Grenada, McComb City, and Jackson, Mississippi; Jackson, Tennessee; Louisville, Hopkinsville and Owensboro, Kentucky; Cairo and Effingham, Illinois. About 20 miles of earth, stone and gravel roads were built, and 15 large and enthusiastic conventions were held. The numbers attending these conventions and witnessing the work were very large, in nearly every instance being more than 1,000 persons and in some cases, 2,000. Among those present were the leading citizens and officials, including governors, mayors, congressmen, members of legislatures, judges of the county courts, and road officials. This was undoubtedly the most successful campaign ever waged for good roads. The expedition has been of great service to the cause, especially to the people of the Mississippi Valley.

The many requests that come to the office of Public Road Enquiries in Washington, for literature describing methods of road construction for analyses of material, and for the advice and assistance of special agents, prove that there is throughout the United States a lively and rapidly growing interest. In creating it where it does not, in disseminating practical information, and in giving practical instruction, the Government is doing a small share towards the improvement of the public highways.

Of course, as Mr. Dodge points out, the aid given by the Washington government towards the Good Roads movement is only supplementary to the work done by the various states, in most of which large legislative grants have been given towards the work of construction. In Canada we have not as yet made as much progress as has been made across the line. Ontario, alone, has made any considerable progress, while the Federal Government has not yet seen its way clear to taking any part in the movement at all. The subject is certainly one of prime importance, but this will not be fully recognized by the people as a whole until object lessons have been everywhere provided for their enlightenment. In Ontario, for example, some part of the million dollars which the Ontario Government has set aside to induce our people to help themselves, might well be applied towards a Good Roads train.

Not a pound of all the coal burned in Switzerland is dug within the borders of that country.

VIEWS ON THE TARIFF

Speeches by the Hon. Messrs. Tarte and Fisher.

AT THE AUSTRALIAN BANQUET

The Former Advocates Higher Protection—Mr. Fisher Pointed Out How Canada Is Prospering Under the Present Conditions, and Warned Canada to Be Chary of Disturbing Conditions So Beneficial.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—One of the most interesting features of the banquet Monday night to Sir Edmund Barton and his Australian colleagues was the difference of opinion over tariff matters between the Minister of Public Works and the Minister of Agriculture.

The Minister of Public Works said: "Our friends the Americans—I call them our friends, for we are not enemies, only rivals in business—our friends have lately assumed a threatening position. Sir Edmund Barton has told you to-night that in his country he is regarded as a moderate protectionist.

Sir Edmund Barton: "A high protectionist."

Hon. J. I. Tarte: "A high protectionist; I am afraid I must plead guilty to the same thing. I may not be a high protectionist, but I believe in self defence, I believe that I know the conditions in this country as well as any other person in public life to-day, and I believe in protecting our industries if we are to prosper and succeed. The Americans have a much larger population than we have, and are consequently possessed of greater strength and can do much more. Yet they have a tariff of sixty per cent., while our tariff does not exceed twenty-two per cent. on the believe that the policy which I here advocate—I do not call it protection or anything else—but I believe it would be of advantage to every section of our population. I do not believe in a policy that would promote sectional jealousy or advantage to only one portion of the community. I do not believe in building up a Chinese wall—a good Canadian wall is good enough. (Cheers.) I do not say these things as a Minister of the Crown, but I speak as a member of Parliament, and would humbly suggest to my colleagues in the Ministry to build a series of block houses along our border to prevent the enemy from coming in and cutting our throats, from severing the principal artery, and letting out our life blood."

Then came Hon. Sydney Fisher, who said everything had been prospering within the last few years, and he considered that it behooved Canada to be chary how she disturbed the fabric of the policy upon which her present prosperity was based. The increase in trade was proportionately more rapid within the last few years than it had ever been in the United States. She was ready to do her share for the Empire, and Canada prosperous and rich would be, as she had been two years ago, when the South African war broke out, ready to assume a share of the burden of the Empire. The greater, the larger, the richer she was the more would she be ready to undertake for the defence of the flag. The Parliament of Canada would at all times be found ready to aid Canada in the way of progress. He closed by expressing the hope that the Parliament of Australia would prove as beneficial to the country as that of Canada had to this country.

SCOTT GETS FOUR YEARS.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—John J. Scott was sentenced in the police court yesterday by Magistrate Denison to four years in the Kingston Penitentiary, with hard labor, for wounding and attempting to rob John Renshaw, night watchman for the Imperial Varnish and Color Company, Morse street.

"You might have murdered that man," said the magistrate, after hearing Renshaw recite the incidents connected with the murderous assault.

Scott pleaded guilty, and nervously twirled the end of his moustaches. He is not a muscular looking man, but rather inclined to be hollow chested.

"Guilty," was all he said in answer to the charge. "Guilty, you say?" asked the court. "Yes." "No mistake about it?" "No." "Where is the man who was assaulted?"

Renshaw came forward and mounted the witness box. He is a bigger man than Scott, and showed an expanse of shoulder lacking in the other. Four bald spots marked his head, and court plaster covered the wounds that had been inflicted by a monkey wrench in the hands of Scott. The wrench was a heavy one of solid steel with rounded back.

Renshaw told his story excitedly, and was with difficulty kept to the questions the crown attorney put.

STEAMER BURNED, CREW SAVED.

The Cargo Boat Stevens Total Loss—Men Get Ashore.

Port Rowan, Sept. 10.—Monday afternoon about 3.30 the steamer William H. Stevens, bound from Duluth to Buffalo, caught fire on Lake Erie, opposite Clear Creek, and is a total loss. Her cargo consisted of 32,000 bushels of flax, 185 tons of copper and 9,000 barrels of flour. At the time of the fire there was a heavy sea running and the crew experienced some difficulty in landing. The mate, R. H. Knapp, was the first to make the attempt with eleven of the crew. It now being dark, 1.30 a.m., this was a very dangerous undertaking as the shore is very bad, 15 to 20 feet high in places. After finding a spot to land safely the mate built fires on the beach to guide the others, who succeeded in effecting a landing about daylight. The captain remained aboard until the last. The crew are now all safe, twenty-one in number, and are at Port Rowan.

GENIUS HONORED IN DEATH.

Remains of the Late Professor Virchow Given Worthy Funeral.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The City of Berlin yesterday gave the remains of the late Professor Virchow, one of the four citizens upon whom had been conferred the freedom of the city, a funeral worthy of the great scientist. The assembly room in the town hall, where the services were held, was most lavishly decorated, and in the adjoining lobbies was a great display of magnificent wreaths sent by medical, political and scientific societies. The assembly room was crowded with the most distinguished professors, scientists and physicians of the capital, and with the highest medical officers of the German army and navy.

Kaiser Wilhelm's Mimic War.

Frankfort-on-Oder, Sept. 10.—The war manoeuvres began yesterday. A peaceful and sunlit spread of country to the west of here was covered by parties of cavalry searching the hollows and the woods for the supposed enemy or seeking to catch glimpses of him from the ridges; batteries galloping into action through wheat fields and beet patches, and by long lines of riflemen advancing along a 12-mile front. Six or eight miles in the rear of the fighting lines were the generals commanding the two contingents, Gen. Von Stuelpnagel of the Reds, who are considered the invading Russian army, and Gen. Von Lignitz of the Blues, who filled the role of the German defending army. Yesterday was spent by the contending armies in playing for positions. It was an artillery duel, with occasional brushes between cavalry. The infantry did not get into action.

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 33, Concession 2, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., At Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 100 acres choice land, 60 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beech, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold as 1,000 cords hardwood and 2,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would still readily for more than $10,000, and total expense would not exceed $6,000. A man with teams and two or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Wise men will see us quickly about this. Ploughing possession at once.

SIGN OF THE GOLDEN HORSESHOE.

An Accident to Exhibition Visitor.

Trolley Cars Collided and Woman Was Hurt About Head and Shoulders.

The Shock Caused Nervous Collapse and She Was Taken in an Unconscious Condition to St. Michael's Hospital.

Mrs. Wm. Perdue of Clinton, Ont., had the misfortune to be in a street car collision while attending the Industrial Exhibition in Toronto. She was hurt in the back of her head, near the base of the brain, and this led to nervous collapse and great suffering. Doctors wanted to operate, but Mrs. Perdue thought her system would not stand this. The facts of the case are stated by Mrs. Perdue as follows:

Three years ago this September, in company with her daughter, Miss Mamie, she went to Toronto to attend the Industrial Fair, and while riding on a Winchester street car, met with an accident. The car that she was on—sitting with her back to the front, was following close behind another car, and when nearing the corner of Yonge and Queen streets, the car in front suddenly stopped, and before the one behind could be brought to a standstill, knocked into the other, throwing Mrs. Perdue over the back of the seat she was sitting on, striking the back of her head at the base of the brain, making a severe scalp wound, and also cutting and bruising her right shoulder. She was taken out of the wreck in a semi-conscious condition and carried into a boot and shoe shop next to Eaton's store, when an ambulance was called for, and she was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, and there had her wounds dressed by Dr. Johnston, the company's physician. It was not thought she was seriously hurt at the time, and after resting for a couple of days to get over the shock of the accident, she was brought home, apparently recovered from the effects of it. A doctor was called upon her arrival at her home, as directed by the physician in Toronto, to remove the stitches. She had suffered considerable during her journey home from pains in her head, starting from the wound at the base of the skull and running in all directions to the forehead, but stood it like a martyr for some time, thinking it was only the wound healing. Instead of it healing, a growth started at both wounds, the one on the shoulder as well as the head, and from a mild pain it assumed a neuralgic form, until it was unbearable. The doctor was then called again, and he wanted to operate, claiming that was the last resort to give her relief. Mrs. Perdue would not listen to that, and the doctor began to administer opiates to ease the pain and quiet the nerves.

During this time a suit had been entered against the railway for damages, and their own physician was again sent up to try to make a settlement. Her doctors told her she could never stand a trial, as she would break down under the strain, and while the company's physician was here he again advised her to be operated on. Feeling that something might turn up to give her relief, she again resorted to the palliative treatment of the local doctors. For two long years she suffered from all the terrors and agonies of pain and mental anguish which only those who have suffered with nervous troubles can realize, going from bad to worse, and unable to sleep, unable even to look after the daily routine of her housework, mind wandering, frantic at times, requiring somebody by her side night and day to keep her from all harm, and it was despaired that she was becoming insane and on the verge of epilepsy.

Mr. Perdue, who is a constant reader of the Globe, has been reading the testimonials of some of the cures effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and he decided to drive to Clinton and procure a box. This was in March of the present year. After taking the one box she felt that she had got hold of something that would bring her relief, as the terrible headaches had begun to subside, and she was able to think for herself and converse with those around her. She got five boxes more, and before she had taken them all was able to be on her feet and enjoying the best of health, with only an occasional headache, like any of her sex would have. The growth on her head, produced from the blow during the accident, had entirely gone and the fatty tumour that had appeared on the right shoulder had diminished from the size of a good-sized fist to a small growth, not much larger than a small hen's egg. She had first thought of having it removed, but it not giving her any annoyance, or causing inconvenience to her, she decided to wait, in the hope that it would pass away.

From what we could judge of the lady's appearance, outside of having passed through such a strain on the nervous system, she was enjoying as good health as could be expected, and with her family around her was busy with domestic duties when our reporter called.

Before he was permitted to leave, the press representative was made to wait till Mr. Perdue came in from the field, where he was busy with his grain, and on being made aware of the errand of the reporter, reiterated the entire story of his good wife, adding therete that she was so pleased with the wonders done her by that medicine that she has two other ladies, who suffered from nervous troubles taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In speaking for himself, he said that he had tried all kinds of kidney cures for his own use, but failed to find one that would do him as much good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. William Perdue is a well-to-do farmer living on lot 37, Bayfield concession, Goderich Township, and Mrs. Perdue is a daughter of the late J. Miller, of the same township. They are highly respected and well-known by all in that neighbourhood.

OPENING OF PETERBOROUGH CENTRAL FAIR.

Quality of Exhibits Up to the Mark, but Quantity Lacking.

THE KILTIES BAND PRESENT.

Good Programme for To-morrow Afternoon—Speeding in the Ring—Band Concert in Market Hall To-night.

The weather was beautifully propitious for the second day of the Central Exhibition. Light, fleecy clouds floated lazily in a bright blue sky, and the warm sunshine poured its rays through the "mild September haze." The rain of the previous day had laid the dust, making the grounds pleasant for the crowds, which, however, did not amount to very much during the morning, but in the afternoon the people began to pour into the grounds, so that the attendance equalled the corresponding day of last year. During the whole of the afternoon the attendance increased till at length the grounds presented a fairly animated appearance.

There was no formal opening ceremony, the show merely went on. The celebrated Kilties Band entered the grounds without parade, and their playing upon the band stand soon made them a centre of attraction, divided with the baby show for Goughs' prize, which was held during the afternoon in the main building.

The judges in the building completed their work this morning, and this afternoon the judging of the horses and other stock was done.

THE INSIDE EXHIBITS.

In the main building the general feature of the exhibition is unexpectedly satisfactory — some departments are unusually good, some decidedly mediocere, and some entirely wanting. For instance in the department devoted to garden vegetables, there was a wide blank, accounted for, not because there were no vegetables, but because of a new rule imposing a fine of ten cents upon every entry of an exhibitor over ten. This caused in two or three instances the removal of exhibitors when they were informed of the rule.

There was a rather meagre display of domestic products, such as pickles, canned fruit, bread, etc. A tray of antique eggs had apparently done duty at other exhibitions, as the judge found some difficulty in deciding whether they should be ranked in the two-year-old or three-year-old class.

There was a satisfactory show of roots and vegetables. Though not numerically large, the quantity, in some cases, was superb. This applies especially to potatoes.

There was an extremely creditable display of fruit, particularly apples, which were very numerously represented, the variety as well as individual samples being large and in good condition. The season was, however, too early to permit of fruit showing to full advantage, and some specimens of apples are deeply pitted with marks of hail stones. There was a small show of pears of three or four varieties. There were no grapes whatever on exhibition. The show of grain was fairly large and the quality of all kinds excellent, affording evidence of the bountiful crops of this year.

Cheese and butter were only fairly represented, and the butter was not up to the quality of other years. The season evidently had an unfavourable effect on quality and flavour.

A very fair display of potted plants, cut flowers, ferns, etc., decorated the central corridor of the main building.

The ladies' department was unusually elaborate, in fact the best for years, and the quality of the workmanship especially good, in fact some of the specimens deserved to rank as works of art.

The specimens of painting on China, silk and plush, were unusually good, and a few specimens of fire etching on wood, leather, et., deserve special mention.

In the fine arts department on the ground floor, a rather fine collection in merit and variety, was placed at a disadvantage by lack of opportunity for displaying, several frames being hung so high as to preclude the possibility of forming any idea as to their merits. The array of oil paintings, water colours, crayons, pencils was very creditable, and displayed a wide range of talent and artistic spirit. Indeed, from the appearance of the collection in this department, there seems to be no doubt that if better lighted and larger space were available for the proper hanging and display of pictures, a very large and meritorious fine art exhibition could be contributed by the large amount of natural talent and artistic temperament, the present display even in its cramped quarters, gives evidence of. A cute little collection of amateur photography in this department was said to be the work of Miss Winnie Dobbin.

In a separate part of the building Mr. R. M. Roy had a fine and artistic exposition of his photographic skill, in large variety of styles and all giving evidence of the rare skill and artistic instinct that distinguish Mr. Roy's work.

Messrs. Gough Bros. make their usual elaborate display of their high-class clothing and Mr. C. B. Routley has a stall devoted to wall papers and novelties. To both of these more extended reference will be made in another part of the report of the Exhibition.

To-night the 48th Highlanders' band will give a grand concert in the Market Hall, with moving pictures of the King's Coronation. Admission only 25 cents to all parts of the hall.

To-morrow the grounds will be open from 7 a.m. The Kilties Band will again be in attendance and a special programme of dances, etc., will be put on. Judging of the carriage horses takes place in the ring and there will be some excellent speeding events. The latter will include a free-for-all trot for a purse of $60, a green trot, open to horses that have not started previous to July 1st last, and a special event for the best carriage team driven by owner or owner's son.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 10, 1902.

The Salvation Army Band will give a concert in their hall, Simcoe street, on Tuesday, September 16th. Particulars later.

Trent Valley Navigation News.

The steamer "Manita" will run from Bobcaygeon to Bridgenorth next week on Monday the 15th and Tuesday the 16th, in connection with the Peterborough races, leaving Bobcaygeon at 7.00 a.m., and Bridgenorth at 6.30 p.m. On and after Saturday, Sept. 13, the steamer "Manita" will be taken off her regular route between Coboconk and Lindsay, and her trips will be discontinued for the season after that date.

To-night's Concert.

Some impression prevails that the concert to be given by the "Kilties" Band in the Market Hall this evening is for the benefit of the band. This is not the case. It is for the benefit of the funds of the Central Fair, and is a part of the engagement made by the directors with the band. It is impossible to give a satisfactory entertainment at night at the grounds, owing to the lack of light and of facilities for getting to and from the grounds. The concert is given in the Market Hall solely because the Opera House had been taken by a company too far ahead to permit of the manager of the Opera House changing the date. The Market Hall will be comfortably seated and the opportunity of hearing this fine band should not be lost. Admission 25c. to all parts of the hall.

Sale of Furniture.

A private sale of household furniture, stoves, etc., will be continued for three days, commencing Monday Sept. 8th, at the residence, No. 211 London street. Terms cash. Goods on view any hour. 3d55

Cheap Furniture.

Mr. John Haggart announces that he has received instructions from Mrs. Everett to sell the household furniture of her residence on Rubidge street. The furniture and fixtures are of a very handsome and valuable nature and should draw a large crowd of people who are desirous of obtaining fashionable furniture at low prices.

Here Again To-night and To-morrow.

One of the best attractions that has ever visited Peterborough is Perry, Odell and Dee's Comedians, which opened a three night's engagement at the Bradburn Opera House last evening, and was witnessed by a large and most appreciative audience. The show consists of ten acts all specialties and is without doubt one of the strongest of its kind travelling. There is an entire change of programme each evening. Don't miss the best attraction of the season. The performance commences at 8.15 and from the time the curtain goes up there are no waits; just two hours of good fun and laughter. Don't miss the opportunity of seeing a really first class attraction. All the artists have played at Shea's, Proctor's and Keiths' variety houses. It is a refined entertainment for ladies and children.

PRESIDENT WALTER STOCKER.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Master Bill Posters' and Distributers' Association, was held yesterday at Toronto, 53 towns and cities being represented. The meeting was a very harmonious one, the only point in dispute being in regard to Montreal membership and the constitution was amended and both the St. Lawrence Ad. Company, and the Montreal Bill-Posting Company were made members for that city. The result of the election of officers was as follows;

Pres.—Walter Stocker, Peterborough.
Vice-Pres. — Alex. Jacques, Ottawa.
Treas. — Jos. Firstbrook, Toronto.
Sec.—Arthur Ware, Montreal.

Other members of the board of directors are P. J. Culhane, Hamilton; Carl Jewell, Sherbrooke; G. Stacey, St. Thomas. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Toronto.

HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

Local Rugbyists had an Enthusiastic Meeting.

MR. H. B. BURNHAM PRESIDENT

Will Once More Enter a Team at the Intermediate Series of the Ontario Rugby Union—Practices Start at Once.

The annual general meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club for the election of officers for the season of 1902 was held in the parlours of the Oriental Hotel last night, and was very largely attended. In fact the meeting was by far the most largely attended and the most enthusiastic in the history of the Club. The chair was occupied by last year's President, Mr. R. F. McWilliams, whilst amongst those present were, Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, A. W. McPherson, Harry Morgan, T. Glover, Vic. Hamilton, H. Armstrong, W. H. Walkey, Jr., Bert Cameron, G. Lee, Frank Bradburn, B. Simpson, Frank Burnham, Ed. Dillon, Jack Watt, George Perks, Reg. Orr, Joe Picard, Art Noble, B. Craig, V. McWilliams, B. Rickey, E. S. Clarry, W. Crowley, C. G. Graham, Hamilton Munro, R. Sheppherd, R. N. Bell, Pringle, Hogg, Johnston and many others.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and on motion adopted.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The Secretary's report of the past season's work was read at the semi-annual meeting of the Club, which was held in December of last year, but on motion the report was again read in order that those who were present last night, and who were not present at the semi-annual meeting might have some idea of what condition the Club was in. Extracts of the report were as follows:

In presenting my annual report for the season 1901, I may state that we all join in congratulating the representatives of the Club on the field, in having for the second time during the past three years won the Intermediate championships of the O.R.F.U. and the Canadian Rugby Union. But, whilst the club has been successful in this regard, still, the past season has had its discouraging features. Only four matches were played, two of which were victories and two defeats. The first match was played in Ottawa on Oct. 12th against the Ottawa Intermediates and resulted in our being defeated by a score of 1—0. The return game here one week later proved to be a splendid exhibition of rugby and the locals succeeded in reversing matters and ran up a score of 7 to 4 against the Senators, thus winning the round by two points. In the next round Peterborough was drawn to play against Toronto, but this team defaulted and therefore deprived the people of the town of a game here, as well as depriving of the Peterborough's of whatever gate receipts we might have been able to collect.

The circumstances concerning our final game for the Ontario Championship are too fresh in the minds of you all to require a rehearsal to any extent here. However, I might state that the Ontario Rugby Football Union ordered that the contest between Peterborough and our old time rivals, London, should be home and home games, the first of which was to have been played in London on the King's Birthday, and the return game here the following week. Peterborough was to receive a cash bonus of $50 from the London Club for the game in that city and in addition to this we were to keep all of our gate receipts from the game to be played here. This arrangement was adopted in order that the travelling expenses of the two teams might be equalized, Peterborough having already, at this time, done more travelling than the western men. In accordance with this arrangement the Peterborough team travelled to London for their first game. Unfortunately they were short a few of their best men and were defeated by a rather decisive score. However, the disappointing feature of the round was that the London Club played a professional and were thrown out of the series, thus depriving the citizens of Peterborough of another game which should have been played here. More than this the London Club have so far failed to give to Peterborough the $50 guarantee which has somewhat crippled us financially. The locals were awarded the championship by reason of London's breach of the rules of the governing body.

The game for the Canadian Championship was played in Montreal on Thanksgiving Day, against the Quebec team, and resulted in our carrying off the honours of the day by a score of 16 to 5. The match was played in the snow which had a tendancy to prevent the very best class of rugby, but the event was keenly contested nevertheless, and for the second time in three years, as before stated, we carried off the two championships.

The past season has brought to my notice many features in connection with rugby which would, I feel certain, be well to mention. It is to be regretted that the public of Peterborough had not an opportunity of witnessing more than one match here during the season. It was no fault of the management of the Club, however, as circumstances developed in this manner through the default of the Toronto and London teams. Notwithstanding this fact the financial support the Peterborough public gave our Club in the way of contributions to the general fund is worthy of our heartiest praise. Next season the management should make a special effort to have as many local matches as possible, even if it is at a financial disadvantage.

The annual dance of the Club took place on the evening of Nov. 29th and proved a great success in every particular, but especially in regard to the financial end of the affair is this true, as a handsome sum was realized towards the funds of the Club. The committee is deserving of our hearty thanks but I might particularly mention the faithful work of the Hon. Secretary, Dr. Scott, and the Treasurer, Mr. A. W. McPherson. I feel that no words of ours can express to the patronesses of the dance, our appreciation of their untiring efforts, but I would suggest that a vote of thanks be tendered to each of them as a slight recognition of our gratitude. The merchants and other people of the town aided us very materially in the getting up of our annual dance.

At a meeting of your executive some days ago a resolution was passed recommending to the O.R.F.U., that the age limit in the Junior series be abolished, and that the "Snap-back" system of play in rugby be adopted. As you will be required to-night to appoint a representative to the annual meeting of the O.R.F.U., you might instruct him more fully in this line.

During the season Lieut.-Col. Edwards

MOORE'S HEAVY SENTENCE.

Pleaded Guilty to Breaking in Barrie's Store.

Young Lady Who Tried to Commit Suicide—Was Remanded for one Week.

At the Police Court this morning James Moore, who one week ago was arrested on the charge of having entered the store of Mr. Thos. Barrie, and stole therefrom a quantity of furs, came up for hearing. Moore is a rather tough-looking individual of not any too clever looking appearance. There were three charges against him. That of having entered the house of David Lawrence, Otonabee, and stolen therefrom a suit of clothes and other articles; of having entered the house of Mr. Weston Fallis, of Smith, and stole therefrom a gold watch and a sum of money. Also of having broken into the store of Mr. Thomas Barrie and stolen therefrom a quantity of furs. On all three charges Moore chose to be tried summarily, and pleaded guilty. Asked as to whether he had anything to say, Moore made a feeble appeal for leinency, claiming that he had hitherto borne a good character and until a month ago had never committed a theft.

The magistrate evidently considered Moore a dangerous man in the neighbourhood. He was one of those the magistrate said, who seemed to prefer to live on what he could steal from others, and depriving him of his freedom for some time might not do him any harm. He therefore sentenced prisoner to 5 years in Kingston penitentiary the sentences to run concurrently.

The attendance at the mill of justice this morning were entertained much to their agony with the moans and cries of a young lady, who occupied one of the cells down stairs. Blanche Royal was her name and she presented a sad looking appearance. Blanche was charged with attempting to commit suicide. The last time she attempted this rash act was about 4 days ago in one of the local hotels. She took a dose of poison and her recovery at one time was very doubtful. Her home is in Lindsay and it is said that she has tried on more than one occasion to do away with herself. She was remanded for one week, until she is sufficiently recovered to answer the charge.

Two men were fined rather heavily this morning for being the worse of liquor while attempting to drive a horse attached to a buggy. It cost one man $8.00 and the other $2.

Come and hear the "Kilties" Band at the Market Hall on Wednesday evening, September 10th. Full programme of band selections, dances, vocal selections. A chance to hear this fine band at a low fee. 25 cents to all parts of the hall.

IS QUITE NEEDFUL.

Mr. Comstock's Ambulance has Done Good Work.

In view of the fact that the town has possessed an ambulance now for the past year or more, it may cause one to wonder how Peterborough ever got along without such a much used vehicle. Of course the possession of the vehicle is the work of private enterprise, being owned by Mr. A. Comstock. It may be interesting to know that the trips of the ambulance for the past 12 months averaged about 12 calls a month. This does not necessarily imply that there were 12 accidents each month as the ambulance is used for the conveyance of typhoid, diphtheria and other patients. Whilst there is supposed to be a nominal fee charged, still the use of the ambulance is never refused no matter whether there is money forth coming or not.

THE NEW DAM.

Yesterday's Rain Delayed the Work Somewhat.

Yesterday's rain interfered to some extent with the work at the new dam of the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, at the foot of London street. The men were dismissed for the morning at 9 o'clock, and the work was practically at a standstill during the greater part of the day. The coffer dam has been put into excellent shape and both ends are anchored at the shore. The work of pumping the vast enclosure clear of water will be commenced forthwith after which excavating to the depth of 20 feet or more will be commenced. Altogether the work is progressing quite rapidly. Boarding houses in the vicinity of the dam are finding plenty of applicants of rooms, etc.

"The Kilties," the famous band of the 48th Highlanders, will give a concert in the Market Hall Wednesday evening, September 10th. Be sure and hear them. The finest musical treat of the year. Only 25 cents. No seats reserved. Tickets for sale at the door.

PALACE BARGE, "LADYSMITH,"

(W. H. White, Captain.)

This fast and popular little steamer is open for charter for excursions for the season of 1902. The steamer and barge have a carrying capacity of 160. The "Alert" has been fitted with the most modern improvements, including machinery, etc., and has a speed, with the barge, of 7 miles an hour. The crew will be found to be careful and obliging, and the best of attention is guaranteed the travelling public.

Parties wishing to take a day's outing on Stony Lake, or any of the Kawartha Lakes, cannot do better than charter the fast sailing steamer Alert Parties of fifteen people and upwards can charter this steamer for the day at a very reasonable price. Prices made to suit parties. This gives the people a splendid chance of seeing the Lakes and gives more time at the different points of interest than by going by the regular steamers. No crowding. Hot and cold water always provided on board the steamer.

NEW ZEALAND.

Hoist the Lee ait of the Government Working the Railways—Prosperity shown in the Recent Financial Statement.

Sir Joseph Ward, the acting Colonial Treasurer, made his financial statement, recently.

Last year's revenue amounted to £6,152,839, while the expenditure amounted to £5,914,915, leaving an excess of revenue over expenditure of £237,924. Adding to this the balance which was brought over from the preceding year, namely, £32,564 after deduction of the sum of £500,000, which was transferred to the public works fund, a surplus is left of £270,488. At the close of the past year, the public works expenditure amounted to £2,143,252, and £200,000 of advances previously received were paid off. The cash balance was £454,089, with about £100,000 of the last loan to be received.

The public debt was now £52,966,447, showing an increase of £3,375,212 during the year, of which amount however, quite £1,619,285, being at once interest-earning will not become a burden on the tax-payer.

The bringing into operation of the principles of local self-government by the Maoris, under the Maori Councils act of 1901, has already proved to be a great boon to them, and it ensures the increase of the race. Old-age pensions cost the colony last year £207,060. The land tax and income tax revenue exceeded the estimates. Works are in progress at the State coal mines at Westport and Greymouth. The reductions given by the present Government since it took office are: Railways, £510,000; mortgage tax, £25,000; posts and telegraphs, £181,000; customs, £138,000.

Every effort is being made to secure trade with South Africa, the United Kingdom, India, China and Japan, and it is hoped to complete shortly a contract for a steamship service to South Africa. The construction of railways and of roads is being vigorously pushed forward.

The Government proposes further large concessions to the public—in railways, £40,000, and a reduction of £25,000 from the mortgage tax—and also proposes to assist the bush settlers by a remission of rent during the first few years of their leases.

The estimates for the current year reach £5,987,063, for expenditure, and £6,083,500, for revenue, which, with the balance brought forward from last year, leaves a surplus of £367,000 to provide for further appropriations in the supplementary estimates, and for the usual transfer to the public works fund in aid of the construction of roads and bridges.

It is proposed to raise a new loan of £1,750,000, to be devoted to the construction of trunks and other lines of railway, and the construction of roads, tracks and bridges. The new loan will also be used for providing additional rolling stock, and for relaying the permanent way, for developing the gold fields and for telegraphic extension purposes. It is proposed to place a portion of the loan on the local money market.

The working of the railways shows excellent results, products being carried at less than a third of the cost of the carriage by land, while passengers are carried at a quarter to a sixth less. The result of this is enormously increased traffic.

The general condition of the colony is wonderfully prosperous.

Shifting the Responsibility.

An Irishman who traded in small wares, kept a donkey cart with which he visited the different villages. On one occasion he came to a bridge where a toll was levied.

He found to his disappointment he had not enough to pay it.

A bright thought struck him. He unharnessed the donkey and put it into the cart. Then, getting between the shafts himself, he pulled the cart with the donkey standing on it on to the bridge.

In due course he was hailed by the toll collector.

"Hey, man!" cried the latter. "Whaur's your toll?"

"Begorra," said the Irishman, "just ask the dhroiver."

HAD LITTLE FAITH.

How a Doubtful Man was Convinced and Restored.

A Story That Illustrates the Advantage of Reading and Being Guided by Newspaper Advertisements.

Lower Windsor, N B., September 7th. — Special. "I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

This is the declaration of Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, who for a long time was the victim of a very severe case of this painful disease.

Mr. Belyea reads the newspapers and after he had tried plasters and liniments and all kinds of external remedies as well as doctors' treatments, with no good results, he began reading the testimonials of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says—

"This remedy was so highly recommended for kidney trouble, that after reading some testimonials I concluded to try them for a short time, but I must admit that having tried so many things and failed to effect a cure, I had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else could or would help me.

"However, I did not use them long before I found out that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I used to have very bad spells, which of late years became so frequent and so severe that I was almost laid up.

I received more benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills than from any other medicine I have ever used and they certainly made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me so many years."

Mr. Belyea is not the first skeptical man that has been convinced by experience of the medicinal value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE BANFF BUFFALO

GOVERNMENTS AND CITIZENS SAVING PRAIRIE MONARCHS.

How the Work of Saving the Buffalo is Being Done—Success Attendant Upon the Efforts Put Forth — Thirty-One Now at Banff and Forty-five at Silver Heights—The Crowd and Yellowstone Herds.

The buffalo have not all disappeared from the face of the earth, though it is frequently supposed that such is the case. The buffalo ranch of the Canadian Government at the Banff National Park, and that at Silver Heights, near Winnipeg, the property of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, are according to recent advices, both in a flourishing condition. The animals are in splendid shape, and, notwithstanding their semi-captivity, they thrive well, and are multiplying and increasing. The original twenty at Banff, thirteen of which were donated by Lord Strathcona, have increased to thirty-one, while the ranch at Silver Heights now numbers over forty-five head, the property of the High Commissioner. These are valued at $1,000 a head, and Lord Strathcona has recently been offered as high as $1,500 a head.

The Conrad ranch in Montana, which is of world-wide fame, is owned by Mr. C. E. Conrad, father of C. E. Conrad, jr., of Vancouver, B. C., and the herd is said to be the finest in the world. When it is known that 800 is a fair estimate of the number of buffalos on the continent, it will be seen that Mr. Conrad's herd of 37 find specimens of that animal once so numerous, now nearly extinct, is an important collection. Early in 1897, wholesale slaughter of the buffalo was tending to exterminate the valuable animal. Mr. Conrad commenced to collect as many good specimens as possible, and resolved to start a ranch in Montana. The first stock there belonged to some Indians who crossed the Rocky Mountains into Flathead Valley, with half a dozen buffalo claves, which in twenty years increased to a herd of over 150. When the Indian chief died some years ago, Mr. Conrad purchased of the widow her share of the herd, and placed them on his ranch south of Kalispell. He now has 37 in a two hundred acre field and has been offered large sums by the managers of Zoological gardens, either for his herd as a whole, or for one or more of his thirty-seven, but instead of parting with any, Mr. Conrad is on the lookout for new specimens. The best care is given the animals and they appear contented. However, buffalo raised in captivity, Mr. Conrad says, fail to develop as finely as in their wild state, and although they may not seem to droop or to pine for the freedom of the plains if they are given a fairly extensive stretch of country over which to roam, still the restrictions of civilization leave their marks upon the animals accustomed for centuries to unlimited freedom. The most striking difference is in the body between the hips and the shoulders. The animals raised in captivity display a shortness of body and a lack of muscle which but poorly resemble the splendid proportions of their ancestors.

The wildest and probably the largest herd of buffalo on the American continent is that which roams at will through the vast expanse of territory, the Yellowstone National Park, in Wyoming, much of which is rarely ever visited by man.

This herd, once so numerous, has been sadly decreased in number until now it is not thought that it numbers more than fifty. They range in the remote corners of the park, where no one but scouts and poachers see them, and it is, of course, impossible to keep accurate count of them. On rare occasions, however, the herd wander down the road, which outside of the hotels is the only thing in the great wonderland not made by nature. On one occasion in the season of 1890, the herd emerged from the woods on a hillside not far from the Lower Geyser Basin, and becoming alarmed at a stage coach, which happened along, dashed down the hillside, scaring the horses, which overturned the coach.

This herd of buffalo formerly ranged mostly in Hayden Valley, and a few years ago a huge corral was constructed there and hay cut and stacked in the hope that some of them might become corralled and become somewhat domesticated, but the experiment utterly failed. Very few buffalo were even seen, but the elks, which are very plentiful in the very wide domain of the park reaped a rich harvest and devoured all the hay.

Statesman and Gambler.

Charles James Fox, the English statesman, was even more notorious in the gaming world than he was famous in the world of politics. He had squandered $250,000 before coming of age. He became one of the most profligate gamesters of the vicious days in which he lived. Some of his finest displays in debate were sandwiched between excitement such as would unnerve most men who had no serious business on hand. Walpole has given a glimpse of a typical passage in this extraordinary man's life. He had to take part in the discussion on the thirty-nine articles in parliament on a certain Thursday. He had sat up playing hazard from Tuesday evening until 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. An hour before he had recovered $60,000 that he had lost and by dinner time, which was 5 o'clock, ended losing $55,000. On Thursday he spoke in the debate, went to dinner at past 11 at night; thence to a club, where he drank till 7 the next morning; thence to a gambling house, where he won $30,000, and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon he set out on a journey to Newmarket.

Johnson's Peculiarities.

Dr. Johnson was a eulogist of London, and it was down Fleet street that he took his daily walk, which, owing to the series of tasks he made compulsory on himself, was a really curious performance. First every post required to be touched as he passed it; next it was a point of honor to step exactly in the middle of each paving slab, and, lastly, as he approached his destination a series of graduated strides had to be employed in order to reach the door with one particular foot.

Although the medicine business should, above all, be carried on with the utmost conscientiousness and sense of responsibility, the unfortunate fact is that in no other is there so much humbug and deception. The anxieties of the sick and their relatives are traded upon in the most shameful manner; impossible cures are promised; many preparations are absolutely worthless, and some are positively dangerous to health.

As a consequence, all proprietary remedies are regarded with suspicion by many people, and the good suffer for the bad.

STRATHCONA'S LIFE.

A Biography of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, written by Mr. Beckles Willson, has just been published. In reviewing it, The London Telegraph says. During the reign of Queen Victoria, the greatest additions to the Empire were Rhodesia and the Canadian Pacific Railway — the latter by bringing the great Canadian Northwest in touch with the rest of the world. As "Foreword" to Lord Strathcona; the Story of his Life," by Beckles Willson, the Duke of Argyll writes. "I do not think there is any other civilian now alive who has been able to do so much practical good to the Empire before filling an official position," and Sir Charles Tupper has said. "The Canadian Pacific Railway would have no existence to-day, had it not been for the indomitable pluck, energy and determination of Sir Donald Smith" (now Lord Strathcona). As the story of a pacific Empire-builder the work comes opportunely.

The career of Donald Alexander Smith, born eighty-two years ago, in Morayshire, divides itself mainly into these periods: Eighteen years at home in Scotland, thirty years in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company in Canada, a special commissionership in the first Riel Rebellion, membership of the Dominion Parliament, construction of the great Canadian Railway, and life in England as High Commissioner for Canada. The first thirteen years of Donald Smith's service under the Hudson's Bay Company was in the inhospitable wilds of Labrador. It is impossible to comprehend how a man of the energy and character of Lord Strathcona endured that exile from civilization. It was a hard apprenticeship. He broke down once with an affection of the eyes, and this is how he was received when he came to Montreal for treatment. Sir George Simpson, the governor of the company, asked: "Well, young man, why are you not at your post?" "My—my eyes, sir," faltered Mr. Smith, pointing to his blue goggles; "they got so very bad. I've come to see a doctor." "And who gave you permission to leave your post?" thundered the Governor. As it would have taken a full year to have obtained official consent to his journey, Mr. Smith was forced to reply: "No one." "Then, sir," said the fur-trade autocrat, "if it's a question between your eyes and your service in the Hudson's Bay Company, you'll take my advice and return this instant to your post." And he did; the future peer there and then "commenced a painful return journey of nearly a thousand miles to the scene of his dreary duties."

But Donald Smith was a successful trader, and he himself in the end became Chief Factor of his company, and was filling this office when the Red River rebellion under Riel broke out. It arose solely from the purchase of Hudson's Bay territories in the Northwest by the Dominion Government. As Government Commissioner and agent of the company he saved the province from a racial war between the French half-breeds and the English settlers, and it was in pursuit of his recommendation that Colonel Garnet (now Lord) Wolseley was sent on the Red River expedition in 1870, which without bloodshed squashed the revolt. It is of interest here to recall that two young officers who took part in that excellently organized movement were Capt. (now Sir) Redvers Buller and Lieut. (now General Sir William) Butler.

Lord Strathcona saw at once that for that fertile province of Manitoba and the great territories beyond to be opened up, and for the Pacific region to be welded into the Dominion, a trans-continental railway must be constructed. It is pleasant to succeed where all the authorities have predicted failure. The first step towards the main end in view was the purchase of a bankrupt undertaking, the St. Paul and Pacific, a Minnesota line, with a branch to Pembina, in Manitoba, built mainly with capital raised in Amsterdam. Mr. Donald Smith associated himself with Mr. James J. Hill, the American railway magnate and bought up the bankrupt stock. Very few people either grasped the plans of Lord Strathcona at the time or believed in their practicability. A Parliamentary colleague said to him in the dark days: "Well, Mr. Smith, your constituency seems fated in the matter of railways. The Canadian Pacific is shelved for another generation, and no capitalist will ever touch that Yankee railway to the south of you. Those Dutchmen would do well to come over and sell those rails for old junk." Mr. Smith smiled. "That railway isn't dead," he said. "A traveler isn't dead when he sits down by the wayside to rest, and you and I, my friend, will be riding on the Canadian Pacific within ten years." The prediction was fulfilled almost to the letter.

Two men believed in the great project; they were Mr. Donald Smith and a relative of his, Mr. Stephen (now Lord Mount Stephen), then a director of the Bank of Montreal. They became the heads of a syndicate for executing the contract, and "were both obliged to pledge their private fortunes to prevent the work from ceasing."

The meetings of the Canadian Pacific Railway directors were sometimes amusing in those days. "The board of what is now the greatest railway in the world used to meet and discuss the tightness of the money market with very blank faces. During one of these conferences, Mr Smith is said to have entered briskly. When made aware of the situation he instantly moved an adjournment, 'It is clear we want money,' he remarked, dryly. 'We can't raise it among ourselves. Let us come back to-morrow, and report progress.'" When the board met on the following day the members had each the same story of failure to tell, until it came to Mr. Smith's turn. 'I have raised another million,' he said, slowly. 'It will carry us for a bit.' When it is spent we will raise more.'" At last on November 7, 1885—five and a half years before the time allowed by the terms of the charter—the great line was finished, and at a little halting place called Craigellachie, in British Columbia, Mr. Donald A. Smith lifted a hammer and drove in the last spike of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Before nightfall of that eventful day Queen Victoria sent a telegram to the Governor-General, Lord Lansdowne, now our Foreign Secretary, congratulating the Canadian people on this national achievement, which her Majesty regarded as "of great importance to the whole British Empire."

Very commonly it has been surmised by those who knew the great wealth of Lord Strathcona that it was acquired to some extent from this vast undertaking. He has contradicted his supposition. "I have heard," he said to the author of the present volume, "that people speak of the fortune I have gained out of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Let me tell you I should have been hundreds of thousands of pounds in pocket if I had never had anything to do with the enterprise." Next year he was created K.C.M.G., and in 1896 elevated to the peerage, as Baron Strathcona, the barony following almost immediately on his becoming High Commissioners for the Dominion in London. Mr. George Stephen, his relative, had been created Baron Mount-Stephen in 1891.

During the South African war Lord Strathcona equipped and transported to Africa, at his own cost, a Canadian force of nearly 600 mounted men. They were called Strathcona's Horse, and were known among the enemy as the "English Boers." Without being a set biography, this story of the life of one of the most successful of Empire-makers of the nineteenth century to an extremely readable volume. It tells graphically a story well worth the telling.

SALMON IN THOUSANDS.

An Idea of the Great Fish Industry and What It Means.

At last the great rush of salmon has begun, says The Vancouver World of the 11th August. Sunday night the first large catch of the season was taken, and last night, the boats were loaded to the gunwales with the silvery salmon. Reports from the fishing grounds this morning are pleasing alike to both cannerymen and fishermen. The boats will not arrive at the canneries until this afternoon, being delayed by wind and tide, but the cannery companies' offices in this city received word this morning that fish were numerous. In one boat there were over 800, and others had similar numbers, while some even went over that high limit. The canneries have been ready for some days to handle the pack. Every available boat will be sent out, and from now on the scenes of the industry will be busy activity. News from the north says:

"The fishing is rapidly nearing the end of the Skeena and River's Inlet, but the canneries all expected to fill up. Some of the fishermen have already started south for the Fraser, about 20 from the Skeena went south on the last steamer. Humpbacks had started to run on River's Inlet, and the canners were beginning to accept them from fishermen, together with sockeyes. The pack of Inverness amounted to 12,000 cases; North Pacific had 17,000; British American 17,000; Aberdeen, 14,000; Balmoral, 9,000; Peter Herman's, 10,000; carlisle, 11,000; Claxton, 11,000; Standard, 9,000; Mill Bay, 8,500, and Naas harbor the same, making a total of 17,000 cases for the two Naas river canneries. Princess Royal was reported to have 15,000; Lowe Inlet had 4,000; and at Alert Bay the pack was small. On River's Inlet the Brunswick cannery had 14,000; Good Hope, 12,000; Wannock, 10,000; Wadham's, 16,000; and River's Inlet, 12,000. On Friday the fishermen of the Alert Bay cannery took 2,600 sockeyes in the Nimpkish river in one haul of their seine nets."

Canadians Should Stay at Home.

The industrial condition of the United States is not what it was twenty or even ten years ago. In those days there were ample opportunities for all who wanted work. At the present time nearly all branches of business are centralized, the great trusts are in control, labor-saving machinery has displaced hand work, wages have been cut down, and thousands of men and women are now walking the streets of the great cities, who would, if they could, eagerly embrace the opportunity to earn a few dollars a week to keep the wolf from the door. The enormous immigration from Europe, especially from the southern part, has glutted the labor market and been a powerful factor in lowering wages. From Italy alone about 1,500 immigrants are arriving every week at the port of Boston, while probably double that number land at New York, Philadelphia, and southern coast cities. These people can live in luxury on wages that would drive an American to the poorhouse. The supply of laborers is therefore greater than the demand and much distress consequently exists. My advice to the young men and women of Canada is: Stay at home! Their opportunities are better there at the present time than they are here.—President Upham of Boston, Mass., Canadian Club.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress F. J. The Student's Prayer.

There was long ago a divinity hall presided over by a most amiable and dignified professor. On certain days the senior students opened the proceedings of the day with prayer. One morning a raw youth from a remote region performed this duty, and it was a memorable occasion. None who were present can forget how the venerable professor turned and gazed on the untutored lad, who prayed for him as follows: "Lord, have mercy on our professor, for he is weak and ignorant. Strengthen his feeble hands, confirm his tottering knees, and grant that he may go out and in before us like the he goat before the flock."—"Twenty-five Years of St. Andrews."

What Carlyle Wrote of Tennyson.

Tennyson in his prime was thus described by Thomas Carlyle to Ralph Waldo Emerson on Aug. 5, 1844: "One of the finest looking men in the world. A great shock of rough, dusty dark hair; bright, laughing, hazel eyes; massive aquiline face—most massive, yet most delicate, of sallow brown complexion, almost Indian looking; clothes cynically loose, free and easy; smokes infinite tobacco. His voice is musically metallic, fit for loud laughter and piercing wail and all that may lie between; speech and speculation free and plenteous. I do not meet in these late decades such company over a pipe."

When the Cat Was Sacred.

In the middle ages brute animals formed as prominent a part in the devotional ceremonies of the time as they had in the old religion of Egypt. The cat Ælurus was embalmed after death and buried in the city of Bubastis because, according to Herodotus, Diana Bubastis, the chief diety of the place, was said to have transformed herself into a cat when the gods fled into Egypt.

Watch Owner's Pride.

"Then you do not regard him as trustworthy?"

"I should not go so far as to say he is not trustworthy, but he is the kind of man who will set his watch at 11:30 o'clock and then call your attention to the manner in which it keeps time when the 12 o'clock whistle blows."

Spoiled a Deed of Heroism.

"Uncle," said little Johnny, "tell me how you charged with your war horse up the San Juan hill at the head of your troops."

"Well," said the battle scarred veteran, "I mounted the fiery animal, drew my sword from its scabbard, rose in my stirrups, cried, 'Forward!' and sank the spurs deep in the quivering flanks of my gallant steed."

"Yes!" exclaimed the boy breathlessly. "Go on, uncle. Tell me the rest of it."

"There isn't any more to tell, Johnny," said his uncle, with a pensive sigh. "The horse balked."—Chicago Tribune.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Robt. Davidson.

Death came peacefully to Mrs. Robt. Davidson on Monday night, Sept. 8th, at 11,15 o'clock.

The sad occurrence came as a shock to her family and relatives at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Andrew J. Hall, Smith, where she had been enjoying a short visit, and has caused the deepest regret in the community where she lived, and where she was known to every one and most beloved and esteemed.

Mrs. Davidson had been in her usual health until Tuesday, Sept. 2nd, when she was taken with paralysis of the throat, causing death.

The late Mrs. Davidson, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Harvey, was the daughter of the late John Harvey, of Smith, and a sister of the late Dr. Harvey, of Peterborough. She was seventy-three years of age at the time of her death and was married to Mr. Davidson fifty years ago last Thursday, Sept. 4th. Besides her husband the deceased leaves five children, two sons and three daughters to cherish her memory. Her children are as follows: Mr. John A., Mrs. A. J. Hall, Mrs. J. J. Brealey, Miss Ada, and Mrs. Robt. W. F. E.

The deceased lady was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, and one whose kind deeds will live after her. She will be deeply and sincerely mourned.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 p.m. on Thursday, from the residence of Mr. A. J. Hall, Smith.

"HAUNTS OF FISH AND GAME"

This is the title of an artistic little book just issued by the Grand Trunk Publicity Department, in which the sportsman, the angler, the tourist, and those who are seeking for health and alert for pleasure, may find information that will guide them in the choice of a rendezvous for the gratification of their tastes or the exercise of their skill. It tells of the charms of Diamond Lake, the Ontario Highlands, the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence River, the Rideau River and Lakes and Lake St. John. An interesting account is given of the successful experiment made by the Grand Trunk and the Ontario Government to replenish the waters of the northern lakes by transplanting parent bass. In all some 10,000 small mouth bass were transplanted from Lake Erie and distributed where needed. The cover of this brochure will at once strike the eye of the sportsman, for it shows the deer as it becomes the mark for the hunter's rifle.

very kindly placed at our disposal the drill shed of the 57th Regiment, for practices after night, an accommodation which I am sure was much appreciated by the members of the team and the Club in general. The use of the Y.M.C.A. in which we have held our executive meetings and the use of a dressing room, the use of the Nicholls Oval and the support given us by the press of the town might be referred to.

The duties of Secretary-Treasurer have to a great extent been lightened by the frequent executive meetings, the harmony that prevailed amongst the officers of the Club and the hearty co-operation of all for the success of our organization. However, I am particularly indebted to my able assistant Mr. H. Rush who relieved me of a vast amount of work.

It has been our object to keep the game in Peterborough free from professionalism and in every way strictly in conformity to the rules of the governing body with which we are affiliated. Let this be our aim in the future as well and let us exert every effort next year to again land the Canadian and Ontario Championships of the Intermediate series.

The finances I deal with elsewhere.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. CLARRY,
Secretary-Treasurer.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The report of the treasurer was also read again for the benefit of those present. It was as follows;

The finances of the Peterborough Rugby Club are in a rather uncertain state at the present time. There is in the hands of the treasurer the sum of 46 cents. There are outstanding accounts to the extent of $34, leaving a deficit of $33.54. Against this there is a probability of our getting $50 from London, and $10 from Toronto, which that club owes us by reason of their default. This would leave the finances of the club in a healthy condition. We started the season with a debt of about $14 owing from last season, so that even if we should not realize the $50 from London, and the $10 from Toronto, we have pretty nearly held our own, notwithstanding meeting with adverse circumstances.

About $494.00 passed through the hands of the treasurer this season, the receipts totalling that amount, and the expenses amounting to $493.94. Our travelling expenses were exceptionally heavy, but the sum of $88.70 was realized from the dance which helped us out considerably. There were 87 one dollar, 2 two dollars, 3 five dollars, and one three dollar subscriptions.

E. S. CLARRY,
Treasurer.

However, since the above report was presented, the finances have assumed a more healthy condition, and the club starts the season with a balance on the right side.

The chairman and Mr. Kenner both made brief remarks concerning the splendid financial condition the club is in at the present time.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Patrons and Patronesses — His Worship Mayor Denne and Mrs. Denne, Dr. and Mrs. Bradd, Mr. and Mrs. John Crane.

Hon. President — T. A. S. Hay.
President — Hal. B. Burnham.
1st Vice-President — W. Crowley.
2nd Vice-President — Dr. Wightman.
Manager—H. R. H. Kenner.
Secretary-Treasurer — E. S. Clarry.
Assistant Secretary-Treasurer — H. Rush.

Managing Committee — Messrs. A. J. McClellan, Joe Picard, H. Armstrong and Frank Bradburn.

Team Committee — Messrs. Hal. Burnham, Ed. Dillon, and C. G. Graham.

Mr. A. W. McPherson, the representative of the local club to the annual meeting of the O.R.F.U., gave a report of what had been done by that body since he became a member thereof. He explained the effect the abolition of the age limit would have on the game throughout the province, which he contended would be most beneficial. Peterborough had been asked by the Union to place a team in the Senior Series, but he thought this entirely impracticable as the expense would be much greater than if they were to stay in the Intermediate Series.

Mr. Kenner explained to the meeting, and he thought that it should be impressed upon the public through the local press, that the idea of the abolition of the age limit in the Junior Series, emanated from, was persistently advocated by, and carried into effect through the efforts of the local club. There was no doubt in the least that the game of Rugby would be much benefitted by the change.

The chairman announced to the meeting that Peterborough's representative to the O.R.F.U., Mr. McPherson, had been elected a member of the Council.

Mr. Hal. Burnham, the newly-elected president, who was last year's captain of the team,, informed the gathering that at a meeting of the Senior Team last year, Mr. McPherson had been elected Captain.

Mr. Kenner moved a vote of thanks to the retiring officers of the club, the retiring patrons and patronesses, the press for its liberal support, and Mr. Graham, for the use of the Oriental parlours.

ASHBURNHAM PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Miss Clara Adams, of the Entrance Class of the Ashburnham school, was also successful at the recent Entrance Examinations, but owing to a clerical error her name did not appear in the list first published. This makes a total of thirteen successful pupils from Ashburnham public school, out of 16 who wrote, or 81 per cent., a very credible showing indeed. These thirteen pupils, together with the Principal, Mr M. W. Matchett, are to be congratulated upon their success. The school this year has passed the largest number of pupils, and also taken the highest percentage in its history.

Mr. Matchett severs his connection with the school at the end of September. We understand he has secured a good position with Mr. W. H. Hill, Manager for Central Ontario, for the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, and enters on his new duties on October 1st.

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD.

Buying was Very Slow This Morning.

9 15-16 WAS THE TOP PRICE.

A Number of Factories did not Sell—The Board Adjourned for one Week.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held on Wednesday morning, when 6,031 boxes were boarded, and 9 15-16 was the top price paid. Only a few factories, however, were fortunate enough to sell their cheese at such a figure and 9 7-8 and 9 13-16 cents were the prices at which most of the cheese sold.

The bidding opened at 9 1-4 by Mr. Whitton, followed with a bid of 9 3-8 by Mr. Rollins, and 9 1-2 by Mr. Wrighton. The bidding rose to 9 15-16 cents. He called Ormonde, Melrose Abbey, Westwood, Villiers and Norwood; all accepted.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered 9 7-8c., but Mr. Bailey brought the price up to 9 15-16c. again. Mr. Bailey carried off Percy, Dartford, Shamrock, and Cavanville. He offered 9 7-8 for further selections and called Indian River, Mount Pleasant, Otonabee Union, Peterborough and Bensfort; all accepted.

At 9 7-8 Mr. Fitzgerald called Keene, Myrtle and Fraserville; all accepted. At the same figure Mr. Wrighton took Warsaw, Shearer, and Central Smith.

At 9 13-16 Mr. Fitzgerald called his further selections, Lang, Fleetwood, Trewern, Lakefield, Buckhorn, East Emily and North Smith, all of which refused.

Mr. Rollins at 9 13-16 tried his luck, but none of the factories would sell at that figure. Mr. Bailey made an offer at the same price but could get no sellers.

Brickley sold to Mr. Bailey at 9 7-8. Ballyduff sold to Mr. Kerr at 9 3-4, Montreal inspection.

Mr. Kerr bought Missing Link at 9 13-16 cents.

A sort of deadlock existed between the buyers and salesmen; 9 13-16 was the highest the buyers would go for the remaining factories, but the salesmen held out. Finally the Board adjourned for two weeks.

A PRESENTATION.

The annual meeting of the W. M. S. of the George street church, was held on Tuesday afternoon, September 9, in the church parlour. The regular routine of business was proceeded with, followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year, as follows;

Pres. — Mrs. H. B. Meharry.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. Carlisle.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Robt. Mann.
Rec.-Sec.—Mrs. J. B. Pentland.
Cor.-Sec.—Mrs. M. A. Turner.
Treas.—Miss Meharry.
Organist—Mrs. J. Craig.

Mrs. Dr. Fife then arose and in a few well chosen words expressed the deep sorrow felt in the loss of their retiring president, who for so many years had acceptably filled the position, and on behalf of the Auxiliary presented her with a life membership certificate.

Mrs. Kendry, who was completely taken by surprise replied in a few feeling words, expressing her deep sorrow at severing her connection with this Auxiliary, and her many warm friends in the church.

The ladies then adjourned to the lecture room where tables were laid for tea, and all enjoyed a very pleasant social hour.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

SPRINTING.

The committee holding the F. S. Schneider Challenge Cup have met and decided to hold the Taylor-McGrath race on the track at the Driving Park at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Sept. 15th. The event will doubtless prove a great drawing card as considerable interest is being manifested in the race. Both men have good reputations as runners, never having been beaten, and as they have been training hard for the last two weeks a fast race is certain. The cup is on exhibition in Mr. F. S. Schneider's window. The race is to be run in heats, the best two out of three winning.

STOCK MARKETS.

Accounting for St. Paul's Rise.

New York, September 9th. — Various reasons have been presented and discussed for the remarkable, continuous and sustained advance in the price of St. Paul shares. Ingenious explanations and theories have been given circulation from time to time. The real reasons have probably been mentioned, but in the many stories it is difficult to fix upon the true one. The main reason for the advance of the stock is its splendid showings of earnings, its magnificent physical condition, and the changes in its territory brought about by increase of population and continuous traffic increase of such a nature as can be declared permanent. One thing is obviously certain, St. Paul must get through to the Pacific coast. The present position of the Atchison and Northern Pacific routes makes this obligatory. It is going to do so in one way or another. It will build on make such alliance of a permanent nature with other lines as will accomplish the object. This is meat in the cocoanut. The latter method will more than probably be the way of accomplishment, as it will be cheaper, quicker and better than to build new lines. It has been suggested that the close affiliation of the Rockefeller-Gould interests, the former so strong in St. Paul, would be the likely way. A combination between the St. Paul and M.O.P. which would carry St. Paul into Kansas City and west, giving it a through line over the Denver and Rio Grande, which is controlled by the Gould interests, would be the result of this. The activities of the Goulds in their march to the Atlantic seaboard would also prove beneficial to St. Paul under such conditions. One thing is certain—St. Paul did not go above 190 upon a possibility of an increase in the dividend rate of seven per cent. They could have taken the guarantee made them by Hill and Morgan. At the instigation of the Standard Oil interests the offer was refused, and the great northern people were compelled to take Burlington, which was their second choice. St. Paul has spent in five years some 36 million dollars upon their road, charging same to operating expenses. We have steadily predicted over 200 for St. Paul, and expect very shortly to see the prediction more than realized.

SENSATIONALLY OPPORTUNE

DRESS GOODS SALE.

To all appearance, there is neither rhyme nor reason in a ruthless reduction in Dress Goods at the beginning of the season. Not every merchant would do so; but the merchant who sees nothing more in merchandising than mere money-making is perhaps a little short-sighted. To inaugurate what there is good reason to believe will be the best season in our history, we commence, on Friday Morning, Sept. 12th, a Sensational Early Sale of

800 YARDS OF DRESS GOODS.

THE LAST DAY OF THE PETERBORO' CENTRAL

Results of the Judging During the Last Two Days.

THE EXHIBIT OF HORSES WAS FINE.

Dr. Bradd's Driver Landed the Bank of Commerce Medal—The Entertainment by the Kilties Band in the Market Hall Was Very Largely Attended.

The exhibition yesterday afternoon developed a very fair attendance, the number of paid admissions indicating a gathering of about 1500 persons. As noted yesterday, the arrival of the famous band of the 48th Highlanders, created a concentration of attention and during the afternoon their fine playing, and the specialties of dancing and vocal choruses, afforded considerable enthusiasm, especially among those of Scotch birth or Scotch descent, whose hearts leaped across the broad Atlantic, and across a chasm of many long years, back to the land of the heather, the home of their childhood, where the drone and squeal of the bagpipes were as familiar to their ears as were the kilt and naked knees to their eyes.

BABY SHOW.

There was fairly brisk competition in the struggle for the $10.00 gold piece donated by Gough Bros. for the healthiest and handsomest baby. There were four cherubs entered and the prize went to the four-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. John McCauley, Ashburnham.

The judging of the really splendid display of horses attracted great attention and excited warm interest. As the several animals were brought prancing and curvetting into the judging ring, they were speedily walled in by eager spectators, and the points and bearing of the animals were eagerly discussed, and impartial judgments, which were not recorded on the judges' books, were pronounced, with the voluble confidence of the amateur critic.

The only speeding event in the afternoon was the "Farmer's Trot," in which horses owned and driven by farmers or farmer's sons were alone eligible. There were several entries, but the contest, except between the two leading horses, was of a rather tame variety. Excitement was, however, infused into the race by the fact of some outsider dropping into the game with some "has been" nag, which, under the inspiration of the noise and cheering, put in a few bursts of speed, which put the regular entries upon their mettle. The race resulted as follows.

1—Milburn Bros.' "Flirt."
2—S. Doyell's "Fred."
3—H. J. Hall's "Nellie."

BANK OF COMMERCE SPECIAL.

Another competition, which excited the attention of the horse-fancying talent, and the lovers of stylish turn-outs, was the contest for the silver medal offered by the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the best gentlemen's driving horse in harness. There were three entries, and with three such equipages as were in the contest the judges had no little difficulty in making their selections. He would be hard to suit indeed who would be inclined to look the gift horse in the mouth, were either of the three presented to him. The judges' award was as follows;

1—Dr. Bradd.
2—Alex. Elliott.
3—Chris. Graham.

THE EVENING ENTERTAINMENT.

The enjoyment of the second day of the exhibition culminated in the closing feature of the day's programme—the splendid concert given in the Market Hall by the picturesque band of the 48th Highlanders, popularly known as the "Kilties Band." The immense seating space of the hall was taxed to its utmost capacity by an audience representing the best social and musical elements of the town, which, if it expected great pleasure, was not disappointed, for the band presented a programme of rare excellence in a manner that won hearty applause. The programme was largely a replica of that given at the grounds in the afternoon, but heard under more favourable conditions. While every number was heartily applauded, especial enthusiasm was accorded the vocal selections, the first, "On Venice Waters," being encored, in response to which a delightfully piquant vocal rendering of "My Love, she's but a Lassie Yet," was given. The Coronation moving pictures were disappointing, some defect in the light preventing satisfactory effects. On the whole the concert was a great success, and the directors are in high glee over the bumper house the public gave the famous "Kilties Band," and moreover the substantial financial results it represented.

LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

The exhibit of horses was the redeeming feature of the exhibition as far as the live stock was concerned. The exhibit was much superior to that of last year, both in numbers and quality, a large number of superior animals being shown. The individual exhibitors were as follows:

Heavy Draught Horses were represented by exhibits by James Lang, geld mare, brood mare and foal, and filly two years old; M D Sullivan, brood mare and foal, colt, filly one year old; Geo. Ward, geld mare, filly, colt three years old, team of horses; R Soulley, filly two years old; John Garbutt & Son, brood mare, and foal and filly foal; Geo. Mullen, colt, two years old; Fowler Bros., colt two years old; T C Sullivan, brood mare and foal and colt; P Leahy, colt one year old, colt two years old and colt three years old; Jas. Dixon, colt two years old.

In Agricultural Horses the exhibitors were—Jas. Laing, colt two years old; H A Mulech, colt of 1902; J Garbutt & Son, brood mare and foal and filly foal; Wm. Mullen, two years filly; James Martin, single horse and span; Fowler Bros., two years filly; Geo. Warden, geld mare; P Leahy, one year old filly and two and three year old colt; C B McAllister, span horses; R Scollie, single horse; W J Pritchard, single horse.

Carriage and Roadster Horses were exhibited by Herbert McMillan, three years colt; Fred Roseborough, single driver; Jos. Rightmyer, three years filly; R S True, three years filly; Wm. Gray, single driver; R Hanbidge, colt three years old and single driver; W B Stewart, two years and one year filly; F E Cline, single driver; W H Snowden, single driver; Wm. Yelland, pony under 14 1-2 hands; John Hanbidge, single driver and three years filly; T J Hetherington, single driver; James Martin, three years filly and single driver; H J Hall, filly three years old, two single drivers; C W Hughan, single driver; S Dyell, two single drivers; Geo. A Gillespie, pair carriage horses under 14 1-2 hands; Wm. Campbell, three years old filly; R Vance & Son, two single drivers; Alex. Elliott, single driver; R Lillico, three years old mare and two single drivers; C B McAllister, single driver; N Nicholls, pair of horses under 15 1-2 hands; W J Pritchard, one year filly; W F Hamblin, two single drivers; W L Smith, geld mare; F Jory, pair horses under 15 1-2 hands, pair of horses over 15 1-2 hands; Milburn, two single drivers; Harry Fowler, single driver and H C Garbutt, pair horses under 15 1-2 hands and pair of roadsters.

CATTLE.

The exhibit of cattle was below the mark in numbers, the entries being considerably fewer than last year and previous years. This was not due to a decrease of stock, but to the fact that farmers were too busy with farm operations to take the time to bring in their exhibits.

The Shorthorn exhibits were made by R Hanbidge, bull one year old; W B Stewart, two one year heifers; W J Bullock, cow of three years and heifer; J Garbutt & Son, bull under one year, two cows and two year heifer; Arnott Bros, bull under one year; Robt Eagleson, three year old bull; G H Simpson, bull under one year; R Lillico, bull under one year and cow.

Grade Cattle — J Rightmyer, heifer calf hand raised; Geo Ward, cow; Arnott Bros, cow; Robt Eagleson, two cows and five heifers; W Stocker, two cows; C B McAllister, cow.

Ayrshires were represented by J Rightmyer, cow; W J Bullock, bull one year old, two cows and four heifers; Anthony Terrill, bull calf and three heifers; C H Curtis, heifer calf.

In Holsteins Andrew Cameron of Westwood, had the field to himself, with bull calf, bull under one year, two cows, two heifers, heifer calf and herd.

Grade dairy cattle were represented by exhibits by S D Rightmyer, cow and two heifers; and Samuel Doyell, bull calf.

In Jerseys the exhibitors were Wm Westlake, heifer; Fred J Macklin, bull three years old, bull one year old, bull calf, four cows, eight heifers and herd; M L Burnham, bull, two cows and six heifers.

There were no entries in Herfords, Galloways, or Aberdeen Angus cattle or "other breeds."

SHEEP.

The exhibitors of sheep were—

Southdowns — Messrs R L Holdsworth, 12 head; he also showed six Oxford Downs, and pen Shropshire Downs were shown by A E Meadows, twelve heads and two pens; C H Curtis, four head, R L Holdsworth & Son, shearling ewe.

Leicesters — John Fairbairn, two head; Allan Bros, thirteen head and two pens. Andrew Cameron, seven head and pen.

SWINE.

There was a small exhibit of swine. The principal exhibitors were John Fairbairn, F O Sargent, C H Curtis, Robert Bowles, & Son, Wm Dawson, S D Rightmyer and R Vance & Sons.

POULTRY.

There was a fairly large exhibit of poultry, but not so large as last year, which was exceptionally full. The quality of the birds was, however excellent, and the facilities for showing them a great improvement upon former years.

THIRD DAY—THURSDAY.

Splendid weather greeted the third and closing day of the Central Exhibition. Of course during the morning there was no attendance beyond the officials and the exhibitors, whose presence was necessary. At an early hour the "Kilties' Band" marched down, playing as they went, but as there was no attendance the boys had to be amused instead of amusing. They were, however, amusing for an improvised baseball game was put on in the horse ring and the Kilties had great fun, their costume, except the scarlet upholstering of the nether limbs, resembling that of the Boston Bloomers baseball nine.

In the early afternoon the people began to drift in slowly, very largely composed of school children, a half holiday having been granted to the pupils of the schools.

The judging in the cattle and horses class was continued, and the demonstration of killing and dressing poultry in the orthodox scientific way was repeated

IN THE POULTRY TENT.

This was an interesting operation, and conducted under the large tent which covered the excellent poultry exhibit, attracted a large and interested gathering of farmers and farmer's wives. Mr. A. E. Silverwood, of Lindsay, representing Dundas & Flavelle, who has had extensive experience in, as well as having made a study of, the poultry business,

PRICE OF PROSPERITY.

We Suffer More Than did our Grandfathers Who Fared Less Sumptuously.

This is an age of luxury and self-indulgence.

Prosperity has brought with it a disposition to take it easy and to live well, which has not been productive of the best results, in the physical well-being of the men and women of to-day.

We ride when our grandfathers used to walk. Machinery and inventions have gradually lessened the actual amount of physical work in every department of life. We eat and drink more lavishly and extravagantly than did our ancestors who were content to live on simpler and often coarser foods.

We must pay the penalty for our self-indulgence and it is a fact that tens of thousands are to-day afflicted with diseases which are the direct result of lack of exercise, over-eating, and over-drinking and about which, with their plain living, our grandfathers knew little or nothing.

Perhaps the most common result of all this is Dyspepsia, and a heavy toll indeed is this monster of pain and distress levying on the prosperous high liver of to-day.

But if prosperity has brought with it pains, modern Science has armed humanity with a sure defence against all stomach disorders.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets never fail to instantly relieve and, if used perseveringly according to directions, to permanently cure the most distressing cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, or any other derangement of the digestive organs.

Thousands of the very worst cases have been cured and have testified to the fact that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are an unfailing remedy for Stomach Diseases.

WHAT BOERS WANTED

PLAIN TALK TO THREE GENERALS.

Parliamentary Paper Gives Text of Conference—The List of Subjects Came as a Surprise—A Few Reminders That the Colonial Secretary's South African Visitors Are Not Likely to Forget.

London, Sept. 11.—A Parliamentary paper, issued yesterday morning, gives a full report of the recent conference between Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and the Boer Generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey. Prior to agreeing to the interview which the Boers asked for August 20 the Colonial Secretary requested a list of the subjects which it was desired to discuss, and the Generals forwarded a list of subjects, including the following:

Complete amnesty to the rebels.

A yearly grant to all Boer widows and orphans and maimed burghers.

Equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and courts.

That equal rights with the British be conceded to burghers complying with the terms of surrender, including the right to return to South Africa.

The immediate release of all prisoners of war.

The reinstatement of the officials of the late South African Republics or compensation for their loss of office.

Compensation for all loss occasioned by the British troops by the use, removal, burning or destruction by other means of all private property.

Compensation for the use of the properties of burghers taken by the British authorities.

Payment of the lawful obligations of the late South African Republics, including those incurred during the war.

The recision of the decision to add a portion of the Transvaal to Natal.

Granting an extension of time for the payment of all debts due by the burghers of the late Governments of the South African Republics.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, expressed great surprise at the number and character of the proposals, pointing out that the conditions agreed on at Vereeniging were duly accepted by the burghers and the British Government, and that they could not be reopened, nor could proposals rejected at that time be again discussed.

If the interpretation of the agreement was open to question His Majesty's Government would endeavor to review all doubts.

At the opening of the conference the Boer Generals disclaimed any desire to alter the terms of surrender in any way. On the subject of amnesty to rebels, General Botha expressed disappointment that after the promise given by Lord Kitchener the rebels had not been granted amnesty at the time of King Edward's coronation, in reply to which Mr. Chamberlain promised that the Imperial Government would not hinder any generous intention of the Governments of Natal and Cape Colony in regard to rebels.

As to the return of burghers to South Africa the Colonial Secretary declared it was the Government's intention to retain the right to prevent the return of disloyal persons who had not frankly accepted the terms of peace, instancing former State Secretary Reitz of the Transvaal as a case in point and saying that Mr. Reitz was using language on the continent inconsistent with the declaration he had signed at Vereeniging.

General Botha said he hoped that the "sins of one man would not be visited on others," adding: "If one man says foolish things, let him suffer therefore alone."

Mr. Chamberlain informed the Generals that there was no truth in the report that the Government intended to sell farms belonging to burghers. Regarding some farms sold in the Orange River Colony under the proclamation of August 7, 1901, Mr. Chamberlain promised that the farms bought by the Government would be retransferred to their former owners.

General Botha criticized the composition of the commission appointed to allot the grant of $15,000,000 (for the purpose of assisting burghers and their families to return to their homes and for restocking their farms, etc.) and objected to national scouts serving as commissioners. But Mr. Chamberlain maintained that the Government must be true to those who supported it.

Relative to the transfer to Natal of part of the Transvaal, General Botha said the burghers proposed to trek therefrom. He lived there, but he saw no chance of remaining, the feeling of the British in Natal being so strongly anti-Boer.

On the subject of martial law, Mr. Chamberlain said it would not be continued much longer.

The Colonial Secretary refused to recognize as burghers foreigners who had been naturalized during or just before the war, saying they had been bribed by the resolution of the Volksraad giving them burgher's rights as a reward for taking part in a conflict in which they were not concerned.

General Botha concluded with an appeal for the widows and orphans, and said he considered that the appropriation of $15,000,000 was inadequate.

Replying to this, Mr. Chamberlain compared Great Britain's treatment of the Boers with the treatment of the south by the north after the civil war in America. "I would remind the General," said Mr. Chamberlain, "that we have undertaken already more obligations than have ever before been undertaken under similar circumstances. To take one case in my time: I recollect very well the great civil war in America, and I appeal to that case that stands out as a case in which more than ever before, or indeed ever since, the victor, the conqueror, showed a magnanimous and generous feeling to the conquered. There was good reason for this, because they were brothers of the same race, the same religion, the same in everything. It was a civil war, but even in that case the northern side, that is to say, the victorious side, made no provision whatever, either by way of grant, pension or allowance, to the people who had been wounded, to the side that had been conquered. They gave them their lives and their liberties, and after a period of ten years gave them votes, but did not give them any money compensation. But we have gone a step beyond that, because we have contributed in addition to all our own enormous expenses a very large sum to relieve those who are really destitute in our colonies. We have done more than I think was expected, and we have done all that we can afford to do, and I think it would be undesirable for the Generals to press us any further in this matter, either now or in writing."

Proceeding, Mr. Chamberlain reciprocated the desire expressed by General Botha that they should all live in the future in South Africa. "We want in this country," said the Colonial Secretary, "to forget and forgive, because if you think, as you well may, that you have something to forgive, we also think we have a great deal to forgive. But we want to put all that on one side. The war is over. We each fought as well as we knew how, and now there is peace. All we want is to recognize you as fellow-subjects with ourselves, working, as we shall all work, for the prosperity and liberty of South Africa. How great that liberty is and how soon complete self-government will be extended to South Africa depend entirely on the rapidity with which the old animosities die out."

Mr. Chamberlain concluded with saying that the Government would be glad of the co-operation of men like the Generals, who had loyally accepted the new situation. As they wanted South Africa to be a happy abiding place for all, he felt sure that if the burghers met the British half way they would find them quite as good friends in the future as they had been loyal enemies in the past.

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 24, Concession 3, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., at Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 160 acres choice land, 80 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beach, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold as 1,000 cords hardwood and 2,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would still readily for more than $16,000, and total expense would not exceed $6,000. A man with teams and five or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Wise men will see us quickly about this. Ploughing possession at once.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

WELCOMED TO OTTAWA.

Sir Edmund Barton Champions a Direct Atlantic Cable.

Among those who accompanied Premier Barton from the railway depot to the City Hall, where the address was presented to him, were Sir William Mulock and Hon. R. M. Scott.

In replying to the address, Sir Edmund spoke of the British feeling which everywhere prevailed in Canada. In Ottawa, the feeling in favor of confederation seemed to be more marked than anywhere else.

In regard to confederation in Australia, Premier Barton said that the first day of last year saw the inauguration of the Commonwealth, and yesterday saw the completion of 11 months' struggle over the tariff. Next session they would have to select a capital.

In moving the vote of thanks to the Mayor, Sir Edmund Barton said that the present press cable service was inadequate for Canada, and that, upon completion of the Pacific cable, there should also be a direct cable across the Atlantic.

NEW COLONIAL POLICY.

Newfoundland Cruiser on Voyage to Stop Smuggling.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 10.—E. M. Jackman, Colonial Minister of Finance, will start to-morrow in the colonial cruiser Mona to visit the French shore and arrange for the establishment of customs ports of entry at the stations where the French resort, in the hope that this measure will prevent French smuggling along that coast. This step is a part of the new colonial policy of enforcing the customs laws against the French fishermen on the same lines as they are enforced against local residents.

Missing For Six Weeks.

Leamington, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Wride has disappeared very mysteriously. Six weeks ago she left her baby with one of the neighbors, saying she was going up town. Her husband has a scald on his arm, inflicted, it is alleged, during a quarrel with his wife. The couple have had troubles, and Mrs. Wride according to report, had a right to go elsewhere. The woman's father, Mr. Nop, thinks there might have been foul play, and the husband seems to be very unpopular.

Want Rates Lowered.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—The Grain Exchange will take action to have the rates on the C.P.R. lowered, if possible, to meet those of the Canadian Northern, which are, in some instances, almost two cents lower.

Damage to Apple Crop.

Kingston, Sept. 10.—Tuesday's wind storm played havoc with the apple, pear and plum crops. A Glenburnie farmer stated yesterday that the loss to farmers in his neighborhood would be very heavy.

This Boy was Weak and Languid

Doctor Said He Grew Too Fast—Parents Became Alarmed and Used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food With Splendid Results.

So mild and gentle in action is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that it is peculiarly suited for the use of children. Both boys and girls are under a very severe strain during the time that their systems are developing into manhood and womanhood. The tax on the blood and nerves is frequently too great and some external assistance is necessary. We do not believe that it is possible to secure better treatment at such times than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this belief is backed by the testimony of very many parents, who have seen health restored to their children by means of this great restorative.

Mrs. George F. Brisbin, Lake street, Peterborough, Ont., states;

"One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid, and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long before we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better colour, and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along under this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

KAISER TIRES HIS GUESTS.

Dine Till Midnight and Rise at Dawn to See Manoeuvres.

Frankfort-on-the-Oder, Germany, Sept. 10.—Emperor William's military guests were a tired and rather haggard lot this morning. Prince Albrecht, as the Emperor's representative, entertained all of them at dinner last evening, and it was toward 12 o'clock when the party broke up. The Emperor, having directed that the battle begin at 7 o'clock, and the field of the manoeuvres being quite a distance by rail from Frankfort, the princes and generals had to assemble at the railroad station at 4.30 a.m. to catch the special train. Even then the Emperor was afield before them. Tons of gunpowder were burned to-day. Sixty thousand infantry and two hundred pieces of artillery were in action. Emperor William, Major-General Corbin, Major-General Young, Brigadier-General Wood, Lord Roberts, General French and the other visitors and the numerous staff, in all 100 horsemen, looked on from a hilltop midway between a portion of the hostile lines. On a rim of the horizon to the east flashed 11 batteries of artillery, under whose imaginary shells the infantry of the "Red" army advanced. The scenic effect on the whole, especially of the seemingly limitless number of troops, satisfied the observers, hundreds of whom from far around assembled on the hills. Rabbits and deer, frightened out of their coverts, ran, scared, across the fields.

The "Red" army pushed thru the "Blue's" centre after three hours' brisk work, and the aeronauts sent up a great yellow ball, which was visible for 10 miles around, as a signal that the umpires had ordered a suspension of the engagement.

MANAGER HILL WILL RESIGN.

After 24 Years Father of Industrial Lays Down the Reins.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Yesterday was Live Stock (really Farmers' Day) Day at the Fair, and there was a record-breaking attendance, estimated at from eighty to ninety thousand people.

News that will interest everybody in the Province was the announcement that Mr. H. J. Hill, manager of the Fair for the past 24 years since its inception, would to-day resign because of ill-health, and that the directors would accept his resignation in his interest. He has not been well for several months, and though at present his condition is much improved, yet he considers his resignation the safest thing for his hope of total recovery.

Dr. Bell, the present able and courteous assistant-manager, has been practically appointed manager, but will not assume his duties until this Fair is over.

CONSERVATIVES MEET.

Indulge in Prophecy of Victory and Exclude Globe Reporter.

Toronto, Sept. 11. — The annual meeting of the Ontario Conservative Association was held in The Mail and Empire building yesterday afternoon, about three hundred members being present. The chair was occupied by the President, Mr. J. U. Foy, M.P.P. Mr. Whitney and many others addressed the gathering. The speakers indulged in prophecies and promised themselves a sweeping victory.

It is said that The Globe reporter was refused admission to the meeting, but the paper this morning contained a good report of the meeting all the same.

THE FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.

Thinks It Unjust to Grant Public Money to Private Corporations.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The Farmers' Association met again yesterday morning at The Weekly Sun office, when resolutions were passed without dissent to the effect that it is unjust to grant public money to private and corporate interests on the forms of bonuses and bounties; that property of railroads and other public service corporations should be assessed for the same proportion of value as that of private property owners; that there should be the strictest of public regulation of transportation and that a non-political tribunal should be appointed to fix rates, and that any increase in the tariff is emphatically protested against.

It was decided to have a committee confer with a committee from the Grange to secure co-operation between the two bodies; to have local associations or electoral districts in each county, the organization for which will rest on the Executive Committee of 15 already chosen; to have an annual meeting for election of officers and transaction of business.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee it was resolved to prepare for publication a statement of the origin of the association, and the resolutions adopted which regulate its policy; to hold a meeting at Stayner at a time to be named later; that meetings of the Central Association shall be open for attendance by all members of the farmers' associations, at which each county or riding association shall be entitled to two representatives with authority to vote and speak, and that the executive have power to make full arrangements for the extension of the organization, even to the extent of employing a regular organizer, if found necessary.

Assessment at Face Value.

Brockville, Sept. 11.—The annual session of the Ontario Municipal Association opened here yesterday. His Honor Judge Reynolds presided, and S. H. Kent acted as secretary. After speeches by members a resolution was adopted that face value should be the basis of assessment and all property should be assessed at its face value, including farm land in cities and towns. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Guelph.

London, Sept. 11. — The Absent-Minded Beggars' Hospital which was built at Alton out of the fund collected from the sale of Rudyard Kipling's poem, has been handed over to the War Office. The building, together with the freehold, on which it stands, cost about £80,000.

A FIELD SECRETARY.

Temperance and Moral Reform Before the Conference.

NO NAME HAS BEEN SELECTED.

Next Place of Meeting in 1906 Referred to Conference Special Committee—The Mission Work in Japan—15,000 Japanese Converts or Enquirers—Pastoral Term Made Four Years.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 10. — The Methodist General Conference received the report of the Temperance Committee, which recommended appointment of a minister to devote his entire attention to work of moral reform in this direction. This carried by a large majority. The place of next meeting, in September, 1906, was referred to Conference Special Committee. The names of Montreal and Vancouver were proposed. The recommendation that a committee prepare a special course of study for ministers; to devote all attention to evangelistic work was referred back to the committee.

At the evening session, the delegate from Japan, Rev. John Scott, D. D., who addressed the conference, represented 2675 members of the church in Japan and 24 ordained ministers and a dozen evangelists. Rev. J. Hiraiwa, President Japan Conference, was also introduced, and made a stirring speech. He stated that 15,000 Japanese were converts or enquirers in Methodist Church work.

Rev. Drs. Sutherland and Potts moved motions of appreciation, which were enthusiastically carried.

The committee on itinerary and transfers recommended that the pastoral term be made four years instead of three, as at present. Jos. Tait moved that it be five years. J. J. McLaren moved that it be three years. It was finally decided to make it four years, without restrictions.

AGAINST ARBITRATION.

Operators Who Say There Will Be No End to the Miners' Strike Until Latter Give In.

New York, Sept. 11.—John Markle, the head of the firm of O. B. Markle & Co., the largest of the individual coal operators in the anthracite field yesterday made a statement respecting the proposed arbitration between the employes and the employers. "There will be no arbitration," said Mr. Markle, "and no settlement of the coal strike in any way. We have not forgotten our experiences on a former occasion. Mitchell has become a demigod, and alone is obeyed so that all ordinary and usual means of discipline are practically disregarded."

President Fowler of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad Company said last evening: "The strike will end when the men come back to work of their own accord and on terms on which they worked before the outbreak of the strike. In no other manner can this strike be ended. We will brook no outside interference of whatever nature, political, humanitarian, or of any other origin. When the men go back it will be at the wages and on the conditions obtained last spring. After they have returned we will take up any grievances with our own men. We have posted notices to that effect in the collieries, and that has been our attitude right along."

President Olyphant of the Delaware and Hudson declared also that there would be no interference on the part of Mr. Morgan. Mr. Olyphent said no outside interference would be heeded, and that the strike would continue until the miners grew tired of it and return to work.

COAL MINING RESUMED.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10.—Work was resumed to-day at Brisbine, one of the largest collieries belonging to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company. No information was given out at the collieries as to the extent of the operations begun there, but it was said that a sufficient number of men were at work to enable the company to mine and ship coal. No disturbance attended the resumption of work. The failure of Governor Stone's plan to effect a settlement has put a damper on the hopes of those who were confident that the strike would end by the 15th of September.

Malt Breakfast Food

Is Nourishing and Sustaining.

Medical Authorities Say it is an Unequalled Health Food.

Thousands of really respectable people are quite indifferent to the requirements of the stomach, unless that organ is seriously deranged. Poor breakfast grain foods soon interfere with digestive vigour. When Malt Breakfast Food is regularly used each morning, perfect digestion, bodily energy and happiness will be your reward. There is no insoluble starch in Malt Breakfast Food; every particle is nourishing. The best medical authorities say Malt Breakfast Food is an unequalled health food for young and old.

Hamilton, Sept. 11.—Members of James street Baptist Church have been advised that Rev. Ralph M. Hunt, who has been pastor there for some months temporarily, is dangerously ill at Boston, with brain fever. The messages received indicate little hope of his recovery.

SIGN OF THE GOLDEN HORSESHOE.

BANK ROBBED OF $44,000.

Gold Taken By Person Having Access to Cash Vault.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Several of the morning newspapers to-day mentioned a rumor that the Bank of France has been robbed of an important sum, intimating that it was the work of burglars. The Patrie, this afternoon, published an interview with an official of the bank, who said: "The robbery amounted to $44,000 in gold. It was discovered yesterday, but was kept quiet, on the advice of the police. It was not the work of burglars. The gold was taken in the daytime, evidently by a person or persons having access to the cash vault, but suspicion yet rests on nobody."

The Tobacco Combine.

Windsor, Sept. 11.—The most sensational evidence yet brought out by the Royal Commission of Enquiry into the Tobacco Trade was the production of the form of contract or agreement which the American Tobacco Company required all dealers, both wholesale and retail, to sign before being permitted to handle any of their goods. This evidence was introduced by Mr. O. E. Fleming, counsel for the Ontario tobacco manufacturers. The contract is in two forms, one under the heading of the American Tobacco Company, and dated Montreal, Nov. 1, 1895, and the other by the Empire Tobacco Company, Limited, of Montreal, and without date.

Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

A prompt, satisfactory cure for Cramps, Colic, Indigestion, Heartburn, Biliousness, Sick Stomach and Summer Complaint, is a few drops of Nerviline in a little sweetened water. Nerviline at once relieves pain and suffering, eradicates the cause of the trouble and cures permanently. Polson's Nerviline is the best general purpose remedy for internal pains known; it acts so quickly that no household should be without it. Buy a 25c bottle of Nerviline to-day; its all right.

Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

Opposed to Freighting Subsidy.

London, Sept. 10.—The Hull Chamber of Commerce yesterday unanimously passed a resolution regretting the Government's proposal to subsidize a line of cargo and mail steamers between England and Canada, and expressing a strong opinion that subsidies be confined strictly to a thoroughly efficient mail service. The subsidizing of cargo steamers, the resolution added, would reate a monopoly of a most objectionable character.

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

Farmers' Day.

Toronto, Sept. 10. — Yesterday, Farmers' Day at the Industrial Fair, did not have a record-breaking crowd, owing to the rain. There was a large crowd, however, and the rain did not much interfere with the enjoyment of those present. At the Directors' luncheon Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, Opposition Leader Whitney, ex-Senator Towne, of New York, and Prof Robertson, were the chief speakers of the day.

A Distinguished Visitor.

NEW BRIDGE AT HEELEY FALLS

The Piers to be Built This Month—A Visit From the Engineers.

Campbellford Herald.

The Dominion Government have decided upon building the additional piers at Heeley's Falls, and the work will be proceeded with this week. Engineers paid a visit to Campbellford on Saturday and drove to the Falls to take in the situation and from what we can gather the plans and specifications will be in the hands of the council this week.

It is likely that three piers will be built besides repairs to some of the wooden piers on the north side of the river. It is calculated that the work can be completed by the end of this month, ready for the superstructure, which will be of iron.

A meeting of the Seymour Council was held on Saturday to discuss the situation with the engineers, and another meeting will be held to-morrow for further consideration. Tenders have been invited from bridge builders, and in the event of the work being undertaken immediately a good, substantial structure will span the river at Heeley's Falls before the water freezes. About three weeks time will be required to complete the piers, and the company which undertakes the iron work can put it together ready for the planking in about a month.

It is hoped that no difficulty will present itself to prevent the Seymour Council from having the job completed for traffic this fall.

WEDDING AT ST. LUKE'S.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon the contracting parties being Mr. Robert Cox and Miss Gertie Beagley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Maria Byers, was prettily gowned in a silk organdie over blue, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and chrysanthemums.

Mr. Harry Cox, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony the invited guests drove to the residence of Mrs. Thos. Beagley, where the wedding breakfast was served.

The travelling dress of the bride was of blue corduroy, trimmed with applique, velvet and jet, and she wore a black picture hat, with plumes. The gift of the groom was a beautiful ostrich ruff, and the bridesmaid an opal ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox left on the 5.30 train for Toronto, where they will spend a short holiday before taking up their home in Ashburnham. Unfortunately the grandparents of the bride could not be present, Mrs. Beagley being at Webbwood, where she is at the bedside of her husband, who is in a very critical condition.

A CAVAN WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Martha L. Hunter and Mr. Geo. D. Wallace.

A very pleasing event took place last evening at the residence of Mrs. David Hunter, in Cavan, when her fourth daughter, Miss Martha L., was united in marriage to Mr. George D. Wallace, of Witoskewin, N.W.T.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Johnston, of Millbrook, in the presence of a large number of guests, many of whom came from Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, Millbrook, and Peterborough.

The bride was handsomely costumed in white silk, with garniture of crepon applique. She was assisted by Miss Annie Kennedy of Bobcaygeon, who was gowned in duff-coloured crepon, with trimmings of applique sequins. Little Maggie Swain, a niece, performed the offices of flower girl.

Miss Nellie Swain presided at the organ and played the wedding march. The house was very beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.

The bride was exceptionally fortunate in the magnificent array of presents which she received. The gift of the groom was a sunburst of pearls. After a sumptuous wedding dejeuner had been served, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left to board the evening train at Cavanville, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends.

ANOTHER NEW FRONT.

Mr. Fred A. Clarke's Store has Been Beautifully Fitted up.

To the already noticeable improvements that are building up George street, those of the hat and fur store of Mr. Fred A. Clarke have added not a little and deserve particular mention. The old front has been removed and a box mirror window substituted, while a Luxifer Prism window extends across the front above to the depth of three feet, the whole being brilliantly lighted at night by numbers of coloured electric lights. Within, the store has been entirely remodelled and refitted. Owing to the absence of counters it is large and roomy, while new floors and ceilings, from which are hung the new electric fittings, complete the renovation, and makes the shop a very pretty and attractive place. At the rear the workshop has been enlarged in order to facilitate the handling of fur work.

Mr. Clarke is a young merchant of only two years standing here, and his success is but another example of the reward which comes to energy and application to business principles.

THE LAST DAY OF THE PETERBOROUGH CENTRAL

delivered a continuous lecture instancing the best breeds of fowl to raise for profit, pointing out the superior profit of selling dressed fowl over selling them alive. He also described and illustrated the proper manner of killing a fowl. Seizing the thighs in the left hand and the head in the right, the neck was extended and a sudden, dexterous, but slight jerk, if properly applied, broke the bird's neck, and of course death ensued. The "remains" were then transferred to an expert plucker, who, while the body was still warm and fluttering, removed the feathers in a space of time which one, who did not see the work, would consider impossible. The sight of the struggling and kicking fowl, raised a subdued murmur of remonstance from the ladies present, who seemed to think that the too prompt operation of plucking after the neck breaking operation was cruelty. But as a matter of fact the breaking of the neck destroying the connection between the body and the centre of sensation, the brain, there was no pain felt by the bird, the fluttering being nature's protest against death.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

IMPROVED UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR.

Crowds of farmers lingered around the interesting exhibit of Cream Separators, made by The Vermont Farm Machine Company, of Bellows' Falls, Vt. The representative of the firm, Mr. E. R. Bradley, was kept busily engaged explaining the process of separating the cream from the milk by their improved machine. This separator not only received the highest award at the Pan-American Exposition, held at Buffalo, but the official records show a gain of 25 per cent. in favour of the U.S. Separator in the skim milk test. Other practical tests which it has been subjected to, have demonstrated that it excels in uniformly close skimming. The internal mechanism of the U. S. is such as to guarantee strength and durability, as well as simplicity and convenience. Messrs. Drummond & Duffus are the local agents.

ROY'S PHOTOGRAPHIC DISPLAY.

The people of Peterborough sometimes hardly realize till a favourable opportunity for passing judgment arrives that, as they have in the 57th one of the best bands in Canada, so in Roy the photographic artist, they have one of the best specialists in the Dominion—photographic artist, for his work and the style of it in every particular, represents results that only the artistic temperament and complementary skill could achieve. This space will not permit particularising, but mention might be made of the splendid group pictures, All Saint's choir and Harts' River Heroes, a picture of Peterborough members of the Canadian Mounted Rifles. Very fine examples of enlargements—dignified and true to life were the speaking three-quarter portraits of the late Dr. Fife and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. In coloured work the picture of an over-dressed child showed beautiful treatment of details. Other specimens of coloured work showed that Roy's studio is capable of turning out as fine work of this kind as can be done in Canada. And the straight photographic work possesses similar excellence, as conspicuous for delicate toning, sharp and at the same time soft effects, artistic finish and admirable posing. These qualities were shown in all Roy's work and became especially noticable in the large genre picture of Mr. Sam Price, Otonabee, and in the excellent portraits of wardens, past and present, in their official robes—Messrs. Casement, Fitzgerald and Eastland. Roy's exhibit as a whole was not only pleasant to look upon but also for the assurance it gave, that in his well equipped studio, one can get as good photographic work as any in Canada, and infinitely better than in most establishments of the kind.

TURNER'S TENT DISPLAY.

The show grounds were, as usual, covered with an excellent display of tents erected by our energetic and go-ahead local manufacturers, Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons. Mr. Reg. Turner was in charge. This firm have shown great growth during the past few years, and the necessity for the immediate erection of larger and more commodious premises has been apparent. The large exhibition tent erected at the entrance to the grounds and used as headquarters for the secretary and officers of the association, make a splendid spread of canvas. The size is 80x40, and is specially well adapted for the uses it is put to. Another novel tent show was a large dining or compartment tent in Kakhi American striped duck. It opened up in very inviting shape and presents a handsome appearance. A square white walled tent was shown furnished with easy chairs, tables, cots, camp stove, etc. A pretty lawn tent was also shown in fancy striped duck. The firm also displayed samples of pretty Scotch plaid travelling rugs, knee rugs, rubber rugs, covers, waterproof clothing, grain bags, flags, coal sacks, feed bags, etc. Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons expect to be able to move into their new quarters about the first of next month. With their new factory in operation by electric power and their ware rooms equipped in a thorough and efficient manner, the firm will be able to handle their growing trade much more expeditiously and with greater comfort and satisfaction.

GOUGH BROS.' CREDITABLE EXHIBIT.

In the same prominent corner, inside the Exhibition Building, the enterprising firm of Gough Bros., had a display of clothing, etc., which received the credit of being the most tastefully arranged exhibit they have yet shown at the fair. It was a splendid exposition of the new fall suits, trousers, fancy vests, overcoats, shoes, and other dress accessories for men, youths and boys. The firm added new interest to their customary fair display by the effective overhanging canopy composed of patterns of new fall tweeds, and other cloths for suitings. While men are considering the ordering of their new suit for the season, this display was calculated to help quick decisions. The new garments for autumn wear were shown in better style and better qualities than usual, and the natty dresser of the display had put some extra selling speed behind them by the effective manner in which they were shown. Gough's great fall stocks would take a whole catalogue to describe its full variety and fashionable details. All disappointments will certainly be obviated even in the case of the most fastidious dresser. No "Just sold out" excuses are necessary at Goughs, and their ingenious and artistic fair display was a telling evidence of the mammoth assortments contained in their big retail store on George street, It takes time to learn this big store thoroughly — especially as the store is one that keeps moving. Many a man who buys all his outfit at Goughs, has a wife or daughter perhaps who has not yet discovered the superiority of the stock of fine shoes which is carried by this firm. Their excellence was in evidence in the creditable display made at this fair, along with their clothing. Those who appreciate good values and smart styles in shoes, cannot afford to neglect examining Goughs' boot and shoe department. The new managers, Messrs. Tully and Merrell, are leaving nothing undone towards "making things hum" at Goughs Bros.

TOOK PARIS GREEN TO DIE.

Guelph, Sept. 10.—News reached the city yesterday morning of the attempted suicide of Maggie McArthur, daughter of Gilbert McArthur, second line, Erin. She has been in poor health for some time. She underwent an operation at the General Hospital a few months ago. Monday afternoon one of the boys returning to the house noticed Paris green spilled on the floor. He called to Maggie, but received no answer. The house and barn were searched without avail, and finally the unfortunate young lady was found lying under a lilac tree in the garden. A doctor was summoned. The usual antidotes were administered. This morning Miss McArthur was still alive, and hopes were entertained for her recovery.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

Morgan Said to Have Agreed to Plan to End It.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—The North American this morning says that J. P. Morgan has assented to a plan proposed by Governor Stone of Pennsylvania for ending the coal miners' strike.

Where People Are Killed.

Rome, Sept. 10.—Five persons were killed Monday and ten were wounded in a conflict between troops and strikers at Candela, a small town in the extreme southeastern part of Italy.

KILLED WHILE HUNTING.

Barrie, Ont. Sept. 10.—News has reached here that Frank Rollins of Elmvale met with a fatal accident Monday. He was out shooting, and in order to fasten his belt rested his gun on the ground with the muzzel in his armpit. The trigger evidently got caught in some way, for it was discharged, blowing his left arm and part of his side off, killing him almost instantly. Deceased was the adopted son of Mr. Lent, of Elmvale, and was sixteen years of age.

Methodists Bar Women.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—The Methodist General Conference devoted the entire afternoon to the Memorial Committee's report on whether women shall be admitted to take an active part in conference and district meetings. The vote stood a tie—126 for and 126 against—but, as a two-thirds majority was necessary, the committee's report, favoring women, was lost.

Will Meet Next in Quebec.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Quebec will be the next meeting place of the General Synod three years hence. The Synod decided to adopt the table of degrees of the English prayer-book declaring against marriage with a deceased wife's sister. It was also held that the last census show less Anglicans in Canada than the number claimed by the clergy.

Saved Passenger Station.

Welland, Sept. 10.—At 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning the Grand Trunk freight shed was completely destroyed by fire, together with all of its contents, which consisted of a small quantity of freight and considerable express, the Canadian Express Company having its offices at the depot. The firemen succeeded in saving the passenger station.

The Manitoba Crop.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Thirty per cent. of the crop is yet to be cut. This is on the heavy lands. All the crop on the light lands is cut, and, with the splendid ripening weather, is O. K.

Another Batch of Harvesters.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Another batch of harvesters left the Union Station for the Canadian Northwest yesterday. The number was not nearly as large as expected by the railway officials. It is now thought that all the available men have gone.

HAD LITTLE FAITH.

How a Doubtful Man was Convinced and Restored.

A Story That Illustrates the Advantage of Reading and Being Guided by Newspaper Advertisements.

Lower Windsor, N. B., September 7th.— Special. "I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

This is the declaration of Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, who for a long time was the victim of a very severe case of this painful disease.

Mr. Belyea reads the newspapers and after he had tried plasters and liniments and all kinds of external remedies as well as doctors' treatments, with no good results, he began reading the testimonials of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says—

"This remedy was so highly recommended for kidney trouble, that after reading some testimonials I concluded to try them for a short time, but I must admit that having tried so many things and failed to effect a cure, I had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else could or would help me.

"However, I did not use them long before I found out that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I used to have very bad spells, which of late years became so frequent and so severe that I was almost laid up.

I received more benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills than from any other medicine I have ever used and they certainly made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me so many years."

Mr. Belyea is not the first skeptical man that has been convinced by experience of the medicinal value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

A Reading Man.

I am reminded of a Scotch country gentleman, now dead, who could never comfortably read his morning paper without a lead pencil in his hand. He had a library, which would have been worth a fortune to a journalist or an acrostic solver. Every work of reference from the National Dictionary of Biography, downward, was to be found in it. He could never bear to be a year behind with his Burke or his Dod, and even his Crockford was kept up to date, although he was a strict Presbyterian, and had few dealings with the Established Church across the bairder. Every one of his books was read.

His literary opinions were heterodox, but unabashed. His pencilled scorn for the works of Mr. George Meredith exceeded the bounds of courtesy; his admiration for those of Mr. S. R. Crockett left scarcely a page without an underlined passage. He had written just what he thought of Sir Walter Scott, and a copy of Paradise Lost was annotated as if it had been issued the week before from Messrs. Constable's press at Edinburgh. I had the curiosity to take down from his shelves an early experiment in fiction of my own. Its undergraduate's humor had been carefully weighed, and for the most part, approved, but there was occasional rows of notes of exclamation in the margin and, in one place, a marginal comment, "Oh, this is too much! ! !" At the end of the book was a sort of index of marked pages, with a few words of explanation as to why they had been marked. The whole represented an amount of attention which a very careful reviewer might give it to the important book of the year, and every other book in his library had been similarly treated—From The Speaker.

Ready For the Cable Landing.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 10.— R. E. Peak, engineer of the Pacific Cable Company, and Mr. Lucas, engineer for the Pacific Cable Board, arrived from England last night, and left later for the west coast of the island, where the new Pacific Cable is to land in Canada. The Canada, with the cable for the stretch from here to Fanning Island was reported coming up the straits last night. The laying of the cable will commence as soon as the Coloja has coaled.

THE THREE-QUARTER COAT

An Attempt Is Being Made to Substitute It For the Bolero.

We have had the three-quarter coat for some time in the form of a wrap or dust coat, and now we are going to have it tight fitting and trimmed with braids and strappings. The old fashioned jacket is coming into vogue with the short medium and three-quarter lengths. It is making its appearance in biscuit colored cloth and even in black satin.

Tailors have been trying for a long time to bring in the three-quarter tight fitting coat, but the always becoming Eton and Russian blouse will not be thrown aside without due consideration. Some of the smartest furs for the coming winter are made in the bolero fashion, with the addition of little swallowtails, and these will be a feature of the tailor made frocks as well as the coming mode of furs.

Yachting caps this year are quite charming and no longer resemble a man's headgear. They come in linen serge or the material of your gown, and they are trimmed with a colored scarf, which somewhat softens the outlines.

The simple but effective waist shown is of white taffeta trimmed with beadings and narrow black velvet ribbon.

Adventure With an Angry Eagle.

Frank Begg, of Messrs. Wood, Vallance, Leggatt & Co., the Cordova street hardware firm, had a rather exciting experience at Buccaneer Bay yesterday. On Sunday last, in company with Jack Garden, of Thurlow street, Mr. Begg took in the excursion to Buccaneer Bay, and while strolling about the shore lost a $20 gold piece. He did not learn of his loss until he reached home. Monday morning he left on the Cassiar for the bay to look for his lost gold. After about half an hour's careful search he found the coin, and then proceeded to roam about the place until the arrival of the steamer Comox en route to Vancouver. He was passing through a thicket when suddenly he was startled by a strange noise above him and upon looking up saw an immense eagle swooping down upon him. Mr. Begg picked up a stick and dealt the bird a blow over the head, but it had little or no effect. The eagle came at him again. A second blow made the eagle more wary, but it circled about him for some time. Mr Begg believes that he was near the eagle's nest. He is telling his friends about his experience to-day, and says he would not go through it again even for a $20 gold piece.—Vancouver World.

NEWGATE IS NO MORE

The Theatre of Many Sorrows in Times Gone Bye—Where Many Noted Men Were Punished—Building That Figure in "Barnaby Rudge" to Be Replaced by Business Houses—Made Famous by Dickens.

The work of demolishing Newgate Jail, the historic old prison so long a feature of the city of London has been completed.

The decision to tear down Newgate Prison, which adjoins the Old Bailey was taken a long time ago, but various causes have hindered the beginning of the work.

The prison will not be rebuilt, and the site will be leased for commercial buildings.

Generations to come will wonder where it used to stand when they read about Jack Sheppard's escape from it, when they are conducted by Fielding through the career of Jonathan Wild, when they go with Lord Tom Noddy in "Infoldsby" to witness the execution scenes at it, and when they read of the savage deeds which centred around it at the time of the Gordon riots, as related in "Barnaby Rudge," to say nothing of English history.

The famous "no popery" riots of 1780 form the most striking incident in the history of Newgate Jail, thanks to Dickens' perpetuation of the story in "Barnaby Rudge."

The greater part of the building just razed was 130 years old, but there was a Newgate Jail on the site as early as 1218.

There was not in London a more striking building than this old prison house. The high stone walls, rugged and blackened, and presenting but the merest slits for windows, suggest the many tragedies that have been enacted within them.

The history of the stronghold dates from the reign of King John, and as early as 1423 the masonry was taken down and rebuilt. The author of this work was the then Lord Mayor of London, the famous Sir Richard Whittington—"Dick" Whittington of the story books.

The old building was comparatively small, and it was destroyed by the great fire of 1666, but even before that date its cells had held many men whose names still live in their country's history.

Shakespeare was wont to visit Newgate for purposes of research and other poets knew its lanes and squares. Many men of literary and religious fame were confined in its dungeons. One of its occupants was John Bradford of Manchester, a friend of Ridley. This reformer was sent to Newgate by Bonner, who also incarcerated John Rough.

In the time of Queen Elizabeth objectors to her projected Catholic alliance suffered vengeance in Newgate, among the victims being John Stubbs. Throughout the Stuart dynasty Newgate and the Fleet were utilized as the home of uncompromising Puritans. Out of its walls came the beginning of Puritanism, the commonwealth, and the ultimate downfall of the Stuarts.

Among the poets who were detained there were George Sackville, Earl of Dorset, quoted as "rake and poet," and within a cell at Newgate Wither, the author of the "Vox Vulgi," was confined. Preaching in the public streets led in 1672 to the incarceration of Penn, the founder of Philadelphia, and Titus Oates and Dangerfield were occupants of cells some few years later. The latter died in Newgate.

The state of the prison in those early days was horrible. Vice of every kind flourished, and not till the founding n 1698 of the Christian Knowledge Society was any attempt made to improve the condition of affairs.

Religious and political crimes continued for many years to be the chief causes of detention, and Newgate was also famous as a debtor's jail. Daniel Defoe suffered arrest, fine, pillory, and imprisonment in Newgate for a treatise entitled "The Shortest Way With the Dissenters," and another historical prisoner was Major Bernardi, who was suspected of complicity with Rockwood the plot against King William.

In 1774 the prison inspector made his first calls at the various London jails, and from the days when Howard found his way into Newgate dirt and disorder began to disappear. Later the jail came to exist chiefly for the criminal classes. One of the last persons of note confined in Newgate for an offense purely literary was Sir John, then Mr. Hobhouse. He was sent to prison in 1820 because of his pamphlet called "The Trifling Mistake."

Casts of the heads of the principal criminals were kept in a small anteroom close to the prison entrance. In Newgate the Mannings suffered for the murder of Patrick O'Connor, and later the five Flowery Land pirates underwent capital punishment. Round the precincts also hover the shades of Muller, Lefroy, Milsom, Fowler and Mrs. Dyer, the slayer of infants.

The "condemned cells" were in the oldest part of the prison. There were 15 in all, five on each of the three floors. The cells doors opened into the galleries, lighted by portholes looking into Newgate street, and the cells themselves were vaulted chambers nine feet high, nine feet deep, and six feet broad. A small, doubly-grated window, placed high up, admitted what little light there was. The doors were four inches thick. Escape was impossible.

The prison chapel was plain, with galleries for both sexes. In the days of public execution the murderer was accommodated on the floor below these galleries with a chair placed conspicuously in sight of all, with a coffin at his feet.

Men measure us, by our mistakes; the Master by our motives.

POULTRY POINTERS.

The best eggs are the result of a meat diet.

Use no deformed or weak fowls for breeding and do not keep the same cock more than one season.

A molting hen seldom lays. She cannot be supplying eggs while the strain of growing new feathers is upon her.

A very fat hen seldom lays anything but soft shelled eggs. Apoplexy and egg bound are the result of excessive fat.

Leaves and hay chaff make excellent litter for the floors, and by throwing grain among it fowls are often kept busy scratching.

Keep the fowls away from the barns, stables and carriage houses. In such places they are nuisances; besides they are more comfortable in a place by themselves.

Hens must have carbonate and phosphate of lime for their shells, and these will be found in old plastering, broken oyster shells and bones, with some of the meat and gristle attached.

A Persian Dinner.

A traveler in Persia thus describes a dinner served in the household of a wealthy Persian: "The chief dish consists of a fowl boiled to rags, surrounded by a toothsome mass of rice, hard boiled eggs, fried onions, almonds and raisins. There is a Shiraz wine, clear, golden red liquid that has traveled over the mountain passes on muleback in a huge glass carboy. Among the dessert manna has a conspicuous place. This delicacy is somewhat akin to nougat; it is studded with walnuts and almonds and is jaw sticking to the last degree. Like the mango, it is best eaten in private, for it renders the masticator speechless. It is made of gum that exudes from a tree and is said to be engendered by a worm."

Fertile Cuba.

In Cuba cabbages frequently weigh as much as twenty pounds. All vegetables do well. Radishes may be eaten from fourteen to eighteen days after sowing, lettuce in five weeks after sowing, while corn produces three crops per year. Sweet potatoes are perpetual. The natives dig up the tubers, cut them off and plant the old vines, which produce a new crop in three months. All sorts of fruit, horticultural and greenhouse plants and bulbous stock are also grown.

Dampening His Ardor.

Desperate Suitor—Sir, I have reached that stage where I can no longer live without your daughter.

Heartless Parent—Well, I don't consider suicide a crime, young man, but you mustn't hang around here.

A Paradox.

Belle—What a lovely bulldog!

Nan—I think he's horrid looking.

DON'T GET MORBID.

It Is Not a Difficult Matter to Think Yourself to Death.

Thousands of people actually think themselves to death every year by allowing their minds to dwell on morbid subjects.

As a rule, the thought that kills relates to something the individual dreads more than anything else in the world. There is the germ of fatal thought in ninety-nine persons in every hundred, and the exception is only proof against the thought disease by having been inoculated with the lymph of optimism or philosophy.

The idea that one has some incipient disease in one's system, the thought of financial ruin, that one is getting on in life without improving prospects—any of them or a thousand similar thoughts may carry a healthy man to a premature grave. A melancholy thought that fixes itself upon one's mind needs as much "doctoring" as physical disease. It needs to be eradicated from the mind or it will have just the same result as a neglected disease would have. The thought disease sometimes cures itself after running its course; so does smallpox. But who would settle down to suffer from smallpox and chance recovery, as thousands of foolish persons settle down to let the thought disease, which has attacked them, do its worst?

Every melancholy thought, every morbid notion and every nagging worry should be resisted to the utmost, and the patient should be physicked by cheerful thoughts, of which there is a store in every one's possession, bright companions—cheaper than drugs and pleasanter.

There have occurred scores of dozens of cases where healthy persons have thought themselves into having tumors and cancers—cases which admit of no doubt whatever that the diseases resulted from constant morbid fear. There might possibly be fewer cases of cancer if some great doctors could assure the world that it is not a hereditary disease, but morbid minded persons on hearing that there is cancer in their families generally do the very worst thing they can do under the circumstances—they conceive an awful dread that they will be afflicted with it. They dwell upon the fear constantly, and every trifling ailment which troubles them is at first mistaken for the premonitory symptoms of cancer.

The morbid condition of mind produces a morbid condition of body, and if the disease does happen to be in the system it receives every encouragement to develop.

BASEBALL.

Eastern League Tuesday.

Rain favored Buffalo at Toronto yesterday and they were enabled to leave with an equal division of the short series here. The pennant rivals play their remaining games at home with the same teams as opponents, viz., Jersey City, Providence, Newark and Worcester — just a dozen games exclusive of those postponed, of which Toronto has a few. Buffalo has already played seven more than Toronto, and will scarcely be able to ring in any more extras, and the decision will rest on the result of the 12 games. Toronto can afford to drop two more than Buffalo and still come out on top. Thus, if the Bison team win all except two, Toronto's men can afford to drop four, which would make their final records read:

Club	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Toronto	82	45	.645
Buffalo	86	48	.641

All the games in the Eastern were postponed yesterday owing to rain.

The Game.

"Miss Mamie," began the basso profundo between the anthems, "are you fond of the national game?"

"Well, Mr. Deepvus," replied the blushing young thing, "I think I—er—might like to take a bass."

THE TURF.

Horses are arriving in town already for the races that are to be put on next week under the auspices of the Peterborough Track Association. The different events promise to be very keenly contested and should draw a large attendance.

Sure and sudden is the death that threatens the jockey every time he rides out of the paddock gates, for he carries his life in his hands. Last spring Jockey Booker was killed in a race. He had the mount on Red Knight, and as the colt fell Booker was thrown directly in the path of the horses that were rushing along behind him. One of them kicked him in the temple, and for ten days the boy lay unconscious in the hospital. Then he died. It was only a week or so ago at Saratoga that Jockey Martin, who rides for Julius Fleischmann, had a narrow escape from sudden death. He was thrown in the stretch from Wax Candle's saddle, and apparently was trampled by the rushing field. But on regaining consciousness it was found his only injury was bruised knee.

It is possible to see almost any day at the track little boys in knee breeches who want to be jockeys. Some of them are not 10 years old, yet they are learning the ropes by exercising horses. All of them know the fame and fortune acquired by Tod Sloan, Danny Maher, Lester Reiff, Tommy Burns, Willie Shaw, Otto Wonderly, George Odom and other jockeys known wherever a racehorse puts his head through a bridle. These little fellows, therefore, have fired in them from the first the ambition to ride winners, receive big wages, and if possible to sit in the floral horse-shoe, emblematic of winning a Brooklyn or a Suburban Handicap.

Some of them have influence with which to progress. They may be the sons of trainers or old time jockeys, or they may have brothers who are deeply engaged in the turf game. Others have no influence at all, but possessing real American nerve, push themselves to the front and succeed. But in climbing up the ladder of fame these youngsters find many a broken rung. Stable boys and exercise boys are always needful but there are so many good jockeys working on the big tracks that there are few openings for inexperienced novices. The boys who take the hard knocks, persevere in the face of discouraging obstacles, and care nothing for rebuffs are the ones who generally make their mark, but it requires a great deal of patience sometimes to keep from throwing up the task in disgust.

It is a boy's proudest moment when he is allowed to put on a silk jacket and cap and ride in a race. Recently the Jockey Club recommended to the various racing associations that it would be well to put on races exclusively for apprentices now and then. This action was hailed with intense satisfaction by the little fellows who had been vainly looking for a chance to show their horsemanship. As a result the apprentice races have served to stimulate the interest among the shavers, and now the number of would be jockeys is about double what it used to be.

STOCK MARKETS.

Get Some Copper and Some Sugar.

New York, Sept. 10th. — These two stocks are preparing to wheel into line, become active and advance, and when they fairly start the pace will be rapid. At present writing public holdings of both stocks is extremely small. Heavy cumulative buying of copper has been going on for the past three months, and bearishly inclined articles have appeared regularly every week in the press of the country. Generally they have been put out in the interest of the insiders, in order to deter outsiders from buying the stock, and to enable them to accumulate such stock as they desire, without materially advancing the price. It now looks as if their demands for stocks were about satisfied, and that the movement will from now on develop in rapidity. Last week copper metal rose 1-4c per pound, and the demand for it is more sharp and there is every probability of a further advance.

President White, of the New England Metal Co., and who is an authority, says the present consumption the world over is beyond precedent, and further growth is in sight. The decrease in output is through the higher cost of mining, and disasters and difficulties at various mines will go far towards offsetting the increased productions of such mines as the Greene Shannon South Range. We believe copper will in very short time sell 75, and this fall sell above 90. Some one has been quietly accumulating sugar stock for over a month. It has been fairly held down with everything about it fairly boiling. Sugar, when it starts, will rapidly catch up, through means of the gigantic and quick market it makes when in action. It has been sleeping, and a good advance is shortly before it. It is estimated that the undivided profits of the Sugar Co. on their coffee business for the past year aggregate 15 million dollars.

Buy and Hold Copper and Sugar.

New York, Sept. 10th.—The market continues to present a strong front all along the line, although comparative insignificent and spotty reactions put in their appearance from time to time. They are speedily checked, however, by the demand for stocks, which puts in an appearance each and every time concessions appear. The entire market is still a good purchase. B. & O. was the day's market, rising about three points. L. N. was particularly strong, also as was M.O.P. and the Pacifics. U.S. Steele was absorbed in large blocks at advancing prices, creeping up a full point. The strength of the current market is surprising, even the clique manipulators themselves. It is easier to sell stocks than to purchase them. We are as confidently bullish as ever, and advocate most strongly the bull side of the account. Money closed at six per cent. Sales 1,201,100.

SENSATIONALLY OPPORTUNE

DRESS GOODS SALE.

To all appearance, there is neither rhyme nor reason in a ruthless reduction in Dress Goods at the beginning of the season. Not every merchant would do so; but the merchant who sees nothing more in merchandising than mere money-making is perhaps a little short-sighted. To inaugurate what there is good reason to believe will be the best season in our history, we commence, on Friday Morning, Sept. 12th, a Sensational Early Sale of 800 YARDS OF DRESS GOODS.

These have been picked from our regular stock and consist of Fine Imported Suitings and Dress Goods, the latter embracing Broadcloths, Ladies' Cloths, Box Cloths, Venetian Suitings, Serges, Poplin Cloths and Vigoureaux de Beiges—all high-class fabrics, made in France, Germany and England. Regular selling prices of these goods ranged from 75c to $1.50 per yard. Special Sensational Sale Price only—

55 Cents Per Yard.

Colours are black, brown, fawn, castor, green, navy blue, old rose, and other handsome combinations of colours. This Sale will be continued Friday, Saturday and Monday only, and will begin at eight o'clock each morning. The goods will be laid out on special tables in the centre of the store. This is a boon to lessen the cost of living.

PETERBORO' CENTRAL EXHIBITION CLOSES.

The Concluding Events of This Year's Show.

REFERENCE TO THE RESULTS

The Attendance Not up to the Mark—Sympathizes in This Respect With the Display—Satisfactory Judging of Horses and Stock—The Prize List.

The Central Exhibition for 1902 is a thing of the past, and the outcome of this year's effort has a more or less pertinent relation to its future. The question of the future is one that demands immediate and practical attention. The most enthusiastic and optimistic friend of the Central will not regard this year's exhibition as a success. True the directors by a little ligitimate waggling may square this year's accounts, but, it is the moral effect resulting from the admitted failure of several departments of the exhibition that has to be dealt with. For the deficiency of these department there are several causes given. In the first place the date was unfortunately fixed for more than one reason. It conflicted with the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, a circumstance which prevented many exhibits from being present in Peterborough. Then the date of the exhibition, being nearly a fortnight earlier than other years and the harvest fully two weeks later, found the farmers as busy as possible attending to the gathering in of late crops and fall seeding. Then the changes in the classification of stock, is claimed by some to have had some effect upon in discouraging exhibitors. Then perhaps the management was not quite as energetic as it might have been, for members of the Board living at considerable intervals of distance, there were not perhaps as frequent and full Board meetings as the necessity of the situation demanded. Greater success might be hoped for if the interest of the business men of the town had been more fully enlisted. And the provision of special attractions, would have no doubt procured a a larger attendance of the public, especially from the town. If something could be done to bring the public of the town and county to regard the Central Exhibition in the light that the citizens of Toronto regard their Industrial, one of the most important elements of success would be provided.

THE CLOSING AFTERNOON.

The attendance of the public on the third day was discouragingly small, as was, perhaps, to be expected, for their were not provided special attractions beyond the presence of the "Kilties band" to draw a crowd. There was, of course, the judging of the horses in certain classes. That, however, attracted a most interested gathering of persons, who will always be present when horse-flesh is in evidence. The instructive character of the judging would have been an important object lesson to every owner of a horse. The judge was the officer appointed for that purpose by the Ontario Government, Dr. H. G. Reid, of Georgetown, a veterinary surgeon of wide experience, whose work is familiar to the readers of the Farmers' Advocate, in which Dr. Reid conducts the column devoted to the answering of questions on veterinary subjects submitted by readers of that excellent farm journal. In delivering his judgment Dr. Reid would give his reasons in simple, plain term, clearly pointing out what superior qualities in an animal influencing him in awarding first or other prize, as the case might be. Then he would give a short talk on the points of the unsuccessful exhibits, bringing out the best points of the animal, and the other points, in many cases not affecting the value of the animal, except for the technical purposes of exhibition, and this was done in so kindly and complete a way that the owner of a horse which did not get a prize ticket got a consolation prize in the good character Dr. Reid gave his horse. In many cases owners of horses upon which Dr. Reid had given a friendly criticism, were better pleased than if they had got a red ticket; for the good points of his animal's make-up being brought out in the presence of a hundred or two of horse fanciers, added more dollars to his selling value than half a dozen first prizes would amount to. It is pretty safe to say that horse judging at the Central was never done in a more thorough and satisfactory manner, or in in a manner to give such general satisfaction, to both competitors and spectators.

There was an absence of the special speeding events. They did not fill and consequently there was no contests, except the special prize for the best carriage team driver by owner or owner's son. This brought out four entries, and as speed was one of the prime requisites, there was a little brush around the horse ring, but no unusually rapid pace was developed. The first prize ($15) went to J. H. Garbutt, and the second ($10) to F. Jory.

The game proving rather slow, the sporting element among the directors improvised a speeding event "that brought down the house." A purse of three dollars was offered for competition by members of the "Kilties Band," winner to take two dollars, and second, one. Seven or eight of the Highland laddies lined up for the start. The contestants ran pretty well in a bunch; at one time they might have been covered by a plaid, except one, who missed a note, mistaking a 64th note for a full rest, and he lay down in the middle of the back stretch. As the bunch swung into the home stretch Sandy Tatterson took on the accellerando, and pulled away from the rest, and gained a grand lead, so strong a lead in fact that though he fell when near the finish, he had so much space to spare that he picked himself up, and still showed his heels to his pursuers, passing under the wire a handy winner. Mr. — Clink finished a good second.

During the afternoon the Highlanders discoursed sweet music, and the chicken dressing lectures and demonstration of practical fowl anatomy, conducted by Mr. A. E. Silverwood, were repeated in front of the grand stand.

The exhibits were hurried out, the main building dismantled of its contents, the crowd melted away, and the Central Exhibition for 1902 passed into history.

The judging of the stock was done by expert judges, furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and their work was very satisfactory. Their work was done in a manner to make it of educational value, for with their judgment was given the reasons for the decisions arrived at. Thus the spectators were greater gainers than the prize winners, if they had only received the amount of their prizes, without the valuable information that accompanied them.

The judges were as follows: — On horses, Dr. H. G. Reid, Georgetown; horned cattle, Mr. R. S. Stevenson, Ancaster; sheep and swine, Major G. B. Hood, Guelph, Ont

Opportunities for Improving its Market Value.

Making More Varieties—Views of a Writer Who Has Given the Matter Close Attention.

The following letter, which appeared in the Montreal Gazette on Friday, deals with a matter of much interest to the dairymen of Canada; To the Editor of the Gazette,—

Sir,—Having lived during the past six years in England, and visited most of the principal towns, I found our Canadian cheese was highly appreciated there. Millions of pounds of it were sold and consumed, while my family as well as myself scarcely ever eat it, because other cheese such as Gorgonzola, Gruyere, and Lamembert cheese, were so much more palatable as well as much easier of digestion. The fact of our Canadian cheese being sold there in such large quantities caused me to look closely into the subject. I asked the question, How is this? Why is this dry, hard Canadian cheddar sold in such large quantities? The reply generally was, "Because we make a good profit on it." The traders of Great Britain as well as traders generally, can influence or retard trade as they choose. If an article gives them little trouble and a big profit they will naturally push that article. John Bull is more interested about profits than any other consideration, provided the article dealt in is pure and good of its kind.

CANADIAN CHEESE IS GOOD.

It is good of its kind and should be continued. It suits a certain trade, which is very large, and should be carefully preserved. At the same time there is no reason why the people of the United Kingdom should make so large a profit on cheese at the expense of the farmers of Canada. This is a subject which our farmers need to look into. They are as intelligent men as probably any farmers in the world, and so are the managers of our cheese factories. But they are certainly behind the times in the study of profit making their milk. The hard, dry cheese made under the present system, and which the trade demands, does not yield them the weight which they should get, nor is the cheese as palatable as formerly when it was made differently. Some years ago the average was over one pound of cheese from ten pounds of milk, but now it requires about eleven pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese. Our cheese factories have not kept pace with other Canadian industries and are not up to date as they should be.

I have examined the whey from two cheese factories, one in the eastern townships and one in the Brockville district. In each case there was at least one-quarter of a pound of good casein found in each gallon of whey examined, as well as half a pound of milk sugar to each gallon of whey. This indicated that handling 1,000 gallons of milk a day there was in the whey 250 pounds of cheese a day. This is an enormous loss, and amounts to millions of dollars annually. There is also some 500 pounds of milk sugar a day wasted or fed to the pigs, which sometimes get beastly drunk from the quantity of alchol generated in the whey from so large a percentage of sugar, which causes fermentation. The experts in the cheese business might find some use for this sugar, which is as easily extracted from the whey as the sugar is from the maple sap. If 40,000,000 gallons of milk are made into cheese annually there are 200,000 pounds of sugar thrown away. In fact, one expert in this line told me the other day that the waste products of the dairy business in Canada were of greater value than the total amount the farmers now obtain from thir milk.

Can this waste be pevented? It should. It can be. Yes, and it will be. But it cannot be done suddenly. Our fear is of disturbing the present and very important trade which has been built up on the present system. Let us keep the trade by all means. It is better to have the labouring classes of Great Britain use our hard, dry cheese than to suddenly lose their custom by trying to gain the middle and higher classes with a better cheese before we are prepared to turn it out properly.

THE BEST PLAN TO ADOPT

is that of beginning to make other standard qualities of cheese—such as are demanded in the British market. The Gruyere, the Camembert and the Gorgonzola cheese can easily be made if the proper attention is given to them. The former qualities are more successfully made in Canada and are of excellent quality. The demand for such cheese in London and all over England is large, but the supply comes from France, and other countries on the continent. Canada should begin to supply the English market with these cheese. We should also supply cheddar cheese in smaller sizes. Even here at home it is difficult to get a cheese under 30 lbs. weight. There is a demand for smaller sized cheese, and yet our factory system is such that they are not made to any grat extent for supplying the home trade, let alone the English market where they are in greater demand.

In England the shops are stocked with small sized cheese, which weigh from 1-2 lb. to 10, 15 or 20 lbs., while Canadian cheese of ponderous size may be seen all cut up in chunks which are exposed to the dust and ticketed 6d. or 7d. a lb., awaiting purchasers who are not too fastidious about dust in thir food.

If our farmers would but turn their attention to making cheese at home the same as the peasant farmers of Normandy, Brittany and other parts of France, Germany and other European countries, they might make much more profit out of their milk. But here again should be raised to persuade them to be cautious. They should keep up the supply of milk to the factories, and at the same time begin at home in a small way the manufacture of different kinds of cheese until they become expert at the business, and their products are accepted by the trade. Or they might agree to arrange with the manager of their factory to experiment in the manufacture of the different kinds of cheese, which would yield them a bigger profit. The British market is open for a different cheese from that which Canada now supplies, and it is possible for this country to send double the quantity of cheese to the home market if the quality was equal to the cheese that market now gets from other countries.

In the present system of cheese making there is not only great waste, but some very unsanitary practices which should be avoided. While everything is kept cleanly in our factory and the use of tobacco strictly forbidden there is the practice of breaking up the curd with the hands and arms, which is objectionable. In warm weather the perspiration oozes from the face and arms of the man into the curd. This is not only a waste of energy but an uncleanly practice, which could be easily abolished. And why it is not, is a mystery, as good cheese can be made without this practice. Another very objectionable feature in the manufacture is the high temperature of heat applied to the milk after the extract of rennet is introduced. This practice combined with the raking and trituration employed to produce the acid-reaction is not only injurious to

of the cheese but cause of the great waste experienced. It breaks up the curd into such infinitesimal atoms that it filters away imperceptibly into the whey and is lost. The inspectors, it seems, do not examine the whey except for butter fat. If they examined for casein they would find a large quantity, such as referred to above.

The Agricultural Department of the Government is in a position to bring about such changes as will better the condition of the farmers and improve the dairy industries of the country. Large sums of money are expended in experiments, but very little seems to be done with a view of more profit to the farmers. The curing stations lately built at considerable expense, are at first sight considered a great improvement, but it is very questionable if the farmers are going to reap greater profits by the experiment. The dipping of cheese into vats of hot parafin may be looked upon as an ingenious method of preventing any mould, but it may likewise prove only chimerical. Even if it succeeds, there is the objection to the use of paraffin when a more suitable article is found in a preparation of casein, which is quite as adhesive and more in harmony with an article of diet.

My object in writing this article is to draw more attention to the necessity of improving a great industry, and especially to arouse the farmers' interest in a manner that will be safe. Since the big cheese of 1893 was made the country is liable to think itself the biggest and greatest cheese country in the world. That may be true, bt there is a danger of a big head. It may swell to such an extent that an eruption may take place. The safest course to adopt is to improve on safe, sound lines, and to do so, the hints and suggestions of others besides the experts may be useful.

Suspicious Death at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, Sept. 12.—The suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of Willie Freeman, the 16-year-old adopted son of D. B. Freeman of Aldborough, led the authorities to open an investigation. An inquest was commenced by Coroner Dorland of Rodney, at the home of the boy's parents.

Evidence was given by Charles King and the boy's mother. The former said that he found the deceased in the drive house, sitting on the saddle of a shaving horse, his head dropped on the chair, and his arms hanging loosely at his sides, and a gun lying on the floor.

The inquest was adjourned until next Monday morning.

Girl Babies at a Discount.

London, Sept. 11.—In a despatch from St. Petersburg the correspondent of The Daily Mail relates that the commander of the Cossack station at Wertzschinck, anxious that his district should show a preponderance of males, has ordered that the fathers of every girl baby born in the district shall receive 50 strokes with the knout. Several men, says the correspondent, have already been knouted under this ruling.

MR. TARTE'S REPLY.

The Minister's Answer on Tariff to The Montreal Herald.

AT ONE WITH LIBERAL MAJORITY.

The Minister From Quebec Declares That a Readjustment of the Tariff Is Required, But Not an Increase All Along the Line—No Misunderstanding With His Colleagues.

Montreal, Sept. 12. — Hon. Mr. Tarte's answer to Liberal newspapers, appeared in La Patrie yesterday in the shape of an interview with the Minister of Public Works.

"Let me tell you at once that I do not acknowledge that Mr. Brierly of The Herald has the right to define the policy of the Liberal party. He is free to express the opinions he chooses. He does not any more express the opinions of the Liberal party than he usually expresses the opinions of the City of Montreal. I believe that I know my duty and my responsibility.

"In speaking as I do, and in asking that the tariff be more and more a tariff in the interests of Canada, I am sure that I voice the opinions of the great majority of the country, and the opinions of the Liberal party. Let it be well understood that in all this there is no personal question. For example, my colleague, Mr. Sifton, and myself have never had any misunderstanding, and our relations have always been marked by the greatest cordiality."

"Therefore, you believe that you are in unison with the majority of the Liberal party in advocating a policy of Canada for the Canadians?"

"I have no doubt on this subject, and I cannot understand how it is that a number of Liberal newspapers should express themselves contrary to this policy.

"No person is asking that the tariff be raised all along the line. My belief, and the belief of the Manufacturers' Association, is purely and simply that the tariff of this country should be readjusted on certain points for the greater development of our national industries, so as to create a profitable and permanent market for the agricultural classes, and to cultivate the trade between the different provinces and the different parts of the Empire."

"How do you explain the attitude of The Globe and The Herald?"

"I admit these newspapers are in an entire good faith, but they are edited by men belonging to an old school, which, though respectable, seem not to understand the aspiration of this country."

He asked why we should buy from the United States and Germany, who close their market to us in things we could manufacture here and sell as cheaply if we had a tariff which would permit us to manufacture them?

Mr. Tarte was asked if the Liberal party were not asked to lower the tariff and to discriminate in duties.

"Undoubtedly," he replied, "many things are said in this sense in days gone by. But I formally deny that the present Cabinet ever took any engagements in this sense. The revision of the tariff in 1897 was an elegant proof to the contrary. There were differences at that time like those which exist to-day. Remember that there was hardly any revision of the tariff in 1897. On certain points, even, it was increased against foreign countries."

Mr. Tarte remarked that The Globe, The Herald and The Witness were still unfortunately theorizing, though they should have learned the teachings of the political history of Canada.

Mr. Tarte was asked if he regretted the speeches he had already made. He replied he had nothing to withdraw. He did not believe he had overstepped the limits of the constitution, and he was sure he was in harmony with the thoughts and aspirations of the great majority of the people of Canada.

"Let a meeting of the Liberal party be called, and you will see if The Globe, The Herald and The Witness will command the majority in asking that we allow American, German and other manufacturers to flood our markets with products which we can manufacture in Canada in developing our national industries, increasing our population and giving a market to the agricultural classes."

The public drinking troughs of Ottawa city were all closed Thursday morning by order of the City Engineer, on account of the prevalence of glanders among the horses of the city.

SPEECHES OF BOER GENERALS.

Given a Hearty Welcome at Amsterdam—Gen. Delarey's Explanation of Their Mission—Their Object Is to Collect a Fund For Widows and Orphans—Peace Brought About by the Dutch Premier.

Amsterdam, Sept. 12.—The Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, accompanied by Messrs. Wolmarans, Wessels and Reitz, arrived here yesterday from The Hague and were given a hearty welcome. Replying to an address Gen. Delarey said he and his colleagues did not come here in the character of political personages, but solely to obtain assistance for destitute Boer families.

At the reception of the generals at the town hall Gen. Dewet, in reply to the Burgomaster's speech, said:

"We have come to ask for help for the widows, orphans and other necessitous persons. Upon assistance of this kind from England the Boers cannot count."

The general also remarked: "If England wishes to have the Boer descendants of the Hugenots as 'subjects before God,' I am willing to be a loyal subject before God until the day of God shall come. We wish to be loyal to the new government, hoping that the latter will carry out its engagements."

At a subsequent luncheon Gen Botha declared that peace, which had brought them all they had desired, was due to the mediation of the Dutch Premier, Dr. Kuyper, who had thus rendered service to the Boers.

Gen. Botha also thanked Holland for the manner in which it had welcomed Messrs. Kruger, Steyn and Reitz.

Gen. Botha, speaking again, said: "We have lost our independence and have endeavored to obtain compensation from the new government for our burnt farms. We have every reason to believe no compensation will be forthcoming. Help is absolutely necessary to prevent the ruin of thousands."

Peste Is in a Bad Way.

Constantinople, Sept. 12. — Only one-half of the amount of money required for the payment of salaries, etc., upon the occasion of the Sultan's anniversary, Sept. 8, was obtained from the provinces, and these collections were only made by threats that the provincial tax collectors would lose their positions unless the money was forthcoming. The balance of the sum required was made up by contributions from the fund for military purchases, customs receipts, etc. The money thus taken from the last named sources will interfere with the Porte's payments to the Cramps of Philadelphia and to Herr Krupp of Germany for war material.

Giant Water Spout Seen.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12.—As the steamer City of the Straits was plowing through a violent squall on Lake Huron, Wednesday, about five miles off Kincardine, Ont., there suddenly appeared on the heels of the departing storm cloud a water spout, rising several hundred feet in the air, and so near that it was necessary to crane one's neck to see the whole of it. The spout was wide at the top and curved toward the departing storm, resembling a large fish horn inverted. When complete, the spout was fully a thousand feet high, and water was carried up at a great rate of speed.

Reform Sanitary Conditions.

London, Sept. 12.—Presiding at the sanitary science section of the Sanitary Congress, in session at Manchester, yesterday, Sir Joseph Crichton Browne, M.D., emphasizing the necessity for reforming the sanitary organization of the British army, said enteric fever during the South African war had reduced the fighting force by 70,000 to 80,000 men. But for this the war would have been ended six months earlier, and $300,000,000 to $350,000,000 would have been saved.

AN ELECTRIC MAIL DELIVERY.

Overhead Wire System Invented by an Italian—Experiments to Be Made by His Government—Commission Appointed to Report—Only Twenty-five Minutes From Rome to Naples.

Rome, Sept. 52.—The Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Signor Galimberti, and the leading officials of his department have examined a plan submitted by an engineer named Pisicelli for the establishment of a system of electrical delivery of the mails by which letters are to be transmitted in aluminum boxes along overhead wires at the rate of 248 miles an hour.

A commission has been appointed to report upon this system before instituting experiments between Rome and Naples. Between these two points the inventor claims that he can deliver letters in twenty-five minutes, while the time to send mail from Rome to Paris by this system, Signor Pisicelli says, can be reduced to five hours.

Talks by Hertzian Waves.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Greenleaf W. Pickard of this city has succeeded in telephoning by Hertzian waves, the human voice being accurately and distinctly reproduced. Recently he constructed an instrument at Cape May by which sounds were transmitted by Hertzian waves over a distance of 40 miles, but yesterday was the first instance in which articulation has been reproduced. Officials of the Bell Telephone Company who were invited to witness the test, signed a certificate that it was successful.

Marconi's High Hopes.

Rome, Sept. 12.—Marconi declares he has completely solved the problem of sending wireless messages over a distance of more than 1,500 miles, and that he is confident that communication between Europe and America will be established in the immediate future. He is to visit King Victor Emmanuel at Racconigi, Piedmont, Sept. 14.

WHEAT BEGINNING TO MOVE.

On Wednesday 90,000 Bushels Were Marketed Along C.P.R.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—The temperature yesterday was much warmer than for the previous two days, and indications are for continued warmer weather. Harvesting is finished in Manitoba, and 75 per cent. is completed in the Northwest. Threshing is now in progress, but the scarcity of hands is a serious drawback. About 600 arrived yesterday from eastern points.

Wheat is beginning to move at last. Wednesday 90,000 bushels were marketed at points along the C. P. R. For Sept. 10, of 1901, the C.P.R. reports show that the quantity marketed was 150,000 bushels. The number of cars loaded at C.P.R. stations was about 90.

Questioned in regard to the movement of wheat east, E. A. James, superintendent of transportation, said that every freight train going east during the past few days had cars of new wheat in its make-up. The number passing through the city daily was gradually increasing, and by the end of the week, with favorable weather, the movement should be heavy. The C.P.R. is daily receiving large orders for cars, and it has now upwards of 10,000 in the western section to supply the demands.

PREMIER BARTON CENSURED.

Sir Edmund Has Suddenly Lost Some Popular Esteem.

London, Sept. 12.—Cabling from Sydney, N.S.W., the correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the speech made at Montreal, Que., Sept. 8, by Sir Edmund Barton, Prime Minister of the Federation of Australia, has elicited severe criticism.

Newspapers of Australia, says the correspondent, drew comparisons between the Premier's depreciation of militarism and preferential trade, while he was in England, which ideas were in harmony with the Australian sentiment, and his flamboyant utterances in Canada was, the newspapers say, worthy of Mr. Seddon, Prime Minister of New Zealand.

Sir Edmund Barton has suddenly lost the esteem, concludes the correspondent of The Mail, that he gained by his supposed attitude in London.

Seeing the Capital.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Premier Barton and his party, visited the Chaudiere mills yesterday. Sir William Mulock escorted them. E. B. Eddy's factories were inspected also.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Sept. 12.—United States Government surveyors working in the St. Lawrence River have discovered a large and dangerous shoal, heretofore unknown, near Morristown, in the channel used by the Ogdensburg-Chicago Line boats. It is but 15 feet under water, with 150 feet of water on both sides. Four boats and 35 men are engaged in surveying both the American and Canadian channels.

Advises Farmers to Organize.

London, Sept. 12.—In an address delivered at the Agricultural Show in Pegington yesterday Robert William Hanbury, president of the Board of Agriculture, referred to the depopulation of the rural districts and advised the farmers to organize and make themselves heard in Parliament. Mr. Hanbury said it would be a bad day when England was obliged to depend upon sources across the seas for her food supplies.

40 Guelph Moulders Strike.

Guelph, Sept 12.—The moulders in Crowe's Iron Works struck yesterday morning at 7.15. About forty men are out, and there are only the foreman, C. W. Dawson, and a few apprentices in the establishment. It appears that for over thirteen years the men were working for $2 a day. Last December they asked for an increase of fifty cents a day, which was granted, on making an extra output to correspond. On August 7 they asked for 25 cents more, with no extra output. Charles R. Crowe, the manager, Wednesday for the firm stated that it could not accede to the demand. Yesterday morning the shop committee of the moulders waited on Mr. Crowe, when he gave them the same answer. Then a strike was ordered, by permission of the International Union.

THE RACES.

The fine list of entries for next week's races ensures two days of splendid sport at the Driving Park. The fact that $900.00 in gold (the entire amount of the prize money) is to be paid to the winners from the judges' stand has induced many owners to enter their horses who never came to Peterborough before. The management is in the hands of the best known business men of the town and as a professional starter has been engaged, it is evident that there can be no fault found with the way that the new Turf Club are carrying out the programme.

The fact that a large number of badges are being purchased goes to show that the attendance of ladies will be very large, as each of these two-dollar badges admits a gentleman and party of ladies to all the privileges of the park and grandstand.

The 57th band has been engaged for the two days.

LACROSSE.

There will be two carefully selected teams that will meet in that semi-final contest in Oshawa Saturday. Coppercliff has a man or two from most everywhere that grows lacrosse players, Thomas Barlow, of Markham, who is said to be the kingpin of the home, and Brown and Whitehead, and Kirke, of Brampton, and Bobby Pringle of St. Kitts, and Dunn, of Orillia. Then you'll see Oshawa play its Cornwall quartette, and Barney Quinn and "Cooney" Shields. They don't look exactly like intermediate players, but they'll all be mighty glad to laud that intermediate championship.

Before one of the largest crowds of the year Brantford won the final championship game in the finals of the C.L.A. in Woodstock on Wednesday by a score of 8 goals to 1. The visitors put up a grand exhibition of lacrosse. Their home played a faultless game. The Woodstock Beavers, however, pursued their opponents to the very finish and never once became discouraged. On the home team the defence played a steady aggressive game and proved to be one of thestrongest opponents the Brantfords have encountered this year. Hess in goal provided a phenomenal game, and was ably assisted by the effective work of Brown, Ryder, Clement and Irvine. The home home was weak in spots and this was largely responsible for the loss of the game. Cuthbertson and McLean were the only men on the home who were effective. The Brantfords, on the contrary, had a brilliant home, every man being at his best. Dade, Hendry and Henry figured in the scoring. Hamburg on the defence was the star, but the work of Neely and McBride was good. Several of the visitors were inclined tobe rough and prominent among them was Taylor and Hendry. The former was ruled off by Referee Harry Gillespie twice. Gillespie gave perfect satisfaction and was exceedingly careful to prevent all indications of roughness . Brantford by winning the game receives The Globe shield .

MR. CRANE WAS CANED.

By the Choir of St. Paul's—A Handsome Gift.

The members of the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian church at the conclusion of practice last evening, held a social reunion to which Mr. John Crane, their retiring organist, was invited for the purpose of being presented with a gold-headed cane, accompanied by the following address;

To Mr. John Crane,

Dear Sir, — After a period of over seven years the relations which have existed between us as choir master and choir, have by the vicissitudes which are inseparable from human life, come to an end. While we congratulate you most heartily on your promotion in your chosen field of labour, yet it is needless add that we great regret that it necessitates the severance of the very cordial and harmonious relations which have so long existed between us.

We believe that we have made a record for uninterrupted reciprocal, harmonious responsiveness between choir master and choir which has seldom been equalled, if ever excelled, and of which we all feel justly proud; and we are not saying too much for you when we attribute these satisfactory results very largely to your courteous tact, great energy, enthusiasm and exceptional ability.

We are delighted to know that you still remain amongst us, and that your duties will not oblige you to divorce yourself entirely from the field of music.

Believing that the feelings of regret at our parting are fully reciprocated by you, we have thought you would appreciate some little souvenir of your first choir. We therefore ask you to accept this cane, for that purpose, with the hope that it will be a long time before it becomes a necessity to you, but that in the years to come it may recall pleasant associations and appreciated services, while connected with St. Paul's church choir.

Signed on behalf of the choir,
JESSIE MIEN,
ANNIE CAMERON,
D. H. MOORE.

Peterborough, Sept. 11, 1902.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Robert Mein, the foregoing address being read by Mr. D. H. Moore;

After Mr. Crane had made a suitable acknowledgment of the handsome gift, refreshments were served and a pleasant evening followed.

The cane, which was handsomely engraved, was procured from Mr. A. Gibson.

Mr. Crane is to be congratulated upon the popularity he enjoys with St. Paul's Choir; but it is not confined to that organization, as he is deservedly popular in musical circles generally, where his musical ability and his kind employment of it has won him hosts of fast friends.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.

Attendant on the Death of the Late J. M. Roberts and His Two Sons.

The funeral of the late J. M. Roberts, and his two sons, Kenneth and Edward, which took place on Wednesday, was very largely attended indeed by the residents of Smith Township. Quite a number from town were also present to pay a last tribute of respect. The services at the family residence were conducted by Rev. W. A. Gunton, of the Gilmour Memorial Church, assisted by Rev. Mr .McColl, of Odessa; Rev. Tyndall Lorimer, Rev. Mr. Metzler, of Harvey; Rev. J. Torrie, of Norwood; and Rev. J. G. Potter, of town. The funeral passed through town to the Little Lake Cemetery, and was witnessed by a large concourse of citizens.

Rev. J. Hanna, of the Park street Baptist church, assisted in the service.

STOCK MARKETS.

Those Tractions.

New York, Sept. 11.—Lying quiescent for some months in the share market, which has been steadily advancing, the tractions stocks Met. and B.R.T. now show strong symptoms of preparing for a good advance. One is due them, and a good one also, as they are behind their neighbours in the journey towards upward figures. Stocks that hang fire in an active and advancing market when they finally do start, usually make up for lost time. A careful watching of the Brooklyn Transit crowd upon the New York Exchange by specialists in that stock leads them to the belief that the buying has been far superior to the selling and makes them of the opinion that a good advance is pending. It is their report that the buying has been excellent and disguised as much as possible, and while it has been going on the past week or ten days, efforts to hold the stock down and in check were plainly discernable, this is the proper kind of buying to follow. The B. R. T. report made last week shows good progress. The business of the company is increasing, and will continue to do so. It's neighbour Met. is moving more sluggishly. This is a stock in which it is extremely difficult to pick up any large line with any degree of quickness, consequently the accumulation is more slow. To put in a demand for any great quantity at any one time would send the stock off in the upward direction at a lively pace. Therefore when accumulating the stock the work must be done carefully and slowly. We are given to understand by brokers who constantly stand in this stock between 10 and 3 o'clock that the process of slow accumulation is now under way. This is the forerunner of an advance. We are also very bullish upon Manh. Our special letter of recent date appertaining to that stock sets forth our reasons most exhaustively and entertainingly. If you have not read it it would be advisable for you to send for a copy. Those tractions are bound to have their turn in the natural order of events. It is consequently advisable to purchase them immediately. The whole market looks well. All classes of securities will sell higher. Some of the best opportunities of the present bull market are with us right now. We repeat, buy as many stocks as you can afford to carry.

DELEGATES RETURN TO PETERBOROUGH.

From Attending the Ontario Municipal Association.

Mayor Denne and Town Clerk Armstrong Represented Peterborough—Synopsis of Proceedings.

Mayor Denne and Town Clerk Armstrong have returned from attending the convention of the Ontario Municipal Association in Brockville. They both express themselves as being much pleased with the manner in which the various questions were handled which came up for discussion.

The business transacted is summed up in the appended report by a committee which was appointed for that purpose;

1. That no action be taken on the resolution requiring voters, when election is by general vote, to vote for at least one half of the number of aldermen to be elected.

2. That section 677 of the Municipal Act be amended as far as it applies to municipalities having adopted the local system in respect of sidewalks, pavements, and roadways by striking out the words "a plank sidewalk" in the third line and by inserting in lieu thereof the following words, "a sidewalk, pavement or roadway," and by adding a line after the word "sidewalk" in the 7th line, the words "pavement or sidewalk."

3. That legislation be sought whereby all lands exempt from general or local taxation when sold, leased or otherwise disposed off, shall thereupon become liable to taxation for all rates falling due after such sale, lease or disposition, and thereafter such properties and the owners or lessees thereof shall become liable to taxation to the same extent as if the said property had not previously been exempt, and in the case of general taxes the rate for which such property shall be liable shall be the last struck rate for the taxes in the municipality, and in the case of local taxation the rate shall be the rate fixed by the bylaw for the work or improvement.

4. That no action be taken on the recommendation that when a pavement is worn out and the payments for the same expired and the property owners refuse to have a new pavement laid, that the council may by a two thirds vote on the recommendation of the city engineer order the pavement to be constructed and to charge a frontage tax for the same, or on the recommendation to prohibit expectoration on sidewalks, street cars or public conveyances.

4 1-2. Real property, including farm lands in cities and towns, shall be assessed at its fair value.

5. That in assessing land having buildings thereon, the value of the land and buildings shall be ascertained separately, and the assessment shall be the sum of such values. The value of the buildings shall be the amount by which the value of the land is thereby increased.

6. In case the grade of a street has not been previously established by the municipality, the municipality shall not be liable to damages or otherwise to the owner or lessee of any property adjoining any improvement for having raised or lowered the grade of the street opposite such property.

7. That sub-section 4 of sec. 18, Assessment Amendment Act, 1902, which reads, "save as aforesaid rolling stock, plant and appliances of companies mentioned in sub-sec. 2 hereof, shall not be land within the meaning of the Assessment Act and shall not be assessable," be repealed.

8. That the personal property of incorporated companies other than chartered banks shall be liable to assessment to the same extent as that of any private individual or partnership, and sec. 36 of the Assessment Act be amended accordingly.

9. That in the event of the Draft Act submitted by the Ontario assessment commission being introduced, the following changes among others be made if the principle of the act is adopted; That in addition to the ordinary taxes on real estate, all persons, firms and incorporated companies carrying on any mercantile, manufacturing, financial or other business, is required to pay a business tax, and in addition thereto a tax upon their net incomes, and that such persons, firms and incorporated companies respectively be required to make a return each year to the assessor upon oath of their net income during the year ending on the first day of January then last past, such income to be taxed at the same rate as all real estate in the municipality.

That the house tax proposed in said draft be not adopted.

That the present exemptions of income taxation be not increased.

That this association do not recommend the adoption of the said act.

That the executive committee be authorized and requested to consider all the clauses of the Draft Act of the Ontario assessment commission, and in the event of its being introduced in the Ontario Legislature be present and advocate the views expressed by this association and to support the adoption of such provisions in the Draft Act as are in accordance therewith and such other provision not inconsistent herewith as the committee may consider to be judicious changes in the law.

10. Sub-sec. 24 of sec. 7 of Assessment Act be repealed.

11. That all tangible personal property be assessed where it is situate for 50 per cent. of its actual value.

12. No sale of land for taxes to be invalid because there were goods which might have been distrained, but the collector not to be relieved from any liability in the matter.

13. That power be given to appeal from a magistrate's decision respecting any complaint for breach of bylaw or violation of any Ontario statute.

14. That all expenses of registrations and elections for the Ontario Legislature be borne by the province, and that this association present a petition to the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council in accordance therewith.

15. That the Dominion Government be petitioned to assume the ownership and control of the telephone system extending throughout counties and provinces.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Woods, of Toronto, presented the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of legislation regulating the granting of bonuses, as follows:—

"That in the opinion of your committee the granting of bonuses by municipalities, as defined in 63 Vic. Cap. 33, Sec. 10, be absolutely and entirely prohibited, and be declared illegal." — Adopted.

A resolution was passed that the executive be instructed to see that the legislation approved of by this association, be embodied in bills to be prepared and introduced into the Ontario Legislature, and promoted in such a manner as the executive committee may find necessary.

Moved by T. H. G. Deane, Peterborough, seconded by Ald. Woods, Toronto, that the Ontario Legislature be petitioned to provide that in any case in which an indigent person is provided for in a House of Refuge, or a hospital, or in any other manner, by a municipality, the expenses caused thereby shall be collectable by such municipality, and be a charge upon the municipality in which such person has last resided continuously during one year.—Carried.

Moved by W. J. Henry, seconded by Thos. Caswell, that the Assessment Act should be amended by providing that the court of revision and county judge or judges, as well as the assessors, shall be governed by the principle that in determining the value at which any land shall be assessed, the value at which similar land in the vicinity is assessed shall be considered, and sales under special circumstances shall in no way control the said value. (See Sec. 71, S. S. 15.)

CITY LACROSSE LEAGUE.

The Members Meet and Elect New Officers.

The Secretary-Treasurer Presents a Report of the Season's Sports.

A meeting of the City Lacrosse was held last evening, when a most satisfactory state of affairs was shown to exist. A balance on hand of $31.12 was equally divided between the three clubs, after $15 had been deducted for the purchase of a suitable trophy for the Athletics, which club was formally awarded the championship.

The following report was adopted as read by Mr. Fred A. Clarke;

Officers of the Peterborough Lacrosse League:

Gentlemen,—In presenting the Secretary-Treasurer's statement for the first season of the Peterborough Lacrosse League, it gives me pleasure to be able to report a very healthy state of affairs.

The first season is always the time when a new organization has to meet and overcome many unforseen difficulties, but owing to the tact of the officers, the general good feeling prevailing among the clubs, and the generous support of the press and the people of the town, the Canadian National Game experienced a wonderful revival with us.

It is also gratifying to note that the finances are in an equally flourishing state, owing to the keeness of the various contests and the high quality of lacrosse played by the several clubs.

On the evening of May 19th, 1902, a meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of forming a league in town, the Y.M.C.A., the T.A.S. and the Athletics' Lacrosse Clubs were represented. After some discussion a constitution for the governing of the league was drafted and adopted. The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

Hon. President—H. LeBrun.
President—J. J. Howden.
1st Vice-Pres.—H. R. H. Kenner.
2nd Vice-Pres.—G. Giroux.
Sec.-Treas.—F. A. Clarke.
Executive Committee—The officers and Messrs. Robertson, McPherson, Picard and Best.

The new executive met and drew up a schedule providing for a series of twelve games, all to be played on the Nicholls Oval in the evening.

The opening games of the series decided the popularity of the new venture. all had practised faithfully, and on the field put up a plucky fight. Although it is unnecessary to follow each game of the series in detail, it might be interesting to state the score of the first three. The opening game between the Y.M.C.A. and Athletics resulted in a tie, each team scoring three goals. Between the Y.M.C.A. and T.A.S. the T.A.S. won four goals to three; beetween the T.A.S. and Athletics there was a tie, neither team scoring. Throughout the season the same keeness prevailed, resulting in a number of very close contests. Until near the end friction was wanting, then a dispute arose which resulted in the T.A.S. withdrawing from the league, and giving the two remaining games to the Athletics, which gave them the city championship. During the whole season the interest never lagged, in fact every match was seen by much larger crowds than the preceding one.

To the members of the executive and the different clubs this is the most gratifying feature, as it goes to show that the main aim of the league has been secured and that lacrosse has gained, once more, a foothold in the town which should, and will, make itself felt in the next few years.

The receipts of the season were $128.-23, and the expenses and cash paid out, $82.11, leaving a clear balance of $46.12 to the credit of the Peterborough Lacrosse League in the Ontario Bank.

In conclusion I wish to thank the officers of the league for their co-operation, and the representatives of the three clubs for their generous help in taking charge of the gates and maintaining order on the grounds.

FRED A. CLARKE,
Secretary-Treasurer.

A vote of thanks was passed to the popular Secretary-Treasurer for his services to which he responded with a neat speech.

Officers for the ensuing year were then elected as follows—
Pres.—J. J. Howden.
1st Vice-Pres.—H. R. H. Kenner.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Geo. Giroux.
Sec.-Treas.—Fred A. Clarke.
Executive Committee — Messrs. Robertson, A. W. McPherson and E. Best.

Conference adopted this report; favoring ministerial delegates to General Conference be elected on the basis of one to fifteen was rejected and it remains as at present, one to twelve.

The cost of conference, it was announced would be $16,000. Delegates will pay $15 towards expenses and an assessment will be levied of one per cent. on all assessable funds of each conference.

PRICE OF PROSPERITY.

We Suffer More Than did our Grandfathers Who Fared Less Sumptuously.

This is an age of luxury and self-indulgence.

Prosperity has brought with it a disposition to take it easy and to live well, which has not been productive of the best results, in the physical well-being of the men and women of to-day.

We ride when our grandfathers used to walk. Machinery and inventions have gradually lessened the actual amount of physical work in every department of life. We eat and drink more lavishly and extravagantly than did our ancestors who were content to live on simpler and often coarser foods.

We must pay the penalty for our self-indulgence and it is a fact that tens of thousands are to-day afflicted with diseases which are the direct result of lack of exercise, over-eating, and over-drinking and about which, with their plain living, our grandfathers knew little or nothing.

Perhaps the most common result of all this is Dyspepsia, and a heavy toll indeed is this monster of pain and distress levying on the prosperous high liver of to-day.

But if prosperity has brought with it pains, modern Science has armed humanity with a sure defence against all stomach disorders.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets never fail to instantly relieve and, if used perseveringly according to directions, to permanently cure the most distressing cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, or any other derangement of the digestive organs.

Thousands of the very worst cases have been cured and have testified to the fact that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are an unfailing remedy for Stomach Diseases.

Boodlers Plot to Slay an Official.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—Driven to desperation by Circuite Attorney Folk's merciless crusade against them, St. Louis boodlers (whether bribe givers or bribe takers, or both, is not revealed), have formed a plot to assassinate the official.

Tribe of Touan Routed.

London, Sept. 11. — A despatch from Fez, Morocco, to The Times says the Berber tribe of Touan, near Mekins, was attacked Sept. 4 by a combined movement of troops, and utterly routed with great loss of life. Much loot was taken.

A Distinguished Visitor.

There arrived this morning at Ormond and Walsh's pharmacy, from Brantford, six dozen bottles of that celebrated medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. This is not a patent medicine but a reliable remedy prescribed by three eminent doctors, and dispensed by a druggist. Purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. Price 50 cents for 50 doses. Get a bottle to-day while it lasts.

Ivory and Climate.

The American climate, with its extremes of heat and cold, is very trying upon ivory, and ivory backed mirrors of European manufacture almost invariably crack across the back after a few months of use upon this side of the Atlantic. The American manufacturers have hit upon the expedient of leaving a space between glass and frame in order to allow for contraction and expansion.

PUNCH ON CANADA.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Influence Towards Anglo-French Amity.

London, Sept. 11.—Punch yesterday had a well-executed cartoon, entitled "Our Mutual Friend," which represents Miss Canada, in Indian costume, greeting her guardian, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on his return from visiting England and France, saying: "So you've seen my two grandmothers; how do you like them?"

Sir Wilfrid—"Well, my dear, they are both so charming, I'm surprised they don't know one another better."

Cause of the Attack.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, writing to a friend here, speaks of the attack of La Patrie of Paris on the Canadian Prime Minister and La Patrie of Montreal says: "Ten years ago Mr. Archille Steen, an Israelite, asked assistance from Sir Wilfrid to found a newspaper here, to be called The Two Frances, but the Premier, having sized up his man, decided not to interest himself in Mr Steen's review. This Mr. Steen, after having paid court to our Prime Minister, took occasion to vent his spleen in La Patrie of Paris."

DETECTIVE WAS THERE.

Used As a Decoy Among Striking Machinists at Kingston.

Kingston, Sept. 11.—Three striking machinists are on trial here for intimidating and interfering with employes of the locomotive works. The strikers pleadod not guilty, holding that, though they had picquetted the works and sought to persuade newcomers not to work, they were doing nothing illegal. The prosecution established the fact as to both picquetting, coaxing men to quit work and paying them to leave the city. Manager Bermingham said that a Toronto detective was used as a decoy to secure evidence, but he was allowed to go to work without interference. The case will be argued to-day.

This Boy was Weak and Languid

Doctor Said He Grew Too Fast—Parents Became Alarmed and Used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food With Splendid Results.

So mild and gentle in action is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that it is peculiarly suited for the use of children. Both boys and girls are under a very severe strain during the time that their systems are developing into manhood and womanhood. The tax on the blood and nerves is frequently too great and some external assistance is necessary. We do not believe that it is possible to secure better treatment at such times than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this belief is backed by the testimony of very many parents, who have seen health restored to their children by means of this great restorative.

Mrs. George F. Brisbin, Lake street, Peterborough, Ont., states;

"One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid, and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long before we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better colour, and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along under this testment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A TOWER'S LONE TENANT.

Big Hawk That Takes His Meals in the Washington Postoffice.

The Washington postoffice has a tenant who does not pay rent, but who has all the rights and privileges that come from undisputed possession. To be sure, he does not lodge there, but he takes his meals in the building and no doubt enjoys a pleasant, restful siesta afterward. Moreover, there is no law to evict him.

This usurper is a large hawk, and if several persons of hitherto undisputed veracity, including one of the watchmen, are to be believed he has some very bad habits. The watchman of the tower says that for three years this hawk has paid a visit to the large chamber in the tower above the clock. He comes every other day, but regular as he is about the day his hours are a trifle uncertain. The watchman thinks this is due to the fact that his methods of securing his meals render extreme punctuality out of the question. Every other day the hawk wings his way to the postoffice tower, and in his talons hangs a lifeless pigeon. The big bird of prey soars around and finally alights on the stone balustrade and hops over on the flooring of the big chamber, for the tower above the clock is much larger than it looks from the ground.

The hawk usually spends two or three hours in his dining room and goes away to return two days later. It is supposed that he gets the pigeons—for it is always a pigeon—from the cotes near one of the markets, and owners who have been missing their pets may take warning accordingly. Winter and summer, rain or shine, for the past three years the hawk has taken his meals in the postoffice tower. The watchman has been unable to trap the vagrant, and he is not allowed to shoot him, however much he has been tempted to do so. The remains of these feasts have given the janitor no end of trouble, for the feathered visitor is by no means punctilious in table etiquette.

A Thrifty Father-in-law.

An Arab named Aissa Ben Koulder, native of Algeria, has made his way to Paris to complain to the president of the French republic of an overthrifty father-in-law. Last year he bought a wife for 75 francs from her father, who is a sheep owner in the province of Algeria. After six months of wedded life Aissa Ben Koulder was bidden, with his wife, to a feast in his father-in-law's tents. He went to the place of rendezvous, but after the fetes were over he had to leave Mme. Aissa Ben Koulder behind. Her father claimed her, stating that she was too young to have a husband and that she would have to remain with him for some years longer. Aissa Ben Koulder had to part with his wife and resolved to begin legal proceedings against his father-in-law, who, he states, had already sold the girl once and who now takes her away for the purpose of raising money out of a third husband. The lawsuit came off in due course of time, but nothing was done for the husband who was deprived of his wife.

Thought and Action.

Some men think once before they speak, some twice, others not at all. Some think once before they act, some twice, some not at all. Many will take no action until they have had a short "horizontal view" of a question, which is the essence of wisdom. "I will sleep on it," says the puzzled man of judgment, and on the morrow, with brain clear, he is resolved. Henry Watterson writes an editorial today, lays it away in his desk over night, rewrites it tomorrow and has it put in type, revises it in proof and reads the corrected proof, making more corrections, additions, subtractions, etc., then puts it in the Courier-Journal and finds that it is not what he wanted to say at all. Richard Grant White, America's leading philologist, often told me that his best articles were rushed, sheet by sheet, to the composing room before the ink from his pen had time to dry and when there was no possibility of revision. Many writers do their best work under high pressure.

Holman Hunt's Flies.

The veteran painter, Mr. Holman Hunt, now in his seventy-fifth year did not commence life as an artist, although his first Royal academy picture was painted when he was only twenty years of age. It was in an auctioneer's office that he commenced life pursuing the routine work of a clerk, but even then there was no mistaking the bent of his mind. The office windows were made of ground glass, and, to vary the monotony of clerking, young Hunt took to drawing life size flies on the roughened surface. As the days passed by so the number of flies increased until at last the head of the firm, stopping in front of the glass, exclaimed, "The flies are becoming more and more of a nuisance here and seem to multiply daily." And taking his handkerchief he attempted to flick them off.

Children Born Blind.

The startling charge that many New York children are born blind in subterranean apartments under great office buildings in New York because their mothers for years have never seen the light of day is made by the Rev. Dr. David M. Steele, one of the curates of St. Bartholomew's parish. Dr. Steele says: "How many know that some of the great office buildings have under them apartments for fifty families and that in these families children are sometimes born blind because their mothers for whole years never see daylight? How many know that on the roofs of the buildings there are families of janitors whose six-year-old children have never stepped upon the ground?" Dr. Steele is an authority on life on the east side and in the tenement districts.

for which Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only certain cure. In Dropsy the Kidneys are actually dammed up, and the water, which should be expelled in the form of urine, flows back and lodges in the cells of the flesh and puffs out the skin. Headache.

Pain across the forehead or at back of head is dangerous. It slowly but surely weakens the intellectual powers, impairs the vitality and will. Headache is sometimes from the eyes but more frequently is caused by a disordered condition of the stomach and digestive organs.
Do not suffer. The pain can be cured by the harmless remedy

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

It never loses its effect. Cures by driving out the poison, and does not simply deaden the pain as do so many preparations containing narcotics.
Abbey's in the morning will make you well and keep you well.

DRESS ACCESSORIES.

Feather Boas Popular—Useful Lace and Net Skirts.

In spite of the cold and damp summer we have been having the feather boa has become quite popular, and the cape ruffle made of the most perishable materials is quite indispensable to the smart toilet. Feather boas with petal tips are among the novelties, and they are very full and becoming.

The net and lace skirts which come ready made are very useful, as with one day and one evening blouse, together with colored accessories, much variation may be obtained.

The bolero of crepe de chine in black or white appliqued with lace is also useful to wear over net and chiffon

The illustration shows one of the latest models in negligees. It is made of ecru point d'esprit combined with lace and medallions of pale blue silk set into the lace.

Exception.

"This talk about inventions bein' injurious to labor is all nonsense," said convict No. 151.

"Why so?" asked the guard.

"Because it is. A patent burglar alarm was the cause o' me gittin' five years at hard labor."

The Real Thing.

"Sure!" replied the Indian. "I was born an' raised in Indianapolis, Ind."

Women Wanted In South Africa.

The lack of British women in South Africa is one of the most serious facts with which the statesman has to grapple. It is vital that a carefully directed emigration of women from England should be organized by the state. A writer in the Quarterly Review reckons that 3,000 British women are needed a year to meet the emergency, and this is a total which it should not be difficult to find in England, where we have a very large excess of women.—London Mail.

CUTTING HIMSELF OFF.

The Blunt Way In Which Chaplain Cannon Refused a Fortune.

The Rev. Edward Cannon, a chaplain to King George IV., was a doggedly independent man. On one occasion he refused to compliment his royal master on his singing and for a time fell into disfavor. His manner was high handed and not always too courteous, but his actions were always on the side of right and justice. The biography of his friend Barham, the author of the "Ingoldsby Legends," contains, among other anecdotes of Cannon, the story of how he disinherited himself.

A silly old lady summoned him to her house and pretended to be declining in health. She told him she had made her will, by which the whole of a considerable fortune was to be left to him.

"I don't believe it," said Cannon after a pause, in which he eyed her doubtfully. The lady assured him that the document was lying in a desk in the room.

Smiling at his incredulity, she placed the will in his hands. Cannon read it.

"Well," he said deliberately, "if I had not seen it in your own hands, I could not have believed you were such an unnatural brute."

Thrusting the paper between the bars of the grate, he continued in a severe, low voice: "Have you no one more nearly connected with you than I—no one to whom your money should go, who has a right to be provided for first and best? Pooh! You don't know how to make a will. I'll send for a lawyer, and he shall make your will. You shall leave me a legacy. There's no harm in that, but I'm not going to take it all to please you. Good day, ma'am!"

Told Truth Accidentally.

A young woman in New York who had always been used to private laundresses insisted upon hunting one in the metropolis, difficult as this operation was. She accomplished a feat, as she supposed, when she obtained one with a fine address, cleanly appearance, and found also that she was "caretaker" in a wealthy physician's house in the Fifties. Two weeks elasped on one occasion before she heard of her clothing, and she was unusually anxious to gather in her belongings. Going to the house where this woman was employed, she found that she could get her wash gowns and underclothes. "But where are my stocks and ties and shirt waists?" she demanded. "Oh," replied the private laundress naively, "they haven't got back from the Chinaman's yet." Now that girl hunts for a "regular laundry" and doesn't boast.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c.

The Sensitive Sultan.

For several years the sultan of Turkey's private theater at Constantinople has given employment to a considerable number of actors and actresses. It is related that on one occasion, when some Greek performers were giving "Othello," the sultan was so much affected at the approaching murder of Desdemona that he raised his hand and forbade that she should be smothered. The following night the play was again presented, but by the sultan's orders the final act was changed and the tragic incident eliminated.

A Familiar Name

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

Paper Hunting.

One of the most exciting of all riding games is paper hunting, or following a trail made by dropping pieces of paper. It can be made as dangerous as steeplechasing or no more so than an ordinary gallop over the fields. The danger is in the fences to be ridden over, says Country Life in America. There is no limit to the pace but the speed of the leading horse and the necessity of keeping the trail. The "hare," as the man a-horseback who lays the trail is called, is expected to foil his pursuers, the "hounds," as often as he can by the arts of the fox or by his own ingenuity, only restricted by certain rules of the game.

MR. TARTE'S INQUIRY.

Minister Investigating the Manufacturing Situation.

THE DOMINION COTTON MILLS.

The Factory at Hochelaga Visited—Minister Asks Many Questions and Gets Pertinent Answers—Mr. Tarte's Object Explained by La Patrie—First-Hand Knowledge of Industrial Situation Wanted.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Yesterday La Patrie said:

Hon. Mr. Tarte reached Montreal this morning in order to put into execution a project which he has had in view for some time past regarding the industrial situation of the Dominion. He will, in fact, conduct a close investigation, similar to that just completed with regard to the important question of transportation. 'We do not know our own country sufficiently well,' Mr. Tarte is always saying, 'and the Minister does not wish to be subject to the same reproach.

Scarcely had he returned from the great lakes, where he saw with his own eyes the pressing requirements of the country, when Mr. Tarte decides to take personal cognizance of the industrial situation in Canada to enquire into the effects of the present tariff reform among manufacturers, as well as the necessary legislative remedies in order to increase the number of our factories and to ensure, not only increased production, but their financial success. This is a long investigation which Mr. Tarte has begun, but it is indispensable if we wish to systematize our efforts and render them profitable for the capitalist, as well as for the working classes.

The Dominion Cotton Mills.

Accordingly Mr. Tarte began yesterday with an inspection of the Dominion Cotton Company's mills at Hochelaga, in company with Senator Forget, Vice-President, and a number of directors.

He first got from the directors a statement, from which it appeared that the company last year was unable to pay its dividend, and, moreover, suffered a loss of $340,000. This year, thanks to certain economics, it has done better, but is not in a good position. The company paid 6 per cent. and more for over eight years, but the directors say the changes made by the British preference prevent any profit. The duty on white cotton less the preference and plus the freight, comes to about 20 per cent. Now, this protection, says La Patrie, is, according to the manufacturers, perfectly insufficient if the wages here and in England are compared. The manufacturers of cotton strongly urge that the duties be raised, so that the preference will leave at least 30 per cent.

At this moment Mr. Tarte asked what proportion of the Canadian consumption is furnished by England?

Fifty per cent. of the total Canadian manufacture.

How many workmen would this extra production permit to be employed in Canada?

Three thousand.

It would consolidate the prices, prevent Canadian cotton from being at the mercy of foreign slaughter prices, and the capitalists knowing that the manufacture of cotton would have a certain and profitable market, would hasten to construct factories to employ 3,000 men necessary for the manufacture of the 50 per cent. which England now furnishes us.

But would the prices advance if the duties were raised?

You would have the remedy in your own hands, replied the directors, and in case of abuse the tariff might be lowered.

These, according to La Patrie, are the chief arguments of the manufacturers.

The paper goes on to say that the print works at Magog have still harder competition to meet, because by reason of the preference they have only 23 per cent. protection, while the United States mills have from 45 to 75 per cent. Mr. Tarte also noticed that the large cylinders for collecting the cotton, which were formerly made of iron, are now made of pulp. And, says La Patrie, do you know where they are made? In the United States with pulp from Canada. Thus we bring back in the form of manufactured products our own pulp from the United States, and, moreover, the American house which manufactures them sells them to the whole world — England, France, Egypt, India. Why the devil don't they manufacture them in Canada? asks Mr. Tarte. And everyone, concludes La Patrie, is of his opinion.

Buller Never Advised Surrender.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—"You can tell the Canadian people that there is no truth whatever in the statement that General Buller ever advised General White to surrender Ladysmith. I was a signalist on the heliographs on the day the advice of surrender was said to have been transmitted, and, in spite of any statement to the contrary in the press or otherwise, I know that no such message ever was transmitted."

So spoke William Carey, a bright and sturdy young soldier of the King, who has just returned to his home in this city after having served from the beginning to the end of the South African campaign.

Coal Combine in Britain.

London, Sept. 13.—The Evening News of this city says a syndicate with a capital of $50,000,000 is being organized by the "coal combine", which proposes to purchase the Fife and Clyde Companies mines.

Cable Steamer Arrives.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 13.—The cable steamer Colonia arrived yesterday and began laying the Pacific cable.

Chinese Culprits Lose Heads.

Pekin, Sept. 12.—An edict has been issued cashiering two officials of the Chentu district, province of Szechuen, where English missionaries were recently murdered. Two culprits have been beheaded. It is reported that there are occasional murders of native converts in Szechuen.

Price of Beef to Drop.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Relief from the high prices of the so-called "Beef Trust" is the result of grass-fed cattle, which are being hurried to market from the western grassy country. Already on this poorer grade the price has dropped from six to seven cents a pound.

Real Trouble.

FARMERS FACE RUIN.

Gloomy Crop Reports from All Parts of England.

HARVEST WORST IN 20 YEARS.

Crops Greatly Damaged by Rain—Storms of Last Two Days Throughout England Have Turned Fields Into Quagmires—In Some Places Water Is Now Standing Among the Wheat.

London, Sept. 13.—According to reports from all parts of England, the heavy rains of the last three days, coming on top of an exceptionally wet summer, have very seriously damaged the crops. Thousands of farmers find ruin staring them in the face.

Grain has suffered severly. Owing to the weather, it is of such poor quality that early samples failed to get a bid on the market. With a continuance of the prevailing weather it may be days and weeks before any considerable quantity of wheat can be put on the market. When it does come the wheat will be of poor quality.

It would be almost impossible to estimate the damage occasioned by the rainstorm which prevailed the last two days. One of the largest agriculturists in Lincolnshire stated yesterday that with wheat in its present damaged condition the season would prove one of the most disastrous that have been experienced during the last 20 years. The land has been reduced to a quagmire. In some places water is now standing among the wheat.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S DESTINY.

Sir Robert Bond's Experiment Both Interesting and Alarming.

London, Sept. 13. — The Daily Chronicle, commenting yesterday on the errand of Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, in Washington, says that there is no reason to doubt that he will succeed in arranging reciprocity between Newfoundland and the United States.

"Sir Robert evidently believes that such a treaty would be preferable to absorption by Canada," says the paper.

"We doubt whether he is right and we believe that union with Canada is Newfoundland's ultimate destiny. The experiment which Sir Robert is making at any rate is one that will be watched with equal interest and alarm."

Prince Braganza Freed.

London, Sept. 13.—At the Old Bailey yesterday the jury announced that it found no evidence against Prince Francis Joseph of Braganza (a lieutenant in the Seventh Austrian Hussars, and who was a member of the Austrian-Hungarian mission to the coronation of King Edward), charged with "misconduct under the criminal law amendment." The Prince was thereupon discharged from custody.

The Prince's three companions were sentenced to terms ranging from 9 to 24 months' imprisonment for conspiracy.

Fell Into the Cylinder.

Aylmer, Sept. 13.—A fatal accident happened here Thursday afternoon, when George Wisson, who lives about a mile and a half from town, was almost instantly killed. He was helping to thresh on the farm of Mr. George Trim, and was pitching on the table from above, when he stepped off, and fell into the cylinder, which tore his leg and arm, and crushed him so terribly that he died in about ten minutes. He leaves a wife and one child.

Suicide by Shooting.

Sarnia, Sept. 13.—Robert Maitland, a young man who has been employed as a farmhand at the House of Refuge here for the past three years, committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself through the temple with a revolver. A young son of Mr. Joseph Smith, who resides near the Refuge, found Maitland dead in the field when he went after the cows in the morning. Maitland was about 29 years old.

Broke His Neck.

Thorndale, Sept. 13. — Mr. Fenton Fitzgerald, a highly-respected farmer of London Township, was instantly killed at his home yesterday by falling off a milk stand. It appears he went up on top of the milk stand to empty a can of milk, and, when coming down, slipped and fell, breaking his neck. Judge W. W. Fitzgerald, of Welland, formerly of London, is a brother. A wife, three sons and five daughters survive.

New Gold Mines in Transvaal.

Pretoria, Sept. 12.—The pegging of claims in the Zoutpansberg district began this week. There was a great rush to the district, which, the prospectors are confident, contains great wealth in minerals. Danger arises from whites flocking there, as there are more natives in the Zoutpansberg district than in all the rest of the Transvaal.

Inhaled Paris Green.

Paris, Texas, Sept. 13.—Seven persons are reported dead in the Kiamtia, Indian Territory, from inhaling Paris green, which had been applied to worm-infested cotton plants. Owing to dry weather, it is supposed, the poison, in the form of dust, was absorbed by the victims, four men and three women, who were at work in the field.

Oversight.

"Yes," assented the elder one, "but you made the mistake of not demanding collateral security for the debt."—Brooklyn Life.

MARCONI'S GREAT SUCCESS.

Correct Messages Received For Distances From 900 to 1,100 Miles.

New York, Sept. 13.—Word was received in this city yesterday to the effect that Marconi had been remarkably successful in sending and receiving wireless telegrams on his trip up the Mediterranean. While aboard the man of war, which the Spanish Government assigned to him, Marconi states that he sent and received messages across France and Spain and over the Alps and across the Mediterranean. The ship is now lying off the coast of Italy, opposite Speiza.

The remarkable part of it, according to General Manager Bottomley of the Wireless Company of America, is that messages were sent to the King of Spain and Italy, and others received from the kings and ministers of these countries, and correctly reported on a wireless tape receiver.

"This is the first time that correct messages have been received on the tape for distances varying from 900 to 1,100 miles," said Mr. Bottomley. "I was greatly surprised when we received the news of Marconi's success in a cablegram."

WHERE CANADA LEADS.

Sir Thomas Holdick Finds Her Ahead in Geological Survey.

London, Sept. 13.—Sir Thomas Holdick, president of the Geography Section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, addressing the Association at Belfast yesterday, said that they had to turn to Canada for instruction in the higher art of geographical map making. It must be admitted that England had been left far behind in the development of that special branch of the science which dealt with the illustration of the main features of geographical configuration in relation to their geological construction. The Canadian geological survey was their geological survey, and the speaker thought that to Canada was due the first recognition of the fact that geographical surveying was a separate, distinct and most important branch of the general art and should form the basis from which all other surveys should spring. If the Canadian system of geological survey had been applied ab initio to South Africa, who could possibly say what the result might not have been by this time.

DECIMAL SYSTEM IN COTTON.

After Oct. 1 Trading to Be in Hundredths of a Penny.

Liverpool, Sept. 13.—At a meeting of the Liverpool Cotton Association yesterday the following resolution was adopted:

"On and after Oct. 1 next trading in spot and futures of American cotton in Liverpool will be in hundredths of a penny per pound, instead of sixty-fourths, and on the same date the discount of 1¼ per cent. heretofore allowed will be abolished."

Potatoes in Butter Rolls.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Reid, a farmer's wife, went into Ross' general store at Mount Albert on July 3, and sold 10 pounds of butter, getting in exchange credit for goods. George Hollinghead bought some of this butter, and in each pound says he found a pared potato. Ross then examined the rest of the butter and says he found several potatoes. He caused a summons to be issued charging the woman with false pretences. Her trial took place on Friday in the Criminal Sessions before Judge Morgan and a jury. The jury disagreed.

Through the Wheat Fields.

Winnipeg, Sept. 13. — Methodist Conference delegates, some 400 in number, were the guests of J. T. Gordon, in a trip to Brandon and through Southern Manitoba grain fields. Luncheon was served in the Methodist church, by the ladies, and a welcome speech was made by Mayor Fraser. Several delegates also made addresses. The return was made in quick order, arriving here at 9 30 o'clock.

Whalley Inquest Again Adjourned.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—"We still hope for the return of Arnott White, for we believe he can tell us much that will cast light on this case," observed Coroner Young in adjourning the Whalley inquest last night. In view of the absence of this employe of the warehouse of Evans & Sons, wholesale druggists, where George Whalley was found dead, the case was adjourned until Sept. 26.

Haytian Rebel Chief to Die.

Port-au-Prince, Hayti, Sept. 13.—The revolutionary General Chicoye has been tried by a military tribunal and sentenced to be executed at Jacmo, Oct. 9. Preparations for an attack by Government forces upon Gonaives, the headquarters of the Firminist revolutionists, are being continued. Port-au-Prince is quiet.

Close of the Industrial Fair.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—In spite of the rain yesterday the Industrial Exhibition was seen on its closing day by 17,887 people who paid admissions. The president and directors report that the Fair was a financial success this year. Kilrafty got $12,000 for producing "The Orient" here.

Not So Disinterested as Appeared.

Biggs—I had no idea old Graspit was a philanthropist until I saw him circulating a petition yesterday for the purpose of raising money to enable a poor widow to pay her rent.

Unappreciated Lavishness.

"Whenebber a man gibs me a whole lot o' advice," said Uncle Eben, "I can't help s'picionin' dat if his opinions was so valuable he'd be busy somewha' else countin' money."—Washington Star.

WOMAN'S VOICE IN THE CHURCH

We were premature in assuming in a recent issue that the Methodist General Conference at Winnipeg, had conferred the power of voting in church courts upon women. And not only premature, but mistaken, for the recommendation of a committee to that effect was taken as the probable sentiment of the body of delegates. But the grave and reverend seigniors killed the recommendation, and the ladies of the church will not in this regard be recognized. While graciously permitted to do the hew of wood and drawing of water, they will not be permitted to have a voice in the deliberations that may, and doubtless do, affect their work in the church, and, possibly, make it more difficult. However, it is no business of the general public, but it may be permitted as a matter of principle to ask whether it is quite fair to accept services admittedly of great value from an element in the church, while acceptance of their technical right to provide such services is denied by refusal to recognize the right of women to a voice in determining conditions upon which her work is based. The General Conference of the Methodist Church as a body shows that they have not only accepted Rev. John Wesley from the established church, but also a liberal share of its conservatism. Conservatism is all very proper within reasonable and expedient limits, and no where can it more properly be insisted upon then in matters affecting religious interests. There is, however, a certain elasticity permitted. If the dictum of St. Paul in the declaration that he does not suffer a "woman to teach nor userp authority," is received with unbending literality why should not the modern minister of the Gospel follow the practice of St. Paul, in working at tent-making to pay his way so that he would not be beholden to anybody for his maintenance. While considerations of gallantry may prejudice one in favour of espousing the cause of the ladies, in the matter of agreement, their cause in the case in question is not without its strong features, and their cause is not lost yet—woman's proverbal success in having her way will not languish in abeyance, through one little rebuff.

ALL CANADIAN NEWS SERVICE.

The Premier of Australia sizes up the conditions in regard to the condition and character of the news of the world supplied by cable to Canadians. His remarks are very much to the point, emphasing the necessity of the establishment of an all-Canadian news service, which will supply to the readers of Canadian journals, news which is not distorted and doctored by passing through American channels. Speaking on this subject in Toronto, the Australian premier said;

"You Canadians are, I believe, in the hands of an organisation, a press organisation, which is largely controlled in the United States, and your information filters through American channels. I have no doubt that the representatives of the press do their duty — they say they always do — but it is, perhaps, a misfortune that your press in Canada has not yet followed the advice of British journals. You need to buck up, because the news you want is the news most interesting to Canada, and you cannot have all that, or even most of it, if you are content to accept the news most interesting to the newspaper readers of the United States. It is eminently praiseworthy from its own point of view, that the organisation of the United States should confine its principal news to the items most interesting to themselves. But the homoeopathic doses extended to you have aided to produce an appetite which would be better satisfied by an honest meal of news. I think that is the position you are in, if I mistake not. I think you want to get better news — better in the sense that you want more of that quality and kind which applies to your own particular interests rather than that of others. The affairs of your country are not of such interest to the citizens of the United States as they are to you, and it would not be wonderful if the news supplied to you, and relating to the other self-governing portions of the Empire, was rather scanty, as I find it is."

EDITORIAL NOTES

In modern diplomacy, a casus belli seldom causes war — royal sluggers fight their battles with their mouths as fluently as the plebian pugs.

Toronto is struggling with the problem of beautifying its waterfront. It had better consider some means of beautifying, or at least bettering, its water supply.

A Yankee minister is treating his congregation to whistling solos as a feature of church services. This may be for the spiritual edification of his flock, or for a delicate reminder that it is undignified for a minister himself to whistle for an overdue salary.

Goldwin Smith holds that avoidance of the pains of death, pedantically called euthanasia, is not really or morally suicide and he also infers that a man or woman can no more be morally guilty of self-murder than he can be of robbing himself or forging his own signature.

Leader Whitney has given the Ross Government no longer than six months to live. Mr. Whitney, remarks the Woodstock Express, makes a mistake in giving the Government so long. There is no telling what Mr. Ross may do in six months—he may even secure a renewed lease of life.

The Globe is not at all far astray when it insists that the conditions which lead to the best development of the North-west is the basis of the industrial prosperity of the Eastern sections of the Dominion. Every settler prosperously placed in the North-west means a permanent demand for the industrial products of Ontario.

The Conservative papers are talking a good deal of twaddle over the imaginary "rift in the Liberal lute," but the rift in the heads of the heads of the writers is considerably larger than any separation in political sentiment existing in the Liberal ranks.

Leader Whitney—at the Conservative convention—"But I tell you today there never was a British Government anywhere so practically certain of distruction as the present Ontario Government, and—"

Ex-Leader Sir Charles Tupper — "Pardon me, sir, but do you not remember the Dominion elections of 1900 ?"

"Bystander" knows well how to strike a popular chord. In discussing a coalition he knows that any subject involving coal, whether it be coal-ition, coal strike or coal prices will at once enlist attention. If Mr. Golden Smith could settle, to the pecuniary satisfaction of the public, the coal question as easily and as authoritatively as he assumes to dispose of the political situation in Ontario, he would be a benefactor of high degree.

THE LATEST FAD.

There are indications that the next literary affection in the United States will be directed to the Bible—not the Holy Bible, but the literary volume; not the work of the Author of the universe, but of the various authors who wrote or edited or translated the contents of the book, and gave it to us as it is, a massive and magnificent thing in literature.

Critics, writers, and other literary persons are beginning to speak very well of Moses. His rugged style is approved, and there are admirers in the smoking-rooms of the Chicago and New York clubs of the lucid reasoning of Paul and the textual beauty of the Psalms. On his recent tour of New England President Roosevelt used frequent quotations from the lishing editorials of which Scripture texts are the themes; and everything suggests that Moses will succeed Omar Khayyam as the pet of literary society.

No doubt the masses will be glad to see the Bible thus approved by the classes. No doubt the clergy will breathe easier on learning on the authority of some unknown reviewer that the Bible is good literature. The missionery, carrying the Book to remote places, will press on cheerfully when he learns that Algernon Horatio Smith, the well known magazine writer (aged 25,) considers the Book of Ecclesiastes one of the strongest things in literature.

But the faddists, in taking the Bible to themselves, so that they may give to Moses and Paul the social recognition their merits deserve, cannot remove the Book from its place under the tattered shawl of the beggar-woman, from beneath the tunic of the soldier as he sets forth by night to storm his last redoubt, from beneath the pillow of the invalid—it cannot be removed from its place near to the hand of those who are serious, and to whom life is something more than a masked ball.

It is a book of such power that it can even survive the favour of those who would pick it up patronisingly, and of those who join in this movement some who come to mock will remain to pray.—Toronto Star.

A Horisontal Tree.

At Shillfried, near Matzen, a holiday resort much patronized by the Viennese, there is a tree which, as stated by the Vienna Tagblatt, has the most singular characteristic of growing horizontally over the ledge of a deep hollow. The tree is about ten years old, and two years since, as the result of a landslip, it fell into its present position, with its branches upward and downward, and so has grown ever since, flowering and leafing just as if the position were natural.

MR. WHITNEY'S VIEWS

He Does Not See Any Necessity for a Coalition.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER TALKS.

Says He Thinks Present Political Situation in Ontario Will Result in the Government's Resignation — A Recent Globe Editorial Furnishes the Text For His Remarks on the Question.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Mr. Whitney, the Conservative leader, was asked last night for his opinion of the political outlook, in view of the editorial suggesting a coalition government, which appeared in The Globe Thursday. He said:—

"I read the editorial with very great interest, for more than one reason. In the first place, I assume the editorial to be a formal announcement and admission by Mr. Ross that the result of the elections has rendered the Government powerless. Surely this assumption is reasonable because one can hardly imagine the chief organ of a Government using the language of The Globe without the concurrence, if not the inspiration of the Premier. I am bound to say, too, that the editorial deals with the situation with the utmost frankness, all of which goes to show that Mr. Ross decided upon this course only after the most careful consideration. In any event, there will henceforth be no room for dispute as to the actual situation.

"In my opinion, also, this course is a creditable one from a party point of view, as nothing could be gained by postponing the evil hour for a short time. The logical outcome of the situation, according to British precedent, is resignation. Having once admitted that the result of the elections has rendered his Government powerless, there is nothing left to him but to retire.

"However, Mr. Ross seems to argue in favor of a coalition. There are many reasons why a coalition is unnecessary, and would be improper. I need only mention one, a strong argument for which is furnished by the editorial itself, which says:

"'It is true, however, that there is no great issue between the parties in Ontario at present, and that, therefore, we see men fighting for names, traditions and prejudices, rather than for principles.'

"If these words have any meaning, they convey the idea that, as far as the principles on which the Government of the Province would be conducted, are concerned, there is no difference between the two parties on which the people can reasonably divide. Therefore, should the Opposition cross the floor, practical satisfaction with the situation might be expected from the Reformers. And then, if you add to this that a majority of about 7,000 of the voters of the Province have endorsed the Opposition, you have a government of almost ideal strength.

"I do not wish to be understood as referring to members of the Government in their personal capacity, but, in my opinion, it would be simply absurd to suggest, or expect, that she Opposition, or members of it, should in defiance of public decency, under the circumstances, allow themselves to be absorbed by the Government, the acts of members of which they have denounced in the strongest terms, and in regard to which they have been endorsed by the popular majority. It would, in effect, be an attempt to undo that which has been so well done by the people of the Province, at the suggestion of the Opposition."

A LEAMINGTON MYSTERY.

Mrs. Henry Wride Thought to Have Met With Foul Play.

Windsor, Sept. 13.—The residents of Leamington are greatly stirred up over the disappearance of Henry Wride and his wife. The woman was the first to disappear, six weeks ago Monday, and after the husband had disposed of his household effects and given his child (an infant) to a Mrs. Collison, he, too, left the town, and Mrs. Collison has heard from him but twice since. One letter was postmarked Chicago, Ill., and the other St. Louis, Mo. In the last letter Wride stated that he intended going farther west and cautioned Mrs. Collison not to write, as he would not receive her letter.

It is known by the neighbors that Wride and his wife had a violent quarrel the day she left home, and the husband struck her several times. She left the town and was seen by a man named Robinson going in the direction of Wheatley. This was the last trace that her father, William Nop, who is a farmer living on the 3rd concession of the Township of Mersea, could get of her. He has personally investigated a number of rumors as to where his daughter went, but each clue proved to be a false one, and the old man is now at a loss what to do next. He is of the opinion that his daughter has met foul play, and so universal is this opinion in Leamington that a posse of citizens have searched the fields and woods around the town and have also paid several visits to the cemetery, as it was rumored that a man was seen in the cemetery after nightfall about the time that Mrs. Wride disappeared, and the theory was that she had been murdered and buried.

ROMANTIC OTTAWA MARRIAGE.

Gossips Are Very Much Interested Over Lynwood-Ryan Nuptials.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—Society was set gossiping yesterday by the romantic marriage Thursday night of Miss Kate Ryan, daughter of the well-known millionaire and contractor of St. Paul, Minn., to Percival L. Lynwood, of Atlanta, Ga. Miss Ryan was educated at a convent here, and spends much of her time in this city. She and her husband were prominent members of the summer colony at Lake Deschene, eight miles from here. Thursday night, unknown to her friends, they went to Vankleek Hill, and were married. The young couple first visited the priest, who refused to perform the ceremony, as the groom-elect was a non-Catholic. Nothing daunted, the visitors called on Rev. Mr. Thompson, Presbyterian minister. He made them man and wife. They, afterwards, drove to L'Original, and where they went from there is not yet known.

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 23, Concession 3, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., at Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 100 acres choice land, 50 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beach, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold at 1,000 cords hardwood and 1,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would sell readily for more than $10,000, and total expense would not exceed $2,000. A man with teams and two or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Grandfather's Story.

A baby's life is more precious to a mother than much gold. Her thoughts are wrapped up in it. Already is she planning it's future and building big her hopes and aspirations for the success of her little boy or girl. Sometimes, alas! her plans are rudely shattered. Sickness—that dreaded trouble, Summer Disorderer, or Cholera Infantum, may sieze her precious darling and death result.

Grandfather John Morgan, of Halifax, tells of the way his daughter saved her little baby's life when he, a three months' old boy baby, was affected with diarrhea. His is an interesting story.

"I feel it my duty to send you a few lines as to what Ozone has done for my little grandson, aged five months.

"About three months after he was born he became very sick and began to waste away (though very healthy when born) until he became a mere shadow, and was given up to die by our family doctor, and his brother, a doctor. In fact, we had all quite given up hope of saving the little chap's life, as nothing he ate would stay on his stomach, he threw everything up. We tried all the medicines and things people would tell us of, after the doctors could do no good, but to no good at all. At last the little fellow became so weak and thin he would scarcely take his bottle at all; but one day my daughter saw in one of your pamphlets, left at the house, of a lady in Toronto curing her child of the same ailment by using Ozone, so my daughter got a bottle, not having much faith it would do her baby any good. She began by giving him one teaspoonful of Ozone to three teaspoonfuls of water, sweetened, four times a day, after feeding, and there was soon a marked change for the better, much to the joy of his mother and father, and grandparents. In a week the vomiting was stopped, and in a month he became quite well and fat.

"We advise all mothers having children so suffering, to try Ozone, what it has done for one it will do for another. Anyone writing us, we will gladly answer to the truth of this statement."

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) JOHN MORGAN, 31 Lockman St., Halifax, N. S.

The way to administer Ozone for children's ailments, particularly for intestinal troubles, such as diarrhea, cholera infantum, etc., is exactly in the manner described in the above letter—a teaspoonful of Ozone in sweetened water four times a day. This treatment enables the stimulating and healing action of the Ozone to act on the intestines, and restore their normal functions.

Ask your druggist about Ozone; in all likelihood he has had several cases come under his personal notice, and can tell you the facts as to its power to cure summer ailments in children.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

For Weak, Sickly and Fretful Children of all Ages.

If the children's digestive organs are all right the children are all right. They will be hearty, rosy happy—and hungry. Get the little ones right, and keep them right, by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine cures all stomach and bowel troubles, nervousness, irritation while teething, etc. These Tablets contain no opiate or poisonous drugs and mothers who try them once will not be without them while they have little ones. Mrs. D. E. Badgley, Woodmore, Man., says, "When our little girl was about six months old she caught a bad cold and was much troubled with indigestion and constipation, and very restless both day and night. One of my neighbours brought me some Baby's Own Tablets and in a few days my little one was regular in her bowels and rested well. I found the Tablets so satisfactory that I now always keep them in the house, and have since found them valuable when she was teething. I can truly recommend them for the ills of little ones."

Children take these Tablets readily, and crushed to a powder they can be given with absolute safety to the smallest infant. The Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores, or you can get them postpaid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

CHARGE LED BY KAISER.

Frankfort-on-Odar, Sept. 12.—Major-General Young and Brigadier-General Wood and their aides-de-camp charged with the cavalry, led by Emperor William yesterday.

This charge was the climax of the manoeuvres. About 9,000 horsemen, lancers and dragoons fell upon the flank of the retreating "Blue" (defending army), capturing thirty of the latter's guns and 2,000 of its infantry. The cavalry started at daylight, made a 13-mile curve and at about half-past eight swept over rolling meadows and upon the enemy's forces, which had been theoretically disorganized by a heavy infantry attack. The 9,000 cavalrymen, a frontage of a mile and half, rushed at a hard gallop upon the artillery and infantry, which did not cease firing until the horsemen were near at hand. Several horses fell dead.

The Emperor, mounted on a white Arab horse, directed the movement and at the finish galloped ahead as recklessly as any trooper. The Empress was present on horseback.

KITCHENER ANECDOTES.

A war correspondent who knows the hero of the hour well says that he is silent almost to dullness, except on the subject of his profession.

A good instance of Kitchener's laconic style of speech was that given to his officers who, after struggling vainly to get an artillery train through roads that were almost rivers of mud, came to Kitchener.

"It is no use, General," he said, "we are so deep in mud that we cannot move our heavy guns another mile, and the Boers will get them for certain."

Kitchener looked at this worn-out and discouraged officer a moment, then quietly said: "Go on with your work, but don't forget that the mud is not only clogging our wheels, it is clogging the Boer wheels as well."

Kitchener's scathing sarcasm is well illustrated by the reply he is said to have sent to the leader of a not over-successful column. This officer had several slight engagements with the enemy, mainly consisting of flinging a few shells at them at long range. After each engagement he wired to the Commander-in-Chief, substantially: "During action several Boers seen to drop from their saddles."

The thing was becoming tiresome, for Lord Kitchener's rule was that only those actually "gathered," should be counted. He soon thought of a remedy, and sent back to the officer this polite telegram: "I hope when they fell they did not hurt themselves."

Here is a story showing the South African Commander-in-Chief in another light. There was in the Royal Engineers a private of exemplary character, who one day reported himself ill and unfit for duty. The medical officer of the corps examined him, decided that the man was malingering, and ordered him back to duty. Against this there was no appeal. The soldier returned to his work which was preparing planks for a temporary bridge. He found himself too weak to work and said so to the sergeant.

"Why not lay the case before Lord Kitchener," said the sergeant: "he is in the office now."

"Oh, I dare not," replied the man, "he is too stand-off and cold."

"Well, if you are afraid, I'll do it myself," and he did.

"Order the man here at once," said the Commander-in-Chief without looking up, "and also Drs. Y and X." Each of these he made examine the patient in his presence. They both reported typhoid in a marked stage.

"Send for Dr. Z," slowly muttered Lord Kitchener.

"Please, Dr. Z., examine this man carefully; he is either ill or malingering." Dr. Z performed the commanded task, and nervously said: "Sir, I fear I have made a mistake; this man is in the early stages of typhoid."

"Have the man at once removed to the hospital," came in cold, passionless tones, "and you, sir, apply to the adjutant for your papers and at your earliest convenience return to England."

The Yeomanry have done such splendid service in South Africa that this one little story at their expense cannot be taken amiss. A party of Colonials and Yeomanry was told off to capture a small laager. A friendly Boer volunteered to show the way, and left them when within sight of the fires of the Boer laager to make the attack as soon as dawn appeared. Dawn came, only to find our men themselves surrounded by Boers. There was one gap in the cordon, and for this gap the Yeomanry made, their officer at their head, leaving their Colonial comrades with the guns to tackle the Boers as best they could. In due course the Yeomanry came to General Clements' camp, and he wired to Lord Kitchener, "Company of your Yeomanry turned up. What shall I do with them?" The reply was almost immediate: "Keep them as far from me as they kept from the Boers."

An anecdote illustrative of the difference between Lord Kitchener as a chief and Lord Roberts is worth recalling. Before Lord Roberts left Cape Town, he called into his office, a certain Colonial and charged him with a particular mission. "How," said the chief, "how soon can you put this through? I know you will do the best you can."

"Well," Lord Roberts repeated, "I know you will do the best you can, and with a pleasant smile he dismissed the officer.

Outside the door he met Lord Kitchener.

"Well?" asked Lord Kitchener, with business-like abruptness, "what are you doing?"

"Oh," said the Colonel, "Lord Roberts wants me to do so and so."

"When are you going to get it through?"

"Well," said the Colonel, "I promised to do it in a fortnight."

"Now, Colonel," was Lord Kitchener's retort, "if you cannot do it within a week, we will have to see about sending you home."

And done it was.

Lieut.-Col. Girouard, the Canadian engineer officer and Director of Military Railways during the war, is probably the only man who has ever "answered back" to Lord Kitchener. It was years ago, when the railway was being pushed into the desert. Girouard, independent colonial, was superintending a piece of construction when Lord Kitchener appeared on the scene. The work did not please him, and he spoke his mind freely as is his custom. Girouard is reported to have listened silently until the torrent of words was spent. Then he stepped up to his chief and said: "Look here, Mr. Kitchener, are you bossing this railway or am I?"

What Lord Kitchener said to this has not been reported; but it is a fact that Girouard's "cheek" did not prevent Lord Kitchener from selecting him to be chief of the railways in South Africa. And when one thinks of his railway work during the war he cannot help commending his selection.—London Mail.

SIR WILFRID'S HEALTH.

Sir William Mulock Says He Was Well on August 27.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—The Globe correspondent called upon Sir William Mulock yesterday morning and inquired as to the rumor, which has recently appeared in the press, to the effect that Sir Wilfrid appeared to be in very bad health. Sir William stated that he had seen the Premier as late as Wednesday, Aug. 27, and that he was then in most excellent health, though a little thin, the result of sea-sickness and close confinement to work in London. Since the close of the conference the Premier, under the improving influence of open air, had picked up wonderfully and was now undoubtedly in the best of health. "He was," said the Postmaster-General, "in excellent spirits, bright and cheerful, and told me he never felt better in his life."

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—Sir Edmund Burton on boarding the Pacific express for Winnipeg and the coast here yesterday was presented with an address from the Ottawa Board of Trade. It referred to the hope of still closer relations between Canada and Australia, and the early completion of the Pacific cable.

Premier Barton in reply expressed the same hope, and said that both countries would derive equal benefits from closer connection. He was greatly impressed with the Canadian resources. Sir John Forrest also spoke of the desirability of the British Empire encouraging trade within itself.

Troops were present and Highlanders flocked to Braemar from the surrounding counties. The sports went off excellently, and the King and Queen received a great ovation. Their Majesties exhibited the keenest interest in the game and subsequently returned to Balmoral Castle.

An Abundance of Blood.

Paine's Celery Compound

Cleanses the Vital Fluid, Increases its Supply, Banishes the Seeds of Localized Diseases and Nourishes Every Important Organ.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound means an abundance of pure, vitilizing blood, a perfect regulating of circulation, and the banishment of localized diseases, such as insomnia, neuralgia rheumatism, eczema, salt rheum, blood diseases, running sores and eruptions.

If your sleep is not restful and refreshing, if your spirits are low, if you are morose, melancholy and oppressed with morbid fears, be assured your blood demands instant attention.

Paine's Celery Compound is the one great and never failing agent for making pure, fresh blood, for nourishing the dominant organs of the body, for recruiting the strngth of young and old. Often, very often, a delay of one day proves fatal. Foul and poisoned blood carries death at every beat of the heart. Mr. D. McMahon, Peterborough, Ont., writes thus:

"I have great pleasure in testifying to the fact that Paine's Celery Compound has caused a remarkable change in my condition. I was troubled with a very bad type of eczema on my face and in patches over my body for four years. I was under the treatment of three doctors, and tried many remedies, but all proved useless. At last I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and put in Iodide of Potassium as recommended on the label. The one bottle did me so much good that I bought five bottles more and now am happy to say I am completely cured and perfectly free from the troublesome disease."

Explanatory.

In the notice of Roy's photographic exhibit at the Central Exhibition, a disgusting typographical error crept in. The types spoke of a picture of an "over-dressed child." Reference to the manuscript showed that the words written, not very plainly, it is true, were "an eerie dressed child," referring to the fairy-like appearance of the picture, but the ingenuity of the compositor translated them into "over dressed." It is to be regretted that the error occurred, but hastily written matter, where the writer has not a chance to revise the proof sheet, very often comes out in print very disappointingly.

John Fay Palmer.

John Fay Palmer was for a season the leading man with John Griffith—he of Faust fame. Occasionally Mr. Griffith essayed the role of "Richard III," a Shakespearean character, in which Mr. Palmer has recently scored a success only equalled by the late Thomas W. Keene in his prime, and the "Crooked Back Tyrant" is the characterisation that will alone preserve the fame of this popular tragedian who has passed into history. Mr. Palmer played "Richmond" with John Griffith, and one night in Butte, Montana, nearly ended his career in the combat scene. Mr. Palmer will carry a scar across his classic countenance to his grave. Mr. Palmer appears in the opera

WEDDED AT EBURNE, B. C.

Miss M. V. Kerr, formerly of Bensfort, United in Marriage to Mr. W. G. Armour.

The following intelligence, which will be read with interest in Peterborough circles, has been received from New Westminster;

"The pretty residence of Mr. Robert E. Kerr, of Eburne, was the scene of a happy matrimonial event on the morning of the 1st instant, the occasion being the marriage of his sister, Miss Margaretta Victoria, third daughter of Mr. John Kerr, of Bensfort, South Monaghan, (formerly nurse in the Insane Hospital, New Westminster), to Mr. W. G. Armour of New Westminster.

"The bride, who was becomingly attired in a beautiful gown of white mousselaine de soie, entered the spacious drawing room, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, on the arm of her brother, Mr. R. E. Kerr, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Kerr.

"The bride was supported by Miss McIsaac, of Eberne, while Mr. McDonald of New Westminster, filled the position of best man.

"The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties, by Rev. Mr. Miller of Eburne. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which the happy couple, proceeding by boat from Vancouver, will make a tour of the coast cities before settling in their new home in New Westminster."

BLIND FATHER AIDS FAMILY.

A Sad Case Which Was Ventilated in the Police Court This Morning by the Children's Aid Society.

The Children's Aid Society had a case on its hands this morning, the details of which were attended with circumstances of more than ordinary sadness.

At first sight it appeared a case when the use of such an organization as the Children's Aid Society was to be perfectly illustrated, but when all the evidence was brought to light it was evident that a Power higher than that of the Children's Aid Society would have to be invoked to adjust the scales of justice.

The agent of the local branch of the Society, Mr. Cochrane, with Chief Roszel, entered a bar-room yesterday afternoon to find a blind violinist fiddling, while his little ten-year-old daughter danced for the amusement of the crowd of men which had congregated in the bar, and apparently overheard, without a show of modesty, the remarks which in such a place would not be of the most refined character.

This, thought the officers, was indeed a case for prompt interference, and the child was immediately withdrawn and placed in the motherly care of Mrs. Henry, at the Shelter.

This morning the case came before Police Magistrate Dumble, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appearing on behalf of the Society.

Mr. Cochrane stated briefly what he had witnessed in the bar-room, advancing the opinion that under the Children's Aid Society Act this was no proper place for a child.

The father of the little girl was then called to the witness box, and his was a tale to wring the heart, indeed.

His blindness he stated was caused through his wife throwing a pail of burning lye in his face, which necessitated him spending four months in a hospital and then being turned adrift in the world, sightless, and with a family of seven children to support and care for, his wife having gone off with another man in the meantime. Since last October the family have been living in a neighbouring municipality. Two of the boys are large enough to earn enough money to clothe them and the remaining little ones are looked after by the oldest daughter, with the exception of the ten year old girl, who travels with the blind father to solicit alms as he plays the violin, and without whose assistance he could not travel through the country from village to village seeking a livlihood. He had only played in the one bar room in Peterborough, he stated, and wherever he travelled, he had always met with the kindest treatment and in Lindsay where a great deal of his time was spent, the Chief of Police, knowing his circumstances often gave him money to assist him. Concerning the little girl, he volunteered the information that she was so deaf as to be quite incapable of hearing any low language which might be uttered in her presence. If it was not for this fact he would have endeavoured to have given her a better education, but her teachers found it impossible for her to advance.

The straightforward statement of the poor man given, as he laboured with an emotion which he could hardly control, convinced Magistrate and Society officials alike that the curtain had been lifted for a moment on a domestic tragedy into which it would be an unkind, as well as an unwise act, to peer further and the case was closed with a few kindly words of advice to both father and little daughter.

A BRONCHO MAKES TROUBLE.

It Ran Away and the Magistrate Considered That its Owner Used it too Severely Afterwards.

A citizen was before the Court, this morning, on a charge of cruelty to animals, witnesses being called to prove that he had beaten his horse with undue severity.

The evidence went to show that the animal in question was a broncho and made an attempt to run away on Water street. In so doing it dashed upon the pavement and fell. The owner unhitched it from the rig and in trying to persuade it to rise, plied the whip with no unsparing hand. High County Constable Cochrane interfered and loosening the check-rein got the broncho on its feet.

The Magistrate in summing up the evidence stated that he considered the horse should have been coaxed rather than beaten, when it fell. He considered the beating unreasonable, irrational and uncalled for and imposed a fine of two dollars.

GONE BACK TO LINDSAY.

Elizabeth O'Brien, better known as Mrs. Allen, of Hell's Half-acre fame, was in the Police Court this morning charged with vagrancy. The Chief of Police testified that he saw the prisoner worse of liquor yesterday and had taken her out of a hotel shed last night on receiving a telephone message from the proprietor. She had no money on her person, had no visible means of support and could give no satisfactory account of herself.

The woman started in to tell a plausible story to the Magistrate, but she was too well known to impose on the Court and the only way she escaped was by promising to leave Peterborough at once and never return. Her next visit will mean all that the law will allow the Magistrate to give her.

The prisoner's home is in Lindsay and she will doubtless be welcomed back by that municipality when she steps off the next train.

LORNE TOTTON DEAD.

He was Formerly in Business in Peterborough.

The Campbellford Herald says: — "The many friends of Mr. Lorne Totton will learn with regret that he died on Wednesday, the 10th inst., at the home of his father at Wellman's Corners. Lorne was a popular young man and had a host of friends in Campbellford, having received part of his education at our High School. He was 23 years 18 days old. After Leaving Campbellford he went to Toronto, where he graduated with honours at the Horological Institute. He then accepted a position in Halifax, and after a short time opened up business for himself in Peterborough, but owing to ill health he was obliged to give it up about a year ago. He was confined to his bed about three weeks. The funeral took place on Friday.

MANITOBA NO. 1 HARD WHEAT.

The First Shipment Arrives in Peterborough Friday.

The Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg is working energetically and wisely to boom the Northwest and attract settlers and is taking practical steps to "bag" its game. In addition to a splendid special harvest edition recently issued, the Free Press is sending out with its compliments a sample bag of Manitoba wheat—"No. 1 hard," accompanied statistical information respecting the unlimited wheat-growing possibilities of the Northwest. True the bag is not large—only about three ounces—and it is very small compared to the size of the card attached, but it suggests the idea that wheat is king, and is of the first consideration that Manitoba and Winnipeg are growing in importance, and that in relation to the rest of the Dominion if the present promise of their growth is kept they will soon be as Magistrate Dumble remarked this morning "a case of the tail wagging the dog." The Examiner congratulates the Free Press on its enterprise and acknowledges with thanks the safe arrival of the first consignment of this year's 75-million crop of Manitoba and Northwest wheat,—a long leap towards the fulfilment of the splendid brag of the Coronation arch — "Canada the Granery of the Empire."

In the evening the Rev. C. W. Hedley, B.A., former Curate to Dr. Symonds, will preach.

CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES.

There is no nobler work to which earnest men can put their hand and give their thought and effort than that which engages the attention of the Canadian Conference of Charities. This association will hold its fifth annual meeting in Hamilton from September 24th to 26th, when the best methods of dealing with criminals and degenerate members of society will be discussed. The care of neglected and dependent children, the administration of charity, and the management of public institutions will also find a place on the programme. A special feature about this Conference is the opportunity afforded for philanthropic workers to become acquainted and thus arrive at an understanding that will greatly facilitate their work. All those who are in any way interested should make a special point of attending this gathering.

KENNEDY'S MEAT MARKET

COLONIAL WEAVING COMPANY.

"The Made in Canada" Mark to Supplant the "Made in Germany" —A Happy Combination of Patriotism and Profit—An Important and Entirely New Canadian Industry to be Established in Peterborough—Monopoly of the Home Market Assures Profitable Operation.

"Made in Germany" is a trade mark altogether too familiar to patriotic Canadians and its unpleasantly frequent occurrence gives point to the Toronto Star's "Made in Canada" crusade—that is preference in purchase by Canadians of goods of Canadian make when quality and value are equal to foreign productions. But both the patriotism and business instincts of Canadians have been practically stirred to displace, in at least one important industry, foreign productions, which have not only heretofore been made, but are at present procurable, only at advanced figures and with the accompaniment of vexatious delay. Reference is here made to woven labels, such for example, as pull straps used by boot and shoe manufacturers, hangers for coats and shirt labels, and the fancy lining label for high-class ladies' boots. To the individual consumer these may seem insignificant matters, but when it is remembered that a million dollars worth of articles of this kind and allied goods such as badges, ribbons, belts and ornamental drapings are imported into Canada every year, the matter assumes a large importance. Such large establishments as the T. Eaton Company, Toronto, use some 10,000 labels a year and the Robert Simpson Company a similar number and immense quantities are used by clothing manufacturers, dress makers and mantle manufacturers, and every manufacturer of textile goods. There is no question of the active, constant and increasing demand for goods of this class.

There is no reason why this class of goods should not be manufactured in Canada—as cheaply and as of good quality. At present the home market is chiefly supplied with these goods "Made in Germany." They are imported in face of a 35 per cent. duty and the delay to manufacturers of boots and shoes especially, in having their orders filled is a serious annoyance. Some orders of from $4,000 to $6,000 have been placed nearly a year without being filled.

We have a market for goods of the class mentioned and the conditions for having the label "Made in Canada" replace that of "Made in Germany" to the advantage of both producer and consumer. There is a duty of 35 per cent. on the imported articles and all the raw materials used in the manufacture are admitted free of duty. Realizing this the Colonial Weaving Company with its head office in Peterborough, has been organized with a view of entering upon the manufacture of just such goods as there is an active demand for in Canada, and it is expected that within a few months a flourishing manufacturing establishment will be in operation in Peterborough. Arrangements have been made with the Otonabee Power Company for the necessary supply of power, and arrangements are also being completed for the erection or procuring of suitable buildings and it is expected that the new enterprise will receive the same generous treatment from the town that has been accorded to other new establishments locating in Peterborough.

Under the conditions mentioned—a brisk, constant and increasing demand for the goods, the entire absence of Canadian competition, the admission of raw material free, a 35 per cent. tax on the imported goods, cheap power, and superior manufacturing and shipping facilities in Peterborough — there is no earthly reason why the Colonial Weaving Company's enterprise should not be a flourishing success, and investment in its stocks a paying venture—not so much venture, however, as certainty.

As mentioned the company has secured a charter of incorporation, and organized, with an efficient board, of which Mr. W. C. McBurney is managing director. Mr. McBurney has had a very extensive experience, having been for many years actively associated with the sale of the class of goods mentioned, and is familiar with the capacity of the Canadian market, which will tax the capacity of the works of the Colonial Weaving Company to supply the demand, for under the circumstances the goods can be made as good, and as cheaply, as abroad, and will of course displace the foreign article. Mr. McBurney is actively engaged in placing the stock of the company and should meet with success, for aside altogether from patriotic reasons, involving the predominance of Canadian goods in the market, investment in the stock of the company guarantees a substantial, generous and prompt return.

THAT ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Blanche Royal has a Record in Lindsay but Under Another Name.

In connection with the attempted suicide of Blanche Royal of Lindsay, in Peterborough, the other night, the Lindsay Post says; "Blanche Royal is not known here, and it is supposed that the bearer of the nice-sounding patronymic is a young girl known here as Alice Beal, who has acquired a fondness for kicking up didos of that sort. Only a few weeks ago, Alice rehearsed her tragic act in a Lindsay hotel, causing no end of trouble to the proprietor and staff. On that occasion the laudanum bottle was also in evidence by the bedside, and it was supposed that the girl had swallowed the contents, but after an application of the stomach pump she admitted that she had merely tasted the stuff and threw the rest away. The girl should be examined as to her sanity.

TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL.

Finely Flourishing Under Rev. Dr Symonds.

Rev. Dr. Symonds, headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope, is, as he has reason to be, elated with the flourishing condition of his school. Thirty-two new pupils have been enrolled this term, and the total attendance is larger than at any time in the history of the Trinity College School. Dr. Symonds' many friends in Peterborough will sympathise with the success of the institution over which he is head, all the more because the increased prosperity of it is largely due to Dr. Symonds' strong personality, his distinction as a scholar and his many excellent qualities of character, which win him the respect of his boys, and bring out the best that is in them. Besides Dr. Symonds' success is a most gratifying practical answer to some of the adverse criticism evoked in some quarters at the time of his appointment, and a strong vindication of the wisdom of his selection.

OBITUARY.

The Late Squire Russell.

The angel of death came on Sunday morning last week with the silent touch of wings and took to himself our most respected citizen and ex-reeve, Wm. H. Russell, after an illness of some months. Deceased was not quite himself in January last, and at the earnest solicitations of his many friends consented to act as reeve, in the hope that a somewhat more active life attending to the duties of that office might do him good. But he did not improve, but rather grew worse so that he resigned the office in April, and ever since had been confined to his house, and for the last two months to his bed. No more highly respected citizen was ever more sadly followed to God's acre than the late Mr. Russell, even the children and young people whom he met, being his very warm friends, and we shall all miss him and cherish the most kindly recollections of his goodness and estimable character. The late Mr. Russell was born in Toronto in the year 1828, his parents having emigrated from the north of England a short time before. Leaving there when he was about five years of age they settled on the 6th concession of Cavan where he lived until he gave up farming, some thirty years ago, and moved to Millbrook. He assisted Messrs. Wood and Kells in their bank for a number of years after coming to Millbrook. At the age of 25 he married Miss Letitia Greer, who has ever since been his loving help-mate, and who is now left to mourn the decease of a husband beloved indeed. One daughter, Lila, was born to them, who afterwards married Mr. Chown, but her married life was short and she was called home before to await the coming of her loving parents. He was councillor and deputy reeve of Cavan for years, making a very capable representative, and in politics a Reformer.

The funeral took place on Tuesday to Gardner's Cemetery, the Rev. H. B. Kenny, his pastor of the Methodist church, conducting the services, and in spite of the rain, very many sorrowing friends were present to pay their tribute of respect.—Millbrook Reporter.

Shorter Hours for Barbers.

Alive C. LeGros has decided to close his Tony Tonsorial Parlours every evening at 8 o'clock, except Saturday nights. This is the rule in all the best barber shops in the cities, and why not in Alive LeGros'? The barbers in Peterborough have been toiling all kinds of hours, day and night, and get no fair show for exercise or out door recreation. Barbers need shorter hours as much, and more so than most other trades. I hope my customers will take notice and help the boys out by getting their work done before 8 o'clock p.m. I have four chairs running all the time and no one need be disappointed. Alive C. LeGros, 329 George street. d

FAMOUS BROOKFIELD STABLE.

The Great Stables of Baroness Burdett-Coutts Seen by a Canadian.

In my last letter I wrote of the visit of some of the Canadian Ministers to Holly Lodge, the residence of Mr. and the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, near London, where the famous Brookfield stud is kept. Highgate is close to Hampstead Heath, famous in all the annals of London life, and the public owe to the host at Holly Lodge the successful issue of what is known as the Hampstead Heath act, by which Parliament Hill and an additional three hundred acres of land became a public recreation ground in 1885.

The lunch concluded, the majority of the guests strolled down to the stud stables, which are situated at the foot of the hill, which was once the scene of a curious stampede of rebels, who had taken up this high point of vantage to watch for the destruction of the Parliament buildings by Guy Fawkes. Our host led the way down a shaded path between great banks of holly and rhododendron, with his Indian Highness, Sir Perterb Singh, who is one of the most courtly of Imperial Highnesses to be found in the group of distinguished men sent to the coronation of King Edward. It is very clearly to be seen that this Indian Prince has never walked when it is possible to ride. He has the gait of the cavalryman, and the smartest of patent leather footgear, which looked curiously out of keeping with the tight, grey trousers which clung to the most un-English of nether extremities and still more out of keeping with the low-collared frock coat of fine dark cloth which reached below the knees, and the magnificent turban of delicate colored puggaree, which was wrapped about his dark face in a most becoming fashion. I wonder if in my last letter I spoke of the Chinese Ambassador and his wife and little girl of about eight years of age, who accompanies her parents everywhere, dressed in the quaint garb of her country, and evidently "taking in" the "topsy-turvy" world which her Chinese ideas must teach her to think exists in this part of the globe. Not a little bored, I expect, by the lonely position she is forced to occupy, is this rather large-eyed and not at all unprepossessing little Chinese maiden. Her mother has the most charmingly genial face, a great contrast to the grave lord and master, who is a good-looking type of Li Hung Chang. Evidently there were no more keenly interested spectators of the beautiful horse show we were treated to than the Chinese and the Indians of Mr. Burdett-Coutts. And what of the horses and mares and foals which were brought out by the natty grooms and stablemen for our inspection as we sat sheltered from the sun, watching the moving pictures, which had for a background the stable walls where the Brookfield stud is kept?

Possibly not a more beautiful scene in the animal kingdom is to be witnessed than one of those well-bred and splendidly groomed mares, with her healthy young progeny close to her side. There was a splendid quiver of excitement and pride in the attitude of each famous mare as she brought with her before the audience assembled what her mother's heart told her was the reproduction, and often the reproduction made perfect of her own magnificent personality. Rosa Bonheur or Lady Butler would have simply delighted in these pictures, which pass all too quickly before us. There is no class of horse-breeding which could appeal with greater charm to the artistic sense than this hackney strain, which in truth represents the very best form which "horsiness" can assume. A well-ordered establishment, a comfortable country home, seem nothing without a few well-bred horses for general utility purposes as an accompaniment. Race horses may lead to undesirable connections, and hunters are to those who do not follow the hounds a selfish luxury, but the delights and comforts of country life, the most sane and wholesome type of life in Great Britain, and, indeed, in the whole world, are those which we connect with the possession of well-bred and carefully-bred horses of the types which were represented by the stables at Brookfield. The relationship which exists between the human being and the docile and well-trained inhabitants of well-kept home stables is a very charming one, and the assurance that is given to the buyer at such stables as we were invited to inspect is one which makes it vastly easier for the majority of people to purchase without too great expenditure of thought and anxiety.—Lally Bernard, in Toronto Globe.

United Kingdom of Tea Drinkers.

The consumption of tea in the United Kingdom exceeds that of all other European countries, and the United States put together. During the 17 years from 1884 to 1900 it has risen from 175,000,000 pounds to 250,000,000 millions, an increase of 43 per cent.

When Life is not Life.

"Without health life is not life; it is only a state of langour and suffering—an image of death." The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives the weak, languid and discouraged a new hold on life. It makes the blood pure and rich, creates new nerve force and instils new energy and vitality into the whole being. It makes weak and sickly people strong and well by building up the system.

Willing to Go Without.

Henry Clews, perfectly bald, was once travelling on a western railroad. Sitting directly behind him was a coarse, looking man with a rough shock of hair the color of brick dust.

Tapping Mr. Clews on the shoulder, the fellow remarked:

"Oh, yes," was the answer, "but I was a trifle late, and there was nothing left but that stuff you wear so I told them I'd rather have none."

Four Ts Makes Good Singers.

Many people when singing get husky, and this spoils the voice. Four T's is par excellence a lung and throat tonic and cures chronic congestion of the bronchial tubes, and makes the voice as clear as a bell. An ordinary cough is cured by a few doses of this marvellous medicine. Sold in 25c bottles at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

LONG COATS.

Expensive Summer Wraps of Loose Sack Coats.

The fashionable summer wrap is quite a costly garment, as the latest models are of pale fawn and biscuit Arabian lace mounted on glace silk and adorned with ruched and plaited frills of chiffon. The sack or paletot shape is universal in these models, and a similar coat in cream white renaissance or luxeuil lace is smart for evening wear.

The long sack coat in putty or fawn tints decorated with ecru lace and velvet straps is useful on cool days or for driving and motor wear. Young people still patronise the short sack bolero which reaches barely to the waist, and this set in broad plaits and stitched half way down is an up to date model in black or mastic tones, with the inevitable touch of lace or velvet.

The dress shown is of gray crepe de chine. The waist is collarless and is trimmed with a yoke and wide bands of lace. The fullness at the sides is shirred on both waist and skirt. The latter has a long train edged with lace applique. JUDIC CHOLLET.

PRICE OF PROSPERITY.

We Suffer More Than did our Grandfathers Who Fared Less Sumptuously.

This is an age of luxury and self-indulgence.

Prosperity has brought with it a disposition to take it easy and to live well, which has not been productive of the best results, in the physical well-being of the men and women of to-day.

We ride when our grandfathers used to walk. Machinery and inventions have gradually lessened the actual amount of physical work in every department of life. We eat and drink more lavishly and extravagantly than did our ancestors who were content to live on simpler and often coarser foods.

We must pay the penalty for our self-indulgence and it is a fact that tens of thousands are to-day afflicted with diseases which are the direct result of lack of exercise, over-eating, and over-drinking and about which, with their plain living, our grandfathers knew little or nothing.

Perhaps the most common result of all this is Dyspepsia, and a heavy toll indeed is this monster of pain and distress levying on the prosperous high liver of to-day.

But if prosperity has brought with it pains, modern Science has armed humanity with a sure defence against all stomach disorders.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets never fail to instantly relieve and, if used perseveringly according to directions, to permanently cure the most distressing cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, or any other derangement of the digestive organs.

Thousands of the very worst cases have been cured and have testified to the fact that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are an unfailing remedy for Stomach Diseases.

Historic Harrow.

The new sultan of Zanzibar is a graduate of Harrow and while attending that school boarded at the house of Bosworth Smith, one of the greatest living authorities on Mohammed and Mohammedanism. Since the days when, in 1860, the Duke of Genoa, the uncle of the present king of Italy, went to Harrow there has nearly always been a person of royal blood among the pupils. Just now Prince Purachatra, a son of the king of Siam, is a monitor there, and his brother, Prince Yugala, left Harrow only three months ago.

A Grateful Tribute

From a Man Who Looked Upon His Case as Hopeless.

Doctors Diagnosed his Case as Catarrh of the Stomach, but Failed to Help Him —Many Remedies Were Tried Before a Cure was Found.

(From the Bulletin, Bridgewater, N. S.)

We suppose there is not a corner in this wide Dominion in which will not be found people who have been restored to health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There are many such cases here in Bridgewater and its vicinity, and we are this week given permission to record one for the benefit of similar sufferers. The case is well known in this vicinity and the tenacity of the disorder was remarkable. For six years Alfred Veinot, a surveyor of lumber for the great lumber firm of Davis & Sons, was a victim of a serious disorder of the stomach. His sufferings were excruciating and he had wasted to a shadow. Doctors prescribed for him, yet the agonising pains remained. Many remedies were tried but to no avail. The case was diagnosed as catarrh of the stomach, food became distasteful, life a burden. The trouble went on for nearly six years, then a good Samaritan advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills were given a fair, patient trial, Mr. Veinot using about a dozen boxes, and before they were all gone a permanent cure was effected. Mr. Veinot is now able to attend to his business when it looked as if he was doomed to die. He is grateful to this great medicine for his cure and has no hesitation in saying so.

Because of their thorough and prompt action on the blood and nerves these pills speedily cure anaemia, rheumatism, sciatica, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, scrofula and eruptions of the skin, erysipelas, kidney and liver troubles and the functional ailments which makes the lives of so many women a source of constant misery. Get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Kitchener's Way.

British public opinion is strongly in favor of keeping Lord Kitchener at home instead of sending him to India. His lordship does not stand so well with the aristocracy, to many members of which he has given offence by refusal to meet their wishes. For instance, says the London correspondent of The Detroit Tribune, there is one great nobleman who desired that his favorite son be sent home from South Africa. So he telegraphed to Kitchener: "Please send my son home at once; urgent family affairs." Kitchener replied: "Your son cannot return at all; urgent military affairs."

An Extremist.

A Distinguished Visitor.

There arrived this morning at Ormond and Walsh's pharmacy, from Brantford, six dozen bottles of that celebrated medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. This is not a patent medicine but a reliable remedy prescribed by three eminent doctors, and dispensed by a druggist. Purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. Price 50 cents for 50 doses. Get a bottle to-day while it lasts.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Strenuous Romance.

They met when the showers of April
Were gushing in thousands of rills,
And they strayed where the first dandelions
Were gleaming upon the green hills.
They gathered the purple peach blossoms
And were buoyant beneath the May sky.
He wooed her among the June roses
And heard the sweet word in July.

They planned and made ready in August;
Ah, swiftly the dreamy days passed!
The wedding took place in September;
Their love was rewarded at last.
He brought her back home in October
At the end of the honeymoon's course;
She applied to the courts in November
And at Christmas received her divorce.

EQUAL TO SHOPLIFTING.

"Tasters" Cost London Tradesmen Many Thousands a Year.

As a manager of a huge supply establishment of the "stores" order let me say that unless you were in the business you would find it impossible to realise what an aggregate amount customers of the "tasting" kind—I do not now so much refer to legitimate tasters, who sample butter and cheese—cost a concern like this, and much of this tasting is nothing but barefaced pilfering, says a London tradesman to London Tit-Bits.

Not to speak of the articles these people take—the offenders are generally women, I am sorry to say—the articles such as raisins, nuts, biscuits, a grape or two here and a strawberry there, hundreds and hundreds of them will half covertly help themselves to a peach, an apricot or a blood orange, and when they have several children with them all scattered about a shop and doing the same thing the matter becomes serious. It happens in scores of cases that the articles taken in this way exceed the value of those bought by fourfold. If a word is spoken to these people, their indignation, mock or real, is a sight. Nothing can exceed their effrontery.

It has become a serious question, one that is going to be debated with others ere long by west end tradesmen, for it is calculated that we lose a total of many, many thousands a year by these tasters. We regard women who deliberately allow their children to take expensive fruits in this way and then refuse to pay as almost creating a tendency to shoplifting.

He Lives in Chicago.

A student of the Chicago directory finds that there are in the city 700 Adams and not a single Eve. But of Cains there are fifty-five and Abels eight. The city is well supplied with patriarchs—100 Abrahams, nineteen Isaacs and 600 Jacobs, and of Solomons there are 110. There are fifteen Darlings and but two men whose name is Kiss, and there is a total of ninety Loves, but not a Lover, although there is one Mormon. The most abbreviated surname is Re. Some of the other odd names are Papa, Morningstar and Paradise. The only man in Chicago who, according to the directory, is a Fake is Fred L., one of the assistant state attorneys. It seems that, after all, the men in Chicago are divided in about the same proportion as the men of the world, according to New Testament inferences. There are twenty-five Hopes, seven Faiths and one poor, lone Charity among the names. There are eight Pains and only one Well.

Golfing Story of Balfour.

Among the many stories told of Mr. Balfour's golfing, says a contemporary, the following is not perhaps so well known as some others:—There used to be a famous old worthy on the golf links at North Berwick who invariably carried for the present Prime Minister. One day, when playing in a foursome, Mr. Balfour was followed round the links by a small knot of people. Among the spectators was an individual with what was afterwards described as "an irritating cackle of a cough." He always coughed at a critical moment, and contrived to do it just as Mr. Balfour was about to take a long, critical put. The old caddie, who had borne the cough patiently enough until now, put out his hand and stopped the player. Then, turning to the little group of onlookers, asked, with a great excess of politeness, "Con any of you gentlemen oblige this man wi' a jujube?"

This Boy was Weak and Languid

Doctor Said He Grew Too Fast—Parents Became Alarmed and Used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food With Splendid Results.

So mild and gentle in action is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that it is peculiarly suited for the use of children. Both boys and girls are under a very severe strain during the time that their systems are developing into manhood and womanhood. The tax on the blood and nerves is frequently too great and some external assistance is necessary. We do not believe that it is possible to secure better treatment at such times than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this belief is backed by the testimony of very many parents, who have seen health restored to their children by means of this great restorative.

Mrs. George F. Brisbin, Lake street, Peterborough, Ont., states;

"One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid, and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long before we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better colour, and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along under this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 5 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

ABOUT NEW ZEALAND

WELL-PUT CONCLUSIONS OF AMERICAN BUSINESS MAN.

Range of Taxes in England's Twentieth Century Colony—Progressive Cities—Political Life Pure—Its Glorious Climate—Ideal Hotel Life—As Brief of Speech as Spartans—The People Are Agreeable.

Mr. C. W. McFarran, a well-known Chicago business man, presently living in Auckland, New Zealand, writes from that city as follows:

City taxes in all towns and cities throughout this colony are raised by assessing the annual rentals, less 20 per cent., which deduction is made in order to get at the net value the owner receives. There is no poll tax on the voters, but a Chinaman has to pay £500 before he can land in New Zealand. There is no tax upon personal property, but one on all incomes which exceed $1,500 per year. Unimproved real estate is assessed at 5 per cent. on the actual value.

Auckland has about 70,000 people, including its suburbs. Its imports for 1900 were valued at $13,300,000, and its exports $13,400,000, with an inward tonnage aggregating 324,000 tons during the year. The amount of deposits in the savings banks of Auckland totalled $9,500,000 last year. It is a beautiful and thrifty city. The mineral output of the Auckland district was $6,000,000 last year.

Wellington, the capital, has spent $1,500,000 on its drainage, which is taken four miles out in the ocean, through the hills, leaving the harbor undolluted. The schools in Wellington are the finest in New Zealand. Wellington College has students from all parts of New Zealand, Australia and England.

The principal cities throughout New Zealand have their out-of-town recreation grounds, tennis courts, bowling greens and cricket grounds, equal to any in America. Prominent business men are as keen athletes as college students. There are eleven public holidays each year. All women 21 years of age have the same voting power as the men in parliamentary elections, but they cannot stand for a seat in the House of Representatives. There are grammar schools, industrial schools, colleges, universities, institutions for the blind, mission houses, training schools, homes for the aged and infirm, children's homes, and every comfort for the sick and feeble known to modern progress. The colony's art societies, and technical schools, art galleries, public libraries and social clubs compare favorably with any in America.

The policemen in all the cities number but 650, and are appointed and controlled by the Government of New Zealand, and reside in fine station-houses. They carry no clubs or shooting-irons, but are neatly uniformed and wear gloves. When an arrest is made there is no dragging the prisoner through the streets to a patrol box, followed by a mob. The policemen here summon a cab at once and take their charge to the police station.

Here is a land where the people are happy, prosperous, ambitious, and yet not given to money grasping, nor narrow. They value the true man and his character above riches.

Political life here is far purer and much in advance of that of older countries. The ballot is untrammeled, and the members of Parliament stand on their merits and vote as their conscience and convictions lead them, in regard to measures. It is a government for the people, where the laboring man has so much to say, that it is, to a great extent a working man's paradise.

There are no snakes or poisonous reptiles in the colony. The Government will not permit any circus to import or bring any snakes into the land.

New Zealand's greatest attraction is the marvellous climate, the temperature rarely being warmer than 85 degrees, and its beautiful scenery and hot mineral baths. Snow is unknown in the Northern Islnad. The flowers flourish equally as luxuriously as those of California. Calla lilies grow out of doors in abundance all the year round.

The people travel hundreds of miles to make holiday. Extensive yachting cruises are planned and thousands of yachtsmen go out with their families, taking tents and camping paraphernalia, for a cruise extending from one to two weeks. Even the young boys go in their little sailing boats, and on the beautiful evergreen mountain sides, down close by the water, you can see their snow white tents, always surmounted with a Union Jack, while out in the innumerable bays are great fleets of yachts riding at anchor.

Cricket matches, golf and tennis championships, and bowling tournaments on the greens, are the chief sports, all heartily entered into, while trade and friendly societies and church organizations have their regular outings and picnics in the public domains and parks and the country.

The Auckland Acclimatization Society's trout hatchery turns out 500,000 trout annually, and 200,000 strong 3-months-old fish and 10,000 yearlings are liberated in the streams within the Auckland and Okoroire district every year.

The acclimatization societies, under Government regulations, impose a fisherman's license of 10 shillings ($2.50) per year on all who fish with rod and reel. The restrictions the acclimatization societies have been able to institute are making New Zealand the fisherman's paradise. Red deer, ducks, pheasants, rabbits and wild boar pigs are very plentiful in the ranges.

Hotel life throughout New Zealand would be highly pleasing to all who enjoy comfort and security. Coats, wraps, umbrellas and personal effects may be left anywhere, and no one disturbs them. In the hotels your room door need never be locked. The price in the best hotels per day is from $2.50 to $3. This tariff includes not only board and room, but also tea served in rooms before breakfast, tea at 11 o'clock in the morning and in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, and at night a substantial supper from 9 o'clock to 12. Your shoes are polished morning and evening if desired, newspapers and bathing privileges are supplied free, and you have excellent food and dining service, with no tipping ever asked for or expected.

In New Zealand on Sundays and holidays every fifth man wears a navy blue suit of clothes. Soft caps are worn by men in full evening dress going to the opera. The cut of one's trousers is not allowed to disturb a man's devotion toward sports and out-door fetes; it is not a country where there are four styles in a year. The people seem to be above the fol-de-rols of fashion. They are more of a hospitable, generous, old-fashioned stamp. They all dress well and live well, and believe in full enjoyment of sun and sea air as the best tonics. It cannot be said that drink is New Zealand's vice. Few dissipated faces are to be seen.

New Zealanders always want to make matters as brief as possible, and use the shortest terms or words expressive of what they mean. For instance, "re" is used in writing letters that would otherwise commence "with regard to your favor," and "Memo" is invariably used instead of "memorandum." It takes a little more time to say twenty-five cents than one "bob," as a shilling is termed here. A pound is called a "quid."

They are a kind-hearted, good-natured and, above all, a considerate people. They are not a bit conceited, though they have achieved success commendable in the highest degree and have built up a wonderful government within the past fifty years. Many men are living here now who have helped change the original settlements to cities and great commercial centres, doing business with the entire world. They have built railways and established great commercial industries, making their country a recognized factor among the nations.

The Wanganui River is the Rhine of New Zealand. It is a grand river of rare grace and beauty as it sweeps along on its way to the sea. The Maori houses are dotted about on the mountain sides, while cattle graze on the hillocks, and the lowering white clouds kiss the high mountain peaks in view and float on toward the ocean.

Dining cars are attached to all express trains, and a full meal, with hot meats, can be had at what seems a ridiculously low price.

Dinner Above the Clouds.

As we could no longer see the earth, all sensation of movement ceased. We might be going at storm speed and not know it. We could not even discover the direction we were taking save by descending below the clouds to take our bearings.

A joyous peal of bells mounted up to us. It was the noonday Angelus ringing from a belfry below. I had placed among our stores a substantial lunch of hard boiled eggs, roast beef, chicken, cheese, ice cream, fruits and cakes, champagne, coffee and chartreuse. Nothing could be more delicious than lunching like this above the clouds. No dining room is so marvelous in its decorations. The sun sets the clouds in ebullition, and they send up rainbow colored jets of cold vapor, like great sheaves of fireworks, all around the table, throwing out spangles of ice, while flakes, forming moment by moment under our eyes, fall in our drinking glasses.

A Familiar Name

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

Cold Water Without Ice.

It frequently happens that ice cannot be obtained for use in the sick room. In such an event it is only necessary to procure a pitcher of cold water and place about it a towel soaked in a solution composed of two ounces of ammonium nitrate and one pint of water. In a very short time—about half an hour—very cold water will be on hand ready for immediate use.

Pens and Pencils.

The census bureau has issued a report on the manufacture of pens and pencils in the United States for 1900. It shows that a total of $3,071,741 was invested in this manufacture in the fifty-five establishments reporting for the United States. The value of the products is reported at $4,222,149; wages, $1,192,405; material used, mill supplies freight and fuel, $1,747,852.

Throw Away Your Pill Boxes.

Why take pills when every dose only makes another necessary? Merrill's System Tonic tones the liver and restores the muscular power to the bowels, thus curing constipation to stay cured. When the bowels are right, dyspepsia and nervous troubles disappear. 50 pleasant to take doses for 50 cents. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Not to Be Expected.

"Pshaw!" exclaimed the professor to the student who was rehearsing his Latin oration, "you are too solemn. There's no life in your speaking at all."

"Of course not," responded the student lively enough. "You don't expect it in a dead language, do you?"

The Way a Woman Begins.

"Have you finished that new novel yet?" he asked.

"Oh, dear, no. I've hardly begun," she answered. "In fact, I've only read the last chapter."

To Increase Your Appetite.

Nothing will stimulate a keen, healthy relish for food, insure good digestion and perfect assimilation, like Ferrozone, which is the most successful tonic and health renewer known to medical men. Ferrozone is a positive cure for Anaemia, Impure Blood, Boils, Pimples, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all Stomach and Bowel Troubles. Ferrozone cleanses, strengthens and purifies the blood, it invigorates the heart and nerves, banishes sickness and pain and makes ailing people well. Try a box or two of Ferrozone, the result will be a surprise. Price 50c. At druggists or Ormond & Walsh's.

Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

How He Made Money.

Conversation overheard on a train for Monte Carlo. Two travelers unknown to each other chatting familiarly:

"On your way to Monte Carlo, sir, that delightful and exclusive home for all gamblers?"

"That is exactly where I am going."

"And you will play just a little, I suppose?"

"I do nothing else, sir. It is my business."

"Gracious! You don't mean to say you make a business of it?"

"Yes, sir; twice a day regularly, and I never by any chance lose."

"In that case perhaps you will explain your 'system' to me."

"Certainly, with pleasure. I play the violin."

Why He Changed His Mind.

"I tell you, sir, civil service is a great thing.

The man addressed looked astonished.

"Coming from any one but you, that remark would not greatly surprise me," he said. "You didn't think so when I last saw you."

"No, I didn't."

"You considered civil service little short of a civic curse."

"That's right. But then I was on the outside and trying to get in, while now I am on the inside and trying to stay in. It makes a great difference."

An Opportunity.

Henry—There's one thing that can be said of poor Tom. He died without owing a dollar to any one in the world.

Dick—And think of the opportunities he must have had! It should be a warning to everybody still alive. You haven't got a couple of dollars about you that you can let me have until I see you again?

"HARAKIRI."

The report from Tokio that the Japanese officer Yamaguchi has committed suicide because his father, an old soldier, reproached him with having lost 200 brave men, who were killed recently by an avalanche, and being saved himself, is quite in accordance with the best Japanese traditions. "Harakiri," or, as the Japanese prefer to call it themselves, "seppuku," is not an aboriginal Japanese custom, but was evolved gradually during the middle ages. Its origin is probably to be found in the desire on the part of vanquished warriors to avoid the humiliation of falling into their enemies' hands alive. Thus the custom would come to be a characteristic of the military class, or at that time of the feudal nobility and gentry. From a custom it developed into a privilege, and at the beginning of the sixteenth century all who could claim the rank of gentleman were exempted from the indignity of being put to death by the common executioner and were allowed to commit "harakiri" instead, the time and place being notified to them officially and officials being sent to witness the ceremony.

How ineradicable is the Japanese sentiment of death rather than dishonor was shown in a rather ludicrous way in the early days of the modern constitution. A young Japanese midshipman on board a British man-of-war was reprimanded by the authorities at Tokio for some small indiscretion, and on the receipt of the letter went and committed "harakiri" in the wardroom. The romantic novels of Japan are full of instances of this time honored custom—the most famous of which is the story of "The Forty-seven Ronins." The vendetta, though imperatively prescribed by custom, was forbidden by law, much the same as dueling with us. To take vengeance on an enemy was inevitable to a chivalrous Japanese, but it also involved capital punishment in "harakiri."—London Chronicle.

ELECTRIFIED HOUSES.

The Simple Explanation of a Very Ordinary Phenomenon.

An instance of nonfamiliarity with simple scientific facts is illustrated by an article that goes the rounds of the press once or twice annually—namely, the story of the electrified house. The article usually states that some one has discovered that everything he touches in his house—the radiators, picture frames, banquet lamps, etc.—gives him an electric shock; hence he fears there is some connection between the arc light wires and the water pipes near his residence. The electric light inspector is therefore summoned and reports that the wires of his company are intact and that the electricity must come from some other source.

It does not dawn on any of the people consulted that the discoverer of the phenomenon is unconsciously performing one of the simplest and oldest of electrostatic experiments, the shuffling of his shoes over the dry carpet raising the potential of his body to several thousand volts, which discharge at every opportunity. One may even get electric discharges from his knuckles against the brass lock of a handbag which he may be carrying while walking on a stone pavement during cold, dry weather.

But, dismissing newspaper science, it is somewhat astonishing, in view of the many ways in which in cold, dry countries electricity is unintentionally developed and manifested by sparking, that the first knowledge concerning this phenomenon did not come to the ancients in this way rather than by the attraction of light substances by amber. The explanation of this, however, may be that the scientists of bygone days did not reside in cold, dry countries.

When to Eat Fruit.

The question is often asked, At what time of day should fruit be eaten? In tropical countries, where fruit is the chief article of food, the rule appears to be that the earlier in the day it is taken the better and the later the worse. In hot weather many wise people will eat none after noon, alleging that the digestion then declines in power with the decline of the day and the fruit, instead of digesting, decomposes owing to the presence of the saccharine matter. The objection to fruit and certain kinds of vegetables late in the day, be the explanation what it may, is certainly justified by an ample experience, though some persons can eat fruit at all hours without feeling any inconvenience.

A Plea For Courtesy.

We have lost the old flowery forms of politeness, and now we never waste "Thank you!" on a fellow creature who is not of our own immediate circle. A tradesman does, but he knows it will be charged in the bill. I wonder what will bring us back to the old sweetness of manner? Why should not the customer in the teashop or the customer in the postoffice say "Please" when he gives his order and the other spare a "Thank you!" when he has paid his bill? It makes life run so much more easily.

Mrs. Maxwell Barter, Grand Cascapedia, Que., writes:

"I take great pleasure in telling you what Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has done for me and mine. A year ago my little girl, now nearly three years old, was attacked by Cholera Infantum. It was in the hot season and she was teething at the time. The doctor gave her up; in fact, I did so myself.

"I finally decided to try Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry. I procured a bottle and it did her so much good that I got another bottle and by the time it was finished she was completely cured. As for myself, it has saved me from inflammation of the bowels several times. I always keep a bottle in the house and cannot recommend it too highly."

ARE YOU A PRISONER?

THOUSANDS of men are prisoners of disease as securely as though they were confined behind the bars. Many have forged their own chains by the vices of early youth, exposure to contagious disease, or the excesses of manhood. They feel they are not the men they ought to be or used to be. The vim, vigor, and vitality of manhood are lacking. Are you nervous and despondent? tired in the morning? have you to force yourself through the day's work? have you little ambition and energy? are you irritable and excitable? eyes sunless, depressed and haggard looking? memory poor and brain fagged? have you weak back with dreams and losses at night? deposit in urine? weak sexually?—you have

Corticelli SPOOL SILK

For dressmaking and family sewing Corticelli Silk is the best silk made. For hand or machine use it has no equal. Corticelli Silk runs smoothly in the needle; it is always even in size and always full length and full strength.

Ask your dealer for "Corticelli" and politely but firmly refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are "just as good." You may be sure they all lack the many qualities of the genuine Corticelli Silk. If your dealer does not keep Corticelli Silk, it is probably because he makes a little more money selling you some other brand. As Corticelli costs YOU no more than poor silk, why don't you try it? Ask for Corticelli—the Dressmakers' Favourite Spool Silk.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

RUGBY.

The first practice of the season takes place to-day. It is expected that there will be a good-sized turnout. A great many new players are intending getting into the game. In all probability there will be material for two league teams. What the exact personnel of the senior team will be is not known. It is expected that there will not be many changes needed on the wing line. Patterson and Smith are the only ones who have left town. There is plenty of material to fill these two places. "Tommy" Robinson, who played such a plucky game at London will likely get a look in. Art Noble will likely be tried on the wing instead of the scrimmage. Tick Thornton has signified his willingness to get into a place where he can do a little shoving. He looks like a good recruit. Many players of similar proportions will be seen out before long. The other positions will have just as many aspirants. Everything points to a successful season.

The O.R.F.U. will meet the latter part of next week to draw up the senior schedule. It is possible that the others will be considered at the same time.

It would be a good idea to have a couple of practice matches with outside teams before the season opens so as to try the new material.

BOWLING-ON-THE-GREEN.

The Benedicts seem confident that they can regain their lost laurels from the Bachelors on the green, and have challenged them to a return match on Thursday evening next. Needless to say the challenge has been accepted.

Members of the Bowling Club who have not yet paid their dues to the Secretary-Treasurer are urged to attend to this little matter without further delay, as a number of outstanding accounts have to be met immediately.

THE RACES.

The fact that on the first afternoon of the horse races at the Driving Park, Fred McGrath and George Taylor will run their 100 yard dash for the Schneider Challenge Cup is still further increasing the interest which is being taken in the programme for Monday and Tuesday.

LACROSSE.

It's all over now, shouting and all, and the lacrosse season of 1902, as far, at least, as the seniors are concerned, says the Brantford Expositor, is a thing of the glorious past. In league games the Brantford team has won twelve games and lost two, scoring 101 goals as against 40. A few of the lacrosse players who have done so well for Brantford left for their homes to-day, but they will be back in time to hear some of the old games recalled in the spring. The management will be here too, and the same old crowd, and in due course some new blood will be introduced, with the hope that the team will be strengthened. The Tecumsehs say that they will have a winning team in 1903 if the players are in the country, and for the good of the game in Toronto it is to be hoped that they will have something more than a good guard "on paper." The Torontos made a spurt in the middle stretch and hopes were raised but it was all off at the last; it was a little harder on the enthusiasts even than the path of the Indians. But all along the line there will be doings next season.

BASEBALL.

The Cuban giants, most famous of coloured baseball teams, went on the warpath among themselves the other day. When the razors had been taken away two of the black ball tossers had been fatally carved.

No wonder there is a scarcity of young men for the ministry, when baseball pays such high salaries. Many players receive all the way from $4,000 to $8,000 for the six-months' season, and then have the opportunity of going south in the winter and earning more.

RUGBY FOOT BALL AS IT IS PLAYED.

Behold the time is come when the football man girdeth up his loins and doeth great stunts where they that are on the grand stand may marvel at him.

He coaxeth his hair that it groweth long and uneven.

With the recklessness of the chrysanthemum combeth he his locks.

He goeth out at the dewy dawn of day, and induceth a horse to kick him that his skin may be toughened.

He butteth his head against the fences and the houses that they shake even unto the ground.

And his head becometh hard like unto a cannon ball and his neck groweth thick and tough like unto the chuck steak of the butcher, or even the cheek of the man of law.

He wrestleth with his arms and kicketh with his feet, so that he becometh as a lion for strength and as a deer for swiftness.

And he goeth unto the field whereon the game is played, singing strange songs and shouting strange shouts.

For he hath his class yell, and his college yell, and his team yell, in his system somewhere and must relieve himself of them.

He throweth his hair from his eyes and asserteth in a loud voice—

"Hoop-te-do! Hoop-te-do! We are the biffers of ninety-two!"

And divers other intellectual gems he worketh off, for he hath studied literature, lo, these many years, that he may compose yells such as this.

Now, when the teams have arranged themselves upon the field, then doth the football man comfort himself as a warrior that sniffeth at the battle;

And they throw the ball into the midst of them that they would slay, and with a mighty shout fall upon their adversaries.

Truly, ten men fall upon one and revile him that he is not large enough for the eleventh to get upon him.

Yea, they chase their opponents adown the field, and grab them upon the legs, and hurl them in the air, and stand them upon their heads, and walk over their countenances;

They leap joyfully against the neck of the half back, and seek to push the guard through the large person who is known as the centre rush;

They make V-shaped wedges and trample the enemy into the ground, so that their ears are left in the real estate;

They grasp the tackle by the hair of his head and the basement of his garments and lap him around the goal posts;

They smite the captain hip and thigh, and put the kibosh upon the full-back by dragging him from the forty-yard line unto the off-side by holding unto his nose;

And the doctors, and the druggists, and the undertakers that are in the audience smile great smiles—

Even the smiles of them that are made exceedingly happy.

And the tender women that sit among the audience, do they faint and fall in grief at the slaughter?

Nay! gentle inquirer; nay, and yet again nay.

They stand upon the benches and exclaim;

"Pull his arm off, Johnny! The ball is thine! Kill the robber. Hand him one in the lamps! Poke him in the breather! Good! Good! Kill the man, but get the ball! E-e-e-e-e! Isn't that lovely?"

And when the game is ended and the ambulance hath hauled out the maimed and crippled, then do the fair young things declare:

"Oh, isn't he too sweet? Didst thou see how he gouged out the eyes of that dreadful man who tried to hold the ball? And was got the cute little fellow who broke his neck against the goal posts just too cunning for anything?"

Yea, verily, this is football as she is played.

Is it not so, even as it is written? Get thee unto the gridiron and see for thyself.

THE NEW SEASON OPENS

In Connection With Y. M. C. A. Work in Peterborough.

Prospectus Issued for the Fall and Winter Months—Great Enthusiasm Displayed Amongst the Workers.

The opening of a down town office of the Y. M. C. A. in the Schneider block suggests that another season of work in the interests of the men will soon begin. This does not mean that work is done only in the fall and winter, for of a truth, the doors are open every day in the year from morning until late at night, so that the building is every day a centre for hundreds of young men. But the fall and winter months, with their long evenings, afford special opportunities for men to improve their time in following any or all of the multiplied features of the work which in the end go to make up an all round young man.

One great writer has said "that the capital of a city is not in its money, but its men." This is seen every day in the search the employer is making for the right kind of a man. The Y. M. C. A. is one of the greatest factors in contributing to the earning power of men, and so adding to the real wealth of the town.

The work is the new building now begins its sixth season, and any casual observer about the building at the present time will not be slow to say that the prospects were never better, and that the work never offered as many inducements to men as it will do now.

During the summer the committees which have charge of the various departments have been quietly working, studying the field and laying their plans. The officers say there has never been more enthusiasm or interest among the workers upon whose planning and efforts so much of the success of the Y. M. C. A. depends, for it must be borne in mind that it is men at work for men.

These plans have found expression in the annual prospectus, which will be ready early next week, and an effort will be made to place it in the hands of every interested man in town.

A good idea of what is going on in the building will be seen by a visit to the vacant store in the Schneider block, two doors above MacDonald's drug store, where photographs are on exhibition of some of the classes at work. The evening school has a well defined and practical set of courses, and the best available teachers.

The physical work will again be in charge of Mr. Horace Ayers, whose record last year was so credible, and highly satisfactory. With the additional training he has received at the summer school at Lakje Geneva, last year's record-breaking record should be easily outdone.

During the summer the interest in gymnastics has been steadily maintained, and for weeks past a large group of men have been preparing themselves for the coming season in the gymnasium by evening runs and track work.

A special effort will be made this year on behalf of young men under 18 years of age who are learning their trades. A special prospectus for them of six pages is now in the press, and will be sent out immediately. At the same time the work for school boys will be maintained and will share the same progress enjoyed by the other departments.

VIAMEDE.

(By Llewellyn A. Morrison.)

Fair Viamede, I voice thy praise;
From thy cool porches glisten
Wide gleams of silvery water ways;
There dreamers love to listen,
As evening's vesper shadows hide
The enchanting scenes surrounding,
That sense to spirit may confide
The harmonies abounding.

'Tis sweet to linger in thy spell;
The less becomes the greater;
No heart that loveth nature well
Can here become a hater.
Thou hast all moods of shade and shine
Within thy bounds abiding;
Here earth and heaven both intertwine
The gifts in their confiding.

When morning's misty garments cleave,
As each bright isle ariseth,
And all the colours interweave
Which Vision canonizeth;
The pearly light, the green and gold,
The mirrored sky-bloom blending,
The pictur'd mimicry unroll'd
Appear as if unending.

O'erhead the cloudway, white and grey,
Floats in a sapphire setting
And toward the south-land, far away,
Spreads frills of fairy netting;
There, billowy, snowdrift mountains tell
Of romance, song and story;
In them the amorous sunbeams dwell
And sub-translate their glory.

Dark in the north, wind lash'd and swirl'd,
A storm breaks on the vision,—
A Titan hath a tempest hurled
High into realms elysian;
The timorous wood nymphs of the glens
From dell and dingle hasten,—
I hear them sobbing through the fens
Like gnomes that grief doth chasten.

The trembling poplar tassels toss,
The elm leaves curl and flutter,
The crickets hide them in the moss,
The robins call and sputter
As down the blast with flash and roar
Cometh the boisterous blooming;
While field and forest, lake and shore
Receive baptismal blooming.

No artist pencil, train'd to praise,
May paint the tints attending,
Nor sparkling speech nor radiant phrase
Describe the beauty blending
When in the west the sun retires
Flame-circled at the even,
And lights Creation's vestal fires,
Love-perfumed, unto Heaven.

STOCK MARKETS.

Penna Bound to Sell Much Higher.

New York, Sept. 12th.—We have frequently written in the most bullish strain when speaking specially of Penna. stock and when it was selling below 150 predicted in these letters that it would sell at 175 before the end of the year, and above two hundred some time after that date. As matters are unfolding we are more confident than ever that both of these predictions will come true. The buying of Penna. since it left 160 has been even better and upon a larger scale than when the stock was between 150 and 160. The gigantic rise in the market value of its assets, B. & O., Norfolk, and kindred securities, of which it owns considerably more than a controlling interest, in each instance is a powerful bull argument for Penna. The fact that it is probably the substantial railway stock extant is also worthy of consideration. Among the railways, it is the largest earner in the United States, its revenue having exceeded the sum of two hundred million dollars per annum. It looks as if the Penna. was the dominant factor in Reading affairs, through medium of the Baltimore and Ohio, which it controls. That certainly is the indication. Under Penna. control Reading common would work its way to par, B. & O. would easily sell up 15 to 30 points more and Penna. will enhance in price accordingly. Buying stocks is like buying any other commodity or property. It is always advisable to purchase some of the best on the market. It pays best in the end, and by so doing you place your stock market commitments in the position that you can fell confident, should they temporarily go against you, that they would return to such figures as will allow you to dispose of your holdings at a profit. These remarks not only apply to Penna., but likewise to N. Y. C., B.O., L.N., Atch., and Reading issues, etc. The best is always advisable to have on hand. A lesson can be learned from the expose of the investment box of a Newark brewer, recently insolvent. It held barely any securities that were marketable, in flush times. Simply wade of stock certificates, of which the assignee would have to report of uncertain market value.

To-days market was reactionary. It discounted the probable bad bank statement to-morrow. Upon its appearance, the entire list should be a purchase. We deem it wise to purchase at the opening, Saturday, and upon any further concessions give an additional buying order at the market. We would specially call your attention to our letter issued to-morrow afternoon, Saturday. It has a special logical argument upon which can be drawn an idea when the different cliques will likely realize. The bull market has considerable distance to travel before reaching maximum prices. Some new high records will probably be made next week. Money closed at thirty per cent. Total sales 600,200.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

We cannot remember at the moment a time when banks were in such a position as they are at present, and if to-day's statement means anything it very strongly indicates that some further and more stringent methods are to be taken by them to strengthen their resources, and that must be done immediately. As a consequence, we look for further shifting of loans next week, and a continued stringency in the call money market, all of which we think will continue to operate against any attempts of bullish speculation. The bank statement is as bad as expected. The stock market is being influenced by rumor from London to the effect that $5,000,000 has been engaged in Paris for shipment to New York. It is reported that Secretary Shaw has decided to anticipate the Oct. interest on Government bonds and to increase Government deposits in the National Bank by $5,000,000. Have not been able to get official confirmation of this report yet, but announcement is expected to-day. We do not regard as yet that it is time to turn bullish on market, and advise purchasers to continue the policy we have advocated during the week of securing profits or reducing holdings, rather than loading up at these prices. We don't see any immediate relief in sight for the money market.

Rex. vs Crossley.—D. O'Connell (Peterborough,) for the prisoner, appealed from an order of Falconbridge, C.J., in Chambers, dismissing an application for her discharge from custody under a conviction by the Police Magistrate for the Town of Peterborough, for being the keeper of a house of ill-fame or bawdy house, in that town, and superseding the writ of habeas corpus on which the prisoner was brought up. She was sentenced to three months imprisonment at hard labour, and to pay a fine of $75. The learned Chief Justice amended the conviction by reducing the fine for $50. The prisoner contended, inter alia, that the conviction disclosed no offence known to the law. Frank Ford, for the Crown, contra. Reserved.

ENCOURAGES GAMBLING.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—I would like to ask the Mayor and Council, who seem disposed to do what is right, if they are aware of the practice which exists in certain small stores throughout the town, namely a kind of lottery. The modus operandi is as follows is as follows; The children get a stick of candy for a cent, and with it a chance to "draw" for a prize. The prize may consist of a ten-cent baseball or a piece of tin. This may be legal; I cannot say. But, "as the twig is bent, the tree is inclined." Is it not a fair inference that boys who are encouraged in habits like the above will turn out gamblers? Children get fascinated with a game of chance like the one I speak of, they are liable to go to any length to obtain the necessary coppers to play at it. I have been wondering if the members of the Town Council, if it can be legally done, would not put a stop to this practice, which can do Canadian children no good, and may do them much harm. Yours truly,

PARENT.

A CLOSE RIFLE MATCH

British Team Wins the Palma Trophy by Only 12 Points.

U.S TEAM BEATEN IN LAST STAGE

The Total Scores Were Far Behind Those of Last Year When the Canadians Won at Seagirt—Governor-General's Speech—Expressions of Good-Will on All Sides.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The Palma shield, presented by the riflemen of the United States for competition between the rifle associations of the world, was won Saturday by the British team, after the hardest struggle ever fought on Rockcliffe range, if not, indeed, one of the keenest ever witnessed in the world.

The total scores were far behind those of last year, when the Canadians captured the magnificent trophy and brought it to Canada. The competing teams were composed as follows-

The British Team.

Lieut.-Col. T. Lamb, South Lancashire Regiment.
Arm.-Sergt. J. H. Scott, Border Rifles.
Staff-Sergt. J. Fraser, 1st Banff R. G. A.
Arm.-Sergt. J. E. Martin, 5th V. B. Highland Light Infantry.
Corp. H. Ommundsen, Queen's Edinburgh.
Color-Sergt. Lawrence, 1st Dumbarton.
Corp. A. Paterson, 3rd V. B., Seaforth Highlanders.
Color-Sergt. W. T. Davies, 3rd Glamorgan.
Sergt. Ward.

The United States Team.

Major Glendie B. Young, 1st Regiment, D.C.N.G.
Captain William D. Martin, 2nd Regiment, N.G.N.J.
Lieutenant W. W. Cookson, 2nd Regiment, D.C.N.G.
Lieut. Thos. Holcombe, jr., U. S. Marine Corps.
Corporal K. K. V. Casey, 71st Regiment, N.G.N.Y.
Private George E. Cook, 2nd Regiment, D.C.N.G.
Private M. W. Parker, 1st Corps Cadets, Mass. V.M.
Private Walter G. Hudson, Signal Corps, N.G.N.J.
Spares—Lieut. H. H. Leizear, 6th Regiment Infantry, N. G. Pa.; Private Horace M. Bell, 1st Regiment, N.G.N.J.

The Canadian Team.

Captain R. J. Davidson, 8th Royal Rifles.
Captain T. Mitchell, U. L.
Lieut. J. W. Gilchrist, Guelph, F. B.
Staff-Sergt. J. McVittie, 48th.
Staff-Sergt. J. H. Simpson, R.G.
Color-Sergt. E. Skedden, 13th Regiment.
Pte. P. Armstrong, R.G.
Pte. C. S. Scott, 48.
Spares—Sergt.-Major F. Richardson 5th R.C.A.; Pte. Miller, 6th D.C.O. R.

The weather was somewhat gloomy at the start, but the day was not too bad on the whole, and from early morning a large crowd witnessed the competition.

Lieut.-Col. J. M. Gibson, president of the D. R. A., was referee, and only one challenge was made during the day, and that by a Briton at 800 yards.

At the 800-yard range, the United States team had a lead of 22 over the British and 42 over the Canadians, and things looked to be a "cinch" for Uncle Sam's men.

At the 900-yard range, however, they fell behind, two of their team going to pieces.

The British team went to the 1,000-yard range with a lead of 12, and just held their own, the match ending with a majority of 12 for John Bull's representatives.

For a while it was exciting. One of the Britons made a miss, and the lead fell off to about 5. It looked like nip and tuck, but a few shots made them come ahead again. It was a splendid finish. Instead of weakening or unnerving under the excitement, Fraser and Lawrence piled on bullseye after bullseye, and, when the last shot was fired, at 5.45 o'clock, the struggle was over, and victory was with the British.

The last two shots for the British were bullseyes, while, in contradistinction, the last two for the Canadians were goose eggs. At the close, the teams gathered together and gave one another lusty cheers.

The scoring was lower than on other occasions. When the Canadians won the trophy it was by 1,522 and the Americans piled up 1,494.

After the adjournment was made to the D.R.A. executive buildings, where Lieut.-Col. Gibson called on His Excellency the Governor-General to present the trophy to Major Freemantle for the winning team. His Excellency complimented the winners and said that the competition was the keenest he had ever witnessed. He complimented the Americans on their plucky argument and hoped that next year Americans, Canadians, Australians, South Africans and others would all have teams to compete for it. Major Freemantle made a neat reply, expressing the gratification of the team at the result, but said it was a poor way to requite the Canadians for so many kindnesses and favors to steal the shield from them.

His Excellency then presented Lieut Holcomb of the American team with the gold medal for the highest individual score. He made 194, two more than Sergt. Lawrence, of the British team who made 192. The plucky fellow was given three cheers, led by Hon. Col. Gibson. Afterwards the bronze medals were presented to all the competitors in behalf of the D.R.A., and the struggle for 1902 passed into history.

The total score of each man was as follows:

KING'S AWFUL CRIME

He Shot Down James William Freeman in Cold Blood.

MURDER WAS DUE TO JEALOUSY

Thought He Might Get the Place of the Fifteen-Year-Old Boy He Shot If He Were Out of the Way—Murderer Confessed the Crime to a Detective on Saturday.

St. Thomas, Sept. 15.—The body of 15-year-old James W. Freeman of Rodney, Ont., was exhumed yesterday for a post-mortem examination. From circumstances developed since a former inquest, it is believed that the deceased met with foul play, although the cause of death was first supposed to be from the accidental discharge of a gun.

William Charles King was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective John Murray of the provincial force, charged with the murder of James William Freeman, the 15-year-old adopted son of D. P. Freeman, who owns a farm on Hogg street, in the Township of Aldborough. King is Freeman's hired man.

After examination of the shot wounds it was concluded that it would be impossible for them to be self-inflicted. A visit was then made to the Freeman home, and King put through all his alleged movements after hearing the shot on the day of the tragedy.

After talking the matter over with Detective Murray the suspected man broke down and acknowledged that he had shot young Freeman because he was jealous of him. In telling his story King said he crept upstairs in the drive house and took aim at Freeman's eyes and shot him. He then called Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and told them that "Willie had shot himself."

King was brought to the county jail here last night by Detective Murray, to await the outcome of the inquest at Rodney to-day. He is about 25 years of age and a Barnardo Home boy, and has been with the Freemans over six years.

Detective Murray says that after warning King that anything he might say would be used against him, he related again how he killed young Freeman. Afterwards, in the presence of Mrs. Freeman, King said he killed James because he was jealous of him. He said if he could get James out of the way he would get his place on the farm.

PROBLEMS IN TRANSPORTATION.

Passengers Handled Without Stopping Trains on Through Lines.

Belfast, Sept. 15.—The engineering section of the British Association has been much interested in the model of an electric express train, which paradoxically, "stops at all stations." The idea is that a simple train composed of several corridor carriages as it passes each station drops off behind one carriage containing passengers who want to alight there, and picks up in front, another from that station, all this being done while the train is traveling at full speed. The carriage to be attached has to start in advance and get well under way by the time the train catches it, and is coupled by a patent automatic arrangement. The scheme is only possible where each carriage has its own motors in the multiple system.

To Kill King Menelek.

London, Sept. 15.—The martial Governor-General of the Italian colony at Erythrer says that there have been three recent attempts to assassinate King Menelek of Abyssinia. He expects he will be killed sooner or later, and thereafter a tremendous struggle for the succession, which Ras Makennen, who was recently in London at the coronation has the best chance of winning. There appears to be real danger that England, France and Italy will be at loggerheads in the event of Menelek's sudden death.

Thousands Lost by Fire.

Hamilton, Sept. 15. — Fire broke out in the big warehouse of John E. Brown, wool and hide dealer, shortly after 8 o'clock last night. At midnight it was impossible to tell the damage done, but it will be between $5,000 and $8,000. The loss is covered by insurance.

"CANADA FOR CANADIANS."

Let us all go in for a policy of Canada for the Canadians.

Why not?

Who will oppose it? Not the Conservative, not the Liberal, not the protectionist, not the free trader, nor the tariff-for-revenue man.

Nobody need keep his seat when the time comes to shout "Canada for the Canadians." We all believe in it.

After we have shouted ourselves hoarse we can of course, break up into groups and wrangle as to what was implied in the shouting.

Assume that Canada is for the Canadians, but what Canadians? Does the shouting mean that the interests of all Canadians are to be considered, or does it mean that the business interests of ten per cent. of our people shall be built up and that the rest of the people may go hang?

It is well to remember what, we suspect, is in some assemblages forgotten, that the producers of natural products in Canada are Canadians just as truly as are those engaged in manufacturing. The consumer is a Canadian as well as the producer—and he numbers 90 to the producers' 10. That policy will best serve Canadians which does the most good to the greatest number. — Toronto Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The current issue of the Monetary Times has a picture of the mills belonging to the Brackman-Ker Milling Company, Strathcona, Alberta, N. W.T., in front of which stands one of the twenty trains of oats shipped by the Company to Durban, South Africa, by way of Vancouver, B.C., in filling a contract they had with the Imperial Government toward the close of the South African War. Within thirty days from receipt of order they shipped 4,000 tons of oats, sacked, cleaned and weighing not less than 39 lbs. to the bushel, in fact some cars going as high as 42 and 43. This is a sample of what Northern Alberta can do when an outside market for its products is obtained. And this opens out possibilities of inter-Imperial trade which point to the time when the Empire with its varied products representing every climate under the sun will be self sustaining.

A COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE.

A visit to the premises of the Toronto Cold Storage Company is a revelation as to the possibilities of a comparatively new industry. In this building the two features that most strike the attention of the visitor are the number of entirely separate compartments and the absolute cleanliness which reigns on every side. Altogether, there are 250,000 cubic feet of cold storage space, of which 50,000 are for bonded goods. To preserve a distinct circulation for each variety of goods, the walls are made on a unique plan, designed by Mr. W. Harris, one of the proprietors, himself. They are of surprising thickness, and made of material not only beyond reproach in itself, but carefully adapted to keep out the passage of every faintest odor from adjoining compartments. This, including one or more thickness of insulating paper at intervals. There are several rooms devoted to the storing of eggs, some for candling, in which the temperature is about 40 degrees Fahr., and some for storing, where it is 38 degrees. In some nothing but butter is kept, the temperature ranging around 25 degrees. Other rooms are retained and properly equipped for oranges and lemons, apples, potatoes, bulbs, nuts, Mediterranean fruits, prunes, peaches fresh meats, lager beer, fish, game, and numbers of other articles. They also have separate rooms for curing and ripening cheese in large quantities, which are kept at a temperature of 35 to 60 degrees, as desired; and it is worth noting that cheese stored in these rooms was awarded first prise at the Pan-American Exhibition. Some rooms are specially fitted with the brine system for freezing poultry and other articles for export or long continued storage. One reason why cold storage did not make greater headway in the past was an idea on the part of the public that all goods of whatsoever kind were kept in close contact, thus allowing the contamination of one by another. The system in use, however, by the Toronto Cold Storage Company makes fear of this absolutely untenable, as anyone will fully understand who will visit their capacious ware-rooms.

"THE WONDROUS WEST."

Interesting Figures of Northwest Progress.

From an illustrated pamphlet issued by the Industrial Exposition Association of Winnipeg, entitled the "Wondrous West," are taken the following interesting figures, indicating the progress of our great Northwest;

In 1870 there were 11,000 settlers —now there are 260,000.

The crop of 1901 amounted to 55,000,000 bushels, which would fill 90,000 railway cars.

In ten years, 1892 to 1901, the average wheat yield of Canada was 19.92 bushels — that of the United States 13.3 bushels per acre.

From the first flour mill of Andrew McDermott, in 1860, the milling capacity of Manitoba has grown to 11,000 barrels per day.

In 1870 Winnipeg had three churches — to-day it has 58.

Winnipeg bank clearings— in 1870, nil; in 1891, $40,000,000; in 1901, $134,199,000.

The implement trade of the west amounts to $5,000,000 a year; and the binder twine required for the crop of 1901 was 8,500,000 pounds, valued at $1,250,000.

Exports of cattle in 1870, nil; in 1901 they were 44,500 head valued at $2,025,000.

Dairy products — in 1870 neither cheese nor butter; in 1901 they were 3,340,000 pounds of butter, worth $540,000, and 1,010,000 pounds of cheese, worth $145,000.

Area of Manitoba, 47,332,000 acres. Cultivable land, 25,000,000 acres. Land under crop, 5,000,000 acres.

Value of School Buildings in 1901, in Winnipeg, $487,000; current expenditure, $145,000.

In 1891 the Winnipeg Industrial Fair had no existence—in 1902 it owns lands and buildings worth $105,000, and gives $16,000 in prizes. The receipts from its 100,000 visitors of this year reached $26,000, and it spent $7,000 in improvements.

NOW GOIN FOR PARTY

British Columbia Conservatives Adopt a Platform.

CONVENTION AT REVELSTOKE

By a Resolution They Say That "The Stability of Government and Beneficial Legislation Can Best Be Secured by the Introduction of Party Politics in Local Elections."—The Officers.

Revelstoke, B. C., Sept. 15.—At the resumed sitting of the Conservative convention Saturday, which was attended by Hon. R. L. Borden, the report of the committee on resolutions was adopted as a platform of the party in provincial affairs. Among its planks are the following:

That government ownership of the telephone system should be brought about as the first step in the acquisition of public utilities.

That to encourage the mining industry, the taxation of metalliferous mines should be on the basis of percentage on net profits.

That a portion of every coal area hereafter disposed of should be reserved from sale or lease, so that state-owned mines may be easily possible if their operation becomes necessary or advisable.

That in pulp leases provisions should be for reforesting, and for that steps should be taken for general preservation of forests by guarding against wasteful destruction of timber.

That Legislature and Government of Province should persevere in effort to secure exclusion of Asiatic labor.

That in the matter of better terms in the way of subsidy and appropriation for Province should be vigorously pressed upon Dominion Government. That silver-lead industries of Province be fostered and encouraged by imposition of increased customs duties on lead and lead products imported into Canada, and that Conservative members of Dominion House be urged to support any motion introduced for such purpose.

That, as industrial disputes almost invariably result in great loss and injury, both to parties directly concerned and to public, legislation should be passed to provide means for an amicable adjustment of such disputes between employers and employes.

The following resolution was presented and carried: "That, in the opinion of this convention, the stability of government and beneficial legislation can best be secured by the introduction of party politics in local elections, and that such a policy be adopted."

BIG BARGAIN OF LAND AND TIMBER IN OTONABEE.

West half of Lot 25, Concession 2, near Shearer's church and school, Norwood road, three miles from C.P.R., at Indian River Station, and twelve miles from Peterborough, 100 acres choice land, 50 acres fit for machinery, balance heavily timbered with maple, beach, elm, ash, cedar and some tamarac. A competent inspector of long experience estimates the timber that might be sold as 1,000 cords hardwood and 2,000 cords mixed soft wood, all of which in this market would sell readily for more than $10,000, and total expense would not exceed $6,000. A man with teams and two or more boys should be able to make big money on above, and we can make price and terms so reasonable as to enable a man of limited means to buy and pay for out of the timber. Wise men will see us quickly about this. Ploughing possession at once.

BRUNET RELEASED.

He Was Concerned in the St. James' Election Frauds.

Montreal, Sept. 15.—Arthur Brunet, who was found guilty at the June term of the Court of King's Bench of frauds in connection with the last St. James division election, has been given his liberty. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and has served about two and a half months. Shortly after he was incarcerated a number of friends commenced a movement by which it was hoped to get him out. To an extent it became non-political, and many men on each side of the political line helped in the effort. The matter was laid before the Department of Justice, and, after careful consideration, Brunet has been given his liberty.

FREE TO MILLIONS.

A Valuable Little Book Sent Free for the Asking.

Medical books are not always interesting reading, especially to people enjoying good health, but as a matter of fact scarcely one person in ten is perfectly healthy, and even with such, sooner or later sickness must come.

It is also a well established truth that nine-tenths of all diseases originate with a breaking down of the digestion, a weak stomach weakens and impoverishes the system, making it easy for disease to gain a foothold.

Nobody need fear consumption, kidney disease, liver trouble or a weak heart and nervous system as long as the digestion is good and the stomach able to assimilate plenty of wholesome food.

Stomach weakness shows itself in a score of ways and this little book describes the symptoms and causes and points the way to a cure so simple that anyone can understand and apply.

Thousands have some form of stomach trouble and do not know it. They ascribe the headaches, the languor, nervousness, insomnia, palpitation, constipation and similar symptoms to some other cause than the true one. Get your digestion on the right track and the heart trouble, lung trouble, liver disease or nervous debility will rapidly disappear.

This little book treats entirely on the cause and removal of indigestion and its accompanying annoyances.

It describes the symptoms of Acid Dyspepsia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Slow Dyspepsia, Amylaceous Dyspepsia, Catarrh of stomach and all affections of the digestive organs in plain language easily understood and the cause removed.

It gives valuable suggestions as to diet, and contains a table giving length of time required to digest various articles of food, something every person with weak digestion should know.

No price is asked, but simply send your name and address plainly written on postal card to the F.A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., requesting a little book on Stomach Diseases and it will be sent promptly by return mail.

The New Irish Viceroy.

The Earl of Dudley, the new Viceroy of Ireland, who was sworn in on Saturday, is a young man for the post, only 36 years of age. He was Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade from 1895 to 1900. The Marquise de Fontenay says of him that, after a tour of the colonies, he has settled down into a most respectable and hard-working Peer, most domestic in his tastes. He served in the Yeomanry cavalry in South Africa, is extremely rich, and has large territorial and mineral interests in Worcestershire and Staffordshire, and estates in Jamaica. His transformation may be ascribed to his clever wife, Miss Rachel Gurney, who, after her father's ruin, earned her own living for a while as saleswoman in a modiste's shop in Regent street, London. There she attracted the sympathy and interest of the Duchess of Bedford, who virtually adopted her and removed her from the shop and took her into society. Indeed, Rachel Gurney was married to Lord Dudley from the house of the late Duke of Bedford and his Duchess, and even went so far as to cause herself to be inscribed in those pages of the various "Peerages" devoted to the Earldom of Dudley as the adopted daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Bedford, no mention at all being made of her real parentage. This created such an unpleasant amount of comment that in the later editions of the "Peerages" issued in the year following her marriage a printed slip was inserted opposite the page bearing her name intimating that she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gurney. This is the only mistake that the present Lady Dudley may be said to have made, and, in view of the peculiar circumstances of her father's ruin, it was, perhaps, pardonable. At any rate, she deserves much credit for having converted her husband into a useful member of society.

ALL-NIGHT CONFERENCE.

Governor Stone and Miners' President John Mitchell Discuss Strike.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 15.—The conference between Governor Stone and John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, on matters pertaining to the coal strike ended at 4.30 o'clock Saturday morning, after a discussion of two hours and a half. The others at the conference were State Senator William Flinn of Pittsburg, a political friend of the Governor, and a large employer of labor in Allegheny County; M. K. McMullen of Pittsburg, a wealthy man of many interests; Col. W. F. Richardson of Harrisburg, keeper of the State Arsenal and Assistant Quartermaster of the National Guard; and District Presidents Thomas D. Nicholls of Scranton, Thomas Duffy of McAdoo, and John Fahey of Shamokin. At the conclusion of the meeting Governor Stone gave to the waiting newspaper correspondents a written statement, reading as follows:

"Messrs. Mitchell, Nicholls, Fahey, Duffy, Senator Flinn, Colonel Richardson and Governor Stone have been in conference. All the differences have been discussed with the best of feeling."

Mitchell Will Not Talk.

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 15.—John Mitchell, the leader of the striking miners, got back to his headquarters here from Harrisburg about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and all day long has resolutely refused to discuss the interview which he had there in the dead of the night with Gov. Stone. People here are disposed to believe that the conference was without result.

Superintendent Barnard of the Delaware, Lacka and Western Company collieries in the Wyoming region last evening notified Sheriff Jacobs that additional men would be put to work to-day at the collieries, which resumed operations last week, and that probably one or two more of the mines would be started up.

Hard Coal Almost Gone.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—If the anthracite coal strike continues much longer Toronto householders will have no other alternative but to use soft coal. Local dealers think that this is what it will come to unless a settlement is shortly reached. Some of them had no hard coal on hand even now, while the supply of others is almost exhausted.

BOERS FREED FROM COST.

Relief Funds Will Be Taken Out of Imperial Exchequr.

Johannesburg, Sept. 14.—It is officially announced that the £3,000,000 granted for compensation to the Boers, under the terms of surrender, will be charged on the Imperial exchequer, and not on the new colonies.

An additional grant of £2,000,000, likewise charged, has been set aside for the relief of British subjects and foreigners who have not committed a breach of neutrality, and natives.

These sums, it is announced, are independent of the payment made by the Military Compensation Boards.

It is reported that ex-State Secretary Reitz, of the Transvaal, and other irreconcilables, have abandoned their scheme of migrating to Southwest German Africa, and are going to Madagascar instead.

Boer Generals to Stay.

The Hague, Sept. 15.—The departure from Holland of the Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, has been postponed. According to a rumor in Boer circles, the generals expect to be received by Queen Wilhelmina, who opens the Dutch Parliament Sept. 16.

The Minister Disturbed.

The Salt in the Ocean.

The ocean was once merely brackish and not salt, as it is now. This was when the earth was in its first youth and before there was any land showing at all or any animal life in the water. At this time the water was gradually cooling from its original state of steam, and the salts were slowly undergoing the change from gases into solids. Then came the appearance of land and, later on, rivers, which gradually washed down more and more salts, while at the bottom of the ocean itself chemical action was constantly adding more brine to the waters. At present it is estimated there are in the world's oceans 7,000,000 cubic miles of salt, and the most astonishing thing about it is that if all the salt could be taken out in a moment the level of the water would not drop one single inch.

SEAL'D UP' FRENCH CONVENT.

Government Troops Again Drive Out the Sisters at Landerneau.

Paris, Sept. 15.—The sisters who were expelled from Landerneau, in Finistere returned Saturday and took possession of the premises where they had been teaching. They announced their intention of re-opening their classes on Monday.

The Sub-Prefect of Brest and the Commissary of Police, with a company of infantry and 50 gendarmes, arrived at 7 o'clock. They placed a strong cordon around the convent and drove the sisters out. Then they placed iron clamps on the doors and sealed them. Count Le Mouss-aye protested against this action. The sisters received an ovation from the crowd.

THE NUMIDIAN AGROUND.

Liner Ran Into a Clay Bank Just About Three Rivers.

Montreal, Sept. 15.—A wire has just been received here stating that the Allan Liner Numidian is aground opposite Three Rivers. The Numidian ran into a blue clay bank at 8.30 last night, just about Three Rivers. The company has a tug on the spot and they expect to pull the steamer off without damage in a few hours.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—The Rt. Rev. Arthur Sweatman, his son and two daughters, of this city are passengers on the Numidian, that was due in Montreal early Monday morning.

"BOYS IN BLUE" NO MORE.

Our Army Uniforms After This Year Will Be Olive Green.

The recommendations of the commission on army uniforms, in substance approved by the president, which will go into effect at the beginning of 1903, have sentimental as well as practical importance. The dark blue color so long associated with our army is to give place in service dress to olive green, with hat and leggings to match. Our soldiers therefore cannot much longer be designated as "boys in blue." All the allusions of song and story which cluster round the distinctive colors worn by the contending armies of a generation ago will begin to be obsolete.

The development of the range of the modern rifle is chiefly responsible for an awakened perception of the value of an inconspicuous field garb. When guns were dangerous at short distances only, the color of uniforms made little difference in their effectiveness as targets. The red coats of the British, long ago abandoned in actual field service, were not particularly dangerous to the wearers, although no color is more conspicuous than red.

The new color was adopted after a series of tests under conditions almost as varied as those in which the soldier fights. Since he cannot change his clothes to match different backgrounds, a color is necessary which harmonizes with that of the landscape. The prevalence of grass and foliage suggested a considerable dash of green, and gravel roads and the earth colors of the dry season call for an admixture of brown. Then the sky tints could not be disregarded.

It is notable that modern man in his preparation for actual combat merely goes back to nature, which clothes the birds of the woods so often in the hues of their surroundings, even giving to some birds a white plumage for the season of snow and a coat of dark brown in the midsummer. Eggshells frequently reveal a like marvelous coloring.

The place which blue has occupied with all our changing styles of military garments since the Revolution as well as in the uniforms of civil life and those of other armies of the world emphasizes the fact that although it has become a dangerous target at modern range it possesses as a clothing color many substantial merits.

A Primitive People.

The Cocos, or Keeling islands, which belong to the British empire, are the private property of G. Clunis Ross, who lives on them and governs their primitive population as an autocrat. They are a ring of coral atolls lying 600 miles off Java Head. How simple the people are may be seen from the fact that they do not possess a parson.

Neither have they a schoolmaster, ice, horses, cows, postoffice nor bank. But apparently the inhabitants do well enough without these generally considered necessary concomitants of civilization, as they are intelligent enough to play golf and have a links. The place has no money. Instead of filthy metallic lucre in the shape of coins one uses curious looking little chits—cards "good for" 5, 2 or 1 rupee, a half rupee or 10 cents. These are all signed by the proprietor of the islands and are apparently regarded as legal tender.

Money in Popcorn.

The retailing of popcorn doesn't look like an especially dignified or promising commercial enterprise, but that there is big money in popcorn if you can only sell enough of it is proved by the experience of the Humphrey family of Cleveland. In 1891 the Humphreys, four of them, were worth $25,000 less than nothing. They managed to secure the small capital necessary to start them in the popcorn business on a hand basket basis. At first they didn't sell much popcorn, but they managed to keep alive and stuck to popcorn. Today they are worth something like a million dollars, all made out of popcorn.

Ice Cream Vagaries.

Sometimes your ice cream's in a cup,
Sometimes it's on a plate;
Some clerks will put it in a glass,
Some others on the slate.

Bound For the Stage.

"Does she inherit her histrionic talent?"

"I think so. At least her parents are divorced."

Japanese Wives.

The Japanese woman does not blacken her teeth under any mistaken idea that it makes her attractive; she does it to make herself unattractive. Her husband is supposed to know her value. If he doesn't, he divorces her. He makes no provision for her, and she has no dowry from her family. But a divorced woman in Japan nearly always marries again. She brings nothing but a gentle and obedient slave and takes nothing away with her but the same valuable commodity.

The reason why lower class women receive more consideration from their husbands than their upper class sisters is that they are capable of earning their own livings, which Japanese ladies are not. So thoroughly is this recognized that a lower class woman divorces her husband if she is not satisfied, a thing which never happens in the more select circles unless the woman is an heiress, when the husband is of as little consideration as a lady. It is only when she has no brothers that a Japanese woman may expect money from her parents. If they have only a daughter to leave their money to, the son-in-law has to take her name—and the consequences.

Speechless.

"Is your wife ever speechless with indignation?"

"She says she is, but I have reason to doubt it."

The Difference.

The baseball players gayly smile;
Fate cannot scare them.
They stoutly trudge o'er diamonds while
The magnates wear them.

Mountain High.

"How was the scenery where you spent your vacation?"

"The most expensive I ever gazed at."

A Labor Saver.

The politicians should rejoice;
The wireless age commences;
It ought to help them out a bit
When they must mend their fences.

Would Know if He Heard Her.

"I don't know whether she sings or not."

"You would if you heard her."

Necessity.

That worry mars our sleep
We'll soon eat terrapin and pie
Because they're rather cheap

Quite Different.

Who Wait.

But do not rest upon your oar,
For you may find, perhaps too late,
The things were not worth waiting for.

"Army Life."

The representation of "Army Life" to be presented in the Opera House to-morrow night, is supplementary to "Our Navy" which was given here last winter, and which was such a gratifying success to all who saw it. "Our Army" should be equally or more interesting because the Canadians now form a part of the British Army, and the Canadian as well as the British Tommy Atkins, has passed through a mighty war which renders all relating to them more intensely interesting.

Sgt. Trusler arrived home from South Africa, yesterday morning, and received a warm welcome from his many friends. A mention of the Harts River fight always attracted a crowd of listeners and invitations for all manner of pleasant trips came in a steady stream. He was lucky enough to obtain a splendid view of the Corona-proceedings.

Sgt. Fair, of Cavan, also a former member of the 57th, returned yesterday.

MRS. KENDRY AGAIN REMEMBERED.

Tis Time by the Pupils of the Grace Church Sunday School.

On Sunday, Mrs. Kendry, on the occasion of her last Sunday with her class in the Grace church Sunday school, was presented with a beautiful Bible and the following address;

Grace Church Sunday School,
Sept. 14th, 1902.

To Mrs. Kendry:

Dear Teacher,—As you are about to leave us, we feel that this, your last Sunday with your class, should not be allowed to pass without expressing regret at your departure, and our appreciation of the help which, as our teacher and friend, you have given us. The hours spent with you on Sunday afternoons have been a source of benefit as well as pleasure to us, and we shall always remember with gratitude the work you have done and the pains you have taken to impart to us a knowledge of the Scriptures.

We therefore ask you to accept this gift, together with our warmest thanks for the past and our best wishes for the future.

In addition, Mr. G. W. Powell, the superintendent, and Mr. J. J. Hartley, spoke briefly in commendation of Mrs. Kendry's faithful and untiring work in the Sunday school, and regret at her departure from town, which would be a distinct loss to the interests not only of her class but of the Sunday school, the church and the community at large. Mrs. Kendry acknowledged the kindness of her pupils and co-workers in her usual graceful and effective manner.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Delegates Leave to Attend the Montreal Convention.

His Worship Mayor Denne, Alderman Best, Town Solicitor E. H. D. Hall and Town Clerk S. R. Armstrong left last night to attend the annual convention of the Canadian Municipalities at Montreal.

At a meeting of the Board of Works on Saturday evening the tender of Mr. John E. Hayes for sewer construction was recommended for acceptance. The sewer in question will run on Water street from Dublin to Smith street then east along Smith to the lane west of Inverlea Park, thence north through the lane to Inverlea street.

The fact of the sewer being constructed on Water street will have the effect of removing to a great measure the awkward dip in the roadway just at the "Goosepond."

UPSET IN THE LAKE.

Two Canoeists had a Ducking on Sunday.

A couple of young men, who were canoeing on Little Lake, yesterday afternoon, had a narrow escape from drowning, while watching a sailing canoe they overbalanced and upset. Apparently not knowing enough about a canoe to be able to right it in the water, they were in a pitiable plight until Mr. George Fitzgerald paddled to their rescue and with one hanging on each side of his canoe paddled them to shore.

THE FIRST DAY OF THE RACES.

The Track is in Spendid Condition for Fast Time Being Made.

Large Numbers of out of Town Visitors in Attendance—Good Horses From all Over the District.

All of the morning trains brought in their quota of race-going enthusiasts and the towns all along the line from Belleville to Orillia were well represented, as well as Port Hope, Cobourg, Colborne and Oshawa. Quite a few also came in from Lakefield, Norwood and Havelock.

The crowds should not be disappointed in seeing some fine racing, as besides the perfect weather to assist, the track is lightning fast and by many it is predicted that the time of the winner in the 2.50 class will be down around .30. There never was such an entry list of good horses within the recollection of the oldest enthusiasts in the town. In the .50 class there are fourteen starters and in the .22 class six horses are entered, the list being as follows:

2.50 class—Peince Hal, Jr., James Kimbirst, Keene; Nellie Billings, V. B. Woodruff, Oshawa; Geo. C., Geo. Barnum, Madoc; Kitty B., F. Montgomery, Parry Harbour; Miss Paisley, Geo. Powell, Orillia; Commodore K., Jas Powell, Orillia; Catalac, Wm. Leahy, Lakefield; Adolph, M. F. Chalk, Port Hope; Happy Toady, J. S. Yeomans, Colborne; Red Pat, O. Forsythe, Stouffville; Duke, Jr., J. J. Cottingham, Peterborough; Canadian Girl, Lou Bradley, Omemee; Sphinx H., R. H. Abbott, Kingston; Curtis' Mare, Geo. Curtis, Lindsay.

Mr. Sid Passmore, who is most favourably known to the public as one of the best of Canadian starters, is to handle the flag during the meet and a strong effort is to be made to get all of the races off in the two days.

Johnston & Co. have purchased the bookmaking and wheel privileges and come here very highly recommended.

The races to-morrow promise to excite even more interest, locally, than those of to-day, as besides the 2.30 class and the free-for-all trot or pace there is the event for gentlemen drivers' in which a large number of Peterborough's fast roadsters, amongst whom there is great rivalry, will compete.

The large number of ladies who are taking an interest in the races this year must be most gratifying to the management. As the Turf Club has joined the National Trotting Association, the officials have the fullest possible control over the drivers and nothing in the way of unseemly conduct will be witnessed.

THE FIFTY-SEVENTH BAND

The expected has happened. The band of the 57th did splendid work at Toronto, and the Examiner feels pleased that the "send-off" it gave the boys previous to their departure, has been justified, and the prediction that they would come out ahead, has been fulfilled. They have done credit to themselves and the town.

They gave two concerts during their visit to the Exposition — one in the afternoon and the other in the evening, and scored a fine success on both occasions. Notwithstanding the numerous counter attractions, the crowd surrounded the 57th, and listened with great attention to their work. Every number was very heartily applauded, and several numbers were enthusiastically encored. Such a reception is a high compliment, and demonstrates to the people of Peterborough what a fine band we possess. We are so accustomed to the excellent performance of the band that their fine playing, which appeals so strongly to others, not so highly favoured, is taken as a matter of course. One Peterborough citizen, who has not heard the band recently at home — the more shame and loss to him — told a local newspaper man that he was delighted and proud of the work of the band at Toronto — it made him proud of Peterborough, whose band can take its place with the best of them. A musical gentleman who was an exhibitor in his line, and at the exhibition all the time, and heard all the bands, said that the 57th was easily the best at the exhibition; and two gentlemen from Hamilton, which by the way has a fine band, remarked after one of the concerts given by our band, that they had often heard Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" performed, but never with the finish and fine effect, and general excellence, with which the Peterborough band presented it. During the visit the band of the 19th St. Catharines, and a band or two from New York State, performed, but they did not come up to the mark made by the local band. Not satisfied with their achievement — there is no finality in musical effects — the band is entering upon solid practice, working upon a programme of the higher class of music, which we shall hear in due course.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CEMETERY.

Important Improvements in Contemplation.

The authorities of St. Peter's Cathedral, have decided to make important improvements in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. These will include a substantial and elegant inclosing fence. The grounds will be very greatly improved, new walks laid down, and in a general way the cemetery will be beautified to meet the condition that love and respect on the part of the living demand for the last resting place of the departed dear ones. As no permanent improvement can be satisfactory without water it is expected that the improvements will include connection with the city water system.

"Y" NINE LAND THE TROPHY.

The Y. M. C. A. Nonette Practically Assume the Name of Victorias--The Victorias Surrender Their Name for the Occasion.

The final game in the Triple Baseball League of town, was played on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m., when a large crowd witnessed the struggle for championship between the Victorias and Y.M.C.A., which resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 19—14.

The League started their schedule of games last May and were to be finished by July 1st, but owing to ties and wet weather, the remaining games were left over till September, when two remaining games were to be played. The interest in the game has been of the highest and the feelings among the teams has been the best. At no time in the season could the winners of the trophy be picked as the strongest team was often defeated. It was predicted early in the season that the Rosedales were the strongest aggregation but results have proven different, although they made a creditable showing on the whole, and have undoubtedly some brilliant junior players. The League has developed material for baseball that will be noticable on the diamonds of the seasons to come and it has also proved that fellows know how to take defeat like men which is something these days to accomplish. Perhaps the success of the League is in no small measure due the strict and impartial umpiring by Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil, who took such a deep interest in the game among the juniors. His decicions were at all times of the gilt-edge variety, owing perhaps to the experience which he enjoyed some years ago.

In the match Saturday at the Oval, the contest was a close one, although the Y.M.C.A. secured a lead in the first innings which could not be overtaken, although at times things were exciting.

The Victorias took the field from the toss up and Muthern, who is a coming twirler, was the man on whom the Royalists depended. Before he could get his eye properly on the plate there had been seven runs against them for a lead, which they found afterwards impossible to overcome.

Fitzgerald, for the Y.M.C.A., did the necessary when entering the box and threw three strikes to Weller, who lost sight of them all and retired to the bench.

The next three men to bat took a run in turn and the side went out. "Ruby" will not make an Eastern man in the box, but has some slow twisters that did bother the boys at times.

There were several features of the game that were noticeable. Hodgson, with a reputation as a weak batter, had to his credit at the close of the game, no errors, one hit, four runs, two of which were homers.

Gillespie at short stop made a sensational play when he stopped a likely three-bagger going near second base at lightning speed, threw to first, beating the runner, where Weller played a faultless game.

In the last five innings Sullivan pitched a strong game for the "Y" team, making three shut outs and allowing only four runs.

The winning team receives, as a trophy, nine pins with the initial in the centre, presented by Mr. A. W. Cressman, Hon. President of the League, which has had such a successful ending.

The teams were as follows:

Victorias—Mulhern, Cressman, O'Brien, Weller, Cahill, Cameron, Gillespie, Armstrong and Macfarlane.

Y.M.C.A.—Robinson, Conroy, Fitzgerald, Daly, Sullivan, Boucher, Menzies, Fitzpatrick, Hodgson.

Umpire,—M. A. Sorsoleil.

KECH-NE-BESH'S MEMORIAL

To be Erected by the Local Tribes of the Mississaugas.

At the recent annual meeting of the united bands of Rice, Mud and Scugog Lakes Indians, at Hiawatha, it was resolved that a memorial be erected by the united bands, at Hiawatha, to the late Kech-no-beah, known amongst the pale face brethren as Captain George Paudash.

Kech-ne-beah was the acknowledged head chief of the United Bands of Rice, Mud and Scugog Lakes, and the memorial is intended to serve as a mark of the appreciation of the bands for the services in securing to them the reserved islands in Stony Lake and elsewhere.

He was an active participant in the war of 1812, and fought at Chrysler's Farm.

OBITUARY.

The Late David J. Hoohey.

At 3.30 o'clock, on Sunday, Sept 14th, death came to David J. Hoohey, in Toronto. The deceased young man, who was eighteen years of age, was a son of the late George Hoohey, of North Monaghan. His father died several years ago, and his mother about a year ago. He was in Toronto undergoing treatment for tuberculosis, and for a time seemed to improve, but about a week ago his condition took a change for the worse, which ended in his demise on Sunday. He leaves one brother, Mr. George Hoohey, 346 Dublin street, from whose residence, 346 Dublin street, the funeral will take place to-morrow, Tuesday, at three o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery.

McGRATH CHAMPION.

He Captures the Schneider Challenge Cup This Afternoon.

The matched sprinting race between George Taylor, holder of the Schneider Challenge Cup, and Fred McGrath, took place at the Driving Park this afternoon. The event, which excited great local interest among sportsmen, was a hundred yards dash in heats, best two in three heats. McGrath won the first two heats handily and now is holder of the Schneider Challenge Cup. The time was 10 3-5 seconds for the first heat, 10 1-2 seconds, second heat.

WITHIN ONE OF IT.

Mr. Moncrief has Touched the Home Stretch for the Century Mark.

Mr. William Moncrief, of Young's Point, who is within one of the century mark, having reached the patriarchal age of ninety-nine years, and is still active and in good health, passed through town on Saturday on a visit to his son, Mr. James Moncrief, who resides on the Dickson son Company farm, Ashburnham. From there he goes to Orillia to visit another son. Mr. Moncrief, though he has seen the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne pass nearly a hundred times, has a good chance of again doing what he has done for many years past, taking his place in an Orange procession on the glorious Twelfth. Though the past few years he has joined the procession in a carriage, yet his spirit is as strong as it was half a century ago. Like Touchstone, in "As You Like It," his spirit is all right, if his legs are weary.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

The choir rendered the anthem, "Praise ye the Father," very nicely at the evening service yesterday. Next Sunday will be observed as Missionary Sunday, and collections will be taken on behalf of C. M. S. missions. The Harvest Festival service will be on Thursday evening of this week. Special music is being prepared.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST.

Very large congregations assembled at both the morning and evening services in the Murray street Baptist church to welcome Rev. Mr. Bastow back to town after his holidays.

In the morning Miss Florence Hall sang a very pleasing solo and in the evening the choir's anthem "Have Ye Not Heard?" was fully appreciated. The solo was taken by Mr. Geo. K. Martin.

ST. LUKE'S.

The Right Rev. Dr. Perrin, Lord Bishop of British Columbia, was the special preacher yesterday morning at St. Luke's. He preached an eloquent and very impressive sermon on Psalm 96, 6, "Strength and beauty are in His sanctuary." His theme was "Character." Very forcibly did he picture strength of character to say "No" under trying circumstances, to be strong in honesty, purity and temperance. True Christians are no weaklings, they need to be strong. This strength can have beauty added by being kind and charitable to the offending weaker brothers and sisters.

Large congregations were present both morning and evening. At the evening service Rev. C. W. Hedley preached. He gave an account of his work in Roesland, and off the work of the church in the new Diocese of Kootenay.

On Wednesday evening a missionary meeting will be held in St. Luke's school house, when Mr. Hedley will give an address on the Diocese of Kootenay, illustrated by lime-light views. The offertory that evening will be devoted to the building fund of the "Father Pat Memorial church."

ST. JOHN'S.

His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia, preached in St. John's church last evening from the text, "No man liveth unto himself," his theme being "Personal Influence." He contrasted the pernicious influences of evil, and the power of good, introducing many most pertinent illustrations. His Lordship is a fluent and pleasant speaker and his address was followed with the closest attention.

There were large congregations at St. John's yesterday at both services, which were specially interesting. In In the morning Rev. C. H. Hedley, a former curate of St. Luke's, but now a worker in Rossland, British Columbia, gave an interesting relation of the conditions existing in the new Diocese of Kootenay, the infant diocese of the Church of England in Canada. It covers an area of 80,000 square miles, larger than all Manitoba, and has several centres of missionary work. A most interesting description of the condition of the mining centres was given—the many temptations to men were offset by no institutions—no Y.M.C.A.—and the church was the only bulwark against the tide of evil that surged over these mining towns. Help in the mission work was needed — zealous missioners worked under hard conditions, compelled to live on salaries less than the wages of mine "muckers," the lowest paid labour. Seven hundred dollars a year in British Columbia, where the cost of living was three times greater than in Ontario, was a trifle for a clergyman with a family.

In the evening the preacher was the Bishop of British Columbia, who gave a most interesting and effective sermon on the theme of the higher altruism — "No man liveth unto himself." The sermon was apparently quite extempore, plain in language, made eloquent, however, by simple earnestness, and many touches of pathos.

At the evening service the choir sang the anthem "Hark! Hark! My Soul," Mrs. Seward and Miss Jackson taking the solos in excellent excellent voice, Mrs. Seward's contralto contribution being heard with very delightful effect. The fine shading and smooth crescendi of the choral parts of Shelly's anthem revealed the careful training of Mr. Giddon.

Shorter Hours for Barbers.

Alive C. LeGros has decided to close his Tony Tonsorial Parlours every evening at 8 o'clock, except Saturday nights. This is the rule in all the best barber shops in the cities, and why not in Alive LeGros'? The barbers in Peterborough have been toiling all kinds of hours, day and night, and get no fair show for exercise or out door recreation. Barbers need shorter hours as much, and more so than most other trades. I hope my customers will take notice and help the boys out by getting their work done before 8 o'clock p.m. I have four chairs running all the time and no one need be disappointed. Alive C. LeGros, 329 George street. d

OBEDIENT TO THE VISION.

At the Men's Meeting at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday Rev. Dr. Metzler gave an interesting address, making use of the life of St. Paul to bring home some important truths.

He illustrated from some mistakes of his own life, pointing out his clear call to the Christian life as a boy; his refusal and subsequent struggle into the light and his call to the ministry. Too many young men were making the same mistake to-day in being disobedient to the heavenly vision.

Mr. Frank Turner's solos were appreciated.

TOOL THAT ALMOST TALKS

The most highly developed of machine tools is the automatic screw machine, and, like many another contrivance for saving labor, its home is New England. It is a development of the ordinary steel working lathe, the intermediate step being the monitor lathe, in which the various cutting tools protrude from the side of a steel turret like thirteen inch guns from a battleship turret. In the nonautomatic screw machine the turret is revolved by the operator so as to bring each tool into play, just as the turret on the old Monitor was revolved to bring one gun after another into action. But in the automatic machine the work is done without human guidance.

In making screws, nuts, bolts, studs and other small pieces that must be turned, drilled or threaded for watches, clocks, typewriters, electrical instruments and other mechanisms all the operator has to do is to feed the "stock"—a long, thin rod of steel or brass—to the machine. The feeding mechanism carries the rod slowly forward into the field of action. The turret advances and puts its first tool at work on the end of the rod. When this tool has done its task, the turret withdraws it, turns and advances a second tool into action. Each cutting tool around the turret has its distinct work to perform—one cutting a thread, another shaping a head, another putting on a point, another drilling a hole, still another putting on knurling. The turret automatically brings each of perhaps six tools into action, and when the work is finished the completed screw drops into a pan, while the "stock" is automatically fed forward to begin the complex operation again. A stream of machine oil pours continuously on the work to carry away the heat, and the little metal cuttings collect in a heap under the machine.

Hour after hour this wonderful automaton goes through its cycle of operations, the turret clicking every moment as it brings a new tool forward. Small brass pieces, on which but one tool cuts, are dropped at the rate of four a second. Large screws of complicated design upon which a whole turretful of tools must work are cut from a steel rod at the rate of one or two a minute. So perfectly are these screw machines constructed that an unskilled workman can operate a row of them. All he is required to do is to keep them fed with "stock." In some shops girls tend the machines.

Odd Place For a Serpent.

In Alsace recently a four-year-old child, the daughter of a workingman, became very ill one day, but speedily recovered, and for some days afterward dismayed her parents by eating a good deal more than a child of that age is wont to eat.

Instead, however, of growing fatter, the girl grew thinner, and doctors who were summoned to attend her were unable to explain why the food did her no good. Finally the riddle was solved, for a serpent about twenty inches in length issued one morning from the child's mouth.

The serpent was killed and sent to the University of Strassburg, and since then the little one has enjoyed excellent health. It is supposed that the child swallowed the serpent while drinking some impure water.

Butterflies That Fly High.

Both in the Himalayas and in the Andes butterflies have been found at heights ranging up to 16,000 feet, and in the Alps they are quite common at 9,000 feet. The very highest elevation so far observed is 16,626 feet, where they were found by M. Bonpland on the slopes of Chimborazo. Sir J. D. Hooker found butterflies on the slopes of the Himalayas at about the same height. He speaks of "the amazing quantity of superb butterflies, many large tropical swallowtails, black, with a scarlet eye on the wings." The South American high flying butterflies belong to the family of Colia dimera, the Asiatic that of the Pieris callidice. The explorer, Sir Martin Conway, also found them at high altitudes in the Himalayas.

HE WAS PARALYZED.

Unable to Walk or Raise His Hands to His Head.

A More Unfortunate Case Could Scarcely be Imagined Than a Husband and Father in This Wretched Condition.

Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The experience of Mr. Joseph Brown, an employee of the Oshawa Malleable Iron Works, should be a lesson to every sick person.

Some five years ago, Mr. Brown, who is a hard working, industrious, and sober man, began to feel a stiffness and soreness in the calves of his legs. This gradually increased till he had lost all power in his limbs and arms. He could not have raised his arms to his head to save his life and for over four months he could not stand or walk alone a single step.

All the doctors treated him and gave him up. Then he consulted a Bowmanville doctor who told him he could do nothing for him and advised him to go to the hospital in Toronto where they might be able to help him a little.

To the hospital he went in January, 1898, and remained under treatment for over four weeks. Twelve doctors told him he could not recover and that nothing could be done for him. He was getting worse every day and when removed to his home in Oshawa was like a baby unable to move.

His father-in-law, Mr. John Allin, had heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and suggested that Mr. Brown try them. He did and he says:

"I used altogether twelve boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and by the first of May I was able to start work again in the shop and I have never been sick or off work a day since.

"I am sure I owe my life, health and strength to that great remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills."

A HEARTLESS TEST.

"I will tell you the story of how the first shotgun was brought to Lake Superior as it was told in my presence by old Chief Muskwa (Bear) one night years ago in a tepee near Grand Portage on the north shore," said an old timer.

"We were out on an exploring trip when we ran across Muskwa's band. Among the Indians was a big half-breed called Joe Piskwe. He was a native born grafter, and when he found that he could not beg, borrow or steal our tobacco and whiskey, he proceeded to bargain for a little. We were all tenderfeet and had the usual curiosity of this species of human beings as to the legends and doings of the Indians, so we arranged with Big Joe to have a seance that night in Muskwa's wigwam.

"The scene was really impressive and not untinged with romance. On one side of the fire sat the aged chief on a pile of bear skins and blankets. Around him were seated the subchiefs and warriors, and facing him the young men and boys of the tribe. The squaws, girls and dogs rustled for themselves outside the tepee, they not being considered worthy of the tribe. Piskwe acted as interpreter, and the seance lasted until the being instructed in the traditions of early dawn.

"The old chief, himself, over 100 years of age, began to speak in short, slow sentences: 'Many years ago,' he said, 'when my grandfather was a young brave, the Blackrobes came to visit the Chippewas of the big lake. With them were many voyageurs and they had guns and much tackle to take fish. The Blackrobes would not allow a gun to be taken from its case, telling us that their mission was peace, not war. We were curious about the guns, but we held our tongues. Some of the voyageurs could speak our tongue and they told us of the great trading post far beyond the rapids at the end of the great sea water (probably Mackinac Island), where the Indians could buy guns, cloth, beads and other wonderful things, if they had furs of the mink, beaver and other animals found in great plenty. After some days the Blackrobes left us and went off down the lake.

"'It was the end of the summer. A great council was called near the spot and long consultations were held, and it was finally decided to send two great canoes to visit the trading post described by the white men. All the winter the Chippewas hunted and trapped for fur as they never had before, and in the spring great packs of pelts lay in the head chief's wigwam. Two great war canoes were built by the squaws, and a band of picked men was sent away to find the traders.

"'My grandfather was a great hunter and he went along with heavy packs of beaver skins that he had got during the winter. Late in the fall the canoes returned and they brought with them many wonderful things from the traders, but only one gun. No more could be obtained and only about twenty charges of powder and ball could be bought. To procure this gun beaver skins had to be piled up alongside of it on one side until the pile was of equal height with the muzzle of the gun when rested with its butt end on the floor, and mink, fisher, marten and other skins had to be similarly piled upon the other side. My grandfather had enough peltry to do this, and he it was who obtained the much coveted gun.

"'The Indians then held a great dance and feast, and the proud owner of the gun demonstrated how it was loaded and fired off. As the powder flashed amid the smoke and roar of the discharge, the Indians fell on their faces trembling with fear, but, seeing that no harm followed the alarming explosion, they were clamorous for a further demonstration as to the use of the piece for destroying their relentless foe, the Sioux.

"'The gun was loaded this time with a bullet, and then a target was sought for.

"'Away near the shore of the lake sat an old squaw upon a rock. She was so old that she had no relations or friends left. She was nearly blind, and had lost all her teeth, and during the coming winter she must have been left upon the trail to die. So it was decided by the chiefs that the gun should be tried upon her. Silently my grandfather crept up behind the old woman and when about twelve paces he fired the charge into her back. She fell off the rock, kicked once or twice, and then lay dead. Thus were the people shown the power of the "bostingnagen," or thunder stick of the white men, and greatly did they marvel and fear it.'

"During the relation of the story of the butchery of the old squaw not a sign of disapproval was visible upon the stolid faces of old Muskwa's aboriginal hearers. The old chief himself seemed rather to enjoy the recital, as he was silent for a few moments, displaying his toothless gums in a ghastly grin. Big Joe was visibly delighted with the story, and evidently enjoyed the distinction of being the one to convey the tale of the heartless deed to the white visitors. Piskwe himself was afterwards killed by a white man.

"When Muskwa had finished his tale, he remarked that he was weary and, rolling over on his blanket, dropped into slumber. The seance then closed, and whites and Indians filed out of the tepee.

A Kiss and a Bite.

In his volume, "The Kiss and Its History," Dr. Christopher Nyrop of the University of Copenhagen relates that in England in 1837 Thomas Saveland brought an action against Miss Caroline Newton, who had bitten a piece out of his nose for his having tried to kiss her by way of a joke. The defendant was acquitted, and the judge laid it down that "when a man kisses a woman against her will she is fully entitled to bite his nose if she so pleases."

"And eat it up, if she has a fancy that way," added a jocular barrister half aloud.

Effective, but Dangerous.

To cleanse glass vases, carafes or bottles of any sort nothing is better than a little muriatic acid. A tablespoonful rinsed slowly around in a vase or decanter will cleanse it thoroughly, removing from the glass every particle of foreign matter. The acid can then be poured into another vase to perform the same office and even then returned to the bottle of supply for service on another occasion. After the acid is out of the vase or bottle the latter must be rinsed inside thoroughly first with hot soapsuds and then in several clear waters. Muratic acid is a deadly poison and must be used with great caution and only by an intelligent adult. A child or servant should never be intrusted with its use.

A Distinguished Visitor.

There arrived this morning at Ormond and Walsh's pharmacy, from Brantford, six dozen bottles of that celebrated medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. This is not a patent medicine but a reliable remedy prescribed by three eminent doctors, and dispensed by a druggist. Purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. Price 50 cents for 50 doses. Get a bottle to-day while it lasts.

His Bluff Quickly Called.

"I want you to understand," he said, "that I'm the master in this house."

"All right," she replied. "Go out and tell the cook that we're going to have company all next week."

Then he put on his hat and went away, making sarcastic remarks about people who were afraid to say their souls were their own.

A Costly Precedent.

One of Philadelphia's rich young bachelors returned from a trip to the Pacific coast with a Chinaman as valet, having been induced to engage him by San Francisco friends, who said that orientals make admirable servants. One morning the Chinaman found a half dollar on the floor and was told by his employer to keep it for his honesty. Some days later the bachelor missed a scarfpin and inquired of the valet as to its whereabouts. "Me flound it on le floor, an' me kept it for my honesty," was the explanation.

A COMBINED TREATMENT

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is most powerful as a system builder and nerve restorative. As it is only mildly laxative some people find it advisable to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in conjunction with the food in order to secure proper action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Here is an instance;

Mrs. John Shanahan, 319 McDonel street, Peterborough, Ont., states; "I was troubled with pains in the back and dropsy, and was subject to fluttering and palpitation of the heart. In order to set my kidneys right I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at the same time.

"The combined use of the two preparations has done me a world of good. I used to have a rush of blood to the head, dizziness and headache, but I am thankful to say that all these symptoms have disappeared, and I have been cured by Dr. Chase's remedies."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box; Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 5

POTCHEFSTROOM.

A Transvaal District Seen Through Canadian Eyes.

F., J. M. W., one of the Canadian teachers who went to South Africa, writes to The Toronto Star, under date, Potchefstroom, Transvaal, July 19, that, "It occurs to me that while I was still at home in Canada everyone there seemed to know a good deal about Pretoria and Johannesburg and a few other notable places in South Africa, but very little of Potchefstroom, which is a place of considerable importance here, seeing it is the old capital of the Transvaal. The town is appropriately named "The Garden of the Transvaal," for nowhere else that we Canadian teachers have been in South Africa have we seen such fine trees, such beautiful gardens, so many pretty streams of water, or such chirping little birds as are to be found here in the Potchefstroom district. We therefore feel inclined to differ somewhat with the too sweeping statement often heard that "South Africa is a land of birds without song, rivers without water, and women without beauty." As to the women, if the Dutch women are meant, they may have beauty or they may have not, for it is not so easily discoverable. To us it has been a constant source of wonderment as to whether the cloths which are often worn and cover the greater part of a Dutch woman's face are there to protect pleasant features and a good complexion or to conceal the lack of either.

This town of Potchefstroom is situated on a river which rejoices in the name of "Mool," which in English means "pretty" or "beautiful," and the river well deserves its name, winding as it does beneath its overhanging willows to join the Vaal, twenty miles away to the south. During the late war Potchefstroom was alternately occupied and evacuated by the Boers and the British. One day the British troops would enter the town, remain for a day or two, and then continue their march north, by the road past the old mill on the northern boundary of the town. Immediately on receiving news of the departure of the British, the Boers would pour into the town from the veldt to the east, where the concentration camp now is, and remain until news of another advancing British column would cause another exit of the Boers. Accordingly, as may be supposed, the inhabitants of the town (not the really English people, who had left for Cape Colony), were astonishingly British, or astonishingly Dutch, as suited the occasion. They found it quite easy to cheer for the British one day as to cheer for the Boers the next. Now, of course, all are more British than the British.

Sunday morning, June 8th, last, witnessed the gathering of a large and excited concourse of people in the market square here, when the terms of peace were read out by the chief magistrate to the citizens, who filled the large space before the Court House.

The people here are ambitious for their town and are eagerly looking forward to the day, anticipated as not very far off, when Potchefstroom will once again occupy its old-time position of importance in the Transvaal. The town is to be one of the principal military stations of the Transvaal, as well as one of the three important centres of education, having a High School, a Normal College and a College of Agriculture. The midwinter school holidays are over, and the teachers are back at their duties, after enjoying their ten days' convention at Johannesburg. Regardless of cost, about 700 teachers were gathered together from all parts of South Africa, and entertained during their stay in Johannesburg by the citizens.

Daily lectures on educational and other subjects were given, together with entertainments, concerts, visits to the mines, etc., as well as a reception at "Sunnyside," by Lord Milner. The chief credit for the successful convention is due to Mr. Sargent, who has wisely been entrusted with the guidance of educational affairs in South Africa.

The beneficial results of this great gathering of South African teachers will doubtless be apparent in the work of the schools for years to come.

Humored and Loved at Home.

It was only a few choice spirits that asked for the works of Dr. John Beattie Crosier at the Public Library until a few months ago. Why the books were not in general demand before is perhaps not difficult to explain. To the great unwashed "The History of Intellectual Development" or "My Inner Consciousness" does not hold out an invitation so pressing as "The Mystery of the Barnyard" or "The Candywoman's Revenge." Hence Crosier's books were asked for only by a choice few. We are a curious people, however, and when Dr. Crosier's name was brought before the notice of the public and held there owing to the frequent reference made to him as a Tassie Old Boy, we wanted to see what manner of stuff he wrote anyway. Two or three months ago a Crosier book was almost always on tap at the Public Library. To-day, says the librarian, they are always "out," one reader waiting for the other to finish. To many readers they would doubtless prove a delightful surprise for they are not written in the pedantic and cut-and-dried fashion that prevails but in a style that seems liable to make every man his own philosopher.—Galt Reporter.

A Certificate of Character.

Biddy Malone was in a great fever of excitement when she landed in Montreal, direct from the "ould counthry." Her certificate of character was lost on board ship, and what would she be after doin'? To her great happiness and consolation, Timmy Mulligan, her Irish friend, volunteered and wrote her the following beautiful recommendation:—

This is to certify that Biddy Malone had a good character before she left the "ould counthry," but lost it on shipboard, comin' over.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Modified Louis Coats—Skirts of Lace and Louisine Silk.

Smart women have adopted the modified Louis coat in chine or brocade to wear with net and chiffon skirts, and a charming black or white toilet relieved with dainty coloring can be evolved in this manner.

Skirts of chine louisine silk with slips of lace are popular. Very dressy black skirts to be worn over separate foundations are of tucked voile trimmed with black passementerie or inlet with black lace. With these are worn unlined black lace blouses.

No matter how fashion changes, the large black hat, simply trimmed, is always in good taste and wearable on almost every occasion.

The new neck ruffles give a sloping effect to the shoulders which is not always becoming to short people. These should remain faithful to the feather boa or the round neck ruche.

One of the smartest Parisian foulard models is here shown. The material is in a delicate shade of old rose and it is trimmed with Venetian lace. The waist is laid into shirrings that simulate a yoke, and the upper halves of the sleeves are treated in the same way. The skirt has a plain front gore with a shirred yoke and slightly full side gores finished with three folds around the bottom.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Thunder Lore.

The natives of the Hawaiian Islands considered thunder as being Mauna Loa's echo from the clouds. This curious notion has crystallized a weather proverb which is now current among many of the white residents of the islands—viz, "It will rain today; Mauna Loa shakes the clouds." In this connection it may be remarked that the early Scandinavian settlers in Iceland believed that there were some mysterious and supernatural connections between the roarings of Hecla and the "angry mutterings of Jove." In England many of the peasantry still plant the house leek—"Jupiter's beard"—on their house roofs as a preventive against thunder, lightning and evil spirits, a custom which reminds one of Charlemagne's edict, "Et habeat quisque supra domum suam Jovis barbam."

Another widespread superstition, and one that has been noted among the tribes and nations from China to England and from Cape Hatteras to the Golden Gate, tells us that if the "claps" or reports of thunder come in even numbers the storm will be of short duration and very mild, but, on the other hand, if they come in uneven numbers, especially if the reports be a series of five, nine or thirteen distinct claps, much loss of life and property will result.

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT.

With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A woman sat in unwomanly rags,
Plying her needle and thread—
Stitch! stitch! stitch!
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
And still with a voice of dolorous pitch
She sang the "Song of the Shirt!"

"O men, with sisters dear!
O men, with mothers and wives!
It is not linen you're wearing out,
But human creatures' lives!
Stitch—stitch—stitch,
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
Sewing at once, with a double thread,
A shroud as well as a shirt.

"Work—work—work!
My labor never flags;
And what are its wages? A bed of straw,
A crust of bread—and rags.
That shatter'd roof—and this naked floor—
A table—a broken chair—
And a wall so blank, my shadow I thank
For sometimes falling there!

"Oh! but for one short hour!
A respite, however brief!
No blessed leisure for love or hope,
But only time for grief!
A little weeping would ease my heart,
But in their briny bed
My tears must stop, for every drop Hinders needle and thread!"

—Thomas Hood.

A Familiar Name

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

The Gleaners.

The old custom of gleaning in the harvest fields, which recalls the Biblical story of Ruth and Naomi, is not obsolete in England, and in Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and the neighboring counties as soon as the wheat is gathered in the late days of August there may be seen in the newly cleared fields numbers of women and children, diligently picking up one by one the scattered ears and forming them into neat little sheaves, which they carry in their hands until large enough to be bound up. When the daylight fails, all the booty is bound up in cloths and carried home on the heads of the gleaners. At home they thrash it out by hand and sell the grain or use it for their chickens. The gathering of a half peck is usually a full day's work for a child, and often a woman spends a whole day in gathering very little more. Gleaning, however, is looked upon somewhat in the light of a picnic. The mother and children leave home in the morning, take with them food for the day, and stay out in the fields until nightfall.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c.

A Quick Witted Pastor.

In Germany a country preacher was preaching a sermon when suddenly he lost the thread of his discourse, and, do what he would, he could not find it again.

The congregation was greatly embarrassed and was wondering what the matter was when he startled it by exclaiming hurriedly, "Pardon me, my brethren, for pausing in my sermon, but it seems to me that I smell fire somewhere—and—and it might be well to see that it has not broken out in the church or in any of the nearby houses."

Before the words were all uttered the congregation was pouring out of the church, each family being anxious to make sure that its home was not on fire. It need hardly be said that the fire existed only in the pastor's imagination.

Hancock's Presence of Mind.

A reminiscence of the battle of Gettysburg illustrates the strict attention to business of the professional soldier under the most distracting circumstances.

When General Hancock was wounded, he was carried to the rear, where the surgeons cut away his clothing and found and extracted the missile. The general became much interested on seeing it and insisted upon sending for an aid-de-camp, in spite of the medical admonitions against exciting himself. When the aid appeared, the general called out to him:

"Go straight to General Meade and tell him the enemy is running short of ammunition. I have been wounded with a tenpenny nail!"

TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL.

Are Attending to the Work at Home.

The Peterborough Trades and Labour Council will not have a representative at the convention which meets in Berlin this afternoon. The local organization is a young one, and they have not the funds to spare. Still the local members will be there in spirit and will follow the published reports of the proceedings with interest. Those who stay at home, "tending to their knitting," perhaps, do as effective work as many who join in windy delibrations.

The convention of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada, which convened at Berlin to-day, will be the largest and most important gathering of representative trade unionists which has ever met in Canada. Reports from the different centres show that an unusually large number of delegates have been elected. Toronto is expected to send from 20 to 25 delegates, and every province will be represented from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The various Trades and Labour Councils are electing their full delegation of three representatives. Local unions are only entitled to one representative for each 100 members, and an additional representative for every extra one hundred members. For years past independent organizations have been entitled to representation, and during the last four years the factional fight between the two central bodies in Montreal has been a bone of contention and occupied a great deal of the time at the congress. The Central Trades Council of that city, composed largely of Knights of Labour, has repeatedly granted charters to organizations that have international heads. The Federated Trades Council of that city, composed entirely of International Trade Unions, issued a circular to all labour bodies in Canada asking that representation in the Congress be restricted to delegates from International Unions and as a result the representatives from the International Unions are turning out in full force. It is felt that rival organizations of shoe-makers, carpenters, coopers and tailors, as chartered by the Central Trades Council of Montreal, is a detriment to the cause of labour and the motto is—Only one organization of each craft, and that under the banner of the International. Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of aLbour will visit the convention, and International President Tobin, of the Boot and Shoe Workers, will also be a visitor. The A. F. of L. will be represented by a fraternal delegate, who will also be entitled to vote. In the past the scope of the Congress has been entirely of a legislative character. It is generally urged, however, that the constitution be so changed that the general executive may have power to take immediate action in regard to any strike or lockout of national importance. Another question that is likely to come up is that of debarring persons who hold Government positions from sitting as delegates.

The Congress will likely be in session during the entire week and there is no doubt whatever that when it finally adjourns, its constitution and machinery will have been most radically amended.

An attempt will be made to have all elections of officers and committees in future held under the Hare-Spence system of proportional representation, as now practiced by the Toronto and London Trades and Labour Councils. There is also pronounced dissatisfaction with the workings of the present alien labour law, and the Congress will most certainly take decided action on the matter. In convention the question has been asked more than once why the local labour organizations carry the Stars and Stripes alongside the Union Jack in their labour day processions. The answer is that while the members of organized labour recognize that they owe their allegiance to the Union Jack they also realize that as far as labour is concerned there should be no national boundary lines. Labour is international — the interests of the workers of all countries are identical Labour is opposed to war and capital in its organization; knows no dividing line; it is international, and knows no country or creed. The Stars and Stripes are carried in the labour day parades to emphasize the international character of labour organizations and to show that the workers of Canada and the United States are banded together in an organization fighting for the same object—to elevate and improve the position of the artisan and labourer. To organized labour (while loyal to our Canadian institutions) there are no boundary lines between the workers of this fair Dominion and its sister republic.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

RUGBY.

About twenty members of St. Peter's T.A.S. Rugby football team responded to Manager Crowley's call for a practice on Saturday afternoon, and the boys are reported as having made wonderful progress in the game. Crowley, Jack Dennaird and Billy Meagher were on hand and were into the game with both feet. W. Kearney is a rich find for the T.A.S. boys and will prove a tower of strength to the team. Jach Crough is another good man, Jack McDonough, Eugene McNicholl, Jack O'Brien, Will Grady, Fred Derocher, McGrath and Jimmy Angleayc are rounding into shape and Myles McDonough has promised, with others to get into the game. It is expected that other new players will be out this week, as practices will be held in the evenings the management of the team having completed arrangements to have the Murray street grounds lighted with electricity.

It is rumoured that the T. A. A. team will be materially strengthened this week by the arrival in town of a first-class rugby player.

Notwithstanding the unfavourable weather of Saturday, an encouraging field of players turned out and a very good practice resulted, in which kicking, running and scrimmage work were tried. To-night a full turn-out is expected and other practices will be held on Wednesday and Thursday nights. On Saturday a match will take place between the town team and another strong team composed of former members such as Burnham, Simpson, Hammond, McDonald, Belt, Munro, Morden and others. This should make an interesting match. This year the scrimmage will be much stronger and will probably consist of Thornton and Dainard as wings, while Noble can be relied upon to do the "heeling out." This scrimmage is being "coached" by F. Burnham, Varsity's "centre scrim." and should give a splendid account of itself.

GOLF.

The open championship match of the local golf club begins to-day. Seven members have qualified and the draw for the match is as follows:

First Round.

1. J. W. Garvin vs. H. D. Burnett.
2. S. Ray vs. C. B. McAllister.
3. J. H. Burnham vs. Dr. Eastwood.
4. R. M. Hamilton, a bye.

Second Round.

Winner 1 vs. R. M. Hamilton.
Winner 2 vs. Winner 3.

Final Round.

The final game will be a match of 36 holes to be played on a day to be fixed by the Executive Committee.

LACROSSE.

The first match in the semi-finals between the Oshawa and Copper Cliff lacrosse teams for the C.L.A. intermediate championship took place in the new athletic grounds in Oshawa on Saturday before a crowd of about fifteen hundred people. The weather was all that could be desired, and as the grounds are in a high location and of sandy soil the rain of the two previous days did not affect them, and they were in the best of condition. The Copper Cliff team, who had been three or four days in getting to Oshawa, arrived on the morning train, all in the best of condition, tion, and accompanied by a large number of new Ontarioites, with loads of money to back their team, which, they thought, were going to have an easy victory. In fact, most of the lacrosse enthusiasts throughout the Province, as well as the press, had picked Copper Cliff to win, but it is now acknowledged by those who witnessed the game that they have been overrated. They certainly are a fast lot of players, but in the game on Saturday they were fairly outclassed by the Oshawa team, who defeated them by a score of 6 to 2. Owing to the wide interest taken in the match between these two teams, a large number of lacrosse enthusiasts from Toronto and other cities and towns were present. Port Hope, the old and bitter rival of Oshawa, sent up a large delegation, who attended with the eager expectation of seeing the Oshawa twelve turned down, but went home much disappointed. The Oshawa team had, during the past week, been taining faithfully and hard, and were in the pink of condition. For some good reason Manager Ed. Baker of the Oshawa team refused to play the old war horse, Barney Quinn, and Graham was put on in his place at cover-point. It was with a stern determination to win that both teams entered the field, consequently the contest was a hard one, and one of the best exhibitions of clean, fast lacrosse ever witnessed in any series in Canada. This was the expression heard from many who witnessed the match, and who are men of authority on the game. Mr. Harry Gillespie, of Orangeville, refereed the game, and all of the players on both teams knew that with him in command they would have to play clean lacrosse if they wished to be in the game, consequently it was comparatively free from roughness, only four men being ruled off during the match. The checking, though was, was close and hard, and every man played for all he was worth.

Killed Instantly by Train.

Woodstock, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Albert Atchison and her daughter, of Currie's Crossing, township of East Oxford, were proceeding home from the Woodstock market Saturday, at 11 o'clock, when their buggy was struck on the Wilson street crossing by the G.T.R. west bound accommodation express due here at 10.42 a.m.

The rig was demolished, and the locomotive, striking Mrs. Atchison in the body, killed her instantly. Strange to say, the daughter escaped with a few slight bruises, and although she is suffering from shock of the dreadful accident, yet no serious results are anticipated.

The deceased was 46 years of age, and leaves a husband and four children to mourn her sudden demise. The former is in Manitoba at present.

Daring Train Robbery.

Charleston, S.C., Sept. 15.—Train No. 28 of the Atlantic Coast Line, due here at 11.15 last night, was held up about 75 miles from here. Soon after the train left Lanes, a young white man entered the express car, blindfolded the messenger, G. G. Lewis, and robbed him of about $660 in cash and then robbed the car of several packages of jewelry and other articles. He did not try to tamper with the safe. When the train got to Charleston the robber jumped off with his booty. Messenger Lewis shot at the man as he left the train.

Deaths in Forest Fires.

Kalama, Washington, Sept. 15.—News reached here last night that the forest fires on Lewis River have wrought sad havoc. D. L. Wallace, his wife, and two children, were burned to death. They were camping in the woods when caught by the fire. A 12-year-old boy of Mr. Manley's is also dead. ETHEL B. DINGLE IS DEAD.

Canadian Nurse Killed Perhaps by Her Own Hand.

Rochester, Sept. 15.—Ethel B. Dingle, a rarely pretty girl lies dead from a gaping wound in her throat, while Leland Dorr Kent is at the Homeopathetic Hospital, his throat also slashed, but not so seriously but what he will live. Kent's statement to the coroners has not been made public, but he claims that the girl wounded him, and then killed herself. His story is doubted.

The couple came from Buffalo late Saturday night and registered at the Whitcomb House as L. D. Kent and wife. They were found in their room yesterday morning, the girl dead, the man wild and raving. A razor was in the girl's left hand and several powerful drugs were found in small bottles in the room.

Was She a Toronto Girl?

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 85. — Leland Kent's home in this city was in Fargo avenue, where he lived with his father and mother and his young wife and 2-year-old son. The Kents moved to this city three years ago from Palmyra, N.Y., that their son Leland might take the medical course in the University of Buffalo. He first met Miss Dingle at Riverside Hospital when acting as a substitute.

Miss Dingle was 22 years old, and described by those who knew her as a strikingly beautiful young woman. Her parents died when she was quite young. She had been connected with the staff of the Riverside Hospital at various times during the last seven years, and was very popular and highly respected. Her grandparents, it is believed, live in Toronto, Can.

On Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock the parties were located in the Brunswick Hotel by Detective Dicks. Martin was arrested and placed in charge of Deputy Marshal Millar of Lawrence County, who had come to the city in the morning. Martin admitted his identity and waived extradition proceedings, returning to his American home with the officer on the evening train.

PORT HOPE DROWNING

Four Young Women Upset Out of a Boat on Monday.

TWO OF THEM LOST THEIR LIVES

The Victims Were Miss Annie Hadden and Miss Annie Trawin—Heroic Rescue of the Two Survivors by John Fox —John McIntyre Drowned at Sarnia—A Peculiar Threshing Accident.

Port Hope, Sept. 16.—One of the saddest drowning accidents this town have ever witnessed occurred last evening at 7, when two young women lost their lives. They were Annie Hadden, dressmaker, aged 25, daughter of Capt. Hadden, and Annie Trawin, apprentice, aged 18, daughter of H. Trawin, both of this town. The deceased, with Bertha Hadden and Flora Embleton, had been out for a row in a small skiff and had returned to the edge of the east side of the dock. In endeavoring to land, the boat was capsized, and the four girls, unable to swim, were thrown into the lake. John Fox was on the dock. He jumped to the rescue of the girls, and succeeded in saving two of them. The others sank. Their bodies were shortly afterwards recovered, but in spite of all efforts life could not be revived.

John Fox is the hero of the town, for he certainly rescued the two girls at the peril of his own life. He will be recommended for the Royal Humane Association medal.

Choked to Death by Dust.

Centerville, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Vascal Hotchkiss, 52 years old, is dead from a peculiar cause. He was working on a thresher at the E. R. Curtiss farm, pitching away the straw as it came from the machine. The dirt and dust from the straw filled his lungs so he could not breathe and he fell down insensible. He was carried into the house and died in a few minutes, having been choked to death by the dust.

Fell to His Death.

Kamloops, B.C., Sept. 16.—Sunday afternoon a young Englishman named H. Briggs, an employe at Kamloops saw mill, while out walking to view "Bridal Veils" Falls near the Old Men's Home, while climbing a precipitous, rocky formation near the falls, he lost his balance and fell backwards to where he had left his companion below. He lived but a few moments after entering the hospital.

Seventeen Miners Killed.

Roanoke, Vt., Sept. 16.—A special from North Fork, W. Va., to The Roanoke Times, says: A disastrous gas and powder explosion occurred in the Big Four mine of the Algoma Coal & Coke Company here yesterday morning. James Lester, an engineer, John Roockie, a Hungarian miner, and 15 colored miners are known to be in the mine now, and there is no chance of their being recovered alive, as they are beyond the point where the explosion occurred, and the gas and smoke is so thick that the rescuing parties are being driven back.

Last Thought of Duty.

Tyldesley, Wales, Sept. 16.—While lowering a cage containing twenty-four miners in a coalpit here Sunday, Engineer Scott was seized with apoplexy. WAS A HAMILTON GIRL

Ethel Dingle, the Victim of the Tragedy at Rochester.

LELAND KENT STICKS TO STORY

Says They Arranged to Die Together, and That She Tried to Kill Him and Then Suicided—Kent Will Recover. But Police Do Not Seem to Believe His Story as He Is Closely Guarded.

Rochester, Sept. 16.—The coroner and the police authorities are reticent in regard to the Whitcomb House tragedy, but it is understood that they are working on the theory that Ethel Dingle could not have committed suicide with the razor in her left hand, where it was found. Leland S. Kent, the other party to the terrible state of affairs, will recover. He is in the Homeopathic Hospital, closely guarded by detectives.

Kent sticks to his story that Miss Dingle tried to kill him and then suicided. They had arranged to die together when they left Buffalo for Rochester on the night of the tragedy. Before they retired they left letters to relatives stating that such was their intention. These letters are in possession of the coroner.

A Hamilton despatch says: Ethel Dingle, the victim of the tragedy, was a Hamilton girl. Her father was James Dingle, a well-known butcher on South John street, who died about 15 years ago, and Joseph Dingle, of the Central Market, is an uncle. A brother, who boards at South 135 John street, left early yesterday morning for Rochester. The dead girl was born at the old Dingle homestead, a short distance over the mountain. After the death of her parents she, with her sisters, went to Toronto to live with a grandmother, and later with one of her sisters, she went to Buffalo and entered the Nurses' Training School. She lived for some time with her grandmother, Mrs. McDonald, in Toronto, before going to Buffalo.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 16.—Charles E. Robson of Atlin, British Columbia, a rich mine owner, ended a two days' honeymoon by going insane and jumping in the river after forcing his bride to walk through the streets with him at 2.45 a.m. in her night robe. He was married Friday to Miss Phoebe Grant Stephens of Saginaw.

THE COAL STRIKE.

President John Mitchell Does Not See the End of It Yet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—In an interview over the long-distance telephone with The News yesterday President John Mitchell, at Wilkes-Barre, said:

"I cannot predict when the anthracite strike will be settled. If anything is being done toward a settlement by the other side I do not know of it."

The big defence fund that is being collected at the National headquarters in Indianapolis, Mitchell said, is proving sufficient to relieve the distress in the region. About 25,000 miners have left the region since the strike began, leaving about 130,000, he explained, to be cared for.

"Is any coal being taken out of the region?"

"A little is going out, but no new coal is being mined. Most of the coal now being shipped was mined before the strike began. No mines are being started, and no members of the organization are returning to work."

$112,420,000 Lost by Strike.

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 16.—The estimated losses from the coal strike are: Operators, in price of coal, $48,200,000; strikers, in wages, $24,000,000; employes, not strikers, $5,300,000; railroads, in earnings, $10,000,000; business men outside region, $8,200,000; coal and iron police, $1,000,000; non-union workers, $150,000; troops in field, $275,000; damage, $6,500,000. Total, $112,420,000.

Eight Men of Steamer Bewick Picked Up on North Sea.

London, Sept. 16.—The mate and seven of the crew of the British steamer Bewick, which was on her way to Stockholm with coal, have arrived at Boston, England, in a trawler, which picked them up Sept. 14 from an open boat on the North Sea. The report was that the Bewick cargo shifted during a gale, and that the steamer went on her beam ends. In launching the boats from the Bewick, three of them were smashed. The captain and 10 men remained aboard the steamer. The trawler which brought the mate and his seven companions to Boston saw no trace of the disabled steamer.

EDITORIAL NOTES

One man's misfortune is often another's opportunity. The latest news from Australia reports a practical failure of the crops, and there is a great demand for Manitoba wheat. Fortunately Manitoba has a banner crop and will be able to help out our Cornstalk cousins.

While we naturally regret that Canada did not win the Palma Trophy for long range rifle shooting at Ottawa, it is a gratification to know that it remains on British soil. Besides it does not seem unfair that its possession should go round. Last year it passed into the hands of the Canadians by a decisive score — 63 points higher than the score that carried the trophy this year. The Americans held it, then the Canadians, and now it has passed into the possession of the Britons, and it is to be hoped that whether Britons or Canucks, we shall be able to shoot in future years up to the motto,—"What we have we'll hold."

The sophistries of Mr. Goldwin Smith, and of some other people as well, relative to the political situation in Ontario are, the Brantford Expositor thinks, uncalled for. The talk of coalition is equally premature. The Ross Government has a majority of one, and there is a probability that that majority will grow in the bye-elections, which will probably take place in November or December. Should the result of the bye-elections be unfavourable to the Government, Mr. Whitney will probably be given a chance to see what he can do. Should he also fail to carry on Government it will be time enough to talk about coalitions, or an abandonment of the party form of Government. Meanwhile, the wiseacres should possess their souls in patience, and talk about the weather or the price of coal.

It has been decided by the Commissioner of Immigration at Washington that the people of Porto Rico and the Philippines, who are required to acknowledge the Stars and Stripes as their flag, are aleins in the United States. They are required to pay the head tax, and must submit to other restrictions placed upon objectionable foreigners. The "imperialism" of the United States will have a short life, if that country does not develop more evidence of the genius of colonization. There must be more tolerance, more trust in their new subjects, before pacific acceptance of the new rule can be expected. Let our neighbours take example by the broad policy of Great Britain, who never subdued, but to enfranchise, who never supplanted any government, but by a better, who ever gave a wide measure of liberty and perfect equality under the law, who respected prejudices, and recognized that a change change of flag did not represent any change in the right of the conquered to a measure of self-government as liberal as that enjoyed by those born under the flag.

THE MOST FORMIDABLE EVIL.

Several English Judges, the Globe points out, have recently expressed the opinion that betting is now the most formidable evil in England and the most fruitful cause of crime. As a sample, we may take the opinion of Mr. Justice Wills: — "When I first came upon the Bench I used to think drink was the most fruitful cause of crime, but it is now a question whether the unlimited facilities for illegitimate speculation on the part of people who have no means of embarking on it are not a more prevalent sourde of mischief and crime even than drink." This is possibly the case to a great extent in this country too. Every form of gambling—if taking chances is to be called gambling—is prevalent in this country. The stock-gambling mania seems to be universally prevalent and even the children are taught to take stock in chances by purchasing chewing gum and certain forms of indigestable candy, with the hope of winning a prize. The intrinsic evil of this form of gambling is perhaps not so great, but in the inclination to hazardous games thus developed lies the greater evil. Children anxious to invest in a draw are apt to soon learn to discard nice distinction as to how the means to invest in draws are obtained, and in this more than anything else perhaps lies the danger of stock gambling. Young men especially in positions of trust, if the turn of the wheel goes against them, are sorely tempted in the matter of procuring funds to cover their margins. Thousands will resist the temptation but there is the fear that thousands may not be able to resist, with consequences which cannot but lead to disaster and disgrace.

THE REFERENDUM.

In view of the fact that the Referendum campaign has been formally opened, and that the date of polling is rapidly approaching, it will not be out of place to present in brief form the chief features of the measure.

The Manitoba Act, which is the one upon which the people of the province are asked to pronounce judgment, was passed by the government of the Prairie Province as a result of promises made by Mr. Hugh John Macdonald in seeking to encompass the defeat of the Greenway Government, and is the outcome of the decision of the Dominion Government that the vote in favour of Prohibition cast during the Dominion plebiscite of 1898 did not justify the enactment of prohibitory legislation as applied to the entire country. The Manitoba Act is consequently subject to the limitations which the constitution places upon provincial powers in this matter. These limitations prevent the provinces from interfering with the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for export trade, and also with the importation, so long as said importation is not for the purposes of sale.

Under the Act liquor may be sold, under license, for certain specified uses. For example, druggists' wholesale licenses may be issued to chemists duly registered under the Pharmacy Act, to sell alcohol not exceeding in quantity ten gallons at any one time to any person for mechanical or scientific purposes, and to any druggist holding a druggists' retail license, but to no other, liquor not exceeding in quantity five gallons at one one time. Licenses may be issued to properly registered retail druggists to sell liquor for medical or sacramental purposes. Liquor for medicinal purposes can only be sold under a bona fide prescription from a duly qualified medical practitioner signed by such practitioner, on which prescription not more than one sale of liquor shall be made. Sales may be made to dentists, for professional use, in no greater quantity than a pint at a time, to veterinary surgeons for professional use in no greater quantity than two gallons at one time, and to clergymen, for sacramental purposes, in similar quantity. Public hospitals are permitted to have liquors for the use of patients, and sick persons may have the liquors prescribed by a physician. Records of all sales must be kept, and no liquor must be consumed or drunk upon licensed premises.

In view of the constitutional limitations to which reference has been made, we find the following clauses:

Nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from having liquor for export sale in his liquor warehouse, provided such liquor warehouse and the business therein complies with the requirements in subsection 2 hereof mentioned, or from selling from such liquor warehouse to persons in other provinces, or in foreign countries, or to a wholesale licensee under this Act.

While this Act is intended to prohibit, and shall prohibit transactions in liquor which take place wholly within the Province of Ontario, except under a license or as otherwise specially provided by this act, and to restrict the consumption of liquor within the limits of the Province of Ontario, it shall not affect, and is not intended to affect, bona fide transactions between a person in the Province of Ontario, and a person in another province or in a foreign country, and the provisions of this Act shall be construed accordingly.

The penalties provided for infringements of the Act, and the regulations to prevent the sale of liquor manufactured within the province other than for expert purposes, are extremely stringent.

Polling is to take place on the 4th December next, and the voters' lists to be used are those of the last Provincial election, an exception being made of persons who since that time may have ceased to be residents of the province.

There is, however, a rider attached to the Act, to the effect that it will not come into force unless there is cast in favour one-half the vote polled in the Provincial general elections of 1898, or about 213,000 votes.

STOCK MARKETS.

Prices for Current Week.

New York, Sept. 15.—Confidence and hope continue to go hand in hand. As far as the leaders of the current market are concerned there is no diminution of interest and inquiry for stocks continues to expand. Our house with its many offices note material increase in correspondence from investors who are apparently becoming interested and preparing to make further purchases. They have about made up their minds that they have been making a mistake in deferring of placing purchasing orders thinking that closer money was going to bring about concessions in prices. This week will see many orders of this character placed with Wall street houses. Commission houses almost unanimously report an increase in orders to purchase stocks at fractions below current prices, and anticipate that should the market continue to remain as strong as it has done recently, limits will, in many instances, be raised or made at the market. Specialists in various issues, who deal exclusively in them for account of fellow members of the Stock Exchange, report an increase in the volume of their open orders to buy and many cancellations of open orders left with them to sell. The owners have evidently made up their minds to hang on to their property for better prices. These little straws oftimes strongly indicate the future of prices. Seats in the New York Stock Exchange again sold last week at $50,000 which is the highest price on record. This is a point of great significance when considering the market and its future probabilities. People do not pay $50,000 simply for a privilege to do business, as it were, unless they anticipate there will be business to do and in sufficient volume to make it profitable enough to pay such a price in addition to providing the capital to carry it on. Money situation controlled the day's speculation. As is always the case in Wall street when money is high the trading carries from broker accounts. We re-iterate our advice to buy on a scale, say on every 1-2 point down, and in our opinion the breaks are pretty near over. The short interest is materially increased, and will probably be squeezed by the bull party later on. The selling scattered, it is an excellent opportunity at present for prospective purchasers. Sugar was exceptionally strong to-day actually rising over 2 points. While the balance of the market was recessional. Don't be afraid to buy standard issues at the present time. They will all be higher again and very shortly. Money closed offered 6 per cent. last loan at 5 per cent. Sales 644,000.

"FORCE"

These big letters represent what improper food is to health and happiness, for the man with a growling stomach cannot be merry.

"FORCE" is the foe of indigestion. It is composed of the whole of the wheat—each kernel of which contains every element necessary to the proper nourishment and regulation of each organ of the body—blended with barley malt, the best natural tonic. In the process of manufacture both the wheat and the malt undergo the same chemical changes as are brought about during the first stage of digestion in the healthy stomach. "FORCE," therefore, saves the stomach much hard work, but still gives it sufficient exercise to keep it in first-class condition.

That's why "FORCE" is the foe to indigestion.

Commander Walker of the training ship Gleaner has been selected to command the Calypso. The British Admiralty attaches great importance to this experiment.

VALUE OF TESTIMONY.

Greater Than Assertion.

There are none of us so hardened but that when we have been able to aid our fellow creatures by conferring a benefit or bringing a little comfort into their lives we like to have appreciation shown. This generally affords a more pleasure than the performance of the act itself, and in this connection the following letter from a Paris, Texas, lady is of more than usual interest: "Dear friends,—I address you as such, for you have been such to me. I suffered for three years off and on with piles. I was treated at the hospital, and the new and eleagnt hospital, of Memphis; they only gave me temporary relief. I came west, thinking the change of air and water would benefit me; five months ago the bleeding piles came back on me, and bled so much that I thought I would die. I have had four of the finest doctors in this section of Texas; all they did was to finally nearly let me go to my grave; all they wanted was a big sum of money from me and to operate on me. I said no, no surgeon's knife would enter me; if it was my time to die God knew it, and when I died I would die all together. I had no faith in you, but I sent and got a box of your Pyramid Pile Cure; in two days the blood flow had slackened to one-half the amount, and in one week I felt so much better I walked four blocks and did a little housework. I was not bleeding then; in three weeks I was well. God bless you for putting such a wonderful medicine within the reach suffering men and women. I shall never cease to recommend your medicine or be without it; also I used your Pyramid Pills. Sallie A. Hearndon." Testimony like this should be more convincing than all claims and assertions, and should leave no doubt in the mind of the reader as to the merit of the remedy. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price. Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on cause and cure of piles.

WAIF AGAINST WAIF.

Sketch of the Lives of Murderer King and His Victim.

TRAGIC STORY TOLD AT INQUEST

Murderer Frettled Because He Had Nothing, While He Imagined the Other Boy on the Farm Had Everything —Why He Committed the Crime —The Inquest Resumed at Rodney.

Rodney, Sept. 16. — A coroner's jury heard the story yesterday of a boy's murder, how Charles King slew Willie Freeman with hideous deliberation. The victim was 15 years old and his slayer 25. When Willie was nine months old he was an inmate of the St. Thomas Industrial Home. His little life had been moulded amid those dismal surroundings. Farmer D. B. Freeman adopted him, gave him his name, and reared him in ignorance of his early history. In 1896 Farmer Freeman went to Toronto and took from the Fegan home a youth as a bound boy. He said he was 17. The year before, he was one of the number of pieces of human drift picked up in a Whitechapel cesspool and shipped to the new world. His experience had been rough and he recounted with tears in his eyes the story of his fight for existence under the indifferent care of a drunken mother and a shiftless father. He seemed glad to get out on the farm and worked hard. His pay was his board and clothes.

"It began," said Mr. Freeman in explaining how he had first had his suspicion aroused. "The hired man would bring the talk around to the dead boy constantly. I came suddenly into the room one night where the coffined remains of my dead boy lay and found King leaning over the casket with his hand on the face of the corpse. He was white as chalk and there was a frightful expression on his face, almost ferocious. I could not get the circumstance out of my mind once it was fixed, and I wired Toronto for Chief Inspector J. W. Murray of the Criminal Department. He easily secured a confession. Apparently the murderer's awful secret was more than he could bear.

"Detective Murray knew murder had been done instantly, and slowly he took the criminal over the details, even having him get astride the wooden horse on which the body was found and show how the corpse lay when he found it. King was amazingly cool throughout the trying ordeal. The officer began to fear he could not secure a confession. King had not up to that moment been told that he was suspected. 'Now, King,' observed the officer, 'Willie didn't shoot himself, and you know it. That old gun 4 foot long could not have been fired by that boy. His face was not powder burned as it would have been had he shot himself. Then, too, the shots were too much scattered in the boy's head for the charge to have been fired at short range. I took that gun out before I talked with you and fired it several times, and I know that it blackens an object at three feet. Now, Willie was shot by some one.'

" 'Well, I didn't do it,' " ejaculated the criminal, but his face was white and covered with cold perspiration.

" 'Now, come, I must warn you that what you will say will be used against you, but you have not told the truth. Tell us what you know.' "

"The strain was too great.

"King began to sob; 'Yes, I shot Willie; shot him in the eye.'

"Then the confession was repeated in detail in the presence of several people. The murderer took the gun and showed exactly how he had fired the shot.

" 'Why did I do it? Oh, he was rich. He had all he wanted. He was to be the Freemans' heir. He was going to the London Fair. He had everything that I coveted, and I believed with him dead I, who had never known anything but kicks and cuffs, never had enough to eat or wear, would take his place, and I killed him; shot him in the eye.' "

And the miserable wretch cowed into a corner and screamed in his agony of remorse, and begged Mrs. Freeman to forgive him.

Willie's body was exhumed, and the wound alone corroborated faithfully his slayer's confession. Then King was taken to jail.

While Coroner Dorland rushed through the preliminaries and Dr. Lawrence and Crown Attorney Donahue of St. Thomas discussed in cold legal phrases the quantity of brains blown out of the victim's head, the portion of the skull lost, and the area of blood bespattered walls of the room in which the boy was slaughtered, the youths in the rear of the room tittered and enjoyed in village small talk, regardless of the shadows of the gallows being cast across the vision of Charles King.

The prisoner was not asked to testify. Counsellor W. L. McLaws of St. Thomas had been engaged to afford the murderer the slight protection in sight. The jury's verdict will be rendered to-day.

In the felon's box, Charles King does not present a prepossessing appearance. All his life, and he is 25 years old, King has been a slave. He never earned a dollar that he could call his own. Farmer Freeman clothed this man and fed him. That was all, except when he flogged him.

"When did I whip King last? Let me see. Last spring," exclaimed the farmer, and yet King is a man. Librarian of the Methodist Church of Rodney, a member of the Epworth League and sometimes leads the League meetings. He has a fine voice and sings well. He has put in six or seven years' of hard work on the Freeman farm, and the farmer says he is quite handy, and yet he has never earned a dollar.

"I never thought of this crime until I saw Mr. Freeman start to drive to town. Then I was seized with an uncontrollable desire to slay Willie, and I fired the shot as quick as I could get the gun," he said.

How very rigidly mania controlled the man is evidenced by the fact that Freeman had driven but 20 yards when the shot was fired. The murderer could not even for self-preservation wait until the farmer had driven out of sight of the scene.

Dr. Lawrence was on the stand detailing the nature of the wound.

"Do you recognize that hat?" asked Crown Attorney Donahue, casting an old straw hat over to the witness. It was covered with matted blood and human hair. The left upper part of the brim about where it covered the eye was torn away.

A. "Yes: it was worn by Willie when he was shot."

The Crown Attorney then fixed the hat on witness' head and took the old gun and imitated in court the story of the crime by King. Then he said:

Q. Doctor, would a shot from this gun, in this position, the position King told you he was in when he fired, produce the wound on the head of the corpse as you found it?

A. Yes, replied the doctor.

The jury's verdict will be handed in to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and the doctor, supplied the evidence yesterday.

A CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Mary E. Meyette and Mr. Richard J. Gilman of Ashburnham.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, when Miss Minnie Meyette was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Richard Gilman.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. O'Brien in the presence of a great many townspeople, friends of the contracting parties.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother Mr. Charles Meyette, as Miss Hurley played the wedding march. She looked charming in a gown of white silk organdie trimmed with all-over lace and chiffon. She was attended by Miss Annie Gilman, sister of the groom, who wore a gown of muslin de soie. The groom was supported by Mr. John Primeau, Jr., cousin of the bride.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, a sunburst of pearls being the gift of the groom to the bride, while the bridesmaid received a beautiful opal ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman leave this evening for Toronto, Hamilton and other western cities.

AN EXCITING DAY OF TURF SPORT AT THE DRIVING PARK.

The Races Proved to be all That was Claimed for Them.

A Number of Close and Interesting Finishes—Names of the Winning Horses —Good Programme To-day.

The inaugural day of the first annual race meet of the Peterborough Turf Club, yesterday afternoon, at the Driving Park, was attended with a success so marked as to reflect the highest credit upon the enthusiasts who took the matter in hand, and guaranteed to the public that good, clean sport would be furnished, and that everybody would go away satisfied.

Satisfied, indeed, is a mild way of expressing the feelings of those who watched the races, and those who participated in them. Time and again the whole grand stand rose to its feet in the excitement engendered through watching the close finishes, and satisfaction, therefore, is a mild word to use in expressing the feelings of the public, and if the winners were not satisfied when they received their prizes in good gold coin of the realm, they must have been very hard to satisfy.

It is doubtful if a larger crowd ever attended a race meet in Peterborough, and the way in which the ladies turned out was a marvel.

A south-west wind blew across the track, but as there was no dust to signify, the breeze was no inconvenience. The track was a trifle cuppy but the footing was safe, and some very fast bursts of speed were made at times, the 22 bunch making the first quarter in their first heat in 33 1-4. It surprised even the drivers when they heard of it.

Mr. Sid Passmore of Orillia, was the starter ,and the impartial and thorough manner in which he handled the horses was pleasing to witness, especially in the .50 class, when he had a big field to handle for such a track as the local one. The other officials also performed their duties in a manner which left nothing to cavil at. Mr. Fred Peake of Campbellford, and Messrs. C. B. McAllister and Alex. Elliott, were the judges. Messrs. J. M. Brooks and R. J. Munro handled the watches.

First heat, 2.50 class:

There was a field of ten horses to handle in the 2.50 class, but no time was lost in getting them away well placed.

Nellie Billings got the pole and quickly proved her ability to hold it by getting away from the entire bunch and never being challenged, although Kitty B. was fairly close with Red Pat lying in third place at the half which was made in 1.11. Red Pat moved up to second place in the third quarter and with Commodore K. and Kitty B. drew away from the others and began closing up the gap on the leader. The burst of speed just after the turn into the home stretch was a fine one and it almost looked as though Red Pat would be able to catch Nellie Billings before she reached the wire. His nose was at her girths with only a few yards to go when to the surprise of everybody George Curtis' little mare Minnie Keswick came around nearly the whole field like a whirlwind and just nosed out Red Pat for second place by a nose. Commodore K. was a good fourth, but the best of the others were all several lengths behind.

First heat, 2.22 class:

Four horses faced the starter in the 2.22 class, viz., Kitty R., Rob Roy, Little Buck and Matt. They got away to a good start, the horses being placed from the pole as named. Rob Roy stepped off a phenomenal quarter in 33 1-2 seconds, but Little Buck stayed with him, making him go to half in 1.08 1-2 to hold the pole which Kitty R. had lost almost at the start. The pace was too hot for Rob Roy, however, and Little Buck was able to take the lead in the third quarter and hold it to the wire, although Rob Roy was always dangerous. Matt beat Kitty R out for third, the latter being entirely too fat and badly out of condition. Starter Passmore was astonished at the time in which the first quarter was trotted, and made the statement that on a Grand Circuit track in good condition, this would have meant a .07 clip. The mile was made in 2.21 1-4.

Nellie Billings again had the pole, with Minnie Keswick second, and they covered the mile in this order, Minnie never getting near enough to challenge. Red Pat made a driving finish, as did Sphynx H., and the four horses finished in a bunch in the order named, yards ahead of the others, and fighting for the place.

2.22 class, 2nd heat:

Little Buck and Rob Roy again made the racing but the latter could never get farther up than Little Buck's shoulder, although the latter had to step a hundred yards pretty fast at times in order to stall off the black horse's rushes. The heat resulted as did the first, the time being 2.26.

2.50 class, 3rd heat:

It was Nellie Billings again all the way but Commodore K. came up fast on the home stretch and nosed out Minnie Keswick for second, thereby winning third money in the race. Duke Jr. was drawn before the heat started and Prince Hal was in trouble with his hoppies for the second time during the day.

2.22 class, third heat:

The horses finished as in the first two heats but the fight between Little Buck and Rob Roy down the homestretch was the finest thing of the day and brought every man, woman and child in the grand stand to their feet, cheering and shouting like mad. It was certainly fine.

AN EDITOR "LOADED FOR BEAR"

Mr. T. E. Scriver, editor of the Hastings Star, passed through town yesterday on his way home, after having spent two weeks recuperating at his sister's, Mrs. S. Fred Bice, Maple Lake, Haliburton county.

The editor reported having had a good time, and among other things, told how he had shot and killed two bears. It seems that the scribe and his brother-in-law, Mr. Bice, had been out manoeuvring, and had stopped at a farm house on the banks of a river. The editor was conversing with one of the "Belles of the North," when of a sudden he heard a sound as if something had jumped into the river. Quickly drawing his brother-in-law's attention, the latter informed him it was a bear. Both seized their weapons—the editor's being a shotgun—and started on the run toward the stream. T. E. having played lacrosse on a kopje at home, soon outdistanced Mr. Bice in the fifty-yard dash. Telling the editor to get the dog, Mr. Bice crossed the bridge and seeing two bears, fired at the larger one. As the editor reached the bank with the dog he saw Bruin not ten yards away. He turned pale, but recovering himself took aim and fired. Bruin ran a short distance and then "died game," which the editor said reminded him of the plucky T. A.S. at Hastings. After firing another and finishing shot at brum, and as he ran to her side he nearly fell over the cub. Pulling himself together, he fired at it. It tumbled over, and of course was dead. Just then Mr. Bice came upon the scene, and together they soon had the two bears dressed. Two bullet holes were found in the large bear, one through the shoulder and the other in the head. The heart had been pierced by the ball. The cub had two bullets in it, one breaking one of its legs, the other entering the head. Of course the editor was elated over his success, and declares that buckshot is sure death when in his hands, for he is an expert in "leaded" matter and familiar with "slugs." He can, it appears from the above exploit, make "pi" of a bear's "form" as readily as he can of a news "form" or fill either with "leaded" matter, with equal facility. The editor doubtless returns to his labours invigorated, but will, it is to be feared, have a good deal more trouble bringing down the price of the coal bill than in bringing down the bears.

TRADES' CONGRESS AT BERLIN.

An Unusually Large Attendance.

Berlin, Sept. 16. — The Dominion Trades' Congress opened yesterday morning in the Saengerbund Hall with the largest attendance ever present at an opening session. The Congress, to which some hundred and fifty delegates are accredited, was formally opened by Julius Lult, president of the Berlin Trades Council. Acting Mayor Hoasberger extended a cordial welcome to the Congress on behalf of the municipal corporation, and the delegates were given a fraternal welcome by Ralph Smith, M. P., president, and John A. Flett, vice-president of the Congress. Delegate Dennis Driscol of the American Federation of Labor conveyed the fraternal greetings of that organization in well-chosen language.

The following reports were presented;

GENERAL EXECUTIVE REPORT.

The report of the General Executive is that although the steady growth and progress of trades unionism in Canada has not been as rapid as industrial development and the tendency to combination by large employing corporations the movement is being built upon a wise and solid basis. The executive are strongly of opinion that every trade and labour council in Canada should be chartered by the congress. After reporting the correspondence with the American Federation of Labour in a controversy regarding a conflict which has arisen out of the invasion of Prince Edward Island by that body, the executive records its emphatic protest against the chartering of trades and labour councils by other bodies as inimical to the interests of Canadian organizations. The executive of Prince Edward Island endorse this protest. Regarding the annual interview with the Dominion Government the committee reported a direct effect of their efforts in more pronounced statements by the Premier, and suggested that Ministers controlling the great spending departments should also attend these interviews. The post office act of 1902, dealing with the wages of letter carriers, is reported as decidedly unsatisfactory, in that it takes the staff outside the civil service act and puts it on a per diem basis without giving a specified number of hours; and that employees may be reduced in grade for inefficiency. The act, however, makes the maximum salary attainable in a briefer period and raises the new maximum $46, as compared with the old, but entails the loss of sick pay and holidays. Upon the troublesome question of Chinese and Japanese immigration, it is admitted that there is a good deal to justify the Government's view that the people of the east required time to be educated upon the recommendations made by the commission. Other legislation proposed at last session of Parliament was reviewed, and its bearing upon the interests of labour discussed.

REPORT FOR ONTARIO.

The Executive for Ontario, report, among other things, that since congress was last in session, 80 or more local organizations have been organized in the province, and that labour found very general employment at increased wages and decreased hours during the past year. It reported favourably upon the result of the interview with the Provincial Government, and upon eight bills passed at the last session in which the interests of labour were advanced, viz., Temiskaming and Northern Railway bill; to amend the statute law respecting holidays; amending mechanics' and wage-earners' lien act, respecting aid to certain railways (regarding payment of current rates of wages,) respecting electric railways, (protection of men operating cars,) amending the Ontario factories and street railways and councils of arbitration for settling individual disputes act.

REPORT FOR QUEBEC.

The Executive for the Province of Quebec reported Mr. Mulock's bill for the settlement of railway labour disputes as a measure conductive to happy results, and tending to avoid strikes and their nefarious consequences, if extended to other branches of labour. They also protest against the granting of subventions by the Government to certain communities of the Cities of Montreal and Quebec, which exercise unfair competition against Quebec industries, against the monopoly they enjoy of printing and selling school books, and the unfair exemption of their property from taxation.

The freight-handlers of Vancouver, through Mr. J. H. Watson, special organizer for British Columbia, enter a protest against the action of Mr. John Flett, Vice-President of the congress, organising local unions in Canada under the American Federation of Labour. The Executive of Manitoba characterizes as "traitorous in the extreme" the desertion of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employees by the trainmen—conductors, engineers and firemen—after they had legitimately combined and struck for laudable ends at the instigation of the grand officers of the leading railway brotherhoods.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

President Ralph Smith, in his address to the congress, recognized the services of Secretary P. M. Draper, Ottawa, through whose efforts organized labour has in the trades congress what is destined to become the great national federation of Canada. He regrets the opposition which trades unionism meets from so-called reformers, whereas the one source of opposition ought to be organized capital. Referring to the unanimous disapproval by railway men's unions of the bill for the settlement of railway labour disputes, Mr. Smith suggests, in view of the fact that all the unions as well as the Trades Congress, have endorsed the principle of arbitration, which forms a plank in their platform, that full explanation of their reasons for rejecting the measure be made to the Government. The action of the Minister of Labour in consulting the labour organizations upon the measure is commended. Upon the question of Oriental immigration, the President thinks the people of British Columbia have been unjustly treated, and says that so far as he is concerned the next session of Parliament will have to settle this question once for all. Discussing the Taff Vale Railway case, the President informed the congress that next session a bill will be introduced safeguarding trades unions against the results of such decisions, a bill having already been put through the Legislature of British Columbia on the same lines. The appointment of a paid organizer is advocated by the President, who in conclusion resents the falsehood that the congress is run by party politicians.

Delegates are present from Guelph, Brockville, Brantford, Hamilton, London, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, St. Catharines, Stratford, St. Thomas, Toronto, Winnipeg, Charlottetown, Duncan, Vancouver Island, Hawkesbury, Niagara Falls, St. John, Valleyfield, Victoria, Waterloo, Trenton and other places, representing eighteen trades and labour councils, ten Knights of Labour assemblies, six federated labour unions and 67 international and national unions.

ABOVE THE SEA LEVEL.

Some Figures That Will Prove of Considerable Interest.

Here is an accurate list of the altitudes of many of our lakes and summer resorts. The steady ascent in the great lakes will probably be expected, but it is likely to cause surprise that the smaller interior lakes are so much higher than others which are further north, and are naturally supposed to be nearer the watersheds. For example, Lake Scugog, on the borders of Ontario, Durham, and Victoria Counties, is higher than Lake Superior, the highest and most westerly of the lakes. The complete list is as follows:

HE WAS PARALYZED.

Unable to Walk or Raise His Hands to His Head.

A More Unfortunate Case Could Scarcely be Imagined Than a Husband and Father in This Wretched Condition

Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The experience of Mr. Joseph Brown, an employee of the Oshawa Malleable Iron Works, should be a lesson to every sick person.

Some five years ago, Mr. Brown, who is a hard working, industrious, and sober man, began to feel a stiffness and soreness in the calves of his legs. This gradually increased till he had lost all power in his limbs and arms. He could not have raised his arms to his head to save his life and for over four months he he could not stand or walk alone a single step.

All the doctors treated him and gave him up. Then he consulted a Bowmanville doctor who told him he could do nothing for him and advised him to go to the hospital in Toronto where they might be able to help him a little.

To the hospital he went in January, 1898, and remained under treatment for over four weeks. Twelve doctors told him he could not recover and that nothing could be done for him. He was getting worse every day and when removed to his home in Oshawa was like a baby unable to move.

His father-in-law, Mr. John Allin, had heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and suggested that Mr. Brown try them. He did and he says:

"I used altogether twelve boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and by the first of May I was able to start work again in the shop and I have never been sick or off work a day since. "I am sure I owe my life, health and strength to that great remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Taking the Advantage.

In trolling for 'lunge the old fashioned hand line and spoon hook may be depended upon, but the method lacks the science which the use of a trolling rod demands. I have done a lot of it, and I prefer to go alone and do my own paddling or rowing. A turn of the line around the thigh enables you to feel all attacks on the lure, while leaving both hands for the paddle or oars, and at the same time the line is where your hand can find it without loss of time. This is important, for the resistance of a heavy fish, aided by the forward motion of the craft, will tauten a line to the danger point before you have time for many motions of your hand.

When paddling, I made fast the paddle by a short cord, so it can safely be dropped at any point of the stroke. When once fast to a good fish, I seldom bother about the paddle for turning, as there is way of swinging a light craft head on to a taut line which is understood by all familiar with canoes and skiffs. An old pair of gloves is no bad protection, for a line sometimes cuts bare hands.

A small fellow may be unceremoniously hauled in hand over hand; a big one must be humored. I believe in keeping at a fish all the time, taking no too pronounced liberties and allowing him none. So long as a firm, even hold be maintained on him he is doomed if the hooks are planted where they should be. Anything like jerking should not be allowed at either end of the string, for one stiff jerk may play havoc. Only over-excitement or rotten tackle is responsible for the loss of a well hooked fish.—Edwyn Sandys in Outing.

In Nature's Storehouse There are Cures.

Medical experiments have shown conclusively that there are medicinal virtues in ordinary plants growing up around uswhich give them a value which cannot be estimated. It is held by some that Nature provides a cure for every disease which neglect and ignorance have visited upon man. However, it may be, it is well known that Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, distilled from roots and herbs, are a sovereign remedy in curing all disorders of the digestion.

Looking For Young Clark.

Toronto, Sept. 16. — Crown Attorney Curry, who is acting for the State of Massachusetts in the Clark extradition case yesterday swore to two informations against G. W. Clark for the purpose of bringing the case before Judge McDougall. The warrants in connection with these informations have not been executed yet, for young Clark cannot be found by the officer who has been entrusted with the service. E. F. B. Johnson, K.C., who with T. C. Robinette, K.C., is counsel for the defence, admitted on Monday that Clark was not in the city or anywhere near it.

Ping and Pong.

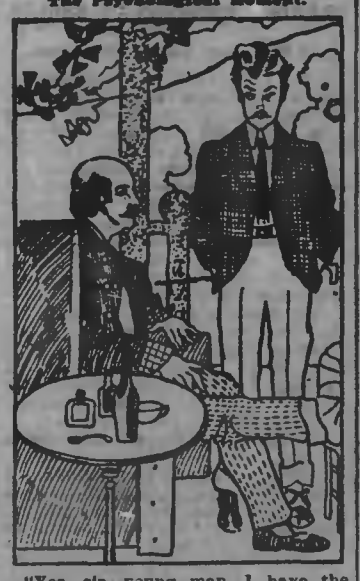
The Psychological Moment.



"Yes, sir, young man, I have the gout so bad that I can't move that foot at all."

"Not able to run, then?"

"Run! I should say not!"

"Can't kick, I don't suppose?"

"No, no; can't run or kick or hardly move."

"Ah, indeed! Well, Mr. Gruffly, I came over here to ask you for the hand of your daughter in marriage, and I know, etc."

A Reputation and Popularity That is Well Deserved.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

In every city, town and village of this North American continent you will hear Paine's Celery Compound spoken of, and you will find men and women who, through the Compound's virtues, have found health and new life. People made well and strong delight in telling others what Paine's Celery Compound has done for them. The friends who speak for and recommend nature's life-giver, do more to advance the reputation of earth's best medicine than all the newspaper notices that appear from time to time.

The great majority of diseases that bring misery and death can be quickly and permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound. The wonderful medicine has a noble and bright record. It makes the rheumatic, dyspeptic, nervous, sleepless, weak, rundown, and those tormented with blood diseases strong and well. If you are weak, nervous, or suffering from some disease that baffles your physician, test the life-giving and health-building powers of Paine's Celery Compound.

Painfully Honest.

Prude—Well, why did you refuse him after you had taken him away from the girl he was engaged to?

Flirt—Oh, I haven't quite reached the point when I will receive stolen goods.

A COMBINED TREATMENT

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is most powerful as a system builder and nerve restorative. As it is only mildly laxative some people find it advisable to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in conjunction with the food in order to secure proper action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Here is an instance:

Mrs. John Shanahan, 319 McDonel street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "I was troubled with pains in the back and dropsy, and was subject to fluttering and palpitation of the heart. In order to set my kidneys right I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at the same time.

"The combined use of the two preparations has done me a world of good. I used to have a rush of blood to the head, dizziness and headache, but I am thankful to say that all these symptoms have disappeared, and I have been cured by Dr. Chase's remedies."

HINTS FOR CAMPERS

HOW TO USE THE "DUTCH OVEN" TO THE BEST ADVANTAGE.

Nothing Tastes So Good to the Hungry Nature Seekers as Food Cooked in Hot Ashes—How to Broil Small Fish—Cooking Small Birds—Plump Chickens—Corn Bread, Camp Style.

Nothing tastes so good to the hungry nature seekers as food cooked in hot ashes. This method of cooking has its advantages in the fact that the food does not require such constant attention as when cooked over the fierce fire of oil or spirits, and many foods are much improved by the long, even process of cooking required by the aid of hot ashes. Among other useful utensils the camper needs a large iron pot, with a tight fitting cover, a plain mold, such as puddings are cooked in, also with tight fitting cover, a large bean pot and one of the little flat iron pots with the iron lid called a "Dutch oven." Before using the bean pot place it in a kettle of cold water, bring the water to a boiling point very gradually, let boil half an hour, then cool the water gradually, allowing the pot to remain in the water until cold. Thus treated the pot will be found fire proof, and may be buried in hot ashes, with coals heaped on the lid. Foods cooked in this manner have a delicious flavor, as none of the juices are lost.

For cooking fish take a two inch plank of hard wood, such as oak or hickory, as planked shad is a dainty not to be despised. To cook fish in this manner clean it and split it down the back. Prop the plank in front of an open fire and let it become very hot. Lay the fish on this, skin down, secure it in place with new long wire nails, which must be greased before using. Four nails will hold a large shad securely. Now prop the board before a rather fierce fire, let it be 10 minutes, then turn it around and brush over with melted butter, repeat this every 10 minutes, allowing the fish to cook 30 minutes. Remove the nails with a pair of pincers and serve the fish on the plank. Shad, white fish, rock and slices of halibut are excellent cooked in this way. With the fish serve potatoes baked in the ashes. Wash the potatoes, clean and prick them with a fork until a bed of hot coals and ashes is made. Place the potatoes on this, cover with a large shovel of ashes; on this heap hot coals and let remain one hour. Then take out and brush off the ashes.

Corn can be cooked in hot ashes, and it has a delicious flavor. Take off the outer husks, turn back the inner ones and remove the silk. Bring up the husks again and twist about the ear. Bury in hot coals and ashes, as directed for potatoes, and let cook half an hour.

For broiling small fish, fix two stout pieces of wood, from the surrounding brush at one side of the fire. These should each have a "fork" on the end, across which another piece can be laid. Fix the uprights firmly, as they can remain there, and will be useful for many purposes. Clean the small fish, leaving on the heads, remove the eyes and run a slender branch through the eyes. String as many as wanted on one branch, skewer a bit of fat salt pork on the head of each with a wooden tooth pick, so that the fat will run down and baste the fish. Hang this over the "forks." Do not place too close to the fire or the fish will burn. Turn the stick about frequently so the fish will cook evenly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve.

A good fish chowder is always relished. Take the large iron pot and place in it a quarter of a pound of salt pork cut in dice. When brown, skim out the pieces and add to the fat one large onion sliced thin, and two pounds of any white fish, such as cod, sturgeon, halibut cut in cubes, add a pint of water and simmer half an hour, then add a quart of thinly sliced potatoes, a level tablespoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of pepper. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Add, if procurable, a pint of milk and half a pint of small round crackers. As soon as the crackers are soft, serve in soup plates.

Any small birds or a tender rabbit can be cooked in this manner. Clean and pluck the birds, leaving them whole; clean the rabbit and cut in small pieces. Place a few thin slices of salt pork in the bottom of the small iron pot, when very hot throw in the game. Stir with a long-handled spoon until it is of an even brown all over, add a heaping teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper and a slice of garlic cut very small. Now add half a pint of white wine, failing that add the same quantity of half vinegar and half water. Cover the pot closely, set it on a bed of hot coals and let remain for half an hour. The meat will be juicy and with a delicious flavor.
